London newspaper editors at some length the agreement, that the British fleet might be ordered to the Mediterranean by the Government. The Manchester Guardian says the agreement part of a great plan to meet the German and says the arrangement will help the Government to meet their contribution to the war and also to maintain their prestige. The Times points out that the British fleet is extremely well equipped with the people of France have been ordered to evacuate their property and to leave their homes and to go to the United Kingdom. The Times also says that the British Government will help the French Government to meet their contribution to the war and also to maintain their prestige.

What is virtually a call to the United States to enter the war for a greater effort. It is a psychological moment and Britain could not be expected to continue indefinitely, while waiting for America to do her part more adequately. He said that Hitler's design on America were becoming clearer and the battle of Britain, the Atlantic, were in very truth battles for America. He said that the United States must enter the war now, whether we are willing to buy a crown's tureen or to work and sacrifice and fight and die if need be for liberty under the instruction of Washington, Lincoln and Churchill.

NOT A BREATHING SPACE. The Russian war did not provide a breathing space, but called for a greater effort. It is a psychological moment and Britain could not be expected to continue indefinitely, while waiting for America to do her part more adequately. He said that Hitler's design on America were becoming clearer and the battle of Britain, the Atlantic, were in very truth battles for America. Big Nazi Bomb Dump Destroyed. The Free Dutch newspaper reported that a great German ammunition dump has been blown up in Holland. The newspaper said that the dump contained a large quantity of bombs and other military supplies. The explosion was heard in several cities in Holland, and it is believed that the dump was a major supply point for the German forces in the West.

R. A. F. KEEPS UP ITS ATTACK UNCEASINGLY. The Royal Air Force has continued its attacks on German targets in the West. The RAF has reported that it has destroyed several German aircraft and has inflicted heavy damage on German military installations. The RAF has also reported that it has conducted several raids on German cities, and that it has inflicted heavy damage on German infrastructure.

Raging Storm Fails To Stop Our Bombers. The Royal Air Force has reported that it has conducted several raids on German targets in the West, despite a raging storm. The RAF has reported that it has destroyed several German aircraft and has inflicted heavy damage on German military installations. The RAF has also reported that it has conducted several raids on German cities, and that it has inflicted heavy damage on German infrastructure.

NAZI LOSS RATIO MORE THAN 3/2 TO 1. The Royal Air Force has reported that the loss ratio of German aircraft to British aircraft is more than 3/2 to 1. This indicates that the RAF is inflicting heavy losses on the German Luftwaffe. The RAF has also reported that it has conducted several raids on German targets, and that it has inflicted heavy damage on German infrastructure.

A COMMENTARY ON THE NEWS

JAPANESE DILEMMA—RUSSIA'S POSITION—THE SYRIA PROBLEM

(By "Victoria")
N.B.—This Commentary on the London news is based on the information which may be gathered from the press. For months the representatives of the Netherlands East Indies and the Japanese Government have been in contact with the Dutch and the British in order to settle the Dutch and British claims on the islands of the East Indies. The Dutch on their part, have been insisting on the restoration of their sovereignty and the British on their part, have been insisting on the restoration of their claims on the islands of the East Indies. The Dutch on their part, have been insisting on the restoration of their sovereignty and the British on their part, have been insisting on the restoration of their claims on the islands of the East Indies.

Smooth Mobilization

Reports from Moscow say that the mobilization of men and women for the Russian Army and civil defense services is going on smoothly. Figures on mobilization of men are not outside the registration office all day long.

M. Perles, the Prime Minister of Poland, has announced that the last night said that the Russian people were now going to their hands against Germany's shrewd general staff. He said that the Russian people were now going to their hands against Germany's shrewd general staff. He said that the Russian people were now going to their hands against Germany's shrewd general staff.

The Unanswered Question

According to the Russian War Minister, the Russian people were now going to their hands against Germany's shrewd general staff. He said that the Russian people were now going to their hands against Germany's shrewd general staff. He said that the Russian people were now going to their hands against Germany's shrewd general staff.

In no case has anything been recovered since the last mentioned, these cases were not investigated. The main property was found, but the police are anxious to recover the property as soon as possible. It is in some extent indicated by the fact that last Thursday night the police were taking up by soldiers on their beats or by patrol.

Drum on Volka

In Spain the pro-British Falange party is raising a volunteer infantry division to fight against the Russian. The division is being raised in the National Guard, but the government has refused to allow it to be raised.

Appeal to Finns

General Mannerheim, the Finnish Commander in Chief, has made a general appeal to men to rally to a fresh campaign against the enemy. The appeal was made at the end of the last conflict with Russia was nothing but an armistice, and now the last had been cancelled.

