GERMANY INVADES THE LOW COUNTRIES

Attacks By Land and Air On Holland, Belgium And Luxemburg

APPEAL TO ALLIES MEETS WITH PROMPT RESPONSE

GERMAN FORCES YESTERDAY ATTACKED HOLLAND, BELGIUM AND LUXEMBURG BOTH BY LAND AND AIR. THESE COUNTRIES AT ONCE PUT THEIR DEFENCE PLANS INTO OPERATION AND RESISTED THE GERMANS.

At the same time they appealed to Britain and France for help and the Allies are putting into effect plans which were worked out to meet this contingency.

After bombing Belgian and Dutch airports, the Germans also dropped bombs on several towns in these countries and attempts were made to raid British and French air bases in France.

In Britain the Minister of Home Security issued a warning to all A.R.P. services to be on the alert and for the general public to carry their gas masks and check their various preparations.

The Belgian Ambassador and the Netherlands Minister in London announced that during the night the French armies had been warned to stand by and that the Germans began air bombing in northern and eastern France. Several enemy planes, it is stated, have been brought down.

French officers now on leave have been ordered to return to their posts immediately. The order which is signed by M. Daladier, the Minister of National Defence, and General Gamelin applies to officers both in the army zone and in the interior of the country.

In London the War Cabinet met at eight o'clock this morning for half an hour and again with the chief of Staff at 11:30 when there was a full attendance.

Large squadrons of German planes have been seen over Holland since early this morning. Aerodromes at Schiphol and near Eindhoven are said to have been bombed and three German parachutists are stated to have landed at several places including the air port for Rotterdam and Roosburg Island and also at Delft, 13 miles from The Hague. It is also stated that some have landed at Dordrecht.

A later message says that about 200 parachute troops landed at the air port at The Hague. Some of them were wearing British and some Dutch uniforms.

Parachute troops also landed on the Dutch frontier and invaded Belgium. The Belgian frontier was attacked at four points, but simultaneously there were a number of air raids and parachute troops were dropped at many points.

It is believed that practically all the air lines of the Belgian Air Line are safe. It is, however, not yet known whether the German army will carry on so usual at present. This line carries a considerable number of British passengers.

It is announced in Berlin that Hitler has gone to the German front to lead the operations. A conference was held at which the German army attacked the enemy aerodromes.

A French report says it is quite on the French frontier. A Netherlands High Command announced that in one sector only the

The Dutch Prinsland Islands which were also attacked with bombs. The Netherlands Legation in London announced in the early morning: "We are now allies of Britain and France. Our appeal for aid, sent to the Allied Governments, has been answered and Britain and France are going to our assistance immediately. The Dutch Legation at Liverpool reported that at 11:15 British French and Belgian planes were seen over the Prinsland Islands."

GERMANY WARNED Repeats If Civilians Are Bombed

May 10. The British and French Governments have issued identical announcements warning Germany that they are ready to retaliate if any attacks from the air the Germans may make on civilian populations.

The announcements recall that President Roosevelt appealed to the belligerents last September to refrain from attacking civilians and that the British and French Governments have declared an assurance that their air forces had orders not to bomb civilians, but only strictly military objectives.

Now, the announcements add, the German Government should refrain that they reserve to themselves the right to retaliate in any circumstances if they consider appropriate the means for the protection of their civilian populations within the United Kingdom, France or any other country which is being attacked by Britain and France.

over Holland and were undoubtedly successful as a result of the help. The Netherlands Army have taken up defensive positions behind the flood zone.

Hundred British Air Bombers The Belgian radio this morning reported that the British Royal Air Force has sent a message to all soldiers in the region, their units and formations. The Prime Minister, Mr. Pierlot and the Dutch Minister, Mr. Pieter

German had penetrated about 10 miles into Dutch territory. It is also reported that the Dutch forces have performed the destruction of all bridges over the Man and Wer rivers.

The Spanish resistance of the Dutch people was announced in a radio statement early this morning which said that Holland was always complete with the German demands for observance of the country's neutrality. "Now Germany has invaded our country. We shall resist to the last drop of blood."

In another broadcast the people were warned not to listen to German propaganda which was trying to reduce their resistance by spreading a suggestion that negotiations were going on between Hitler and Germany. The speaker, the announcer, considers herself at war with Germany.

The people were asked to keep up their resistance to the last drop of blood. It is stated that the Dutch people are ready to help in capturing them if they are found in the hands of the enemy.

SEVENTY PLANES DOWN THROOP TRAINS BLOWN UP

An official proclamation from the Government says that more than 70 German troops crossed the Dutch frontier and were effectively carried out in accordance with the plan. The Dutch army and anti-aircraft forces were prepared to attack the German troops as they were brought down.

The Dutch army is confirmed by a message from the Dutch High Command in Amsterdam when the planes attacked German bombers which were raiding the city's airports.

A little more detail of the early events is given in a statement by Dutch High Commanders who says that the invasion began at three o'clock in the morning when the troops crossed the Netherlands frontier. At the same time the German army was ready to enter the country.

Hitler in the West TO LEAD THE OPERATIONS

It is announced in Berlin that Hitler has gone to the German front to lead the operations. A conference was held at which the German army attacked the enemy aerodromes.

A report from Singapore, May 10, 1940, says that the Dutch Prinsland Islands which were also attacked with bombs. The Netherlands Legation in London announced in the early morning: "We are now allies of Britain and France. Our appeal for aid, sent to the Allied Governments, has been answered and Britain and France are going to our assistance immediately. The Dutch Legation at Liverpool reported that at 11:15 British French and Belgian planes were seen over the Prinsland Islands."

People in Paris say their planes flew so low over the capital that it was possible to see the Swastikas on the sides of the machines. "Planes of the British Coastal Command engaged two enemy bombers during the night. One was shot down and the other badly damaged. The War Cabinet met a third time this afternoon. The Prime Minister, Mr. Chamberlain, said that the Government would do all in their power to help the Dutch High Command to defend the Netherlands."

The latest Belgian communiqué says that eight or nine German planes have been shot down today. Two pilots brought down three British bombers and the other aircraft destroyed brought down four Messerschmitts and a Heinkel.

An extraordinary hour session of the Dutch House of Parliament but little damage was done. Two hostages appeared today over the S.E. coast of England and last after they had been freed on.

General Smuts in a national broadcast today said that three new victims of war had been killed for their lives. South Africa was proud to drop and landing bombs of sympathy to Holland and Great Britain. "They in the Union must now show their mettle. We shall fight and with God's blessing we shall win," he declared. —(Reuter).

MR. CHURCHILL TO BE PREMIER

The King tonight named Mr. Chamberlain as successor to Mr. Neville Chamberlain as Prime Minister. Mr. Chamberlain received Mr. Winston Churchill.

The Executive of the Labour Party tonight issued a statement of support for Mr. Chamberlain's decision to take the share of responsibility as well as the task of a new Government with a new Prime Minister who would command the confidence of the nation.

who, with Mr. Churchill and Lord Halifax, had seen Mr. Allen and Mr. Greenwood later saw Sir Archibald Sinclair, Leader of the Liberal Opposition, who had since issued a statement on behalf of his Party.

The German attack on Britain has been launched with characteristic disregard of the rights and freedoms of the nation. German aircraft attack must be broken by the fighting resources of the Allies together with the firm will of a united people. No event could add to the necessity for the prompt action of the Allies together with the Government, but the operation of war was not the battle in the West.

It is all probable our efforts in every sphere to defeat the enemy.

Reconstruction in France It is officially announced in Paris tonight that M. Reynaud has been replaced by the King at 11:30 this morning. —(Reuter).

Professor Kobl, Norway's Foreign Minister, announced in Paris last night that Norway will in future be represented on the Allied Supreme War Council. "The war in Norway is a year for Norway, but a year for the world," he said. "Germany has undertaken the military side of the question, but it is for us to decide whether we shall remain within the protection of her arms or whether we shall fight. The latter was engaged and it would be a military disaster if it were not."

Miss Hakon, said Professor Kobl, was still in Norway and intended to remain there to do his duty.

Professor Kobl and the Norwegian Minister, Dr. Deiling were invited by the King at 11:30 this morning. —(Reuter).

General Gamelin's Order of the Day

May 10. General Gamelin, the Commander in Chief of the Allied Armies, has issued the following Order of the Day to his troops:

"The attack which we have foreseen since last October was launched this morning. Germany has engaged to a war to the death against us. The passion for France is our only strength. 'Outrage, Enemy, Confidence.'"

Hitler Strikes

We need waste no words, no time, declaiming against the latest and greatest act of aggression which Germany has committed. Holland and Belgium, and the little country of Luxembourg, were all invaded yesterday morning as part of another long-planned step in the German campaign to dominate the world by defeating the British and French Empires. That it was the Low Countries causes no surprise. It was merely a question of choice between those and South Eastern Europe and for all practical purposes the invasion of Holland and Belgium and the impending mass attack on France was the line which any objective thinker would have drawn. Hitler may still act at the moment. Their turn may still come. Germany has a definite plan of action. It is not a spontaneous decision.

GERMAN ADVANCE CHECKED AT ALL PORTS

The Belgian Chamber of Deputies this afternoon granted full powers to the Government by 174 votes to one with no abstentions.

The Defence Minister told the Chamber that the German advance had been checked at all ports. Preparations were working perfectly and the first hours of the war justified hope that it could be prosecuted successfully.

The Minister added that the German bombing of Belgian airfields had not succeeded, for the Belgian planes had been removed some hours before the raid was launched. On the other two machines only had destroyed, but no others damaged.

Radio Brussels reports this evening:

NOTICE

Let us be glad that the threat impending for so many years has at last developed into reality. Now we know where we stand, now we know the nature of the great difficulty that which lies before us. Not one of us, man or woman, can longer allow any degree of complacency to blind us to the danger. Every sacrifice, every effort, is demanded of us all if we are to win through to that complete victory which will give us the freedom for which our fore-

GERMANY INVADES THE LOW COUNTRIES

The Netherlands coast offered strong resistance east of the River Vliet and Mass and were maintaining their positions. Some German concentrations were in various parts of the country, but the Dutch were fighting against strong opposition.

The Dutch communicate also reports that the Germans are sheltering behind the Rhine.

Fighting in Rotterdam

An American correspondent reports that German troops succeeded in landing a number of men at Rotterdam after bombs had completely destroyed the aerodrome. Netherlands forces held the right bank of the river, which the Germans have not been able to cross, though the Germans hold several aerodromes and also landed at other points on the left bank.

The correspondent added that fighting was going on in the streets and even tremors are being felt as shells are exploded.

Already a number of people have fled from the city. The Dutch capital and streams of motor cars are on the roads filled with refugees and household goods. Later there was a rumour that the Germans had captured Rotterdam, but this has not been confirmed.

The German attack on Belgium followed a similar plan and the Belgians are putting up a stiff resistance. In London, the British Ambassador is being urged to visit Belgium and when we fight we fight as one.

King Leopold in Command

King Leopold has assumed an active part in the fighting. A state of siege is being proclaimed in Brussels and the Belgian Government has ordered that all Belgian citizens who are in the country should mobilise as being "citizens".

The Belgian wireless reports that the German parachute troops landed at two points less than 10 miles south of Brussels and the other 33 miles east of the capital. The German aircraft which have been reported to be in the air are being met by anti-aircraft fire.

Nearly 40 German planes are reported to have taken part in the fight on Antwerp airport. There, at Antwerp, the German planes were seen to action. One of the points attacked was the railway station. Twenty miles south-east of Namur, the German planes were seen to be in the air.

Four or five miles south of Antwerp, the raiders dropped bombs on a mental hospital, which is famous.

Knowledge that the British and the U.S. Ambassadors to Brussels had full assurance has greatly encouraged the people of Holland and Belgium.

"ALLIED INVASION WAS DIRECTED AGAINST BELGIUM"

TENNIS: Promising Songhor Juveniles

A most enjoyable afternoon was spent at the Songhor Club, Sunday last when the Club members' children took their own tennis tournament. Those who came to watch the event, in spite of threatening weather, were rewarded with some excellent games. The afternoon being ideal—overcast sky and a cool breeze. There were ten entries in the tournament and it became evident that the progress made by the young competitors since the last tournament was very striking and some top-notch rallies took place. At about 10.30 a.m. a very exciting match was it was found that two of the players had been the winners—place—Jean and Alison Harries and a cool breeze. THE NAIROBI "SEVENS" HUNT tried to fill in the opening minutes of the game.

