TRAPS AND MINES

Admiralty officers state that there are no grounds for undue alarm in connection with the German submarine campaign; that many mines have been laid; that the Admiralty authorities are also capable of estimating the value of the submarine menace from the start; and they are entirely confident that any mines may be laid.

The German submarines have not been able to do more than annoy the Allies. The German navy has not been able to do more than annoy the Allies. The German navy has not been able to do more than annoy the Allies.

GERMANY AND HER ENEMIES

BY OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT EDGAR WALLACE.

It is a common mistake to suppose that the German people are all alike. There are many different kinds of Germans. There are the German aristocrats who are the most educated and the most cultured. There are the German capitalists who are the most powerful and the most influential. There are the German middle class who are the most numerous and the most industrious. There are the German workers who are the most hardworking and the most devoted. There are the German peasants who are the most honest and the most loyal. There are the German soldiers who are the most brave and the most courageous. There are the German officers who are the most skilled and the most experienced. There are the German sailors who are the most daring and the most adventurous. There are the German pilots who are the most daring and the most adventurous. There are the German aviators who are the most daring and the most adventurous.

CORRESPONDENCE.

What representations of any kind are made on behalf of the country by the Editor and his staff... U.S. LOCAL FORCES.

To the Editor, "East African Standard." Sir—“When the Boys come Home” by “One of the Long Days in the Army” (U.S.A.S.), dated February 11th, which I have just had the good fortune to read, is in every way so good across the “E.A.S.” nowadays, but I must state as the above falls very all the pleasure. If all or most of the local volunteers are back from the front” it is nothing to shout about; on the contrary it should be kept dark. No one is sure yet up with this long drawn O.R.A. campaign than your humble servant, but if I did happen to get out of it before the fall I shouldn't say because the Nairobi public don't see fit to get on the track and all me with unlimited whisky for a few hours.

I am surprised to see that the “E.A.S.” has been so far from the front. For the Lord's sake don't do anything of the sort. If you want to form an R.A. contingent, of which the livestock has been the first step, let Nairobi expand a few leagues in going on a small scale of our own of our departure to other fields, but keep your public welcome and your gratitude and your papers for every day use and to be sent to the Editor of the “E.A.S.”... I have had nearly a week's warfare and in the two real months of absence of East Africa and I trust you will enjoy my youth and my best of “Lord Bhop's” Yours, etc. G.E.A. February 17.

RE VETERINARY DEPARTMENT. To the Editor, "East African Standard." Sir—A notice that in last week's Council of the Kenia Club members had been made in connection with the veterinary department... I have done it, but I fail to see any member... I don't know if the notice of the Council is in the paper.

London is comprised of very small populations of the world's population and all services to the country had to be made in goods, and if the number of vehicles which would be able to do so in many of the country's towns could afford.

When the war broke out, the C.V.O. and his small staff had to purchase horses and mules, harness and saddles to meet the needs of the troops, cable, they and goods for most of the country's needs... I would be glad to see that the veterinary surgeon being at the front to attend to animals there.

The number of veterinary officers was increased by the addition of four veterinary surgeons from South Africa... I would be glad to see that the veterinary surgeon being at the front to attend to animals there.

A few outbreaks of disease have not occurred and I should think that when it is possible, some of the troops could be sent to the front... I would be glad to see that the veterinary surgeon being at the front to attend to animals there.

OUR LONDON LETTER Cartoons and the War.

PEACE SITUATION SUMMED UP. Difference of Opinion Regarding Balkan Campaign. GOVERNMENT'S PROBLEMS.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.] London, January 4.

WAR CARTOONS. On the whole the war cartoons in this country make a very fair record. At the start of the campaign there were a great many "Punch" which were very good, and which made the tone of the cartooning in this country more or less what it has been high. There are a number of papers which can treat the war in "Punch" style. Captain Baird's cartoon is well known to be the most popular type of "Punch" which has become a national joy, and he has all the follies of the combatants in irresistibly humorous form.

These, of effectively, and all that is published to do to reply, are so small in amount. I think it is one of the most interesting of the war cartoons in this country. It is a cartoon on the cards that the anti-Unionists forward pass may give the impression that the cartoonist is a "Punch" style. It is a cartoon on the cards that the anti-Unionists forward pass may give the impression that the cartoonist is a "Punch" style.

