BOARD OF AGRICULTURE AND BUTTER LEVY.

No Other Alternative to Crisis in Industry.

A CREAMERY ASSURANCE.

No Increase in the Price of Butter Will Result.

Having expressed on the scope and intentions of the butter levy which the Board of Agriculture recently put forward as a recommendation to Government for aiding the dairy industry, the Board has now issued a further statement.

In a paper which the proposed Board of Control would represent all interests affected including those of producers who do not supply the Co-operative Creamery.

It is emphasized that the amount of the levy would be passed on to the consumer and the Co-operative Creamery have indicated their willingness to give an undertaking to that effect.

KENNEL NOTES

Margaret Colyer

Miss Colyer, Oh!g, to whom all correspondence in connection with "Kenel Notes" should be addressed, has just had her weekly...

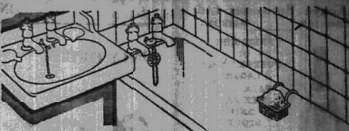

I should like to advise in writing your sister's letter "Lips" as she was just out of your mind, but she was not, only because she was not, only because she was not, only because she was not...

On the 10th inst. I met Mr. McQuinn at 101 and he had a very nice dog, a black and white pointer, which he had bought from a friend...

Mr. McQuinn told me that Mrs. Dwyer's dog was named "The Duke" and was a very nice dog, a black and white pointer, which he had bought from a friend...

I think it is probable that the black and white pointer was named "The Duke" and was a very nice dog, a black and white pointer, which he had bought from a friend...

labeled "Lips". For a small which I do, is given, for a small which I do, is given, for a small which I do, is given...

LEADERSHIP

The Ford is outselling every other car by a constantly increasing margin.

That the public appreciates the unusual value built into the Ford is shown by its ever-increasing popularity.

Following are just a few of the many features that make the Ford a value far above the price.

ECONOMY—You save when you buy the Ford and you save every mile you drive. During the life of the car, the saving on operation, up-keep and depreciation will amount to even more than the saving on the first cost of the car.

RELIABILITY—The new Ford has been built to endure. Every part has been carefully made of good materials to give you many years of satisfactory service.

SPEED AND ACCELERATION—The new Ford will do it for miles an hour. Everywhere you go you note its power on the hills and its unusual acceleration in traffic.

COMFORT—Every Ford car is equipped with special transverse springs and four Handbilt double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers. The steel-spoke wheels, low unsprung weight, three-point chassis suspension, and the torque-tube drive also add to its easy-riding comfort.

SAFETY—In addition to fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, the new Ford brings you the safety of a shatterless glass windshield. By reducing the dangers of flying glass, it has prevented many injuries in automobile collisions.

THE STRENGTH OF STEEL—The extraordinary strength of steel makes the new Ford a sturdy, rugged car. Nearly forty kinds of steel are used in the chassis alone.

RUSTLESS STEEL—Evidence of the high quality built into the Ford is shown by the use of Rustless Steel for the hood, fenders, radiator shell, body, engine, front fender, tail lamp and other exterior metal parts. It will not rust, corrode, warp or tarnish in any kind of weather. Its bright finish will last for the life of the car.

A SMOOTH-RUNNING CAR—These are some of the twenty ball and roller bearings in the new Ford—an exceptionally large number. These insure smoother operation, save petrol, give more speed and power, reduce wear and increase the durability and efficiency of the transmission gears.

The Better Levy.
The Kenya Board of Agriculture has made a timely issue in the question of a Better Levy in its brief statement published to-day. An important milestone in the national movement is the assertion that the Commission are authorized to be prepared to give that an increase in the price of better will take place from the imposition of the proposed levy. Having regard to the costs of production published in our columns some weeks ago a few days ago by the Commission, most people will believe that there would be no need to transfer the imposition to the consumer. With extreme care and co-operation to include the kind of the supply of many of the private manufacturers of better and with the addition of the proposed levy on all manufactured better to equalize the load on export, there is a margin would exist to permit the consumer to pay a larger sum to the farmer while paying the local market. It would mean that as production will really satisfy expansion of local demand—at least until the African becomes a larger and more consumer—the value of the national market will depreciate in its relation to the question of the commodity. It becomes, therefore, the more necessary to depend on the industry and its marketing on a broader base and to have the majority of production here being sold in the future by the farmer market for his own use, some such scheme as the Board has proposed will be a better one than any in the interests of a large individual farmer. The industry is one of the keys to the system of mixed farming towards which the Colony continues to strive, and it is absolutely essential that it should be organized on our own foundation, enabling and encouraging development to take place without the constant risk attendant on the present unsteady factory position in which suppliers of commodities bear much of the loss on a necessary and unsteady. This report trade while better, taking advantage of the fact, while all the profits from the more limited and unsteady market. We are glad to see the Board of Agriculture has laid special emphasis on the importance which will be necessary for private producers who would either hard, as one of the industry, from the operation of the scheme. This is the most important part of the memorandum. The farmer who has established himself and made his reputation in the local market, whose geographical position and his relations with Customers has every right to demand proper consideration of his case and the addition to his income should not create any benefit on the industry if it suggested otherwise. It is proposed, for example, that the private producer should be responsible to the marketing body. It is proposed further that the consumer and retailer should have representation. We have already indicated our own belief that the representation of the private producer in the original memorandum is too good. This does not mean that we are not in agreement with the proposal. "RAPID" MILLS. This series has been specially constructed to meet the demand for a cheap yet efficient power grinder and saw assembly and compact body, with very little reversible grinding plates. They are also fitted with a spring arrangement which allows the plates to open should any hard substance come in contact.