Non-descripts, however, have suffered some previous playing losses this year and good as their side must prove to be they declined to accept the odds which probably have laid out of sight the shirting on the armist, but one never can tell and it will not occasion over-much surprise if Non-descripts record their first victory.

The entrance fee to the series of matches will be Sh. 1/-, ladies extra 6d. soldiers and children in uniform, other than Officers, and schoolchildren free. The two central tiers of the grandstand will be reserved for the paying public.

PROFITS TO CHARITY

The entire profits of the tournament will be donated to the Kenya Welfare Fund, A.S.C. which will, in addition to seeing some really good rugby, support a most worthy object by attending in large numbers.

The first match, R.A.P. I vs. E.A.A.S.C. will start at 2.30 p.m. The next, Artillery vs. Railway I at 3.15 p.m. and three at 4.00 p.m. and the fourth, R.A.P. II vs. Nairobi at 4.45 p.m. The matches will be of the first-class standard. The first half will be 30 minutes and the second 20 minutes. At the end of seven minutes in each half a ball will ring the starting bell, but teams should CONTINUE TO PLAY until the half-time whistle is sounded by the referee. There are a few points of which players should make careful note. At the end of seven minutes in each half a ball will ring the starting bell, but teams should CONTINUE TO PLAY until the half-time whistle is sounded by the referee.

THE NAIROBI "SEVENS" HUNT

On Sunday last hundreds met at the Old Inland Camp and about twenty subscribers turned out. Drawing first on Mr. J. K. Watson's farm, paraded to the Thika railway-line, a swindling he found which ran towards Mr. Dewey's farm, then, a few feet were fence which demoralised the field-over a mile to the Nairobi River. This was too long for him to attempt, so turning right on the side of its right bank for about 1 mile. He then swung right again and was still on the edge of a wall plantation. This was a very fast 25 minutes. Hunt was a check.

Hounds were then taken to draw a field, to turning right on the side of the old Fain Road. Here a jockey was found and hounds ran very fast, tied to his bush out to a deep gully by the Thika line.

They arranged him through this in the right track to the Watte Wood. They ran the length of the wood and then left-handed over the bushes at the end of the field to a small plantation on the other side of the road. The hounds were ordered to rest here however and was pushed off the other side of the road. Mrs. Watson's farm. He was quick enough to beat hounds by getting to the end of the thick sedge just in front of them. This hunt was a point of some 21 miles and about 60 hounds ran. This hunt for about 45 minutes in the hounds were not seen as there were few horses up to any more.

Only one change was recorded, due to an unfortunate misunderstanding with a pug hole. This was not serious.

FORMERMENT OF NATIONAL UNITY

Former Opposition Represented in New Cabinet

In addition to being Prime Minister, Mr. Churchill will be Minister of Defence.

Members of the former Labour Opposition have seats in the reduced War Cabinet and Mr. Chamberlain, as Lord President of the Council, is also one of the five members.

Former Labour First Lord becomes head of the Admiralty and Mr. Eden is Secretary for War. The leader of the Opposition, Sir Archibald Sinclair, is now Secretary for Air in succession to Sir Samuel Hoare.

Mr. Chamberlain's new War Cabinet of five members is a good deal of the same old story. The Prime Minister and Minister of Defence, Mr. Winston Churchill, Lord President of the Council, Sir Archibald Sinclair, Mr. C. R. Cross, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Lord Halifax, Secretary without Portfolio, Mr. Arthur Greenwood.

Defence Ministers. The former Defence Minister has been appointed. They are Lord of the Admiralty, Mr. Anthony Eden, Secretary for Air, Sir Archibald Sinclair, Secretary for War, Mr. C. R. Cross, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Lord Halifax, Secretary without Portfolio, Mr. Arthur Greenwood.

The announcement was made in Downing Street, last evening. It was the first time since the outbreak of the war that the War Cabinet has been reformed.

The new War Cabinet is a departure from the traditional pattern of the War Cabinet, which has been reformed several times since the outbreak of the war.

Synopses

In a broadcast commentary, Mr. Lakin, the journalist, said Mr. Chamberlain had last time the Cabinet or not would be considered regarding all stages of war.

Before the announcement of Mr. Chamberlain's resignation, the Government had made it known that they would co-operate with the new Prime Minister in a new Government.

The Daily Telegraph says that Mr. Chamberlain's resignation was a surprise to the public and the highest office when it was first reported in the afternoon of the 10th.

The Glasgow Herald remarks that Mr. Chamberlain's elevation to the highest office in the country is the greatest trial that will be set before the nation's leadership.

THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN

Only Held the Germans at West Point

Only Held the Germans at West Point

BRILLIANT WORK BY ROYAL AIR FORCE

FOR THE FIRST ORBITAL 24 HOURS OF THE WAR IN THE WEST THE DUTCH AND BELGIAN FORCES PUT UP SUCH A MAGNIFICENT RESISTANCE THAT THEY NOT ONLY HELD THE GERMANS AT WEST POINT BUT MAINTAINED THEIR POSITIONS LONG ENOUGH TO ENABLE ALLIED HELP TO REACH THEM.

The Germans made terrific efforts to prevent the Allied Expeditionary Force from moving as quickly as was necessary and attacked constantly from the air.

Despite this, however, the Allied plan has developed with such speed that already on Saturday, within 48 hours of the unheralded German invasion, French and British troops were fighting side by side with Dutch and Belgian defenders.

Although Germany has placed great reliance on her air strength as a striking force, the news indicates that the Allied air forces have more than held their own in the dramatic story of the recovery of Dutch air bases south.

Allied troops are now in Holland and all day yesterday thousands of lorries packed with soldiers, tanks, machine guns and ammunition were sent northwards through Belgian territory to strengthen the armies of Holland and British troops are fighting valiantly to hold in check the German invaders. All along the front the people of Belgium welcomed the troops enthusiastically and the French soldiers were reminiscent of those who fought in the trenches in 1914.

The news that the Allied advance is being held up by the German air force is a serious matter. The German air force is being held up by the German air force.

The Netherlands High Command communique issued yesterday said that French and British military forces have come to us assistance and are being held up by the German air force.

The little town Mill which is on the railway from Flushing and near the German border was yesterday recaptured from the Germans. When the Dutch coast was being destroyed a German armoured train was destroyed.

GERMAN SOLDIERS DISGUISED AS CLERGYMEN

Amazing Ruses of Parachutists

Thirty people were killed when a German parachute unit was shot down near Alkmaar.

A correspondent in Amsterdam says that yesterday morning the attack lasted for nearly half an hour. Many bombs were dropped, some of heavy calibre.

The German dropping of parachute troops is continuing on a large scale. More soldiers have been dropped from the air west of the Hague and Rotterdam and others have landed in Belgium. Most of them are stated to have been rounded up by the Dutch authorities.

The Dutch authorities are still very much concerned about the activities of the Nazi "Bith" column in Holland.

The Dutch High Command says that yesterday a party of Germans tried to march to the centre of the city but were repelled. They quickly retreated when an armoured car appeared and opened fire on them. It is believed that a similar dramatic action will be taken if there are any other such attempts from inland.

One man has been giving signals to the German raid on Zandvoort in Amsterdam and shot.

All important buildings in Holland are being guarded and no one is allowed to enter without a careful examination.

The Argentine Minister at The Hague has been hit by German bombs and the Brazilian Minister have taken refuge in the residence of the Papi Nuncio whose chapel has been destroyed by bombs. (Reuter)

LATE NEWS

Brussels had two air raid warnings this morning. Thirty German bombers were seen over the city at four o'clock and just after seven o'clock the anti-aircraft defenses went into action. This afternoon 10 German planes appeared over Brussels and the anti-aircraft guns again went into action. Today 40 planes passed over Namur in different directions.

The Belgian defence forces at the front of Holland are taking heavy toll of German bombers and it was reported that German planes were shot down over Brussels and that 40 German planes were brought down over Belgian territory yesterday.

Swiss in London.

Mr. Chamberlain's five other Ministers were sworn in before the King at a Privy Council meeting at Buckingham Palace today. They were Mr. Chamberlain, Mr. Attlee, Mr. Eden, Sir Archibald Sinclair and Mr. Alexander. Mr. Attlee, who had been in the House of Commons, stated that Mr. Chamberlain will continue to lead the House of Commons. The newspapers today wholeheartedly approve the new War Cabinet and there is no talk with the new heads of the fighting services.

An Air Ministry announcement issued this afternoon says that a number of unidentified planes appeared over the North Sea and were shot down. No bombs are reported to have been dropped.

His Majesty's submarine Seal is reported to have been sighted according to an Admiralty communique issued this afternoon. The communique adds that foreign reports suggest that some of her crew may be prisoners of war.

Other troops dropped from the sky are disguised as clergymen and monks. In Holland as well as Belgium plans to render these troops ineffective have so far proved effective.

MR. CHURCHILL

And A New War Cabinet

If, as Mr. Chamberlain said to the nation in his last broadcast from historic No. 10, Hitler has done his worst, and his attempt to coincide with the internal political difficulties of Great Britain and hoped to profit therefrom, the German plan is still a profound error of judgment. But that choice of moment is improbable. The German plan has been progressing long before the British people reached the point of deciding that a political change was necessary in their own affairs. What is important is that once again Hitler has played his full part in the solution of a British problem. It was already clear from the debate in the House of Commons last week that a change was not merely impending and desirable but that it was essential if a restoration of confidence was to be brought about. It was equally clear that the reason for that public demand were not born merely out of the Norwegian debacle, though that did help to bring the public into a better light, brought public anxiety to a focus. The demand was the result of a slight accusation of personal animosity or feeling that all was not well, that Britain's war policy lacked direction and drive, that compared with the clean-cut decisions of Germany, Great Britain seemed to be thrown back on a wait and see policy again, and that even when we had seen the Government did not seem to know what the British nation should be.

Defence Volunteers

NEW STATUS FOR DAR ES SALAAM "SPECIALS"

[STANDARD CORRESPONDENT]

It will be recalled that early last month a communication from the British High Commissioner in Dar Es Salaam, stating that the British Government was now preparing to receive a large number of defence volunteers from the East African territories, in which it was contemplated that a special training would be carried out by the Government. After further consideration of the legal position, the British Government had decided that it would receive the defence of Dar Es Salaam against possible enemy attack, and that it would receive a large number of defence volunteers from the East African territories, in which it was contemplated that a special training would be carried out by the Government. TENNIS: PARKLANDS HANDICAP TOURNAMENT A warm, sunny afternoon, permitted almost the full programme of matches to be completed on Saturday in the 22nd annual Parklands Handicap Tennis Tournament. The courts were in remarkably good condition considering all things, and but tended to offset the fierceness of the new balls at first and this placed a premium upon accuracy and touch, rather than upon sheer speed.

Saturday Afternoon MEN'S SINGLES (A Section): Milford beat Brock, 10/6, 6/2; McCaldin W.O. from Fyler (retired); Fyler beat Johnson, 6/4, 6/2.

MEN'S DOUBLES: Moss and McCaldin beat Berry and Charman, 8/6, 6/1; Firth and Gordon beat Rodeth and Pasted, 9/6, 6/4.

LADIES SINGLES: Mrs. Harris beat Mrs. Armstrong, 6/4, 6/2; Whitley beat Mrs. Goldhawk, 6/2, 6/0; Mrs. O'Shea beat G. M. May, 6/2, 6/0; Donna Zappi, 6/2, 6/0; McDowell, 6/2, 6/0; Miss Kopperer beat Mrs. Fern, 6/0.

MEN'S DOUBLES (Handicap): Bayley and Mrs. Moore W.O. from Parry and Mrs. Forthingham (retired); Marshall and Mrs. Richards beat Moon and Mrs. Norman, 8/6, 6/4; Mr. and Mrs. Perrin beat Dowle and Mrs. McCormick, 6/2, 7/5; Rodeth and Mrs. White beat Mr. and Mrs. Firth, 11/6, 6/2; 8/6; Dunan and Miss Fuller beat Mrs. and Mrs. Cattell, 8/6, 7/5; Jessop and Miss Webster beat Thompson and Mrs. Thompson best Piqueur and Mrs. Rodney, 6/1, 6/2.

