MOMBASA TIMES & UGANDA ANGUS

SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1903.

A SEASIDE RESORT.

The parish pump may be an objectionable subject at times, but there have been instances where its discussion has proved of distinct advantage to the community.

SEATS FOR THE PUBLIC GARDENS.

Messrs. A. M. Jeevanjee and Co., who some time since placed half a dozen seats for the use of the public along the main road, near the Light-house, have now presented nine more to the Public Gardens, and they were placed in position this morning.

GHARRY ACCIDENT.

What might have resulted in a serious accident occurred near Mombasa last evening. Mr. J. H. Wilson was driving along in his gharry, when a horse, belonging to Mr. M. Sorabjee, strided and somehow got its leg under the wheel of the gharry. The latter was overturned, fortunately without injury to the occupant, but the horse had its leg broken.

Mail & Shipping Diary.

MAIL STEAMERS IN. June 14th - Fataha - Karachi. 19th - Joho - Northern Ports.

MAIL STEAMERS OUT. 14th June - Fataha - Aden and India.

LORD DELAMERE'S OFFER.

Lord Delamere writes: The winners of the Essay are—1. "Waterloo," by Mr. J. M. ... 2. "Paint Heart never won fair lady." 3. "Bones."

ACTIVITY ON THE LAKE.

Probably as a result of the recent good finds in the vicinity of the Lake, and the increase of trade generally in that direction, a number of boats are now being despatched from Mombasa.

PRISONER ESCAPES.

On Thursday afternoon a prisoner who was working on a gang under the charge of 3 warders, cleared the jungle alongside the police lines, and made his way to the river.

STEEL LIGHTERS GOING UP.

Some six or seven of the steel lighters which have done such excellent work in Kilindi Harbour are being taken to sea, and will be sent by rail to Lake Victoria, Nyanza, where they will be put together again, and, doubtless, play an important part in the carrying of mining machinery down to the Gold Fields—both British and German.

WAKE UP, EAST AFRICA!

TO THE EDITOR, "AFRICAN STANDARD."

SIR.—The first thing that strikes the newcomer to British East Africa is the seemingly total lack of energy and enterprise displayed on the part of its people and Government.

It is with a positive sinking feeling that I read your issue of the 22nd inst., and find that you have not only failed to mention the fact that the Transvaal has been a wonderful future, but that you have also failed to mention the fact that the Transvaal has been a wonderful future.

There are very few countries of the world which may be said: "They have no future." The Transvaal eighteen years ago had a wonderful future, and it has proved, but its (the Transvaal's) prosperity which has become to-day what it is, if the people had been content to sit down and talk of the wonderful future in front of them. No, the people there were not content to sit down and ready to grasp the smallest opportunity of "turning the nimble penny."

What do you find here at Mombasa? We go into a store and find a display of your aggressive nature and your indifference to the welfare of a good while in the hands of one of the shopful of assistants will be so much as glance your way.

Enquire of the merchant as to the state of trade and he will tell you how dull it is, invariably wide awake with the brilliant future told. Now consider for a moment this "wonderful future." In the way you are going on now, it will remain a "wonderful future," and nothing more. Is there anything being done to develop the place? Are you pushing inland, seeking its mineral wealth? Opening up the virgin soil to the growth of agriculture, wherewith to feed the "wonderful population" in the "wonderful future"? Where are your oil pressing, grinding and saw mills? Yet there are coconuts and timber in abundance. With the Hindia and refrigerating and Cold Storage Factories? Australia and America still supply South Africa.

The news is spreading in the South of the possibilities here, and though new comers are coming but slowly they are coming sure.

One day you will wake up and find the "Wonderful Future" has arrived, but it will then be in the hands of the "live men" from "Down South" and you will be left lamenting that you did not snatch at the opportunity of trying with your grasp.

Wake up your British East Africa! There is money in your pockets and money in your land. Wake up before it is too late!

Mombasa, June 18, 1903.

WILD CAT.

TO THE EDITOR, "AFRICAN STANDARD."

DEAR SIR.—When I heard that a white store-keeper of Nairobi had been fined fifty pounds, for trading with wild cats, and the skins and bones, my first impression was that my informant had been "off his head" again. The report, however, now seems to be quite correct, and what I would like to know is, if so, why so?

