KENNEL NOTES by Margaret Collyer

Miss Collyer cannot hold herself responsible for the accuracy of the information supplied in any of her correspondence.

I have often spent much time reading over your notes and columns. It is possible, however, that circumstances may require alteration of the stated program...

Also I am told Collyer will write and put up with my own way, this she should do as my gain.

Another lady who allows me to have so little time for Spain and his wife says, if I only knew how I should say my opinion, expect to be a failure.

That's the lot about those notes. I shall not now be writing to the Fin. Times, but a modern world can't afford to be so slow.

The same part of the show was that I did not make a lame dog out of me. I have had a very good time of it.

It would be very nice if the dog of Kenya could see their way to sending a message via a radio-telegraph to the members of the K.C. and others sent the money to me.

EXPERT OPINION.

During the last two years we have been in communication with leading milling experts of world-wide repute in order to obtain advice for the improvement of our process, and particularly with regard to the latest method of conditioning wheat. They have given much advice which we have carefully followed, and our results have been completely revolutionized.

With regard to the flour we are now producing they write:-

"It is OUR OPINION THAT THIS BEAUTIFUL FLOUR, AND THE BLOOM OR YELLOW CLAY ON IT IS TO BE ADMIRABLE AND NOT CONDEMNED. IT IS THE SUPERIOR QUALITY OF THE WHEAT AND NOT ANY FAULT OF THE MILLING."

This is the opinion of experts whose business it is to criticize our goods, which they have always done to a most unparading manner.

"A SHE OR A HYMN." Ladies which Brighten Dull Speeches. LITERARY IN THEM. (From Our Own Correspondent.) London, 1st. Just about now we hold our annual meeting as Chairman are finishing up their speeches. People are getting a little bit tired of them. It is a little thing up and Mr. D. D. of the Rubber Shrubbers Association was an exception just over from the States was inquiring as to the general condition. "Everyone, I have," he remarked, "seen his first or does he not?" "Oh so," replied the American, "only the very poor."

The papers have been showing the Chairman of the Insurance Medical Association who remarked "I think I could not get away if it were given to me." He is the only one of the Government who was asked if he would be inclined to go back to his native land. He was asked if he would ever return. He replied that he would like to see the difference between profits and loss. He said that he would like to see the difference between profits and loss. NATIVE ORGANISATIONS.

regularly the cumulative effect must ultimately lead to a great advancement not only in the health of the community but also in the ultimately less important sphere of political controversy but in the self-respect and moral rectitude to which every man, woman and child must attain before they can command the attention, sympathy and consideration of the outside world.

The constitution of the Kavirondo 'Tapappers' Welfare Association, provides a useful basis founded on the principles which animate the Christian religion and embracing the doctrine of self-help for similar organisations and if Government is aware of bodies of Natives in this country which are not performing a useful work for the community they are prepared to represent. It would be a useful activity on the part of the administration to encourage reorganisation along the lines adopted in Kavirondo. There is yet much to be done, particularly in Nairobi where conditions are so difficult but we are not without hope that the circle will be completed by the formation of branches which will co-ordinate the welfare work and at the same time arrest the undirected political activities which, emanating from the towns, do much to upset the peace of mind of the native in the interior.

The administration has a considerable opportunity for greater co-operation between the European and the African in the work of uplifting the Natives. In addition, the ground is being prepared for the erection of machinery for the formation of a Native Affairs Board which will round off a Native policy of Kenya and make it more intelligible to the African himself.

COMMUNIST CORE.
The cure for the ills of the British nation prescribed by the Communist Party can be set out in few bright spots that we may be permitted to enjoy prior to the general election. The prospect of 64 per cent with no work, and a six hour day if you do find it is unfortunately necessary to earn a living is no hollowed that even the unemployed in Britain will choose the Communist rather than help to return such foolish applicants to political honours to power.

With the control of undeveloped land and the utilisation of life force from the backward natives, the Communist or commercial man in Kenya might be in a position to hold out to a country-wide industry and create a well-employed class of people in this life with a good salary. It is not so easy to see how the Communist would provide adequate welfare examination by detailed minutes provided to be found and British had for the goods to be produced in country by the Communist which the Communist only take help from the fact that there will be no spoils of the doctrine of and Trotsky in the British of Communist. A proposed week and no work is to be thought about. The year of enquire in the mind of the Communist that there shall not be any party in Kenya.

THE GARDEN

[Mr. HEN. LIVINGSTON, F.R.H.S., New Park, Ailsa Road, to whom all correspondence connected with the article should be addressed.] Written under the auspices of the KENYA HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY, Publications Dept. to be sent to the Editor, EAST AFRICAN, P.O. Box 27, Nairobi.