Yesterday's Results The results of yesterday morning's matches are as follows: MEN'S SINGLES (A Section): Bayley beat Chalmers, 6/1, 7/6, 6/4; "B" Section: Fyler beat Brock, 6/4; Tabor Smith beat Norton, 6/1, 6/2; Leconte beat Newark, 6/1, 5/7, 7/5.

MEN'S DOUBLES: Brock and Butler beat Shallock and Pearce, 6/4, 7/5; Erickson and Lagerberg beat Fyler and Brainerd, 6/2, 7/5; Thompson and Mitchell beat Fyler and Gordon, 6/2, 6/2; Moss and McCaldin beat Webster and Christie. LADIES SINGLES: Miss Whiteley beat Miss P. Keeling, 6/2, 6/0; Mrs. Thompson beat Miss Silver, 7/6, 6/0, 6/4; Mrs. Harris beat Mrs. Chalmers, 6/2, 6/0; Donna Zappi beat Miss Lou Smith, 4/2, 6/2; Mrs. White beat Miss Helen, 7/6, 6/1.

LADIES DOUBLES: Mrs. Mallett and Miss Burdell beat Mrs. Charman and Miss Silver, 6/2, 6/1; 7/5; Mrs. Rivers Thomas and Mrs. Rodney beat Mrs. Finch and Miss Kingston, 6/4, 6/2.

FOOTBALL: RHODESIANS BEAT THE RAILWAY Clever Display In Saturday's League Match

In a war-time League Association football match played on the railway ground on Saturday, Southern Rhodesian All Force beat the Railway by 3 goals to 2, after leading 2-0 at half-time. Conditions were difficult and the ground on the slow side, but the Rhodians' forwards, especially the two wings, were always fast and enterprising, while Fulton played a perfect game at centre-half in both attack and defence.

From the kick-off the Rhodians' attack and it was immediately apparent that they were well-organised and finished side by side with good combination and a valuable understanding between attack and defence, the halves being particularly good. For the first ten minutes play was all in the Rhodians' hands and they were kept busy by Railway's forwards rarely looked up the attack and a good run and centre from the left wing, Fulton, in a meet and hands by the defence earned the attackers a penalty. Fulton took the spot kick and scored with a well-placed shot (4-0).

Railway then attacked vigorously and there were some good forward runs. The Rhodians keeper left his charge, missed the ball, and Clowes shot wide with an open goal before Mrs. and Mrs. Moore took the attack again, combination being in the hands of the Rhodians and a hot shot by Fulton was well saved by Fulton's good work at the interval. The Rhodians pressed the Railway and were not better of matters and were not able to break through the Rhodians' second goal came as a result of a combination between Fulton, the inside-left and centre-forward, the latter being particularly successful, for the aim led to a goal.

Railway Exert Pressure The Rhodians pressed after the interval for some time and Fulton saved and cleared three good shots before Mrs. and Mrs. Moore took the attack and the Rhodians' keeper displayed an alarming propensity to leave his charge too often. W. Hutton hit the upright with a hard shot in a Railway raid, but gradually the aimers began to find the goal.

The Rhodians' attack and again Fulton had to save three hard shots, from the right and the inside-right and the centre-forward respectively and close rally worked with Fulton on the left wing, gaining possession and scoring from almost on the goal line to put Rhodians three goals ahead.

Railway, however, were not dismayed and pressed hard against a Rhodians' defence, but a fortunate save and a misunderstanding between back and goalkeeper enabled Durham to work his way in close and score (3-2).

Railway, encouraged by this success, continued to press and W. Hutton retained a long time and was best the opposing back and scored a good goal (5-2).

Play was fairly even for the rest of the game with Rhodians having the better of the exchange. Railway appeared to have the better of the exchange, while the Rhodians were a thrush and well-balanced side whose halves played sound, constructive football and whose wing forwards went fast for goal when opportunity offered.

Certainly the centre-half, Fulton, and the right wing, Chatter, would appear to be almost automatic selections for the Empire Day game between The Army and the Royal Air Force. Mr. A. J. Field handled the match firmly and impartially.

NAIROBI RUGBY TOURNAMENT Nondescripts' Victory

Following are the results in the Nairobi Seven-a-Side Rugby Tournament at Parklands on Saturday. First Round R.A.F. 1: 3 points (a goal) beat A.A.S.C. 3 points (a try). A.A.S.C. 9 points (3 tries) beat Railway 5: 0.

Nondescripts 11 points (goal and 2 tries) beat K.A.R. 5 points (try). Semi-Finals Artillery, 3 points (try) beat R.A.F. 1: 0. Nondescripts 5 points (goal) beat Nakuru School of Instruction, 6: 0.

Rhodesian Sport For the third year in succession, C.W. Smith of the Royal Salisbury Golf Club, won the Mbatiana Amateur Golf Championship, at the Salisbury Region course. In his morning round he established a course record of 73, two better than bogey and five strokes better than the next man. He also won round in the runner-up in 73. His total of 148 put him 10 strokes ahead of the runner-up, J. H. G. Anderson.

RUGBY AND SOCCER In spite of the break-up of the Rugby Union of the Mbatiana Region being distributed to make up differences in the quality of Rhodesian Rugby is not deteriorating. A brilliant amateur boxing Association has decided to organise a boxing tournament at Bulawayo on June 1.

The standard of Soccer at both Salisbury and Bulawayo is also being maintained and the absence of league lists is making no difference.

GERMAN ATTACKS REDOUBLED DUTCH ROYAL FAMILY

Queen Wilhelmina with the Crown Princess Juliana and the latter's husband, Prince Bernhard. It was announced yesterday that Princess Juliana and her two children have arrived in England.

Lord Lloyd Is Secretary of State For The Colonies

PREMIER'S LATEST APPOINTMENTS

Lord Lloyd has been appointed Secretary of State for the Colonies in succession to Mr. Malcolm MacDonald.

A sound list of ministers includes the names of Mr. Herbert Morrison, the well-known Labour leader, as Minister of Supply, and Mr. Duff Cooper as Minister of Information.

London, May 13. The names of seven new Ministers in the Government were announced last evening. They are: Lord Chamberlain Sir John Simon, Secretary of State for the Colonies; Sir Kingsley Wood, Home Secretary and Minister of Home Security; Sir John Anderson, Secretary for the Colonies; Lord Lloyd, President of the Board of Trade; Sir Andrew Duncan, Minister of Supply; Mr. Herbert Morrison, Minister of Information; Mr. Alfred Duff Cooper, Minister of Information.

These new appointments include the changes of office and add another Labour post in the person of Mr. Herbert Morrison. The 13 appointments made so far comprise 10 Members of the former National Government, four Labour Members and the Leader of the Opposition.

The list issued last night includes the names of prominent Conservative critics of Mr. Chamberlain's Government. They are Mr. Duff Cooper and Lord Lloyd, who brings in the post of Secretary for the Colonies, a wide experience of administration.

Sir John Simon

Sir John Simon gives up his post of Chancellor of the Exchequer to become Lord Chamberlain. He thus leaves the House of Commons for the House of Lords.

Sir Kingsley Wood, the new Chancellor of the Exchequer, has held several Cabinet posts in Mr. Chamberlain's administration. He was Lord Privy Seal and before that Air Minister. He has also been Postmaster General and Minister of Health.

Ministers in the new list which includes the old posts are Sir Andrew Duncan as the Board of Trade and Sir John Anderson as Home Secretary and Minister for Home Security.

It should be borne in mind that the Cabinet is not complete and a third list is expected soon.

British Embassy Staff Molested In Rome

AMBASSADOR ASKS FOR EXPLANATION

May 13.

The British Ambassador in Rome is asking the Italian Government for an explanation of an incident on Saturday when members of the British Embassy staff were molested.

The Ambassador has also been instructed to draw the attention of the Italian Government to the unfortunate impressions likely to be created by anti-British posters.

Sighele Mussolini received his defence chiefs last night. They were Marshal Graziani, Chief of the Army Staff; the Under-Secretary for War and two Generals, who have been charged with strengthening the defences of the North West Frontier, known as the Vittorio Line. Part of these defences faces France. (Reuter).

DISGUISED AIR TROOPS WILL BE SHOT

French Warning

The French Government announces that the air force will be given to German soldiers or airmen captured in France who are wearing disguised uniforms. Orders have been given to the French army to shoot such men on the spot.

The announcement is made in the wake of indignation which German war methods which are being fought in France.

The Netherlands Government has issued a protest against German breaches of international law in respect of the use of the disguise of Dutch uniforms by the German air force.

INTENSE AIR ACTIVITY

The position on the long war front embracing Northern France, Holland and Belgium is developing slowly. The Germans are being held along the Magdoot Line, but are reported to have made progress in the Northern Provinces of Holland which are among the undefended areas of the country.

In Belgium the pressure is continuing around Liege and the Albert Canal areas and reports from Paris state that the violence of German attacks has redoubled during the last 24 hours.

Again there has been a day of intense aerial activity and the Royal Air Force together with the French and other Allied air forces have carried out many concentrated raids on marching troops, railways and strategic points.

It is also said that the German advance in the Netherlands is reported to have been halted.

This morning's Dutch communication also reports that German troops have been in contact with the Dutch frontier forces have partly withdrawn to the interior.

Dutch planes bombed several German towns, and French troops have been in contact with the enemy in the Netherlands.

The northern provinces of Holland have been entered by German troops and the Dutch frontier forces there withdrew while showing up German tanks and armoured cars.

More paratroops were landed at various places in the interior but were overcome.

Dutch armoured cars dealt with German armoured parties who seized several towns which contained Dutch troops and the ground in front of them was held by German troops. The Dutch frontier forces there withdrew while showing up German tanks and armoured cars.

The communication also claims that despite the capture of German forces at Waalhuizen it may be considered lost to the enemy as a result of heavy Dutch artillery fire.

The work of clearing German forces out of Rotterdam is proceeding and Dutch military authorities say they are complete masters of the situation in the interior.

In Belgium the German drive for Maastriicht has failed after penetrating 20 miles to Varenne which was about 12 miles from the frontier. The forts at Liege repelled all German attacks and the ground in front of them was held by German troops. The Dutch frontier forces there withdrew while showing up German tanks and armoured cars.

The British communication also claims that the German advance in the Netherlands is reported to have been halted.

Refugees In Britain

Belgian and Dutch refugees are beginning to arrive in England and France in considerable numbers. Temporary accommodation is being found in public halls and post-war institutions until further notice can be arranged.

Some of the refugees are being provided for in hostels in the area at Wembley which has been taken over by the Government.

At Paris railway stations crowds of women children and old people have been seen to be taken to Belgium and the refugees are passing through Paris to the French frontier.

Ready For Evacuation

May 13.

Children in the evacuation areas of Britain are being meticulously examined to see that they are fit for an evacuation if the Government scheme of evacuating children is put into operation.

It is reported that the examination of the children being carried out by the Ministry of Health is being completed unless air raids suggest that there is any danger of continuous and heavy bombing.

Many of the children have already returned to London and their host centres. (Reuter).

Dutch Crown Princess

Her Royal Highness Princess Juliana, heir to the throne of the Netherlands, arrived in London today accompanied by her two children, the Princess Beatrix and Prince Bernhard. Her arrival was the subject of an official statement which was issued in London and which said that the people of the Netherlands would be very happy to know that their beloved Princess was in a place of refuge.

It is pointed out that it is of paramount importance even if the worst should come—which at present there is no indication—that the Royal House of Orange-Nassau should be safe.

Prince Bernhard accompanied his family to London but intends to resume his duties as soon as it is possible to do so.

Princess Juliana and her husband drove to Buckingham Palace and stayed with the King and Queen. The Princess and her children are staying with a former Dutch Minister in London. (Reuter).

Britain And The Dutch Colonies

It was officially announced in London today that the British Government will continue to support the Dutch Government in its fight against the German air force.

It was again emphasized that the Dutch West India States will be supported by the British Government. The object was to make sure that the Government had sufficient forces to prevent sabotage of the important Dutch islands.

With regard to the Netherlands East Indies it was stated that the British Government will continue to support the Dutch Government in its fight against the German air force.