In civilized countries the wild cat is looked upon as vermin, and treated such as some sensible Governments have paid a reward for every one killed.

KILINDINI vs. MOMBASA.

The present is the time when East Africa is on the threshold of a general awakening to realize who their Mombasa (Mvita) or Kilindini is to be the port for the Protectorates. As is well known, it is essential that the Head Quarters of the Administration be at the capital of a country, which is, in fact, when that country has an extensive seaboard, the principal port. It is therefore, at the present moment very apposite to compare the advantages of the two harbours, with a view to coming to a decision in time to avoid needless expense and trouble, as to where our future capital is to be situated.

We are told that the steel lighters now being sent to the Lake will be to some extent used for the conveyance of railway material for the Cape to Cairo railway.

Messrs. Daniel and Rayne have taken the bones of the north side of the shore of the Lake at Nakuru, formerly occupied by Messrs. Vincent and safety. The bones being on the spot, discharging can be direct from steamer to car, and the trouble and cost of landing on the unloading boats and conveying afterwards by rail to the rail avoided.

The Beer Contingent, who have been fighting in Somalia, are in Mombasa on their return to the South.

Mr. Anderson, D.O. of Tanager, arrived by the Juba, after six years continuous service, and leaves by the French mail for Home. Mr. Anderson is a splendid linguist, and there are many nationalities represented in his district.

THE LAKE GOLD FIELDS.

OPINIONS OF AN EXPERT.

Mr. A. Flimmer, who, as we reported last week, came over by dhow from Zanibar, having just arrived from Johannesburg, and in about fifteen hours had traversed the North, was shown some samples of the quartz mined in the Shirati district of the Lake, and he expressed the opinion that it was real live rock, as rich as any he had seen, if, indeed, not the richest specimen he had had before him.

SHIRATI-WARDS.

Mr. Mayer, of Messrs. Anderson and Mayer, who was one of the first to leave for Muanza after the famous Arndt dike, and who is now on the Shirati fields, says he was shown samples of reef at Muanza even richer than that brought down by Mr. Arndt.

MR. MAYER, OF MESSRS. ANDERSON & MAYER.

A BLOW AT IMPERIALISM.

The whole fabric of Imperial Federation has been more or less discredited. The preference already given by Canada to British products would be compensated for by a corresponding preference for British goods.

CURIOUS CURIOS.

It is said that "bullet fired at Parisberg" are being made by the hundred thousand in German factories for sale on the Continent.

LION AND BEAR.

There are already signs of a certain rapprochement between Russia and Great Britain, and there is reason to hope that this movement may develop still further in the future.

DANGER IN THE TOOTHBRUSH.

The use of the toothbrush is almost universal, although other methods of cleaning the teeth have been suggested by dentists.

BUYING BOOKS FOR WORK.

Education is free in Uganda, but books, writing materials, etc. are not to be had for nothing. Through all the necessary things that go to make up a scholar's outfit...

Now the bulk of the people reading in our schools are of the poorer class, and this method of supplying oneself with these necessities is to many a real difficulty.

One excellent practice that has been tried by several institutions is to give out work books as odd jobs about the house and garden, such as grafting, planting trees, etc.

It is a pity that many will avail themselves of the suggestion of buying current needs with some definite plan in view.

One warmly recommends this practice of buying books for work to any to whom the suggestion may not have occurred.

It is the teachers in training that can expect to find willing to accept these "week opportunities for earning money."

Among the messengers and porters that trouble the C. M. S. Office in Nyrobor...

It is the teachers in training that can expect to find willing to accept these "week opportunities for earning money."

—Uganda Notes. C. J. P.

PRINCESS VICTORIA AND AUSTEN CHAMBERLAIN.

I cannot refrain from recording a rumour which seems to get more and more credence in various well-informed circles.

And as, just at present, people are full of the romantic adventures, and even escapades of royal princesses, princesses, archduchesses, virtuous English and Scotch girls of something in me kept in store for her in the line that has made Austria and Saxony so conspicuous of late.

Of course, the eldest daughter of King Edward VII. married to one of his subjects, the Earl of Fife, who, on being married, was made a duke by the late Queen Victoria.