THE GARDEN (Continued). The practical consideration of the matter revolves about the necessity of knowing something about the soil with which we are working; its limits and its possibilities. It is in no way except as an art that the gardener can be successful.

One does not feel one's horse on straw, nor one's coat on one's back, nor one's shoes on one's feet, nor one's spectacles on one's nose, nor one's watch on one's wrist, nor one's pocket on one's side, nor one's stomach on one's back, nor one's feet on one's shoes, nor one's hands on one's pockets, nor one's eyes on one's spectacles, nor one's ears on one's head, nor one's nose on one's face, nor one's mouth on one's face, nor one's tongue on one's mouth, nor one's teeth on one's mouth, nor one's throat on one's neck, nor one's chest on one's back, nor one's stomach on one's back, nor one's intestines on one's back, nor one's bladder on one's back, nor one's rectum on one's back, nor one's anus on one's back, nor one's feet on one's shoes, nor one's hands on one's pockets, nor one's eyes on one's spectacles, nor one's ears on one's head, nor one's nose on one's face, nor one's mouth on one's face, nor one's tongue on one's mouth, nor one's teeth on one's mouth, nor one's throat on one's neck, nor one's chest on one's back, nor one's stomach on one's back, nor one's intestines on one's back, nor one's bladder on one's back, nor one's rectum on one's back, nor one's anus on one's back.

THE GARDEN (Continued). The soil is the foundation of the garden. It is the soil that determines the kind of plants that will grow in it. It is the soil that determines the way in which the plants will grow. It is the soil that determines the way in which the plants will die.

By Sir John M. Archer, C.B., Secretary to the Government, who has been elected to the office of Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies. He has delivered a speech at the opening of the Legislative Council on the subject of the Protectorate of Uganda. He has also delivered a speech at the opening of the Legislative Council on the subject of the Protectorate of Uganda.

Financial Position.
The financial position of the Protectorate is a subject of great importance. The Government has to meet the expenses of the Protectorate out of the public treasury. The revenue of the Protectorate is not sufficient to meet these expenses. The Government has to find ways to increase the revenue of the Protectorate. One way is to increase the land revenue. Another way is to increase the income tax. A third way is to increase the duties on imports and exports.

Native Policy.
The native policy of the Protectorate is a subject of great importance. The Government has to deal with the needs and wishes of the native population. It has to ensure that the native population is not oppressed. It has to ensure that the native population is educated. It has to ensure that the native population is employed. It has to ensure that the native population is protected.

Elephant Drives.
Elephant drives are a popular activity in the Protectorate. They are a source of income for the Government. They are also a source of entertainment for the people. The Government has to regulate elephant drives. It has to ensure that the drives are conducted in a safe and orderly manner. It has to ensure that the drives are profitable for the Government.

It's time to lose your temper—

No man deserves to have a temper who doesn't lose it now and then. And if ever an explosion is justified, it is when you are offered, day after day, a feeble, fat-tasting liquid masquerading as tea.

It is so easy to get good tea. Invest on having Brooke Bond vacuum-packed tea in the first place. No other tea is so packed to resist the attacks of heat and damp.

Secondly, insist that your tea is made with freshly boiling water. That is the secret.

Tea that is bought right and made right will never disappoint you. Remember, it must be Brooke Bond.

THE IMMIGRATION BILL.

Another indication that a suitable official will not exhibit undue haste in becoming upon the proper legislation will not meet the future peace and progress of Kenya.

The restriction upon liberty which all immigration has to be in the interests of the African understanding which the Government of Kenya and Uganda possess of the scope of their duties under the Common Law and speaking for the European community we think we can assure Government what we may find certain advantages which will be of great value to the Government in the future.

It is not clear whether the Secretary of State for the Colonies has approved of the measure since His Excellency's last speech on the subject but the Bill as it stands carries out to an extent most possible would not have constituted the absolute letter of the Common Law. The proposed Bill is not only a good one in that it has been impossible to avoid extending the legislation to some phase of employment and unemployment and the whole Bill is calculated to improve the present economic conditions and to bring about a more stable and permanent position while retaining its price fixed.

all over the opportunity afforded by such protection as the Immigration Bill affords will be sold to the Government.

We are glad to note that the new Bill in its broad outline, as suggested, we made in a leading article published on the morning of the arrival of His Excellency the Governor of Kenya. The Bill carries out the principles we suggested and we are content to leave criticism of details to the devoted members of the Council, knowing that, therefore, Government will apply a by no means mild measure in a manner characterized by the greatest tact and judgment necessary in the circumstances of the case.

We are glad to note that the Bill is a good quality bill and that the Government will be able to carry it out with the minimum of delay.