A few days ago we gave prominence to an interview we had with Mr. Elmer Cross Blauvelt, Liaison Officer of the British-American Ambulance Corps of New York. Blauvelt's case is typical of many which have produced such worthy results. He is chairman of a big business organization in the United States, but realizing the need and activated also by the magnitude of the work involved, Mr. Blauvelt has for some months devoted himself zealously and unflinchingly to this grand task of helping to provide well equipped ambulances for use in the African campaign. Just as there can be no doubt of our great appreciation of his efforts and those of his colleagues, we believe they too will feel that their work has been well worth while.

GOLD & TIN PRODUCTION EGYPT ON RUSSO-NAZI CONFLICT

Latest Kenya & Uganda Figures

Repercussions Will Be Enormous

Some figures of Kenya's and Uganda's gold production for March and May, respectively, are given in the accompanying table. In the case of Kenya the first quarter of 1946 yielded about 3 per cent less than the equivalent period of 1945, although the month of March was a good one.

On the other hand, Uganda, in the first five months of this year produced eighty three tons during the equivalent period of last year, which was a very poor one.

To take Kenya's latest available figures first, March this year yielded in a production of 7,057 tons, an increase of nearly 100,000 (last year's output was 6,357 tons). This production is all gold.

Uganda Production Like Kenya, the Uganda mining industry is feeling the effects of the war and this was particularly noticeable in the first three months of 1946. The total gold production for the first three months of 1946, however, was better than the equivalent months of 1945, the respective figures being 7,057 and 6,544 tons.

Experts view the Russo-German conflict with optimism. It is believed that Hitler would not have yielded to Russia had he not been necessarily forced to it by economic time he has further, it is expected that Britain and America's preparations will benefit greatly from the Nazi recede. Military credits in Cairo express the view that there will be no Nazi offensive move in the Middle East at all present.

Hitler's sowed policy is always to concentrate on a single campaign. The Arab press stresses Hitler's intention to permit in his relations with Russia and the view of the British decision never to negotiate with him.

Scrap of Paper Al Balogh points out that the attack on Russia has come a few days after the signing of the German-Turkish pact and says "This paper declares the question of Turkey is being raised up on two fronts. It is evident that the delay occasioned by the Russian campaign will increase the time for the disengagement of the British and American troops of war materials. The paper declares: 'It is certain, therefore, that nothing but a major reason could induce Hitler to abandon his invasion for war on two fronts and that reason is the blockade which is making it impossible for Germany to continue her production. The British authorities have been continually complaining of world opinion that the blockade must necessarily have an effect, but it is sure. Now the vigorous facts of these words has been demonstrated.'

Repercussions Al Mokhtar writes: "The report on the Allies will be enormous, and the Germans themselves have drawn attention to the fact that the extent of war with Russia Germany would be between two fronts."

Al Akbar declares that it is impossible to predict the outcome of the conflict and says "Certainly it is one more link in the chain of the Father's Moslemian plan."

Hawking Of Animals

The Standard's Mombasa correspondent draws attention to the fact that for sale in Mombasa, generally by Natives, of such animals as monkeys, bush babies, and, on occasion, mongoose.

It is suggested that this is a matter which the East African Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals might well take up as a by-product of its various activities.

Just how, or when, they are sold for sale is questionable.

Some time ago, the correspondent adds, attention had to be drawn to the number of stray dogs in Mombasa, mostly diseased, underfed and in wretched condition. The attention then focused on three poor bastards to their removal and, it is presumed, humanely.

Sheep, it is considered, should be taken to prevent the usual and smaller beasts for sale, usually under the most unfavorable conditions.

Lobo vs. Madalini. In Court No. 2 at 10:30 am. For Hearing. Messrs Stephen Stubbs vs. Windford Marston Stubbs and Theodore Marston Stubbs. Before Mr. Justice Lushington-Smith. In Court No. 12 at 9:30 am. Cr.C.—James Cook and Company vs. V. J. M. L. Carver vs. M. J. East.

A communication issued by the Imperial Government of Nysaland, from Zomba on June 23, gives some details of the scheme for the employment of Italian civilians, now resident in various parts of the occupied Italian territory in East Africa.

The communication states— At the request of the Imperial Government the Government of Nysaland has agreed to receive in the Protectorate 1,000 Italian civilians from East Africa. They form a part of the many thousands of a continued program of employment to the Government of Nysaland.

Although it is not yet definite that these people will come here the Imperial Government has requested that arrangements be made to be completed in readiness and, thanks to the wholehearted cooperation of the White Fathers Mission and the Mount Meru Mission, we have arranged to take charge of them when they arrive and arrangements are now practically complete.

Imperial Government to Bear Cost

The whole of the expense both in respect of their transportation and maintenance of the camp and of the cost of the food which they will be supplied by the Imperial Government, the effort has been made to keep the cost of the scheme as low as possible.