He could be made a lord, but a dukedom is out of question. For a King, Edward VII. is a pretty good democrat, but I don't think he would care to add to his many titles that of father-in-law to Austen Chamberlain.

BRITAIN'S FISCAL POLICY.

At the Town Hall, Birmingham, Mr. Chamberlain delivered his address to his constituents on his return from South Africa.

The African Standard's special correspondent in London cables that Mr. Chamberlain has denied that there have been any differences between himself and Mr. Balfour.

majority of the Unionist Party, with Mr. Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain at their head, are entirely agreed on the new proposals.

If the British Empire is to remain intact, some scheme must be formulated by which the Mother-Country can retain the allegiance of her children.

Twenty years ago the idea would have been accounted as impossible of even advocating the imposition of duty on food-stuffs in order to strengthen the political union between Great Britain and her children.

Mr. Chamberlain's object was to lay the Imperial position before his hearers, and he did so with rare lucidity.

Two years after Lord Blackford's remarkable statement an Imperial Colonial Conference met in London during the Jubilee festivities.

at least. But, above all, the Colonial Secretary, essentially a practical man, determined to visit the South African Colonies, and to study local conditions on the spot.

C. M. S. CONFERENCE

AND CHURCH COUNCIL MEETING

A conference of the C. M. S. and a Church Council Meeting have been held in Mombasa during the week...

SINGING COMPETITION.

The week commenced on Wednesday with a singing competition between the missionaries for a silver cup presented by the Bishop of Mombasa.

In the interval there was an exercise with the musical bells, designed, as the Bishop explained, to exercise every muscle in the children's bodies.

Subsequently the children sang a final piece, and the judges announced their award.

In presenting the Cup to the winners, the Frere Town Final Grade School, the boys of which all lined up in front, one of them promptly...

The singing as a whole was really excellent, and, despite a discordant note occasionally, the articulation being wonderfully clear.

THURSDAY.

On Thursday there was Holy Communion in the English Church at 7-30 a.m.

The following were the schools competing, with their conductors, and the pieces sung:—

- FRERE TOWNS FINAL GRADE.—Mr. E. J. Harrison (I. M. A. S.). "I am so glad that our Father in Heaven..."

FRIDAY

Commenced with the Litany in the English Church at 7-30 a.m., and there were deliberative assemblies...

from 10 to 12 Africans in the English Church, Europeans at Bishop's Court...

THE NEW MEMORIAL CATHEDRAL.

At 5 p.m., the ceremony of laying the foundation stone of the new Memorial Cathedral took place.

In connection with this ceremony it is interesting to recall a few events which the new Bishopric was established in 1884, the title of the See being "Eastern Equatorial Africa."

The memorial Cathedral is to perpetuate the memory of the three above named, and tablets will be placed to show—

The whole length from apex to front of porch is about 118 feet. The nave 52 ft. 6 in.; transepts 56 ft. 6 inches; dome about 60 feet high.

The Rev. H. K. Binns then addressed the boys in Swahili, encouraging them to train their voices, so that they might one day truly be the glory of God.

THE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The following concise summary of the doings of the C.M.S. in East Africa appears in the Official Diary:—

The Church Missionary Society was founded in 1799 a.p. for Africa and the East. In 1814 Dr. Krapf, having lately been expelled from Abyssinia, established himself at Mombasa.

Stations were opened in the Taita country in the year 1850. In 1885 (but the mission was removed in 1886) to Taveta, within the British sphere of influence as defined in Germany in 1890, and in the Girama country and in 1890.

The principal tribes among which the Society carries on its work are the Girama, Bahai, Kamba, Daga, Taveta, Kikuyu, Maa, and Swahili.

After prayer by the Bishop, and several officials and their wives had signed a sheet of paper, the paper was put, together with copies of the local newspaper, the Official Gazette, coins of the various values, and stamps of all denominations from Rs. 5 downwards, in a cavity in the masonry on which the tone was to rest.

ZANZIBAR NOTES.

(From the Zanzibar Gazette.)

Copy of the African Standard may be obtained from Messrs. FRISVOLD and COMPANY, NAIROBI.

NAIROBI, JULY 1st 1903.

The weather just now is ideal. After a fearful downpour on Saturday it seems to have cleared up and we get about in comfort.

