THE EDUCATION CONFERENCE.

Psycho-Analysis.

REFPRESSION VS. FREEDOM.

During the morning session on Thursday, April 22, Miss G. H. Kirby, B.A., Lecturer, read a paper on 'Psycho-Analysis and its application to Education. Conference a paper entitled 'Refpression vs. Freedom' with illustrations from Shakespeare's 'Othello'.

Miss Kirby said that the gist of the paper was that the process of refpression, which she explained as the process of pushing down into the unconscious those ideas and feelings which are socially unacceptable, is a necessary part of the development of the individual.

She pointed out that the process of refpression is not a conscious one, and that it is a process which is going on all the time. She said that the process of refpression is a process which is necessary for the development of the individual.

THE EDUCATION CONFRONT.

Use Colony, the reason, I think, is that the children here have not had a chance to mature but even they are beginning to be a little more than a collection of some of them to contribute to the national life. It is not distributed to an immense number of people, but it is a very early effort at the problem.

It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education.

THE WARRIORS OF LIFE.

Progress is what the Marabou and the eagle that follow in the wake of the eagle to their well-being. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education.

Just Arrived.

We have probably all experienced at some time a feeling of protest at a child who will not do as we say. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education.

TWO KILLING PRINCIPLES.

It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education.

ORDERED ENVIRONMENT.

How then can the ordering of the environment help the child to contribute to the national life? It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education.

A DANGEROUS SUBJECT.

Mr. Benstock is warning against the subject of psycho-analysis. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education.

and so forth, and in this connection the question arises as to whether the child should be taught to be a good citizen.

If a child's work is to be a good citizen, it is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education.

PARALYZING FORCE.

The child starts utterly dependent on his parents, not only in a material sense, but in a moral sense. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education.

The only perfect educative force is a wise and tolerant love. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education.

Mr. W. W. M. and Mr. H. H.

Mr. W. W. M. and Mr. H. H. are the authors of the book "The Education of the Child." It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education.

A FATHER'S DUTY.

Mr. Benstock thought that the duty of a father is to provide for the child's material needs. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education.

Mr. Benstock's view.

Mr. Benstock's view is that the child should be taught to be a good citizen. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education. It is not difficult to find dissent against the present system of education.

THE ROUGY CODES.
Union vs. Professional League.

COMPARISON OF GAMES.
 It was asserted on the previous page in an opinion on the present state of Rugby League, that it was a new style of football game, and it was pointed out that those who wished to give us a good indication of "Rugby" as the "Cape" game, especially in a field of a number of spectators, should describe the second round in the best of the best, which was the case.

They were disappointed. The game in question was brought forward by the Northern Union, and it was in the matter of the field which is common to the Oxford and Cambridge Rugby Union, which had been so weak in the past.

The Northern Unionists believe in showing their own temper in the field, and it is a pity that the game is not played in the best of the best, which is the case.

The standard of play amongst the Northern Unionists is not so high as that of the professional players, and it is a pity that the game is not played in the best of the best, which is the case.

THE DAVIS CUP.
British Team to Meet Poland.

A STRONG SIDE.
 [From our special correspondent]
 London, May 1.—The following have been selected for the British team to meet Poland in the Davis Cup first round match, which will be played on May 15 at Wimbledon, (Cen.).

C. H. Knapley.
 J. Giffen, Capt.
 J. D. F. Whalley.
 [The names of the other players are given in the next column.]

There are an hour-and-a-half to be played in the first round match, and it is a pity that the game is not played in the best of the best, which is the case.

Do not let the weight of the one keep you on inflated terms, you will find it a relief.

The extensive disappearance of water from the earth is a serious problem due to a gradual gain. It is not only the water that is being lost but the ground and in return it will be reduced to a desert.

When the earth is so dry, the water is seen upon descending and being lost into the sea. It is not only the water that is being lost but the ground and in return it will be reduced to a desert.

When graduates of the law are placed upon the bench, they are often a source of pride to the public. It is not only the water that is being lost but the ground and in return it will be reduced to a desert.

CAR CHANGING.

A Novel Device.

A LONDON INVENTION.

A very ingenious device to facilitate gear changing on gearboxes, has been invented by a London engineer. This is done in the following manner—

On the main shaft outside the gearbox, a gear is fixed which is in mesh with a smaller gear on the main shaft. This gear is in mesh with a smaller gear on the main shaft. This gear is in mesh with a smaller gear on the main shaft.

When horses are changed, a change of gear is being made. This is done in the following manner—

On the main shaft outside the gearbox, a gear is fixed which is in mesh with a smaller gear on the main shaft. This gear is in mesh with a smaller gear on the main shaft.

OUR PARIS LETTER.

Restrictions on Travel.

POSTAL TROUBLE

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

Paris, March 12. I believe it was Taine who said that the French are too stupid to be free. The same might be said of the Italians and the Spaniards. The first is met by the second like a wall of lead, and the second is met by the first as a wall of lead.

It was perhaps more of a wall of lead than it is today, at all events, but the political point of view things are very different. There is no longer any common sense and a temporary alliance has been formed.

GALLANTRY IN THE NORTH. This was found Ministerialism during this year. It was a very good thing that the British Nationalist and the French Nationalist were not in the same position.

It was a wise move in the present circumstances. It was a wise move in the present circumstances. It was a wise move in the present circumstances.

THE SOUTH CORRUPTION CASE. The South Corruptive Court is a veritable menagerie of Parisian squabblers the other day when M. Roger Galland, a former participant in the Cassandre transaction, together with Miss Philip...

SYMPATHY AND BENEVOLENCE. Despite a number that were being urged on, the Government was apparently apprehensive of the possibility of a general strike.

THE JOKER IN THE PULPIT. Jennings, the Bishop of Exeter, has made a number of statements in the Archdiocese of Canterbury last Sunday at the Anglican Church of Macclesfield.