One might expect to comprise mostly women and children, together with a few elderly or infirm men. They will be treated as refugees and not as prisoners of war and will be expected to contribute to the fullest possible extent to their own maintenance.

The addition of a few European civilians to the population has involved serious consideration of various problems, in particular, those concerning hospital and medical services. In regard to supplies the greatest assistance has been cordially extended by the local firms. Existing stocks have proved sufficient in many directions to meet the demand placed upon them. Other items have had to be procured from the South. Supplies of meat and vegetables from sources other than those tapped by the ordinary European population have been established and it is hoped to avoid any disturbance of existing local markets.

Medical Arrangements

The necessary medical arrangements are well in hand and it is hoped that some Italian medical staff will be available to assist our own hospital. It is realized that a sudden increase in the European population through a considerable strain on the country's resources. The public will appreciate that Nysaland has been afforded a real chance to aid the war effort, and the central spirit of co-operation amongst those who have shared in the preparations has shown that full use will be made of the opportunity.

GOLD & TIN PRODUCTION

Latest Kenya & Uganda Figures

Some figures of Kenya and Uganda's gold production for March and May, respectively, are given in recent mining returns. In the case of Kenya the first quarter of 1941 yielded about 12 per cent less than the equivalent period of 1940, although the month of March was a good one.

On the other hand, Uganda, in the first five months of this year produced slightly more than during the equivalent period of last year, which was a very poor one.

To take Kenya's latest available figures first, March this year resulted in a production of 7,077 fine ounces of gold, against 7,600 (last year) of 6,284, to be exact. Of this production, 1,611 had 118 ounces coming from local sources, Kikuyua producing as usual, more than last year.

Uganda's March production was 1,057 ounces, against 1,110 ounces last year. The total for the first five months of this year is 5,207 ounces, against 5,299 ounces last year. While the March total was the best this year, it was by no means a record of 8,600 fine ounces recorded by the former in the month of November 1939.

For the period January to March 31, 1941, the total Kenya production was 21,546 fine ounces, against 21,959,656 ounces compared with 19,621 for the first three months of 1940. March 1941 was, however, better than the equivalent month of 1940, the respective figures being 7,067 and 6,544 fine ounces.

Uganda's mining industry is feeling the effects of the war and this was particularly noticeable in 1940 when the total gold production fell short of the previous year's by only 11,000, compared with 12,518 in 1939. The respective 1939 and 1940 values were 21,674 and 20,556. The first five months of this year, however, show slight improvement, the respective figures being 7,067 and 6,544 fine ounces.

Uganda's tin ore output also showed some improvement in the first five months of this year by comparison with the equivalent 1940 period. In May this year the ascertained provisional tin content from ore recovered was 24 tons, compared with 18.7 tons in May 1940. Figures were 15,840 and 12,223, respectively.

From January 1 to May 31, 1941 the total ascertained tin content from ore mined was 124,823 tons, against 124,823 for the equivalent period of last year. The respective figures were 124,823 and 124,823 tons.

EGYPT ON RUSSO-NAZI CONFLICT

'Repercussions Will Be Enormous'

Cairo, June 24. Egyptians view the Russo-German conflict with concern, believing that Hitler would not have risked it with Russia unless he was absolutely forced to it by economic necessities. It is expected that the time he has taken of more than two days, during which he has conferred with Britain and America's preparations will benefit greatly from the Nazi prosecution with the eastern campaign. Military circles in Cairo express the view that there will be no Nazi offensive moves in the Middle-East at present, since Hitler's swiftness of policy is always concentrated on a single main objective.

The Arab press stresses Hitler's changing policy in his relations with Russia and the wisdom of the British decision never to widen the conflict with him. He has once again demonstrated in the most cynical manner that agreements are merely scraps of paper which can be torn at will whenever it suits him.

At Baghdad points out that the attack on Russia has come a few days after the signing of the German-Turkish pact and says "The second pact was concluded with a view to testing the first." The paper discusses the question why Hitler has undertaken this move. It says "It was always his principal aim to avoid a two-front war. It is evident that the delay contemplated by the Russian campaign will increase the time for the development of the British and American troops of war material. The paper declares: 'It is certain, therefore, that nothing but the reason could induce Hitler to abandon his original intention to open two fronts and that inside the British blockade which has been in force for more and more on German war production. The British authorities have continually emphasized to world opinion that the blockade must necessarily have slow effect, but it is sure. Now the Egyptian faith of these things has been demonstrated.'

All Mubakat writers 'The repercussions of the Russo-German conflict on the Allies will be enormous for the Germans themselves have drawn attention to the fact that in the event of war with Russia Germany would be between two fires. All Allies declare that it is impossible to predict the outcome of the conflict and says 'Certainly it is one more link in the chain of the Führer's inevitable disaster.'

