Situated amidst what is probably one of the finest scenery in East Africa, stands the beautiful Maharaja's Hospital...

The Maharaja, a born to everyone throughout the Protectorate for some years or so past, was taken over by his Highness...

It speaks volumes for the good work of his Highness that ever since the opening of these houses there has scarcely ever been a complaint...

stained the cars thoroughly and inspired ardently into such matters as the arrangements for heating and for food...

The feet has been handed over to the proper authorities. The total cost of the project was £25,000.

WILL CROOK'S VIEW OF THE WAR.

We have heard a good deal of late about the following article...

Does anyone like to be killed? After being "killed" in the first place...

Supposing all this and knowing full well the benefit of your island...

You would certainly think that the "dreadful" part had overdone itself...

It is possible that the individuals had enough for anything but a hot bath...

Like a few thousands of thousands of Britishers who have suffered from the delusions and delusions of vision...

The advertisement may be read and we may humiliate it, but I have been killed and we shall have, unconsciously...

Some last August my stock of objectives, eyepieces, and accessories has been very thoroughly used...

"God will see us," says that High Priest, Teitelbaum, "that war always rears a devilish head for the human race..."

Some of us, before the war, knew that all the battles in the world were not in politics and professed to treat the question as a game of draughts...

The devilish mechanism of the preparation for wholesale murder is more conspicuously apparent for me to be patient under the threats of the doctor...

As on the side of the formation of friendly leagues, peace societies, and in the case of the House of Commons we have held out the right hand of fellowship to hundreds of German workmen...

DOYLE ON THE WAR.

Arthur Conan Doyle's reputation as a writer of romance is rather apt, remarks "Daily Chronicle"...

One hundred years ago on April 1 Bismarck was born.

It is not to be expected that the British public have been led to catch only a glimpse in the newspaper...