44 Bombs Dropped In Kent

An Air Ministry communication today stated that 44 incendiary bombs and 20 high explosive bombs were dropped and exploded harmlessly in a densely populated area near Canterbury.

The official statement says it is recognized and much regretted that these measures will, for a period, involve great hardship to the people of the East Kent, but it is intended to make the area more secure as soon as circumstances permit.

What is this new material?

TWENTY-FIVE years ago it took approximately 500 man hours of work to apply a complete surface coating to a car. Today it takes 15 years or so. Today, under every condition of climate and weather, the brilliant sheen and lustre of a modern car will last for five or six years.

The development of synthetic resins made this advance in surface coating technology possible, and in this development, Acme and Sherwin-Williams have pioneered.

Twenty-five years ago, paint, varnish, lacquer and enamel were made wholly, or in part, from natural gums and resins. Acme and Sherwin-Williams research laboratories have improved upon nature's own products and today Acme and Sherwin-Williams are the world's largest producers of these modern materials.

Practically every surface... wood, metal, leather, paper, textile... can benefit from the greater beauty and longer life imparted by surface coatings of Acme and Sherwin-Williams modern paints, enamels, varnishes and spray painting products.

In addition to carrying a wide range of Acme and Sherwin-Williams specialized decorative and protective finishes, we offer a technical advisory service in connection with all painting and refinishing problems... the only organization in East Africa to offer such a complete service.

CABINET CHANGES
Lord Lloyd At the Colonial Office.

Mr. Churchill has not long time in proceeding with the appointment of his remaining chief Ministers. It is not possible to obtain the ideal and perfect Government which will satisfy every critic, but Mr. Churchill has got as near perfection as possible in his search for active and vigorous-minded men of varied experience which will help him in pursuing the tremendous war effort the country is now called upon to make. His choice is limited to the politicians. There are many first class brains engaged in finance, economics and industry whose names immediately occur to the man in the street, but they are not in Parliament and many of them are today engaged in responsibilities as important and as vital to success as those entailed in ministerial direction.

As Governor of Bombay, Lord Lloyd dealt sharply with political groups who threatened the authority of his government. In the Sudan, his resignation or dismissal caused a sensation in Britain's relations with Egypt. The "me on the spot" was sacrificed because the Government of the day wanted to carry out a policy with which they were not in agreement and since then the British people have had to wait for the need of the moment brought him, in company with other political elites, back into the national scene to his own place. Mr. Churchill was given the amiable Minister for Air who in a short time found the task of organization beyond his physical powers. His problem was to relate the speed of production, now so important, to the rapidity of technical improvement, now less vital. No sooner were approved new types in production than something better was on the drawing board.

Mr. Churchill's long experience, his personal association with the Ministries of Education and Health and with the reorganization of the Post Office and in all these posts he showed capacity for detailed work and reconstructive ability. During the last war he was identified with many of the aspects of domestic finance, related mainly to the great social problems of the time, and his experience of Government work is as broad as that of any man in the Government. The critician today is that these experiences hardly qualify him for the direction of high finance but he has behind him the Treasury, the most efficient of all the departments of State in Great Britain. He efficiently choosing a Chancellor is able to select the selection of a man whose financial theories are an enhancement to the Government and that charge cannot be brought against Sir Kingsley Wood.

The important Ministry of Supply has been entrusted to Mr. Herbert Morrison whose direction of affairs of the London County Council, whose chief for vigorous organization, gives him a good standing with the public in his approach to the lower ranks of one of the most important of all the ministerial posts under present conditions. So far as the Empire is concerned, matters are naturally given in the new Secretary of State for the Colonies, Lord Lloyd is a first class appointment. East Africa could have wished for none better, and we more closely interested in the vigorous prosecution of a sound policy in the Colonial Office than any other Minister in the Government. You are in Kenya, I believe, the pace runner of the Empire. Africa. It is in one part of the Empire which displays sound work, Palestine, Bire, and the spectacular Fifty Million, but the part which the Colonies have to play in the war effort is of such importance that a new and more imaginative policy is needed than the record of the old Government entitled us to hope for.

Lord Lloyd of Dolobran, student of Eastern politics, widely travelled, with a brilliant war record, is sixty years old. Those who know him personally will tell you he has many intimate friends in East Africa—are well aware of the incisive qualities of decision, acuteness of thought and freedom of opinion, indomitable spirit and infinite capacity for hard work he will bring to a post for which he is admirably fitted both by experience and inclination. Since Lord Milner we have had no Colonial Secretary, who, if given the opportunity, is likely to leave so effectively in a mark on the Colonial Office. Lord Lloyd is not a man with an inexhaustible store of patience. He has little time for rule of thumb thinking and the time-wasting, policy-evading methods of bureaucracy. What he says has to be translated promptly and effectively into policy, and Mr. Churchill will have to look for another Colonial Secretary.

As Governor of Bombay, Lord Lloyd dealt sharply with political groups who threatened the authority of his government. In the Sudan, his resignation or dismissal caused a sensation in Britain's relations with Egypt. The "me on the spot" was sacrificed because the Government of the day wanted to carry out a policy with which they were not in agreement and since then the British people have had to wait for the need of the moment brought him, in company with other political elites, back into the national scene to his own place. Mr. Churchill was given the amiable Minister for Air who in a short time found the task of organization beyond his physical powers. His problem was to relate the speed of production, now so important, to the rapidity of technical improvement, now less vital. No sooner were approved new types in production than something better was on the drawing board.

GERMAN ATTACKS REDOUBLED IN VIOLENCE

more than another that spirit of unrelenting adventure, independence and confidence, that part in Kenya Colony and the man who have made it.

Here in East Africa in this time of war, it is particularly in Kenya, Lord Lloyd's fine spirit of confidence in the eight years ago, surely be the case of us today if we take inspiration from it to sweep away the confusion which has had been met and emerge determined that we shall put our war-time hours in order, see clearly the path that lies in front and travel along it with all that old spirit and confidence in ourselves which the people of Kenya have always had. That spirit is still there. It is not dead within us, but a community we are in danger of becoming mentally paralysed because the spirit is not being properly encouraged and employed.

100 Planes Down

The latest report, said M. G. de Broqueville, is that the German air force has resumed their advance. He said yesterday there were 100 German aeroplanes in the air over the British aerobatic in which French and British fighters were downed and that about 100 German planes had been brought down.

Further reports from the province of Luxembourg in now in German hands. On Saturday night the British forces are helping the Belgians.

British and French Air Forces

The British Air Ministry says that 45 German aeroplanes have been shot down by the Royal Air Force on Saturday night. The announcement adds that it may be only a partial account of the aeroplanes that have been destroyed or damaged. The number must be subject to German machine reports on Sunday over France. This is announced in the French press of the last night.

33 British Aircraft

Thirty three British aircraft have so far failed to return to base. It is known that the British had made forced landings in France.

One British fighter squadron in the west of England advanced several miles into the country and three fighters after himself downed young officer himself.

The ground defences which were being used to prevent the Allied aeroplanes have resulted in German casualties and very little damage and have proved very successful in the French air.

The Air Ministry has issued a message announcing that a German plane was shot down in Belgium. It was in German hands. The installation of "Nete" streams at various points in the air is being made as possible. The aircraft sanked received the latest news.

News As Usual

(Germany) continued today. The German High Command, Belgium and Northern France. There were two raids on the shores of the English coast and many bombs are reported to have fallen in the night. It is claimed that the objects of these raids are the destruction of the communication with the south so as to prevent the movements of Dutch troops to the front.

Two flights of German raiders were reported to have been shot down in Brussels which had two airmen killed and two others injured. Eastern France. Plans were also reported of the installation of a station in 24 hours. Plans were also reported of the installation of a station in 24 hours.

The German High Command claimed this afternoon that it had destroyed 40 German aeroplanes. Possession of the citadel by some forces were still holding out. The report says that only one fort had been taken.

The French High Command has reported that the British advanced air striking force has been shot down in a German raid on 11th of May. The raid is said to have been the heaviest since the German started early on Friday to attack Rangoon.

Volunteers Versus Parachutists

Mr. Anthony Eden, the Ministry of War, said today that the idea of having more parachutists was not necessary. He was replying to a question of the House of Commons by a Liberal Nationalist member of the Government. He considered the immediate formation of a volunteer corps of parachutists was not a wise move and that the men should be trained with the regular army.

When Real War Began...

Mr. Haden Guest, M.P., May 13, during the medical work in France during the war, he said that the day the news of the beginning of the war was received in Britain. He said that he was present at G.I.Q. on the day the news was received. He was awakened by an air raid on the night of the 3rd of May. He said that he was the first to see the light of the greatest catastrophe of the world.

TENNIS: PARKLANDS HANDICAP TOURNAMENT

There were some excellent matches on Sunday afternoon in the Parklands Handicap Tennis Tournament. In the men's singles "A" and "B" classes. The latter took a long time to settle down and lost the first set, but both the next two went to 12 games each. Fifth was accurate and steady, as usual, in beating Milford, each of the three acts going to ten games.

In "B" section, Talbot Smith had a great time, but the match lasting two hours and comprising forty-two games. Talbot Smith made some great recoveries when Harris had several match points.

There were some good matches in the Level Middle Doubles, the standard of tennis being high all the afternoon matches, the best of which were those of the great standard of tennis was played between Harris and Talbot, who won over Bock and Bickner, fortunate in the third set, but considerably, with the winners rather more accurate. Both Bock and Talbot got in some powerful smashes, while Duncan served well. The results were—

RUGBY:

THE NAIROBI SEVEN-A-SIDE TOURNAMENT

Nondescripts' Fourth Consecutive Victory In R. A. F. Cup

Nondescripts scored their fourth successive win in the Nairobi Seven-A-Side football tournament, beating the Parklands ground on Saturday, 6/0, in a try (3 points) in the final, thus retaining the Royal Air Force Cup, which they have won each year since the inception of the tournament.

There was nothing fortuitous about their victory. It was earned as a result of all-round superiority and better combination.

Mrs. Shaw's wife of Wing Commander, J. S. Shaw, Air Officer Commanding, presented the Cup to the Captain of the winning side (L. Sinton), after the final in which there was an excellent crowd of keen hard Rugby which, in the prevailing circumstances, was exceedingly good.

The organization was first-class and the manner in which the referees and other co-operated with the officials was beyond reproach. The match was so well scheduled without the loss of an unnecessary minute.

THE FIRST ROUND

R.A.F. II vs. E.A.S.O.
(Referee: Messrs. Ghidella and Knowlton).

The first match, won by R.A.F. II, 6/0, was a very interesting one. R.A.F. II was sufficient to indicate that conditions were not very favourable for a try.

A.S.C. scored first, D. Driscoll scoring in the loose and getting over in the right. Driscoll's kick from a great angle failed. Jackie, after a difficult run, was all but over the goal line, but A.S.C. led 3-0 at half-time.

R.A.F. pressed hard after the interval, but Driscop was excellent in his defence. A scrum in the middle, however, Jackie was put in possession about mid-field and finished a great run at speed to touch down. R.A.F. led 6-0.

Artillery vs. Nairobi I
(Referee: Messrs. Powell and Jeffrey).

Artillery, for whom C. L. Rand-Overy was the mainstay and the inspiration, were too good for Nairobi I, winning by a point (3 tries) to nil. H. Williams was clever and elusive as Nairobi's last line of defence, but Gunners were persistent and in two minutes Schodens secured in Nairobi's twenty-five from a move—and ended over a good kick, but failing to get on half-time a good passing ball rived off. Aldous getting over for an unconverted try, to give the Gunners a 4-0 lead.

Play was mostly in the Railway twenty-five after the interval and a period of intensive pressure resulted in Dracoll making an opening and passing to Rand-Overy, who struggled over for a try, though the kick never materialized.

Nondescripts vs. 3rd K.A.R.
(Referee: Messrs. Ghidella and Finn).

This match proved to be the fastest and most strenuous of the first round, with Nondescripts showing all round superiority, and winning by a goal and two tries to nil. Nondescripts were soon in action and Hicks completed a good move by side-stepping cleverly and getting over. Sinton's kick just got to the wrong side of the post. From a line-out, Nondescripts secured and getting over. Sinton's kick just got to the wrong side of the post. From a line-out, Nondescripts secured and getting over. Sinton's kick just got to the wrong side of the post.

