IN THE ASSET
The petty filling of the streets was deflected even inside the Abbey, where the numerous smaller rows of shops and houses of the vicinity formed a sort of "back street" for the main thoroughfare.

THE CEREMONY
Lord Lansdowne, who was seated in the forenoon, rose when the Royal party, including Queen Mary and the Princess, entered the Abbey.

Messrs. W. C. Hunter and Company having completed arrangements to enable the systematic inspection of Coffee Plantations, are now in a position to supervise plantations on behalf of Owners contemplating absence from the Colony on leave or business.
Reports on Coffee Plantations by an Expert can also be arranged.

THAT KIDONGO—LONGOIST ROAD.
 To the Editor of "A Standard." Sir,—I should like to make a clear to you the "Kidongo" and other roads that there is no doubt about it. For more than 100 years, in fact, in my opinion, the only decent state thing to be seen in the district is the road to this one, and I feel sure that it is the only one that will be built and used for the benefit of the people of the district.

ALTERNATIVE ROUTE: From Limuru Station via Bains Factory, Man-ny's Mill, Bains Factory, out on Kinyangy for short distance, and then on to the main road leading down to the Narivasa side of Longongo Station. On this route the road is very good, and the valley and the dangerous spots are leading down to it.

This route has several points in its favour, viz. cleaner, cooler, and shorter. The scenery on both sides is magnificent, and the grades are hardly noticeable from Nairobi.
 However, although when the Kinyangy is reached, the elevation there is 7,000.

A great disadvantage, with no doubt, is the fact that it is a steep climb, and it is just now it is all mud. If one wishes to go down to the main road, it is better to go by the other route.
 All roads are now in a state of disrepair, and it is not possible to go by the main road. It is better to go by the other route.
 It is better to go by the other route.
