Only Up-to-date Agriculture will Pay!
The Standard Cyclopaedia
OF Modern Agriculture.

This new work shows how every East African Farmer can now take advantage of the latest discoveries of science and adopt the most successful modern methods.

These farmers who are disappointed with last year's results, and wish to do better this season, would do well to get a copy of this new Standard Cyclopaedia of Modern Agriculture.

This great work treats some 1,000 subjects of paramount importance to farmers—Plants and Animals—Diseases—Soil—Manure—Fertilizers—Insects—Pests—Stock Raising—Dairies—Fowls—Landscape Gardening—Horticulture and Modern Fencing and Irrigation—Cattle Raising—Horse and Cattle Breeding—Veterinary Science and Practice—Hunting—Game and Entomology—Agricultural Chemistry—Agricultural Law—Economics and Statistics—Agricultural Education—The Standard Cyclopaedia of Modern Agriculture is the handbook of the farmer who wishes to know the reasons of the complete work.

Full of reliable advice.

In some volumes there has been published. The 200 authorities are experts in their several departments. The illustrated handbook we offer will give you much more information than any one printed work in this country. Send for it today! We will send it to you free if you send the Standard Cyclopaedia of Agriculture in the enclosed and most conveniently of limited quantities.

Booklet free.

A WHITE MAN'S COUNTRY.

AN IMPORTANT CORRESPONDENCE.

AN important correspondence has been started recently in the columns of the Morning Post on the vexed question as to whether or not it is a white man's country.

White Man's Country? It is not a White Man's Country, then, since your average man is not at least a white man.

written by myself some two years ago, and it is suggested that the terms in which I have written on the health of the Highways of British East Africa were chiefly optimistic.

This reply to Mr. Afalo's letter on the same point, I do think it commensurate with my own readers, save the utmost admiration for this gentleman both as a journalist and a writer.

A Trip Across Africa.

(From Capetown to Cairo) Mr. Emil Lund.

The amount of Mr. Lund's adventures across Africa have never before been published. We have been fortunate in securing that something of a trip through the Continent there has now occurred from Cape Town to Cairo.

During the whole of the afternoon previous to my own departure for the interior, I have seen several rough sketches of the route, and they have been drawn up in a most enthusiastic manner by the Highways and the Highways.

Trip up the Juba River.

By our Special Correspondent at Kismayu.

This article is an impression of a trip from Giddara to Suakin and Jeddah, the journey on which I spent some weeks, and which was the first of its kind in the history of the Galla tribes, which inhabit the south west bank of the Nile.

What London Thinks of B.E.A.

Only Up-to-date Agriculture will Pay!
The Standard Cyclopedia
 OF Modern Agriculture.

This new work shows how every East African Farmer can now take advantage of the latest discoveries of science and adopt the most successful modern methods.

Those farmers who are disappointed with last year's results, and who do not know how to do better this season, would do well to read at once with the free booklet on offer, which explains THE STANDARD CYCLOPEDIA OF MODERN AGRICULTURE, Edited by Prof. PATRICK WRIGHT, F.R.S.

This great work treats some 5,000 subjects of paramount importance to farmers: Tillage and Farming—Mechanics—Stock-raising—Dairying—Fowling—Landscape Gardening—Insects—Pests and Machine—Fishing and Backing—Orchards—Planting—Fruit Farming—Fruit Farming—Home and Cattle Raising—Veterinary Science and Practice—Agricultural Chemistry and Soil Physics—Botany and Zoology—Horticulture and Horticulture—Agricultural Chemistry—Agricultural Law—Economics and Bookkeeping—Agricultural Statistics—Dogs—Game—Sports. There is a free Booklet describing the contents of the complete work full.

Full of reliable advice. No more experimental work has ever been published. The 200 contributors are experts in their several departments.

The illustrated booklet we offer will give you much more information than can possibly appear in this advertisement. Send for it to-day, as an opportunity will pass to you that THE STANDARD CYCLOPEDIA OF AGRICULTURE is the cheapest and most comprehensive of farming treatises.

Booklet free. (Cut this out and post to us.)

"A Trip Across Africa."

(From Capetown to Cairo)

Mr. Emil Lund

The account of Mr. Lund's adventurous journey across Africa has never before been published. We have been fortunate in securing this absorbing story of a trip through the Continent which has now emerged from darkness into the light.

Trip up the Juba River."

By our Special Correspondent at Kismayu

This article is an impression of a trip from Gohaden to Bessal and describes the scenery en route. It lightly touches upon some of the factors and conditions of the Juba tribes, which enable the reader to see back of the scenes.

"What London Thinks of B.E.A."

Some months ago we introduced a sensational article under the heading "The future of Africa" in which we set forth a responsible point of view as to the future of B.E.A. and we are sure that you will have read that piece of work, which has been widely and favorably commented upon. The writer has now returned and has written the story of his "average" tour, and it is hoped some of the observations upon which those views are based.

"Modern World Movements."

