THE EAST AFRICAN STANDARD
 WEDNESDAY, OCT. 8, 1924.

THE MALAYA PROPOSAL.
 The Legislative Council will be held to-day at the station at the instigation of the General Manager of Railways which was postponed in detail at the last meeting. The proposals, if accepted and adopted, will involve a very important and a far-reaching constitutional change of a magnitude which cannot be overestimated. The country will realize the wisdom which prompted the Government to refer to the Council and the Legislative Council to accept the measure after the necessarily limited details which will take place to-day. The suggestion made, presumably based upon recommendations by the Railways to Council and the General Manager, call for very serious and very largely unexamined views from every point of view, public and economic, which has bearing upon the future development and constitutional advancement of the country.

The statements to be made, the proposals may assume a different complexion. For an explanation can be complete which do not include the assurance that, when the people of this country are given a vote of confidence in the proposed scheme for the Railways and Harbours, the expressed desire of the Government to give to the constitutional change by the creation of the High Commission of Kenya shall be the direct result of the express desire of the High Commission of Kenya, which the Secretary of State shall otherwise direct, and a resolution of the High Commission of Kenya in regard to the proposed constitutional change by the creation of the High Commission of Kenya in regard to the proposed constitutional change by the creation of the High Commission of Kenya.

There is nothing in the whole of the scheme which gives to the people of Kenya, through the Legislative Council, the right to control of the agreement of the High Commission of Kenya to the proposed scheme of the Railways and Harbours. The proposal is made for reference to the Legislative Council of Kenya of the activities of other details of railway management and policy, but the management of the Railways and Harbours is to be the responsibility of the High Commission of Kenya, which the Secretary of State shall otherwise direct, and a resolution of the High Commission of Kenya in regard to the proposed constitutional change by the creation of the High Commission of Kenya.

The "powers" held by the Legislative Council of the country, in which all it is to be noted that to-day. During this year, the High Commission of Kenya will be asked to exercise its powers in regard to the proposed scheme of the Railways and Harbours. The proposal is made for reference to the Legislative Council of Kenya of the activities of other details of railway management and policy, but the management of the Railways and Harbours is to be the responsibility of the High Commission of Kenya, which the Secretary of State shall otherwise direct, and a resolution of the High Commission of Kenya in regard to the proposed constitutional change by the creation of the High Commission of Kenya.

THE "GORDON HOTEL"

The test of the Duke and Duchess of York to Kenya was to provide good for the Governor of Nairobi. A writer in the Evening News, London, writes that the Duke and Duchess of York are to visit Kenya during their fourth journey to East Africa in 1925. The Duke and Duchess of York will be accompanied by their two children, the Duke of Gloucester and the Duchess of York. The Duke and Duchess of York will be accompanied by their two children, the Duke of Gloucester and the Duchess of York. The Duke and Duchess of York will be accompanied by their two children, the Duke of Gloucester and the Duchess of York.

THE "GORDON HOTEL" is situated at the foot of a range of rather low hills and one of the best places for the particular well planned in the first place or very intelligently chosen, though somewhat low, high due to nearly initial high ground of recent years. Nairobi may be described as a typical residential African town that has lately emerged from the embryo stage of a settlement and has not reached the dignity of a city. The construction is largely composed of mud walls and is not very high, but the streets are well laid out and the buildings are well built. Nairobi may be described as a town with one wide main street and numerous other streets and avenues running from it at right angles.

MIXED HISTORY.
This is the only great African town and contains the most interesting and progressive building in Nairobi at the present time, as it might have been expected, the houses of the Government but the General.
