East Coast Fever. - Expenditure

Reports serious situation. Requests approval of further expenditure of £5000 to be met from savings 1910-11 for purchase of mules & establishment of post station on Fort Hall Road, & introduction of branding and confinement

The expenditure of £5000 in the current financial year was approved by our telegram on Gov. <sup>147</sup> sent off about a couple of hours before his telegram was received.

In the memo on the Estimates which for 1910-11 which has gone to the Treasury we remarked that the Govt had made no special provision in those Estimates for combating stock diseases, and that if he wished to recommend expenditure of this nature in 1910-11, he would have to show the source from which it could be met. He now offers in effect to do without expenditure already recommended for 1910-11 to the amount of $5000, if he can have that amount for stock diseases.

As the matter is very urgent, I submit a draft to the Treasury for consideration.

Paraphrase of a telegram from the Governor of the East Africa Protectorate to the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

(Received, Colonial Office, 6.36 p.m., 2nd February, 1910)

East Coast fever, I greatly regret to report, has now again become a serious menace to the Protectorate and, unless serious measures are taken to combat it, the consequence may be a general setback to the whole country which is at present impoverished by drought and general depression. The Fort Hall road after being closed for over a year to ox transport was reopened in September only to be closed in December again for probably two years. This season's crops along the road are best we have ever seen, but the closing of the road will absolutely spell ruin to farmers unless transport can be obtained. If oxen are prohibited the only available transport is steamer or motor belonging to Swift and Cranworth. This will be entirely monopolized for their own requirements as exporters, their crops being very heavy. The purchase of mules and establishment of Government transport is imperative if we are to attempt seriously to combat disease. In the Ukamba province in addition compulsory branding branding and confiscation for illegal movement must be introduced and systematic cleaning and fencing of large infected areas. Unless such action be taken there is every reason to fear a spread of disease to the highlands, a contingency by which the whole of the country would be thrown back indefinitely. I have every confidence in the measures based on South African experience proposed by Macdonald but I fear it means expenditure. I have asked for a grant of £5,000 to be met from savings this year and now ask for a second £5,000 to be met similarly next year. After taking into account all supplementary estimates the saving in expenditure this year is estimated at £3,000, surplus on revenue £13,000. Next year, apart from general saving, I safely anticipate a reduction in expenditure of £15,000. You can understand my great anxiety in the matter and its urgency. Every old question and trouble has been raised by this sudden collapse and deputations and representations are coming to me from all parts. If I can meet them, explain conditions, and show a reasonable policy, I hope for practically unanimous support. In order that the factious opposition and criticism of the past should in a measure be alleviated, I propose appointing an Advisory Quarantine Board from the farmers to act with Macdonald. Reply by telegraph is requested if possible before 15th February when general meeting with all bodies of public opinion is to be held.

GIROUARD,

Gov.

E. A. P.