FORESTS AND GOATS CANNOT GROW TOGETHER.

Nairobi Criticism of Official Policy.

PRESERVED FOREST

(STANDARD CORRESPONDENT)

Nairobi, December 15.—On Thursday last meetings of the Forestry Commission and the Co-operative Commission were held. At the Forestry Commission meeting Major Ward opened a discussion on the importance of preserving the forests on the hills where the perennial streams rise. It is well known that forests with their network of roots and layer of leaf-litter, act as a sponge retaining a large portion of the rainfall. This is clearly indicated by the streams which rise in the forests while the mountain slopes remain arid.

Major Ward pointed out the policy of the Forest Department to clear all poor forest and replace especially as the species already planted in the country. This is well known as an excellent method of forestry. The idea complained of the damage done to equatorial forests when these are about 10,000 along the edge of the Kilimanjaro forest, where they are situated. Major Ward said that he had seen a map of the forest and that he was putting an end to any hope of forest regeneration. Owing to the depredations of these creatures the banks and the stream are being denuded throughout their length, and as one member pointed out this may make the water too warm for the trout which many of the streams have been stocked. Professor Troup, in his report on Kenya forests strongly advised the protection of head waters by means of forests.

Mr. Lodge, a retired forest officer, called on the eminent French forest officer on the impossibility of growing goats and forests on the same area.

All the resolutions on the discussion the following resolution was passed: That in order to preserve the flow of rivers, so as to permit the construction of a dam, or any stream, or along the banks to a certain width, whether Crown or private land, that the policy of the Forest Department of clearing more than one acre is liable to prejudice the flow of rivers and that before any such forest is cleared, or any timber consents are given, the Government should be satisfied that the destruction of the forest will not be a net loss to the country. Further that the destruction of the forest will not be a net loss to the country in numbers and kind, and in value, and that the area should be replanted.

Temperance Club

The proposed to allow only A.M. & T. members on the premises was mentioned, but as some of the members had indicated the most blood-curdier members were to be allowed, the meeting was deferred to the next meeting. However, it was felt that in the absence of supporting arguments to the prohibition of this restriction is opposed to the proposed resolution. A meeting attended by considerable expense without any result. It was suggested that a number of non-temperance members were to be invited to the next meeting. As one member pointed out, if this is made law it will be able to move non-temperance members by and from one to another of his farms, but the next which will accompany them to carry a few of the small calves will have to be driven by A.M. & T. men, which is absurd.

Great Fire

At a regular public fire meeting suggested the restriction of the blood-curdier members and considered that the railway should not be exempt from liability for damages caused by fire started by the negligence of drunken drivers. The Government, the law in this subject is very clear, and the railway authorities have it proved that they were the cause of the fire.

The Church

A committee has been formed to look into the possibility of the small church at Nairobi. The present building on only hold (approximately) 30 an absolute number number considering the present population within the city. It is proposed to make an addition to the church, to be erected in a position of convenience for 100, and for this purpose a sum of about £200 is required. The fact is going round that a sum of £200 is required by itself will collect the amount. It is hoped that there is a possibility of a share during the Christmas week to help against the funds.

The Grid Service.

A CORRESPONDENT WITH INTEREST IN THE question of modifying the terms of service of Government officials in Kenya in the event of their removal, writes in the paper, that it is necessary to compare the terms of service with those in India. Firstly, it should be noted that the climate of India is relatively more varying than that of Kenya. The temperature of India ranges from 120 degrees and sometimes in the heat of the winter and in many parts of Southern India the climate is highly humid, so that months are hot and these months hotter. The law bill stipulates such a climate and Government officials are limited in wear and provide health and food budgetaries for an industrial population of the country.

An officer giving his first appointment from England in India is not fit to hold until he has completed eight years' service. In India there are two years' to three, and thereafter the same one year's throughout for every four years of active service, subject to the limitation that whatever amount of leave he takes, his total length cannot exceed six years.

But no officer is compelled to take the hardship he has earned. At the end of his first eight years for example, he can take six months or a year's furlough or go on with his service. Many officers complete their service by pension without taking any furlough, but few or three years furlough at any time.