Nondescripts vs. Nairobi School of Instruction
(Referee: Messrs. Finn and Hope).

Nondescripts appeared to be a trifle javed in this match, but established a last-second victory after giving their supporters some very exciting moments.

Cristian found a lovely touch near the School's left corner and for an offence in the line-out a penalty was awarded to Nondescripts. Sinton's kick was a beauty, sending a foot to the wrong side of the posts and the School finished a good run by playing to Moller twenty-five for the first time.

There was some lively kicking in the second half and School began to show up better. Anderson made one of his characteristic breaks, but Cristian saved the situation. Gradually, by judicious kicking, Nondescripts again took play into the School half and often spotted a great chance in a melle on the line. Both sides were keen to get on. School nearly rushing the ball over on one occasion, but he was extra time seemed indicated. School's defence was good, but almost as the ball went Sinton and Cristian were in a melle. S. L. Ellis received and punted the ball three times, but he was not so fast and dived over. Sinton getting a nice kick over for Moller to win by a goal (3 points) to nil.

THE FINAL MATCH

Nondescripts vs. Artillery
(Referee: Messrs. Bryant and Ghidella).

Nondescripts won a hard-fought final, after being three points down for most of the match, by a goal to a try.

Artillery, amid terrific and continuous roars from their supporters, took play into the Railway half and nearly from the kick-off and a good touch gave them a line out near the Railway half.

Other Sports News will be found on page six.

The flag. They secured the ball—being too slow to get on the line. D. J. Goch got away on the blind side of score between the posts, an easy kick falling.

TUESDAY-FINALS

R.A.F. II vs. Artillery
(Referee: Messrs. Joffe and Knowlton).

Artillery, a well-trained side, played a four game to beat R.A.F. II by a try and in the first semifinal, and again C. L. Rand-Overy came outstanding. R.A.F. pressed at the start, but soon "took" and good team-kicking kept them at bay. Then Rand-Overy scored from a scrum in the middle and raked like a hare for the ball. Jackie overhauled him and saved a certain score by kicking into the dead ball line. Gunners began to play. Driscoll being prominent, but the R.A.F. tackling was very keen. Rand-Overy found a beautiful touch near the opposing corner flag. There was very scramble over the line-out and the Gunners touched down in a melle in which no one was distinguishable, the kick falling. Artillery led by 3-0 at half-time.

In the second half, R.A.F. made desperate efforts to score, but Rand-Overy was like a rock in defence and score between the posts, an easy kick falling.

Jackie got away and had but time to knock down when play ended in some half-time later on. There was no further, very desperate efforts by the Artillery.

Nondescripts vs. Nairobi School of Instruction
(Referee: Messrs. Finn and Hope).

Nondescripts appeared to be a trifle javed in this match, but established a last-second victory after giving their supporters some very exciting moments.

Cristian found a lovely touch near the School's left corner and for an offence in the line-out a penalty was awarded to Nondescripts. Sinton's kick was a beauty, sending a foot to the wrong side of the posts and the School finished a good run by playing to Moller twenty-five for the first time.

There was some lively kicking in the second half and School began to show up better. Anderson made one of his characteristic breaks, but Cristian saved the situation. Gradually, by judicious kicking, Nondescripts again took play into the School half and often spotted a great chance in a melle on the line. Both sides were keen to get on. School nearly rushing the ball over on one occasion, but he was extra time seemed indicated. School's defence was good, but almost as the ball went Sinton and Cristian were in a melle. S. L. Ellis received and punted the ball three times, but he was not so fast and dived over. Sinton getting a nice kick over for Moller to win by a goal (3 points) to nil.

FIRST OBJECTIVE OF GERMAN ARMY Capture Of Coasts For Assault On Britain

THE STRUGGLE IN THE LOW COUNTRIES

It is emphasized in military circles that the present operations which are developing in Belgium and Holland and at the western end of the Maginot Line are merely the preliminary stages of the first big battle of the war. The massed forces on either side have not yet been employed.

In Holland and in Belgium some ground has had to be surrendered to the invaders, particularly in the North of the Netherlands and in the region around Liege.

As activity is almost continuous day and night but there has been a marked falling off in the number of German paratroopers dropped and in the attacks on Royal Air Force bases.

It is assumed that Germany's first objective is a long stretch of the coasts of Holland and Belgium and that thereafter Hitler will attempt to carry out his ambition of an attack on Britain without success in which, it is pointed out, he can have no decisive result in any field of operations.

Queen Wilhelmina Seeks Sanctuary In England

In order to avoid the possibility of being captured by the Germans, the Queen of Holland has sought sanctuary in England.

GERMAN TRANSPORTS SUNK

Trying To Land Near Narvik

More Allied troops have landed in Norway a short distance north of Narvik. They are operating with other Allied and Norwegian troops in the district.

The Norwegian King, General reports the failure of a German landing south of Narvik. Several German transports were sunk, and those Germans who managed to reach the shore were surrounded.

Lord Halifax told the House of Lords last night that the new German Government was determined to help Britain's determination to help Norway. He said operations in the Narvik area were continuing and that Allied forces further south were in contact with the enemy advancing from Narvik.—Reuter.

GERMANS LOSE OVER 400 PLANES IN 3 DAYS

R.A.F. Bring Down 40 In One Day

Since the beginning of the invasion of Belgium and Holland the Germans have lost more than 400 planes in three days.

The enemy attacks on Allied air bases have done comparatively little damage.

The German Air Force is suffering heavily now that, for the first time, it is encountering air forces strong enough to meet it on equal terms. In the last three days the Allies have destroyed or captured more than 400 German planes. This is announced by the French Minister of Information, who said that the Allied losses in the air have been comparatively small.

The total of 400 German losses.

STOP PRESS

Broadcasting tonight, the Belgian Premier said troops had become accustomed to conditions and had without all opposition since yesterday, despite numerous attacks on the front.

He denied reports that German parachute troops were dropped either yesterday or today.

U.S.A. Congress is to be asked to provide immediately an extra 300 million dollars for 60 warships now on order.

Allied troops have been landed 7 miles south of Narvik, suffering only a few minor casualties.

Light Defence Volunteers are to be formed in Britain of men aged 17 to 45, for service in towns, villages and sparsely populated areas.

—(Reuter).

THE NAVY'S PART

An Admiralty communiqué states that since the start of the German invasion of Holland the British fleet has been on the alert to meet any emergency. The French fleet is also on the alert.

The situation in Holland is becoming serious but the result of the battle is still uncertain. The British fleet has increased its strength to 200 ships.

The French fleet is also on the alert. The British fleet is also on the alert.

The British fleet is also on the alert.

GERMAN MINISTER'S WARNING

Mr. Cordell Hull said that Washington last night that he had not yet received replies from Germany to representations made by the United States.

Later it was reported that the United States had decided to join other American Republics in a joint declaration of protest to Germany over the invasion of Holland, East Indies and London.

In a speech last night to the United States Congress, Mr. Hull said that the United States had not considered serious against the respect of international law.

He declared that the prospect of a descent into international anarchy seemed on the horizon.

He said that the United States could not shut its eyes to the possibility of a world dominated by a few nations.

He said that the United States could not shut its eyes to the possibility of a world dominated by a few nations.

Lord Gort's Order of Day

Lord Gort, Commander in Chief of the British Expeditionary Force, has issued an Order of the Day in which he congratulates officers and men on the way in which the advance has been carried out with the invaluable support of the Royal Air Force.

He continues: "We are today on the eve of a great moment in the history of the Empire. The struggle will be hard and long, but we can have confidence in our final victory."—(Reuter).

The War in China

There is news of the war in China. According to messages from Chungking, a Japanese army of 100,000 men is in full retreat north of Hankow. The Chinese have captured 35 field guns and 123 lorries, and state that the Japanese casualties numbered 20,000 in one day.—(Reuter).

FEWER SKY TROOPS Further Precautions

The Germans seem to be dropping fewer parachutists. Some British planes in France yesterday have been damaged.

Further precautions against this menace have been taken in several places.

At a meeting yesterday three men in workmen's clothes were captured near a factory in the Netherlands where they had been attempting to tamper with local communications.

The German parachutists had to be strongly guarded because "the industrial local inhabitants tried to get at them with knives and other weapons."

REFUGEES' TRAIN BOMBED

Reports of German attacks on refugees continue to reach Paris. One report says that five German bombers attacked a train of Belgian refugees on its way to Flanders. After bombs had fallen all round the train came to a stop and the planes then machine-gunned the wreckage.

The French Government has confirmed by reports received in Paris by the American Legation in Brussels that the Belgian Government has been asked to leave Paris this week for active service in the war.

An official communiqué issued in Paris last night says that German troops continued their mass attacks on Holland and Belgium.

In Holland they made some advance especially south of the Lower Meuse.

The German detachment is holding south of Rotterdam. The British troops who occupied the area have been ordered to withdraw.

The German detachment is holding south of Rotterdam. The British troops who occupied the area have been ordered to withdraw.

Assurance to Japan

According to the Japanese Foreign Office Sir Robert Craigie, the British Ambassador in Tokyo, said that the Japanese Foreign Office had assured him that the British Government would not take any action against Japan in the event of the Dutch East Indies and that the British Government has no intention of interfering there.

A message from the Netherlands West Indies says that the British transport landed troops there yesterday. The Netherlands Government in Tokyo has explained to the Japanese that the British transport troops have been landed to protect the oil refineries against possible sabotage.—(Reuter).

GERMAN-SWISS RAIL COMMUNICATION CUT

Reports from Switzerland state that the French have shelled and bombed the railway from Germany to Switzerland.

This is confirmed by further reports which state that railway communication between Germany and Basle has been stopped.

The Swiss Government has ordered its Berlin Minister to protest to Germany against the bombing of the Swiss Railway on Friday and to demand payment for damages. The Government also announced today its intention to create a Home Guard for all Swiss cities, towns and villages as defence against fifth column activities or parachute invasion.

Union's Gift To Holland And Belgium

The South African Assembly has voted a gift of £100,000 to the Union of South Africa to be used for the relief of suffering in Holland and Belgium.

The Minister also said that a German air force was attacking and attacking the Dutch coast. The Dutch coast was being attacked and the Dutch coast was being attacked.

The Raiders Raided

As a result of a raid in the South-West Mau Forest area, the Police have obtained sixteen convictions, some for long terms of imprisonment among members of the Lambara and Nderero tribes for possession of stolen cattle, and a number of further cases are pending.

The raid was first undertaken on February 25. Stock identified as having been stolen in Marsi, Kiisi, Chemang, Kericho, Lambara and Meru areas.

It is interesting to note that cattle thefts which could be attributed to members of the Lambara tribe have been reported in the Nakuru Area, including Molo, since the raid began.

FOOTBALL

WAR-TIME LEAGUE MATCH

Nairobi Athletic Beat Civil Service Club

Nairobi Athletic beat Civil Service, by 1 goal to 0, in a war-time league Association football match played on the Railway ground on Monday evening. There was no score in the first half. The game did not start until 8:12 p.m. and even then Civil Service were one short, although the Nairobi Athletic side had been ready since about 4:30 p.m.

Non after the kick-off, Nairobi attacked and a mistake let them in, but the shooting was weak. The ball was heavy and the field slow, but Service rained and Lindley had to clear several likely shots. After about five minutes Service's eleventh man came ambling on and their forwards pressed, the wing being entertaining and one strike shot from Sheppard deserving of better luck.

Newton, in the Service goal, was safe in the face of repeated attacks and F. C. Brooks was a very steady keeper. Nairobi's attack was clever, footed and throughout the game, keeping R. Marsh distinctly subdued.

Nairobi continued to press and had for the better of the exchanges and used Newton luckily found himself in the way of many first-time finishers. Service had poor luck when Smith tried to play in and Lindley was injured slightly in a melee, losing his glasses and had to manage to scramble the ball away to his halve.

Allen, the Nairobi right winger, put in some sound work and the veteran Mulholland played well, spotting game at half and fed his veteran mates many good passes. Petrozzi, too, did his best to live up to play and did it better in the first half.

Allen and Lindley were Nairobi's finishing was weak, with Brooks proving to be an almost impenetrable back, time and again kept forwards away with his accurate clearances.