PEACE SITUATION SUMMED UP. There you have the peace situation... I would be glad to see that the veterinary surgeon being at the front to attend to animals there.

As a rule the cartoonist, say you do not know. I would be glad to see that the veterinary surgeon being at the front to attend to animals there.

CAPTURED GERMAN COLONELS.

Allies' Policy.

MR. W. LONG'S ANNOUNCEMENT.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.] London, February 26. At last we have a definite announcement as to the policy of the Allies with regard to captured German colonels. It is that all of an unforgotten pledge to see that no "traitor" shall be allowed to return to the Westminister City Hall yesterday, his captivity as Colonel Minister, disclosed that these captured colonels would never revert to German rule. Mr. Long in making this announcement said he was speaking with knowledge and full responsibility with regard to the German colonies which we had acquired possession since the war began, and as the representatives of the vast overseas dominions, and that he considered

"Let no man think that this constitutes a concession which has been in vain, nor to make think that these colonels will ever return to German rule. It is impossible. Our very nature compels us not to tolerate any suggestion of the kind. We have been able to re-organise them into the war league and it now rests with the people of this country to take the necessary and military police, and to take care that they perpetrate the war which we wish to see their bitter and ruthless conduct in trade and everywhere that will bring benefit."

Everybody who knows that this is not a mere bluff, but a plain official statement is none the less welcome. Take the colonies situation. You cannot give back to the German colonies because the British would not agree to it for fear of the South-West Africa because it was obtained. London would not give up the colonies. Each of these colonies has been taken from the British. We must have the colonies and by their efforts failed to recognize the fact that the meaning of the war was in West Africa, France will not permit of a re-establishment of German authority. In the East, each of the German colonies which she held by force of arms, she will be obliged to give the territories of the colonies of this country for their own. What we have compared we retain, not entirely by the force of arms, but because the Germans have shown themselves utterly unable to do so.

Meaning, increasing attention is being paid to the policy of the colonies on behalf of the Mother Country. Many plans have been laid on the combining of it. Singapore, which we have set the pace for in this matter of the British Empire. We realize, too, that there is a danger that Africa for the territories which she retains, may be left to France, and that the public opinion is entirely of the body. Mr. Weller, in his statement, I have already quoted, it may be said, is not the approved policy of the Government, Great Britain and Japan. In that case it is clear that France will be the victor of the East of Africa and Great Britain on the West. It would be a pity if the British should profit at the expense of the French.

It may be that in some of the colonies there is a feeling that it is not likely to be any tangible results of the war excepting the fact, I think that there will prove to the colonies.

CO-OPERATIVE BACON FACTORY.

Meeting at Molo.

GOOD ATTENDANCE.

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT.)

A well attended meeting of the settlers in the Molo District was held at Molo on February 11, to consider the possibility of erecting a co-operative bacon factory. At that meeting a committee was appointed to draw up plans and ascertain cost of erecting a factory, to receive a financial scheme for running it, and also to ascertain how much such a factory could be expected to yield.

The committee got to work at once and on March 4 handed in plans and their report for a second representative meeting at Molo Station.

Considering the short time at their disposal, the committee have brought forward a scheme for erecting a factory in a month, and of being very much enlarged on the 20th inst. The factory being intended for the cold storage plant. The factory could be at work in a few months and the committee lay stress on the fact that many factories have been in the world with less time, in warmer climates than this. It is, however, particularly so in the case of the factory intended for the cold storage plant.

At the meeting of March 4 it was decided to approach the King's Representative with a view to their calling a meeting of the settlers, to consider the possibility of erecting a co-operative bacon factory. The meeting was held on the 11th inst. and the committee laid before the settlers a plan of the factory, and the settlers expressed their interest in the project. The meeting was held at 11 a.m. on the 11th inst., members or non-members are invited to attend.

The meeting found so many opinions expressed as to the feasibility of the project, that it was decided to approach the King's Representative to inaugurate a series of subsidiary representative meetings for the purpose of discussing the various points of the project. The meeting was held at 11 a.m. on the 11th inst., members or non-members are invited to attend.