F. G. Cawston, B.A., M.B., B.C. (Camb.), M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

Mr. Cawston in his article discusses the changes in religion, social and political thought that are influencing the great nations, but more particularly East of them. He deals with Japan as a new world power, the revolution of China, the changes in Italy, and the situation in Europe. The article raises many questions and should create discussion in the longways and lanes of Eastern Africa.

"Jubaland. Its Peoples and Future."

By Cecil Wightwick Haywood.

We have made arrangements for the publication of a series of articles on this little known province of the Protectorate. The series will be dealt with under three heads: (1) The Hamar Tribes (2) The Galla Tribes, (3) The Galla or actual Hamar Tribes, consisting chiefly of Jowissah or Sheraroh Hamar tribes. The accounts and customs of these tribes will be handled upon as well their political and economic importance. The future of Jubaland will be dealt with in the developments of white occupation. As to political possibilities. The author was formerly a District Commissioner in Jubaland, and has been in the country for some years. He has been connected with the Administrative Division of the Protectorate since 1910, and is therefore fully qualified to give an authoritative opinion on these matters.

The above articles shortly will appear in the columns of the

"East African Standard."

Particular Interest
to East Africans.

"A Trip Across Africa,"
(From Capetown to Cairo)

Mr. Emil Lund.

This account of Mr. Lund's adventurous journey across Africa has never before been published. We have been fortunate in securing this absorbing story of a trip through the Continent which has never occurred since Dark Ages.

Trip up the Juba River,
By our Special Correspondent at Kismayu.

This article is an impression of a trip from Gervone to Sennel and describes the scenery en route. It highly interests upon many of the habits and customs of the tribes which inhabit the whole north bank of the river.

"What London Thinks of B.E.A."

Some months ago we introduced a journalistic globe-trotter to send us a short series of articles embodying his views of responsible political life in England as they are seen from the "other side of the water." The result was a series of papers supplied by the Editor-in-Chief in the middle of the present year. The first article has been reviewed and has excited the views of the "average" man and it traces some of the circumstances upon which those views are based.

"Modern World Movements."

F. C. Cawston, B.A., M.B., B.C. (Cantab), M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

Mr. Cawston in his article discusses the changes in religion, social and political thought that are influencing the great nations, but more particularly that of those "little States with large souls" which are the "backbone" of the Empire, the changes in India, and the position in Europe. His article raises very pertinent and should create discussion in the "longways and lanes of Eastern Africa."

"Jubaland. Its Peoples and Future."

By Cecil Wightwick Haywood.

We have made arrangement for the publication of a series of articles on the little known provinces of the Protectorate. The purpose will be dealt with under three heads: (1) the Hamar Tribes (2) the Coastal States (3) the Galla or Somali States. The matters and customs of these tribes will be touched upon as well their political and economic importance. The future of Jubaland will be dealt with (4) the development of white competition (5) the political possibilities. The author was formerly a District Commissioner in Jubaland where he has spent nearly three years. He has been connected with the Administrative Service of the Protectorate since thirteen years, and is therefore fully qualified to give an authoritative opinion on these subjects.

The above articles shortly will appear in the columns of the

"East African Standard."

Particular Interest
to East Africans.

"A Trip Across Africa."

(From Capetown to Cairo)

Mr. Emil Lund

This account of Mr. Lund's adventurous journey across Africa has never before been published. We have been fortunate in securing this absorbing story of a trip through the Continent which has now emerged from Darkness.

Trip up the Juba River."

By our Special Correspondent at Kiwayu.

This article is an impression of a trip from Gohwen to Sereini and describes the scenery en route. It lightly touches upon some of the folklore and customs of the Gusha tribes, which inhabit the south west bank of the river.

"Modern World Movements."

F. G. Cawston, B.A., M.B., B.C. (Cantab), M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

Mr. Cawston in his article discusses the changes in religious, social and political thought that are influencing the great nations, but more particularly East of Suez. He deals with Japan as a new World power, the awakening of China, the changes in India, and the position in Europe. His article raises many questions and should create discussion in the lounges and halls of Eastern Africa.

"Jubaland. Its Peoples and Future."

By Cecil Wightwick Haywood.

We have made arrangement for the publication of a series of articles on this little known province of the Protectorate. Its peoples will be dealt with under three heads (1) the Hamitic Tribes (2) the Coastal Bantu Tribes, (3) the Gusha or mixed Bantu Tribes, consisting chiefly of "enslaved or liberated Somali slaves. The manners and customs of these tribesmen will be touched upon as will their political and economic importance. The future of Jubaland will be dealt with (1) the development by white occupation (2) the political possibilities. The author was formerly a District Commissioner in Jubaland where he has spent nearly three years. He has been associated with the Administrative Service of the Protectorate some thirteen years, and is therefore fully qualified to give an authoritative opinion on these subjects.

The above articles shortly will appear in the columns of the

"East African Standard."

YOU NEED A GOOD PEN — even more than you need to buy one. "THE SWAN" has the first fountain pen that will do anything as efficiently as a fountain pen. For the complete history of fountain pens, see the book "The Swan" — a book of general or political correspondence, of the last hundred years of everyday business, there are no more like it.