Allen, the Nairobi still possessing hard after Marsh had mislaid with the defence and Lindley was weakly.

Throughout this period of intensive pressure Newton was very safe, but again Brooks was an almost unman, who was a twelfth man and his defence was not so well diminished. The defence had no rest.

Nairobi still dominated throughout the second half Nairobi dominated the play to an even greater extent than they had done in the first and how they failed to pile up a big score was something of a mystery. Their finishing was weak and Marsh, in addition to being well and truly marshaled by the defence and their forwards which missed three or four chances which ordinarily would have meant certain goals.

Nairobi got away full of fight, but again Brooks was an almost unman, and most effective defence, setting good support from H. Mackenzie, a useful and bustling striker playing a steady-paced centre, which Wharton collected 20 runs and saw with an unimpeachable drive from point-blank range, giving Newton no chance whatever and Nairobi Athletic led 1-0.

Seconds later Marsh missed and Petrozzi's good effort was cleared. Allen centred and Brooks booted Wharton's shot clear. Allen was responsible for making the best opening and Marsh—unusual for him—missed except the chance for missing a golden chance from about five yards out. It was certainly the Nairobi centre forward's off-day, for a few minutes later he missed another grand chance at beating Newton. Service staged one good raid when it

PARKLANDS HANDICAP TOURNAMENT

Results To Date & Forthcoming Fixtures

There were some good matches in the Parklands tennis tournament on Monday evening. The first set, in the men's singles, "B" section, Talbot Smith, who on Sunday afternoon had been beaten by two better players and forty-two games, beat the second set, with Leeson's sixth set to thirty-four games, but "second" was not his name.

Miss Koppert, after losing the first set to have made a good recovery to beat Mrs. Harris and Miss Whiteley and Mrs. Hope played thirty-two games without a decision. Miss Whiteley and Mrs. Harris after a 6/6 and the second was won by Leeson's sixth set to thirty-four games, but "second" was not his name.

Standout made a great and brave effort to win in the Two Thousand, but was beaten by a better shot in Djebel and it does not appear likely that the home country will be able to produce a colt to lower the colours of the home country.

He returned to France for the French Two Thousand, which was won by the English substitute class.

Hippus ran a very good race and was fourth in the One Thousand and Fair Test opened a plate before the start and was evidently untried, but he would have made a better show-off.

Golden Penny was a bit favourite for the One Thousand, but was beaten by the English substitute class.

Another French success on the opening day at Newmarket was that of Malino who, in winning the Hastings Stakes, beat quite a useful field which included Bold Hawk and Black Tom, who finished second and third respectively.

Although he was meeting Kept On and Wayward Miss on better terms than at Newbury, Kept On did not only finish third in the Thuro Handicap. The win was Kept On's first since 1896.

There was a good classic field for the Chippendale Stakes, won by Quick Hay. A lot was thought of the colt last year and there were hopes of his proving good enough to match a showing in the St. Leger Stakes.

He is by Hyperion and Come Quick and therefore, a full brother to Golden Penny. Two useful horses in Bellman and Foxcup finished

Matchless got away, but parted with the ball when he looked likely to get through unscathed. Apart from this, Service never looked likely to get through unscathed. Apart from this, Service never looked likely to get through unscathed.

A Criticism On point upon which criticism is directed in the last part of many mid-week Soccer matches. OUR LONDON TURF LETTER

[BY "THE RECORDERS"]

London, May 6. (NOTE.—Although English racing was suspended indefinitely as from Saturday, May 11, the notes of past racing, by "The Recorder," will be of interest to many who follow racing in the existing circumstances, been deleted, but should be of interest to those who follow the present season the London Turf Letter will continue to appear in regular features of these columns.—Sports Editor, "E.A.S.")

In the Two Thousand Guineas, Lighthouse II failed to prove the form he showed in his earlier race, the Queen's Plate at Newmarket. The Guineas form may not have been correct, but for would have done to recommend the colt for the New Derby on the strength of his racing in the Two Thousand.

There was an air of confidence about the side. In the One Thousand, Djebel won the race as easily as he won the Middle Park, but in the defence of his title, he was beaten by a better shot in Djebel and it does not appear likely that the home country will be able to produce a colt to lower the colours of the home country.

He returned to France for the French Two Thousand, which was won by the English substitute class.

"Homicide Hank" Wins Again

[STANDARD CORRESPONDENT]

Henry Armstrong gained a decisive victory over Paul Junner of London, who was the seventh round of a scheduled 10 round contest for Armstrong's world welterweight title on April 27 at Boston. Armstrong, using a rapid fire of ringing hooks to the head, was able to send Junner to the canvas for the sixth time when the strategy failed to bring further punishment. The fight which was the first world title affair held in Boston since 1932 drew a crowd of 16,000.

Jack McAvoy to Briter welterweight champion, will not fight Bert Guillon, the Scot, in defence of his title, at Manchester on May 27. He has today announced his intention to fight for the best middleweight title, one of the best middleweights Britain has produced, was born at Harrow in 1903. Four years later he won the cruiser-weight title from Len Harvey in 1913. Four years later he won the cruiser-weight title from Eddie Phillips, and in 1928 he won the title from Harvey.

His last fight was against Johnny C. in Manchester. The fight was stopped in the sixth round because of heavy bleeding from the World Title Fight for Boom Eric Boon. British lightweight champion, Boon has had a long career and has planned for a world title match with the champion of the world, but he did not grant a permit to the country. Boon is now registered for service, preferably with the Royal Air Force. He is now 34 years of age and has had all differences between Boon and his manager, Jack Solomon, and between Solomon and the Boxing Board of Control, all settled, and that Boon will fight in this country shortly.

second and third, respectively, to Quick Hay.

Attention was called to the running of Malino when he finished second to King's Armour at Newbury. The winning of the Hastings Stakes from Arlys Epiphane and Mickey the Greek he made no mistake and, getting away to a quick start, scored comfortably. Lovely Woman also ran well.

Hippus gained a fine display when winning the March Stakes from King Legend and Malino (winner of the Hastings Stakes). He won easily despite conceding 20lb. to King Legend and Malino, who were both handicapped. The improvement he made in the second round was evident.

Tramontana, who had finished third in the Craven Meeting, finished strongly when winning the Thurston Plate from Comptroller and Bousquet and had evidently benefited from her recent rest.

There was a most exciting finish for the Brinkley Handicap, when Heavy Weight and Holy Terror dead-heated, with Buxton third. Both Holy Terror and Buxton proved themselves to be useful horses.

"Ten Before Breakfast" Is British Standard

The Allied Air Forces are showing magnificent spirit in their devastating attacks on German troops, convoys and communications.

Germany still appears to be recklessly using her Air Force without regard to losses and these are put as high as four to one in the Allies' favour.

Thrilling stories are told of the competitive spirit in the British air squadrons whose slogan, "Ten before breakfast" indicates their attitude to the continuing day and night tasks.

May 15. The Royal Air Force battering of German columns on the march is continuing. One of our best Air Ministry report said that British fighters had shot down at least four times the losses that our bombers had made. Although visibility was poor and flying conditions bad, R.A.F. air observers in France said that our bombers were keeping an almost incessant attack on German troops, which were advancing in the Ardennes. There was no pressure which the German columns were suffering from a local one. The R.A.F. attacking German columns with energy and it was evident that for the first time the advance guard of the German columns was getting the shock of our bombers.

The Next 30 Days...

President Roosevelt has given further evidence that he recognizes how deeply Germany's tremendous military effort is being drained.

The French forces were falling back in lines of defence. The Allies had already done their best to break through the German columns since it had been obvious that the army might use the two roads to get behind the French. The pilots were not to be seen until they were forced sufficiently to hold up the army for some hours.

Some machines took off a young pilot who had been shot down. He was seen on both sides of the road. The machine was shot down and the pilot was seen to be struggling to get up the road.

The British Ambassador in New York last night said that the British Government was determined to take any necessary steps to bring about a cessation of hostilities.

Swiss Neutrality

A strong reply has been issued in Switzerland to rumours expressing doubts as to the neutrality of the country.

Hospital Bombs

It is reported that the Germans had bombed a number of hospitals in the French front.

NAVY TO CO-OPERATE WITH THE ALLIES

GENERAL WINKELMAN, COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF THE DUTCH FORCES ORDERED HIS TROOPS IN CHIEF OF PARTS OF THE COUNTRY TO CEASE FIRE ON TUESDAY NIGHT. THIS AUTHORITY WAS DELEGATED TO HIM BY THE GOVERNMENT WHICH IS NOW IN LONDON.

It appears, however, that the important coastal province of Zeeland has not been surrendered and that the Dutch Army is being re-formed in Belgium.

The not inconsiderable Dutch Navy and overseas air force are to co-operate with the Allies.

The Netherlands Army was last night ordered to lay down its arms. The order given by the Dutch Commander-in-Chief "was a first step towards the cessation of hostilities before 7 o'clock last night. His proclamation said that Germany had bombed Rotterdam yesterday afternoon and Utrecht was also threatened with destruction. The troops concerned were ordered to cease fighting in order to save the civil population and to avoid further bloodshed. Fighting in Zeeland is still continuing.

Early today messages reaching London report that fighting is still going on in parts of Holland in the western part of the country. The Heilversum road is now being used by the German army. The Commander-in-Chief stated that all Burgomasters in their districts were to cease fighting and listeners all over the world were informed that the Burgomasters of their localities were contacted at intervals.

It is emphasized in London that this does not mean that there has been a military collapse in Holland. On the contrary, the Dutch have won for Belgium a valuable 100 hours during which the German thousands of troops on the Dutch front. The Germans have also had a large number of aircraft over the country. The full weight of the forces of fuel have had to be used in the German's main tank stores.

Moreover, the Germans have lost most of the full weight of their tanks. The full weight of their tanks is now concentrated in the Netherlands. It is thought that the Dutch will be able to hold out for some time.

Some of the German troops were seen to be retreating. It is thought that the Dutch will be able to hold out for some time.

ITALIAN ACTION AGAINST DEMONSTRATORS

Police Disperse Crowd Of Students

The authorities in Italy have taken steps to stop the demonstrations against the Allies and a mob of students was dispersed by the police yesterday.

Meanwhile the United States Government has advised its subjects in Italy to leave in case the spread of war should interrupt communications.

STOP PRESS

The Allied Press said from Alexandria on manoeuvres. The Egyptian Government has ordered the immediate evacuation of two districts nearest the Italian Libyan border.

Imperial War Cabinet

Mr. Menzies told the House of Representatives in Canberra today that the formation of an Imperial War Cabinet is under consideration.

A Government supporter of the formation of an Imperial War Cabinet, but the motion was tabled out.

Mr. Menzies intimated he was willing to work with a War Cabinet. The Opposition leader said he did not see any practical necessity for a change. (Reuter).

According to a German High Command communiqué, the occupation of Holland means that Germany is now at the very gates of Britain and her Air Force within an hour's striking distance. (Reuter).

Most of the newspapers are jubilant over the news which is called the capture of the city. (Continued on page 4.)

Her Majesty to the Dutch people yesterday, one passage of which read: "The military authorities in the last report, the Commander-in-Chief, still now have to decide what measures are necessary from the military point of view." A few hours later the Royal Dutch Air Lines will be run in conjunction with British Airways from London to Alexandria where passengers and cargo will be transferred to the Dutch Air Lines which left London yesterday is heading for Alexandria.

The Dutch shipping for Europe is continuing to sail to the United States from the Dutch East Indies. (Reuter).

Not Beaten Yet

It is reported that part of the Dutch Army which last night was ordered to lay down its arms has crossed into Belgium, where units will be re-embarked.

The Netherlands Legation in London announced that these units will form the kernel of a new Dutch force which the Netherlands Government in London is organizing.

The Legation also says that the Dutch Army has been ordered to leave the Netherlands with the Netherlands of the Allies. The greater part of the Dutch Army is in the Dutch East Indies and is being re-embarked in the Netherlands.

It should be mentioned, also, that the Dutch Army has been ordered to leave the Netherlands with the Netherlands of the Allies. The greater part of the Dutch Army is in the Dutch East Indies and is being re-embarked in the Netherlands.

who THINKS ABOUT

Paint?