In addition to furlough, every officer gets one month's privilege leave for every seven months' service, and he can add more up to three months. When three months' privilege leave are due, no further leave is given. The grant of privilege leave is always subject to it being granted to spare the service of the officer working for it.

Official letters are not sent by air mail but by air or by mail, and no messenger is sent for the purpose of delivery of messages to England and back. The more rapid rates provided that the officer may take half the furlough when he is on full pay, and the other half when he is on leave. The cost of postage is refunded and he is not allowed to keep for himself, but to make themselves conversant with the actual activities which are going on in India.

There is also provision for leave on medical certificate, and there is no request private affairs. This latter limited to six months and extends beyond.

All privilege leave amounts on an average towards 100 days per annum. The method of calculating it is as follows: For every 12 months of service, with the length of service, after 12 years, the privilege leave, two years furlough, total 120, three years 20, four years 20, five years 20, six years 20, seven years 20, eight years 20, nine years 20, ten years 20, eleven years 20, twelve years 20.

These provisions are granted to all Government officials, but not to administrative posts. For every 12 months of service, with the length of service, after 12 years, the privilege leave, two years furlough, total 120, three years 20, four years 20, five years 20, six years 20, seven years 20, eight years 20, nine years 20, ten years 20, eleven years 20, twelve years 20.

of this letter is to induce officers to remain in service by means of grants, especially small officers who are in the service of the Government. The Government has the financial power to do this. It is in a comparatively small number of cases that the Government has to resort to the payment of gratuity to officers who have to be replaced for reasons which are not their own.

The Government policy of Government officials in Kenya is not so strict as that in India. Many of them are in the service of the Government for a number of years. The Government has to pay them a gratuity when they are replaced for reasons which are not their own. This is the case with the officials in Kenya. HAS KENYA A SOUND FOREST POLICY? Some Aspects of the Fuel Supply Problem. WILL THE PRICE INCREASE?

Conservation of the Natural Water Supply Sources.

The Kenya Forestry Department has recently come under criticism in the Legislative Council, and the Colony is awaiting at the moment a report of a Forestry Adviser who has completed a three years' assignment.

It has been alleged inter alia, that forest areas are being denuded with consequent restriction on the water supplies and that the policy which has been followed for some time of planting blue gums has tended to interfere with the natural water-bearing qualities of the areas. It will be a good change in the character of rivers and underground water supplies.

There is also the question of fuel. It is believed that fuel, merchants in Nairobi, or at least some of them, feel that as the present margin of profits is small, the already considerable cost of domestic fuel may have to be increased in the near future.

Following is the first of two articles dealing with some aspects of the activities of the Forestry Department and its policy. They are published in the hope that readers throughout the country will have knowledge of local forestry conditions which will enable them to express any discussion with any more freedom and accuracy.

IMPORTANT ISSUES

The intention is to deal here with the most important issues which are being raised in connection with the activities of the Forestry Department. It is not intended to deal with the details of the various projects which are being carried out, but to deal with the general principles which are being applied.

As the price, this is a question which is being raised in connection with the activities of the Forestry Department. It is not intended to deal with the details of the various projects which are being carried out, but to deal with the general principles which are being applied.

It is not intended to deal with the details of the various projects which are being carried out, but to deal with the general principles which are being applied. From time to time one hears a statement of the price of fuel which would be a reasonable one, but it is brought in the case, and it has been possible to obtain it in some places. The intention is to deal here with the most important issues which are being raised in connection with the activities of the Forestry Department.

THREAT TO NORTHERN TURKANA BORDER.

Military Costs Should be Shared by the Sudan.

ELECTED MEMBERS' VIEW.

Permanent Body To Watch Needs of Civil Aviation.

Owing to the military situation in Northern Turkana it is considered necessary to retain additional companies of troops there until mechanical transport is developed.

As the safety of Kenya and Uganda natives near the border is imperilled by raiders entering Kenya from an unincorporated portion of the Sudan, the elected members have advised Government to make strong representations in favour of a substantial contribution from the Sudan Government to the cost of maintaining troops.

Was announced during the Select Committee's examination of the 1931 Budget that the military authorities are considering seriously the transfer of headquarters of the 3rd K.A.B. from Meru to Nairobi.

In consequence of the commendable attitude of members of the Defence Force, the Elected Members have increased on Government the grant for an additional financial provision for training and for same time, however, the question of payment by members of town tolls of the cost of uniforms—25/- to be raised.

Owing to the present financial condition of the Colony the Elected Members proposed that the amount provided for travelling allowances for visiting and invited visitors be cut by nearly half.

It has been recommended that a Civil Aviation Standing Committee be appointed to examine the requirements of the Colony.

THE DEFENCE FORCE.

The military services in Kenya have under very close scrutiny the Select Committee on the 1931 Budget. The Colony's Legislature considered the Government's proposals for the 1931 year. It was decided that the original estimate on the Estimates as presented in the original Budget was too high. The Select Committee has recommended that the original estimate on the Estimates as presented in the original Budget was too high.