Mr. Charles Eliot, late Nairobi for the Coast to Taveta.

Mr. Hinkle, who has severed his connection with the Uganda Railway, and joined the Protectorate Treasury left Nairobi on Tuesday for Mombasa to take up his new duties.

Mr. Hudson Taylor has resigned the Secretaryship of the Nairobi Club, and, as we were, majorly returned to work a flying visit to Nairobi on Sunday last on business intent.

Mr. Amosworth the Sub-Commissioner is still at Uganda where he went for a fortnight. Mr. Amosworth intends visiting Mombasa in a few days and certainly will stay largely.

Mr. Tristram's own heartiest congratulations on his well merited honor. We can only hope this is the forerunner of something great.

Nairobi welcomes Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher and their beautiful daughter. Mrs. Gallagher was so glad to see much improved, after her serious accident, by the sea voyage, and we congratulate her on her recovery. She will soon be her old bright self again.

At last there are houses to rent in Nairobi. The Railway authorities have decided to rent the unoccupied suburban bungalows, the larger ones for Rs. 50 per month, and the single for Rs. 30. This is a great advantage. Though it is the best for the public, it is a pity for the owner.

There is a howl from the Nairobiites about the local supply of potatoes, all the best potatoes are being shipped out of the country. The local supply is said to be only 2 1/2 loads for the vertic market, and rarely good at that. Good as some planter undertakes to sell his crop locally, we think he will realize just as good rates as he will get down South.

Mr. J. M. Dancer of Bloomfield and Mr. A. F. Packman of Johannesburg, farmers, returned North with the object of settling down in the Transvaal. They returned to the Transvaal Province, but they are not to be disturbed to settle, as so severe, that any attempt to settle the land by new settlers, would prove financially disastrous.—Africa News.

N. B. Aspinall does the few daring pioneer stunts.

(The above is a paragraph apparently deliberately stolen from our columns of a few months ago. The journal quoted is not an altogether interesting publication, but on several occasions it has been one extent brightened by articles lifted bodily and without acknowledgment from the African Standard.

ALLEGED THEFT OF YOUNG COCOON PLANTS.

On the same day Inspector Watham prosecuted an Arab, Hansu bin Sidi, for the alleged theft of young cocoons from the Government plantation at Mombasa. Hansu bin Sidi, who is a native of the district of Bi To, which adjoins his, has denied the offence, saying that the cocoons were stolen from a private grower, and the Magistrate dismissed the case, saying it was a subject for a civil suit.

THE ESCAPED PRISONER.

Mr. Carter yesterday again asked the Police-Prosecutor for the two controllable prisoners who had escaped from the prison, but were not set out for trial, remarking that he had offered it about a week before. Inspector Watham in reply said he would not be at all.

CONSERVATION PROSECUTIONS.

The Magistrate disposed of 11 Conservancy Prosecutions. He found that the defendant had not paid the tax, and non-compliance with the regulations. Some were fined, some were ordered to give bond, and some were granted an opportunity to comply with the regulations.

The "Santas" Antiseptic Toilet Soap is one of the most useful preparations in the market.

Mr. H. H. HARRISON writes in his Australian Report: "I have used Santas Soap for some time."

I have now been here 23 years, and never have I used any other kind of soap for cleaning purposes.

"Santas" Toilet Soap, a little of this soap goes a long way, it lathers when washed with it, feels fine and clean on being rinsed.

Article in the News and its Management in Health, by WILLIAM ALLEN JARVIS, M.D., Lecturer on Diseases of the Skin, Edinburgh School of Medicine.

ALAN FISHER, M.D., F.R.C., F.R.S., M.S., is a prominent member of the "Santas" Company's Agents and Distributors. It is especially recommended for the attention of health reformers, &c., and the "Santas" Soap is known from the proximity of the way in hospitals for a large sale.

"Since my coming into office I have tried many soaps, and have found none of them equal to Santas' Toilet Soap."

Mombasa and East Africa generally is surely getting known at Home as well as in the South, although several of the Home papers persist in referring to Mr. Alex. Whyte's coast trip, as his experiences in Uganda! There are, however, a large number of intelligently conducted journals at Home who have taken this country up, as it were, among those to hand by the last mail which quoted articles from the African Standard, being the only one to mention the Times (Cape Town) and the Rhodesia Advertiser (Umtali, Rhodesia). We are going about now, quickly as well as surely, [Contd. News will be found on Page 1.]