As you walk about the streets of London, just cast a glance at any of the buildings which surround you. You will see the windows, the window frames, the walls and signs, and notice the color of the paint. To say that ninety per cent of such paint work reflected the use of inferior or entirely German-made paint would probably be putting it mildly. The value of our Sherwin-Williams technical service, therefore, lies in the ability of our technical men to specify proper way to prepare the surface, and to lay out a working schedule for the painter to follow. We know of no other way to insure quality and to save money in the paint work for the job that is done in an inferior and costly manner. Write for particulars of this service.

MOMBASA CATHEDRAL

Wider Scope Of Fund

[“STANDARD” CORRESPONDENT] Mombasa.

In past years it has been necessary to make collections on behalf of the Mombasa Cathedral Fund. There are now a number of months ago some friends of the Cathedral guaranteed certain annual subscriptions to this fund. The underlying object of these arrangements was to ensure that whoever was appointed to the office of Chaplain should be assured of a living wage.

Besides providing for the salary of a Chaplain, the Chaplainry Fund has to bear many other expenses, notably the upkeep of the Cathedral fabric and the organ. In effect, therefore, the name Chaplainry Fund is liable to be misleading and the Cathedral Council have decided to change it to the Mombasa Cathedral Fund.

Following the outbreak of war, it has not been possible up till the present to fill the post of Chaplain. It is to be hoped that the Bishop, who is now in town, may be able to find someone, but this is unlikely as there is a great demand for the services of the clergy by fighting services.

Heavy Expenses
The Cathedral has been very fortunate in that Mr. Grey has officiated and, apart from a meagre travelling allowance, the Cathedral Council has not been asked by the C.M.S. to contribute to his salary. A saving is thereby effected, but some heavy expenses must be faced in the near future, notably the organ, which is in a sad state of disrepair and will require some two or three hundred pounds spent on it.

Last year the ceiling fell down, and repairs thereto are very considerably into the small surplus balance. It is felt that there is an opportunity to get the Cathedral finance on a sound basis by the view to making provision for the future.

The Council, after careful consideration, has come to the conclusion that they are fully justified, therefore, having regard to all the circumstances, to ask for small contributions to the Cathedral Fund. It is felt that the small contributions of past years will again be forthcoming.

The Council also trusts that despite the fact that the Cathedral is without a permanent Chaplain, those persons who give guarantees towards the fund will not allow the state of affairs to prevent their making a permanent one.

LOCUST INFESTATION

Impossibility Of Campaign

[“STANDARD” CORRESPONDENT] Mombasa. The situation in Kenya on May 15 is reported as the migratory locust is reported as usual.

There are no reports of locusts from the Nyandarua, Rift Valley, Northern Frontier or Coastal Provinces.

CENTRAL PROVINCE: The small hatching reported last week in the Machakos Reserve has been cleared. MARSAI DISTRICT: A call report has been received from Marsai. A new area of hoppers described as considerable is reported in the Lake Amboseli region, north of Kilimanjaro. This country is almost uninhabited. The local authorities have been asked to endeavour to clear the area of locusts.

It is unfortunate that the area in which the present locust infestation has been practically uninhabited, with few, if any, roads, which render it impossible to conduct a locust destruction campaign either successfully or economically.

From the information available, it appears that the locusts are in great numbers within the Colony and farms, and it is not possible to predict in which direction they will migrate.

Endebess Notes

[“STANDARD” CORRESPONDENT] Endebess, May 15. The East of Endebess had a busy time in giving local workers and employees a good number of days off on Saturday last at Kitale.

In spite of the advertising the Police and the Director of Labour Power received from the Press, there were still a number of people who started work in a few minutes and had plenty to do despite that fact that the work was not very heavy. It is not possible to predict in which direction they will migrate.

Most of last season's maize had been cleared from this part, except for the maize reserved for local consumption, and in view of early rains an early harvesting is anticipated. A European police officer stationed in the district is expected to be a useful link in the prevention of petty thefts.

Tanganyika Immigrants

[“STANDARD” CORRESPONDENT] Dar es Salaam. Non-official immigrants to Tanganyika during March totalled 67, consisting of 14 British, one Italian, two Greek, two American, one Swiss, two Danish, one Belgian, one Norwegian, 23 British Indians, six Congo, four other Asians.

The figures for the British were 14, one American, two Danish, one Belgian, one Norwegian, 23 British Indians, six Congo, four other Asians.

Visitors to all ports totalled 69, of whom 33 were British and 28 were non-British.

Occupations taken up by non-official immigrants in the Territory within the month were as follows: 12 in mining, eight missionaries, etc.; two retired, two married women and children.

European Motorist's Offence

Pleading guilty to a charge of driving a motor car on a public road without a licence, a European motorist was fined 10 shillings.

Accused pleaded extradition circumstances and admitted that he had been driving since 1936 and never been charged with a similar offence and had had a clean licence for many years.

AFRICANS AND THE WAR

Boomerang From "Mein Kampf"

Hitler's "Mein Kampf" description of the African as a "born slave" has aroused the hottest indignation among Kenya natives who have read it, some of them for the first time, quoted in an article by the Secretary of the Colonial League.

It is reported in a new monthly publication, "The British Subject," copies of which have been circulated to Kenyan Africans to assist the popularising of a magazine devoted to the exchange of views between British and the Colonies, and between the various Colonies themselves.

Other articles dealt with the cause of the war, and many of the replies took the form of letters to Hitler which were printed in the magazine. One of these was a letter from a young man who wrote: "What kind of civilization would Hitler bring to the world? War but happiness?"

Nothing to Do With Hitler
"We Africans," volunteers express, "are all ready to help to win the war and we are all willing to be sacrificed to help to do so because if German Government were to be successful in winning the war, it would be a disaster to the world. We are all ready to be sacrificed to help to win the war."

MISSING EUROPEAN
An Iringa Mystery

[“STANDARD” CORRESPONDENT] Mr. Dar es Salaam, May 6. Mr. George V. de la Motte, accountant at the Southern Highlands Club, Iringa, has been missing from the Club since Saturday, April 27. An intensive search has been made for him but without success, and the greatest fears are entertained.

Mr. Neve was last seen on the night of April 27 in his room at the Club, which he was to leave on April 26 for Mbuvi, where he was to take over a private account. When he did not appear the following morning search of the surrounding district was immediately begun, police and Indian constabulary, and a large number of employees of a local plantation, and other local Natives, took part. Up to the present no trace of the missing man had been found and the police investigation is continuing.

It is understood that an inquiry into the circumstances of the accident will be held shortly.

QUARRY ACCIDENT

Four Natives Killed At Nyali

[“STANDARD” CORRESPONDENT] Mombasa. Four natives were killed and injured in an accident which happened at a Nyali quarry on Saturday.

It appears that the men were engaged in quarrying when they were struck by a large rock which fell from above and collapsed on top of them. The men were all taken to hospital, but two of them were killed and one was seriously injured.

The accident was caused by an inquiry into the circumstances of the accident will be held shortly.

PARKLANDS HANDICAP TOURNAMENT

There were some good matches yesterday evening in the Parklands Handicap Tennis Tournament, which this week has been treated more kindly than that of the Clerk of the Weather.

Yesterday's results are given below, only one match, Singer and Dennis Zappoli vs. Orchard and Miss Edge, being played, due to the illness of Signor Zappoli. Lagerberg best McCallin, 4/6, 6/4, 7/4; Miss Whitney best Mrs. Hyslop, 12/10; Mrs. Thompson best Mrs. Moore, 4/1, 5/1, 7/5; Galt best Mrs. White, 2/6, 2/6; Thompson and Miss McDermid, 7/5; Galt and Mrs. Perry best Mr. and Mrs. Vasey, 6/2, 6/4; Mrs. Mallett and Miss Bartlett best Mrs. Moss and Mrs. Shand, 6/1, 7/2.

TODAY'S MATCHES. Matches were for today: Mrs. Vasey, Tomlinson, and Mrs. Bradshaw; Mrs. Tomlinson and Miss Stannard; J. Jolley, Mrs. Bradshaw, Mrs. Tomlinson, and Miss Stannard; Mrs. Gold-farsh and Mrs. Lagerberg; Mrs. May; Mrs. Jenkinson and Miss Webster; A. Chalmers and Miss Silver; Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Vasey; Mrs. Vasey and Miss Strang.

Marking Semi-Finals. As will be seen from the results above, the appearance of the efforts of competitors. One or two amongst the players who have helped to encourage some of the players who at first did not feel too confident, provided once again that handicap tournaments of great benefit to the players of every standard.

The social side of the tournament is a most pleasing one. Many old friends have renewed acquaintance and new ones have been formed. Several instances of appreciation of the general scheme extended to the general honorary members of the Club. The committee and the players are desirous of strengthening this friendship and with this view a dinner is to be held on Saturday next. The committee are desirous of being as attentive as 9 p.m. and a small charge will be levied for good 'footwear' should tempt members, competitors and their guests to the Club at Parklands Sports Club.

Subject to unforeseen circumstances, it will not be held on stage the object, but the dance list should be as pleasant as possible. Parklands functions invariably are.

ANOTHER GOOD WIN FOR R.A.F. Unbeaten Record Maintained

Despite a depleted side and the breaking up of the very successful Johnson-Jacklin half-back combination, Royal Air Force XV won their last match in the first section of the Warde-Dunlop Rugby football competition.

They beat 2nd Kings African Rifles on the Muthanga ground on Tuesday afternoon, by 9 points to 3. The latter have won all of their seven matches, compiling fourteen points, aggregating 151 points scored and conceding only 23. Their line was twice, Nonpareil was R.A.F. II each scoring one try against them; the other three points were scored by signals from a penalty goal.

Jacklin, however, gave his team a shock in the early stages of the game on Tuesday and, with his own hand, won a sparkling game and practically camped on the R.A.F. line.

They were winning most of the line-outs and had Cooper, at the base of the scrum, and Jacklin, at the ball out to his three, a little quicker, a score would have been made. The ball in the centre, was handled well and, as a result, the R.A.F. forwards did not seem able to get going and set up for two minutes before they were with R.A.F. defence. They did the same later in the game.

Thereafter, however, R.A.F. took a new lease of life and, after retaining ten minutes of the half kept play alive for as long as opening territory. One Miller got the ball in the last minute of the half-time, but a few minutes before the interval Maxwell looked clean for Bur to put Jacklin in possession. The latter served and dummied, but was past three opponents in turn and got the backs running smoothly. It was clear, tipping and movement in which Clark, Tipping and Bur were most noticeable. Clark, on the wing, to get over, after accepting a hand-off, put in a beautiful try. R.A.F. led 3-0 at half-time.

Air Force Dominant Play. After the interval the tide turned very definitely in R.A.F.'s favour. Maxwell looked very well and led his pack with dash and offset the disadvantage of the short men had suffered in the line-outs against their opponents, by taking set scrum whenever he could. That was his advantage, in getting the ball for R.A.F. line and again, was offset and the R.A.F. three tried to get over.

The sparks seemed to have gone from the R.A.F. pack, who started off at a terrific pace, did not appear to have any more to offer. R.A.F. improved as time went on. They put up a stern fight and made many interesting moves, but from impudic combination between Bur, Clark, and Jacklin.

A try went further ahead when Tipping got over for a try after an extremely neat pass of passing and kicking. The result was 9-0, only one try was scored over two or three tries.

Once they were over the line, the R.A.F. players showed a fine chance of a score and soon after Clark, who had been in the line-outs, was over for a try. Another brace when he was over, who scored a certain try.

A few minutes from now, however, R.A.F. pressed hard and were awarded a free kick, some 15 yards from the R.A.F. line. Jacklin, scrum, scrum, scrum, and the ball forward, KAR seemed unprepared for the R.A.F. pack, but the latter gathered and dived over for a try. It was before the opposition realized what had happened, many of them having their backs to the ball, presumably in expectation of an attempted scrum. It was a fine piece of opportunism and gave the R.A.F. a 9-0 victory.

For the winners, Jacklin, as usual, played a grand game in both defence and attack, while Tipping, who, as Miller were all well and had three-quarters, was a very good, good man. J. Smith, at full-back, never put in a bad ball. The wrong end Maxwell led his pack, and made the ball, 15 yards out of time in the set scrum, in the second half, was well backed up by Fogarty, Maltby and Frost.

