NAIROBI MEETING.

Desire of the Unofficial Community to Help.

- crowded public meeting held in Nairobi last night a strong demand was voiced for the appointment by Government of an Economic Committee to examine the whole system of public finance.
- Griticism of Government's action towards the 1932 Budget it was stated that unofficial opinion and the advice of practical laymen had been largely ignored with the result that measures had been adopted, especially in regard to new taxation, which might have been avoided had a comprehensive enquiry taken
- esolution was passed urging that in view of the grave difficulties facing the Colony and because of the neces-sisty for a full measure of co-operation between Govern-riest and the Elected Members an Economic Com-mittee with the widest powers should be appointed immediately.

JAPANESE TRADE WITH EAST AFRICA.

Growing Competition with British Goods.

NOTABLE EXAMPLES.

Enterprise and Initiative in Selling Methods.

re is a rapidly growing volume of Japanese trade with East Africa and in Kenya particularly the increase has been very marked during recent months.

ost cases the prices in Kenya of commodities imported from Japan are very considerably less than those at which similar articles can be produced in Britain.

Japanese business houses display considerable initia-tive and enterprise in introducing and pushing the sale of sheir goods. The generous distribution of free samples is only one method by which Japanese articles are brought to the notice of firms in this part of the world.

cover, contrary to the practice of most British manu-facturers, the Japanese trader consigns his goods with freight charges paid to the East African ports.

me striking examples of the way in which Japanese trade is competing with British business houses are given in the following article.

He expressed faith in the ability of Kenya to recuperate when world conditions permitted and spoke appraisingly of the Colony from the point of view of residential settlement.

Sporting Brevities

The popularity and the eager-ness which is being taken in the swimming gals to-morow is appar-ent by the fact that every reserved seat has been sold.

With the incoming of several entries the competitive element has been greatly sided to. The Springboks have only two more matches to play. They more the North of Bortland at Aberdeen on Saturday, and bring that tour to a close on January 16, when they play Scotland at Murrayfield.

They have not been the scoring force of either the 1906-7, or 1912-13 sides, but their success has been little behind either of these tours.

They have played 24 matches to date of which they have won 21, lost 1 and drawn 2. In all they have registered points, and conceded. The English selectors must have been satisfied with the perform-ance of the side which host to the Springhols, last Saturday, Only two changes have been effected for the Welsh international at Swat-sea next week.

Wales would also appear to be contented with the showing of the team which lost to the South Africans early last month. They have made but one change.