Men and Matters.

A boy, in church with his parents was observed by his father to be continually looking anxiously round on all sides, and under the seats. "What is the matter with you," whispered the father to him, what are you looking for? Why father, for the consecrated cross, answered the boy, the hymn tells about (consecrated cross I'd bear)".

We hear that there is more than a probability that all goods for the new Tanganyika Concession (Portuguese) will be carried by the Uganda Railway.

There was a remarkably smart piece of work on the part of somebody on Tuesday. There were 97 bags of mails to go through, but the Post Office and Railway authorities were not dismayed. It only took all the available staff of the department 20 minutes to check and carry the bags to the van from the counter—nearly a dozen years. This is the sort of thing that must make the insular folk who run that antiquated institution, the General Post Office, and the officials of the great Railways at Home green with envy.

It was noticed that after being buffeted about for half-an-hour, one of the bags had split; and it was here that the splendid assistance of a number of time-expired coolies, who left Kilindi by the Patula for India on Wednesday.

Dr. Doyle went up to Maseru on Tuesday to take charge of a number of time-expired coolies, who left Kilindi by the Patula for India on Wednesday.

GERMAN COLONIAL DEFICIT. A recent Blue Book on the German colonies, issued by the Foreign Office, shows an estimated deficit of £1,309,428 on the Colonial Budget for the year 1903.

In one case only, that of the Caroline, Pelew, and Mariann Islands, did the revenue exceed the ordinary recurring expenditures in 1902, and even here the small balance was almost eaten up by special expenses.

On the British side of the boundary, Major Barkham's Syndicate has discovered gold, probably a continuation of the same reef, the quartz panning about eleven pennyweights to the ton.

There are only two ports on the Coast from which the new gold fields can be reached, and one of these, the German, Dar-es-Salaam, may at once be left out of the reckoning, as there is no railway, and the journey would occupy seven or eight weeks' march.

THE LAKE GOLD FIELDS.

From a well known Johannesburg we have received a letter from which the following are extracts and although we are replying to him privately, the questions asked cover such a wide range that we cannot but think the information sought will be of considerable interest to many others, as well as our correspondent.

In common with many others here I am heard with much interest of the alleged discoveries in your Colonies in the German Territory.

I have written to Dar-es-Salaam to the German Authorities for their Mining Bureaus etc but I especially want to get information as to the following points:

- 1. What are the new gold fields? How far from the Coast? What sort of mineral starting place? What is the currency? Probable cost? How about fuel supplies, and transport of same?
2. Is the ground English or German? Can an Englishman hold ground in a German Colony, and at what rent or working conditions?
3. What sort of gold is being found? Is it Banker or Quartz Reef, or alluvial?
4. Is there any wood for fuel or Mining, or how far away is coal procurable? How about water?
5. Is the climate fairly healthy?

I think of going there, but before doing so I want to get all the information possible, if there is at present, or likely soon to be, any person known to you in Johannesburg or elsewhere here from these Gold-Fields, I would be very glad to know his name and meet him here in the City.

If a start is made from Mombasa, what is the chance of getting there, and what is the expense of doing so, or can it start better made from Dar-es-Salaam or Tanga? I shall feel greatly obliged for any information and extracts from your paper, etc., which you can afford me, and I shall be pleased to

JUDGING AT THE SHOW.

The following is a copy of a letter received by Mr. Bent from Mr. John Ainsworth, C.M.G., in reply to his communication of last week.

Nairobi, July 18th, 1903.

Your note of the 3rd instant was received by me on my return from Uganda, hence the delay in attending to it. I quite understand the matter and I am sending your letter to His Honour Judge Carter at Mombasa, who is Honorary Secretary for the local arrangements, there, and will be there in the afternoon, so far as an expedient and reasonable, the ideas expressed in your letter will be met, certainly no Exhibitor's list will be issued before the results of judging are declared.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant, JOHN AINSWORTH, H. M. S. Commissioner.

W. Bent Esq., Fort Smith, Kikuyu.