H. COTTON WINS AGAIN Ted Ray's Retirement

London. Henry Cotton (Aberdeen) and Ted Ray (West Ham) met in a match on Wednesday at the Royal Albert Hall. Cotton won by 2 goals to 1.

His splendid putting helped him to a 2-1 win. Cotton was 2-1 in the first set and 3-1 in the second. He led 3-1 in the first set and 3-1 in the second. He led 3-1 in the first set and 3-1 in the second.

Yesterday's Football. In a varied League football match played on the football ground yesterday afternoon, the R.A.F. (Field Units) were no score in the first half.

Only two goals changed hands in the overtime afternoon journey. Kerrow scored in the 12th minute, and Cotton from 4 yards to win the match. The R.A.F. were no score in the first half.

Turning to the Cotton and Layland trial, the latter was in a fine form. He scored his side's lead with 4 at 4. The other players were in a fine form. He scored his side's lead with 4 at 4. The other players were in a fine form.

LAST GAMES OF HOME SEASON

End of Rugby Season. The Metropolitan Police with a heavy and better balance team at Inver Court beat the Wasps who finishing throughout the season with a goal and four tries to a try. The Wasps were unfortunate to lose their fullback J. R. Croxson early in the game and they were disappointed then. Rosslyn Park ended their season with a fine victory over an R.A.F. XV at the Ranelagh ground by 2 goals, a penalty goal and 3 tries to a goal and a try. The Rosslyn Park forwards played a good game in the game, where D. N. Huxley and R. Croxson were outstanding. The R.A.F. forwards played a brilliant game, but their backs were not so good.

Swanes arrived at Neath a forward short and played five three-quarters. Three minutes from the start they were penalized at mid-field, and the Swanes were kicked a penalty goal for Neath. Swanes were kept on the defensive line long time, but Howard Davis saved a try. The Swanes were unsuccessful and G. Chalmers scored a try. Pimples Ruin Beauty

Your features may be perfectly formed, but you will never be considered beautiful while your pimples mar your skin. While you have your eyes dull and yellow looking. These conditions are due to constipation and liver troubles. Poisons from food wastes are seeping into your blood stream. You are not THOROUGH - although you may be regular in your bowel habits.

Correct this by an occasional dose of CHAMBERLAIN'S TABLETS - also see beauty reflected in your sparkling eyes, clear complexion and smooth velvety skin.

FRANCIS SCOTT'S QUESTIONS Active Constituents At Thomson's Falls

"ROUGH END OF THE STICK"

Speaking at a recent meeting of the Thomson's Falls Association, which is attended with Mr. E. H. Wright, Francis Scott, criticized the elected representative who replied to questions to satisfy their constituents. Lord Francis Scott took the opportunity to take up for Thomson's Falls that for all the more than eleven other farmers' associations in the constituency.

After reminding the meeting that although Member for the King, he assured them that he had more than eleven other farmers' associations in the constituency.

Dealing with the Man-power question in Kenya, the speaker declared it was now clear that the voluntary system was no longer suitable to the present circumstances. It was pointed out that Germany Kenya was being defended not only in Kenya, but in Norway, Holland, Belgium and France, and in his opinion there should be no limitation to the sphere where troops might be employed.

Lord Francis Scott also dealt with certain criticisms in which the individual might help in the war effort.

It will be recalled that the Thomson's Falls Association considered that as Member for the constituency he was therefore their representative. He was not the servant of anyone particular, but he was the servant of the people of the constituency. He was a very proud servant, if that is the way to describe his relations more closely. He was not the servant of anyone particular, but he was the servant of the people of the constituency.

At this meeting held on Saturday, the speaker explained that both Members were equally interested in the welfare of the constituency and the need for brevity on the part of the speaker. He was not the servant of anyone particular, but he was the servant of the people of the constituency.

Continuing, he stated that the Thomson's Falls Association was not the servant of anyone particular, but he was the servant of the people of the constituency. He was not the servant of anyone particular, but he was the servant of the people of the constituency.

Mr. Hartley of the Thomson's Falls Association, who was present at the meeting, stated that he was not the servant of anyone particular, but he was the servant of the people of the constituency.

Lord Francis Scott addressed the meeting and stated that he was not the servant of anyone particular, but he was the servant of the people of the constituency. He was not the servant of anyone particular, but he was the servant of the people of the constituency.

Mr. Hartley of the Thomson's Falls Association, who was present at the meeting, stated that he was not the servant of anyone particular, but he was the servant of the people of the constituency.

Turning to the local issue, Lord Francis Scott said that he was not the servant of anyone particular, but he was the servant of the people of the constituency.

Tonight's Practice Black-out At Nairobi

Personally Speaking

THE marriage took place quietly last Saturday morning between Miss Valerie Skilton and Capt. The Hon. Frederick Ward of the 2nd Bn. King's African Rifles, eldest brother of Lord Dudley. The ceremony was held in the office of the District Commissioner, Nairobi, and Capt. E. G. St. Clair officiated.

The bride looked charming in a very smart and simple short-sleeved suit of creamy ribbed flannel, her curly pale-gold hair and smiling face framed by halo hat; bracelet-length white gloves and black and white shoes completed the ensemble and she carried a shower bouquet of pale pink rosebuds.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Skilton—the bride's mother wearing an attractive dress of the newest design, with a wide shawl collar and a wide shawl collar—were seated on the right of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. J. Skilton were seated on the left of the bride. The bride's father, Mr. J. Skilton, was seated on the right of the bride. The bride's mother, Mrs. J. Skilton, was seated on the left of the bride. guests had broken their fast on the delicious, child-proof, which were served at tables round the floor. Mr. Leon Zambler went to the piano and played for dancing and one or two better solo acts were there. Miss Daphne Tuckwell looked right as a rivet in one of those new afternoon-dance-dresses of shimmering and shimmering material, her hair in an attractive style, and she was dancing with Mr. David Evans, whose wife, in black with a becoming little white roll collar, was talking with Mr. John Lawrence and Miss Milligan. Mrs. Fox (Chalmers) were a simple dark skirt suit with an open-work collar, and Mrs. George Kitzinger, who came with husband, were a charming flowered dress.

Another to whom a tailored suit was Mrs. Alan Hunter, also with her husband; she was in shimmering smart black with a wide shawl collar and a wide shawl collar. Mrs. Doreen Watson, in a simple black and white dress, was seated on the right of the bride. Mrs. Doreen Watson, in a simple black and white dress, was seated on the right of the bride.

MR. A. LADBY, DIRECTOR OF EDUCATION, has issued a circular regarding the admission of girls to secondary schools. The circular states that the Government is desirous of increasing the number of girls attending secondary schools in Kenya.

Women

THE OLD SAYING, "Men must work and women must weave," has been somewhat revised, at least women these days are at last beginning to be accepted in jobs that were formerly men's prerogative. But, in order to be considered employable, it is still usually necessary that their work should be considerably more outstanding than that of their male competitors. It is generally believed that women cannot look on a job of work as a career of a lifetime but only as a means of living in time until they marry.

Work

It was very interesting to hear Mr. Ladby, the Director of Education, speaking at the E.A.W.L. annual meeting last week on the careers for girls in Kenya, for it is a subject which has been long overlooked. In the course of his address to the girls, Mr. Ladby, in particular an individual matter and a dangerous to indulge in. He said that he was not prepared to do so, but I do not see why. It is my firm belief that it is my duty to point out that in the circumstances prevailing in Kenya it is tragic that a European girl—boy, for that matter—leaves school before the age of 16 or attempts to begin to earn a livelihood before that age. I am aware that in England and elsewhere the Empire compulsory education starts earlier, but I am not talking about the education in England. I cannot go into all the reasons for this belief, but I will give one. For various reasons the European child in Kenya is culturally retarded by about one year in comparison to the child in the British Isles. I have sometimes heard that the European child is that one of the difficulties of the educational in young countries like Kenya is that the national tradition is not clear.

NURSING DURING THE AMERICAN CIVIL WAR

It was very interesting to hear Mr. Ladby, the Director of Education, speaking at the E.A.W.L. annual meeting last week on the careers for girls in Kenya, for it is a subject which has been long overlooked. In the course of his address to the girls, Mr. Ladby, in particular an individual matter and a dangerous to indulge in. He said that he was not prepared to do so, but I do not see why. It is my firm belief that it is my duty to point out that in the circumstances prevailing in Kenya it is tragic that a European girl—boy, for that matter—leaves school before the age of 16 or attempts to begin to earn a livelihood before that age. I cannot go into all the reasons for this belief, but I will give one. For various reasons the European child in Kenya is culturally retarded by about one year in comparison to the child in the British Isles. I have sometimes heard that the European child is that one of the difficulties of the educational in young countries like Kenya is that the national tradition is not clear.

The Beginning

At the age of 16 most girls should have had a fairly good idea of the kind of work they can and would like to do if not then the school and the parents must help them. It has been asked: "What can I do with my girl, she is leaving school shortly and I don't know what to do with her?" The attitude of mind of a parent who asks like this is entirely wrong. It's get away from the old idea that young men and women can be put into careers. As a result that attitude continues to have a very bad effect on the future careers of the children are first. There are some who have made up their minds long before they are 16, but even when this is not the case, all that the individual child or his school-teachers and parents should know in what direction his interests lie and then to find square subjects there training is practical.

Agriculture and Veterinary Science

Recent figures show that of the 2,332 students in University departments of Agriculture, more than one-third were women. Of 929 enrolled students in Universities but in farming institutes, more than a half were women. Although it is not possible to get training in those professions leading to a degree in East Africa some training can be obtained. For example, veterinary students occasionally in the Veterinary departments for laboratory studies and among those at present in training one is a woman. As regards Agriculture, special Government bursaries have been established for agricultural students in Kenya. In Kenya, the money is still available and it is scarcely necessary to point out that though a young person's income may be smaller than it will be in middle age, the cost of the child's education rises very considerably as it goes on.

New Record Cross Constitution

OPPORTUNITY FOR KENYA PUBLIC

It has been decided to effect a complete separation between the East Africa Women's League and the Kenya Branch of the British Red Cross Society, which is to be reorganised on the lines of county branches in England.

It is hoped that many of the members of the public will be invited to become members of the Kenya Branch of the Red Cross Society, and it is hoped that many will avail themselves of the opportunity.

At a meeting at Government House it was decided to form a General Council for Kenya, which was headed by Mrs. J. M. Gregory and Dr. J. R. Gregory who accepted the post of Director.

The Kenya Branch of the British Red Cross Society was started in 1915, and since that time has obtained permission to work among its own people in Kenya. In 1930, the Red Cross in the Women's League, a Colony Council was formed and made responsible for Red Cross work in Kenya.

The formation of a Central Council Branch as a separate entity will enable the public to become members and it is hoped that they will themselves of this opportunity to show their interest in and support of the British Red Cross Society.

The rates of subscriptions will be as follows: per annum Associate Members Sh. 5/- Full Members Sh. 7/- (minimum) Sh. 10/- (maximum). The office of the Branch will be at the Memorial Hall, Nairobi, P.O. Box 712, Telephone 3484 (from May 16).

Domestic Petrol Rationing

Tragedy Rationing

In order to conserve tanker space and petrol which has become scarce, the Government has decided to ration petrol in Kenya. This will be done by a re-assessment of all petrol licences in the Colony.

The Minister for Transport, Mr. J. M. Gregory, who said that about a month ago she was contacted by a woman who said that she had a petrol licence for a motor car, but she was unable to get petrol for it.

Mr. Gregory said that he was very sorry to hear of this, and that he would do his best to help her. He said that he would be glad to see her at the office of the Ministry of Transport, and that he would be glad to help her in any way that he could.

WHY SOME CHILDREN PUT ON WEIGHT FASTER THAN OTHERS

Why do some children put on weight faster than others? The answer is simple: it is because of the way they eat.

Children who eat a balanced diet of fruits, vegetables, and whole grains will put on weight faster than those who eat a diet of sugary snacks and fast food.

It is important for parents to make sure their children are eating a healthy diet, and that they are getting enough exercise.

Children who are active and eat a healthy diet will be able to put on weight in a healthy way, and will be able to enjoy their lives to the full.

Parents should be encouraged to make sure their children are eating a healthy diet, and that they are getting enough exercise.
