Tea Fallacies

"If you put the sugar in your cup before pouring out the tea, your children will have red hair."

What an absurd superstition! But no more absurd than the supposition that if you put the sugar in your cup before pouring out the tea, your children will have red hair.

It is a well known fact that the tea which is most beneficial to health is that which is brewed from the finest tea leaves.

NOTHING in the new Buick is considered unless it is perfect and flawless — workmanship, design, material, finish and performance.

Look at it.

Discover for yourself the supremely skillful composition that merges all details of form and colour into a smart, lithesome and graceful design. Good taste lies in every subtle line and in every restrained contour. Distinction marks every discreet tone of fitting and finish.

Take the wheel.

A touch of a pedal and this beautiful gleaming thing is alive. A gentle, noiseless shift and it glides silently away from driveway to road.

Now on the open highway:

Ruts and uneven road surfaces fade into nothing

And get not one single atom of strength or weight has been sacrificed to obtain slippy performance.

beneath the marvelous Buick cantileversprings. Hard on the leash, this car. Yet it creeps at a gesture, rolls forward at a touch and comes imperceptibly to a halt again at little more than a word.

A Hill.

You're swept to the top of it on the crest of a resistless wave of power. A bit of rough going. Don't slacken. You'll not feel it. A sharp curve and a steep drop. A touch of the four wheel brakes and you settle easily to a standstill. Not a slip. Not a skid. Not a jar.

Into a straightaway.

The needle creeps to 40. To 50. To 60. And now, launched into this arrowy, effortless flight, you realize at last what an utter miracle in motion the new Buick is.