The Standard's Mombasa correspondent draws attention to the trading for sale in Mombasa, generally in Nairobi, of such animals as monkeys, baboons and, on occasion, chimpanzees. It is suggested that this is a matter which the East African Society for the Protection of Country to Animals might well take up as a subject. Trigonized - are made a habit for the amusement of street loafers. Just how, or when, they are fed and watered when not being stood for sale is questionable.

Some time ago, the correspondent adds, attention had to be drawn to the number of stray dogs in Mombasa, mostly diseased, unclean and in wretched condition. The attention was focussed on those poor beasts but the latter remained unheeded. Steps, a committee should be taken to prevent the tending of smaller beasts for sale, which are the most unfavourable condition.

FINAL COFFEE ITALIAN CIVILIANS IN E. A.

Details Of A Payout

The Supply Board (Coffee Control) has issued a statement regarding the final payment in respect of the 1940-41 coffee crop, the last of which has now been sold. The financial year of the Supply Board (Coffee Control) ends today, June 24, and immediately the audit of accounts pending final audit report will be made to agents for distribution to producers. It is hoped that this payment will be made on or about July 15.

Figures stated in the following paragraphs are subject to audit but are very detailed for the information and guidance of planters. The final payment on each class of coffee will be made on July 15, in excess of the scale calculated average value of the crop. The final payment on each class of coffee will, therefore, be 2.8 per cent above the basic figure of the differential scale.

The average of the final payment to take effect will be approximately 23.12 1/2 per cent.

Details of Payments. The details given below show the approximate amounts of the final payment to be made on each class of coffee. The figures in the right-hand column, from left to right, indicate the class of coffee. The basic figure of differential scale, the amount, in Shs. per cwt. paid to date, the estimated amount of the final payment and, lastly, the total payment, by class, in Shs. per cwt.:

BITTER AND STUBBORN FIGHT IN MINK AREA

... miles to the south-west. Neither side has used anything closer than the area north and south of this line.

Position Difficult

The Russians point out that the German armored column will be in a difficult position if it cannot maintain contact with its infantry forces. The Germans on the other hand say the Russians are surrounded. This column of Russian columns could be round northwards and endeavor the round northwards and endeavor the down south to the Black Sea. It may be possible before the Russian position in this area is cleared up one way or the other.

Encircling Movement

Just north a somewhat similar position has arisen. The Germans say they are in Vinak on the River Volga in the west of the Russian troops trying to withdraw from Russia where the Russians admit attacks on their flanks and rear. It is not clear whether the Germans maintain on complete the encirclement of the Russian or whether the Russians may be able to fight their way out of the Baltic States into Russia proper in other directions. The position is more straightforward.

At the other end of the front on the Finnish border the Russians announce a general German offensive has been launched and say it was held up everywhere.

A COMMENTARY

It is a surprising broadcast from the B.I.C. Major Alan Murray says:

"It is in the Mink area that the Germans have pushed some way ahead with their mechanized divisions and the Russians admit the breakthrough. The Germans say they prevent the supporting infantry from passing the Mink gap made by the German tanks? If they do not, the German armored units would be in a somewhat precarious position. The situation is comparable to present circumstances in the German armored divisions at Sedan for the difference. At Sedan the German infantry at the rear of the gap made by the German tanks, and also to pass through. Let us hope that the Russians are able to prevent that happening in the Mink area."

"The situation in the Baltic is rather involved. The Russians admit the German mobile units are attacking the Vitebsk and Minsk areas which look rather as if they were interfering with the retreat of Russian forces withdrawing from the Shvili area. A breakthrough in the Mink area would open the way for the German north to Mink. In the Mink area the German tanks are certainly being held up, probably not as rapid as the German retreat: it is."

"It is more than a week ago since German troops invaded Russia. During that week the German people and the rest of the world have been fed with news reports and also to pass through. Let us hope that the Russians are able to prevent that happening in the Mink area."

Death of a Patriot

It is not often that musical performs to find almost all practical in a man's life. It was in the case of Sir Ignace Jan Paderewski
the Polish statesman and composer.
In his memoirs he reports today that he was born in 1860 in the Polish village of Zabrze, near Warsaw. He was the son of a poor but distinguished family.
He began to play the piano at an early age and his talent was recognized by the public. He became a pianist and composer.
He was a patriot and a statesman.
He died in 1941 in London.

MURDER TRIAL

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S ADDRESS TO THE JURY Chief Justice Sums Up Today

A summary is reported below of the address which the Attorney General, Sir Hartog, delivered to the jury yesterday on the charge of murdering the Earl of Arrol.

Mr. Hartog's address occupied somewhat over four hours. He had resumed his submissions after the adjournment yesterday. The Chief Justice remarked: "One must remember, if I do not get the accused, Mr. Kiplagi, where he is, I am lost."

Mr. Kiplagi left his outside in the courtroom. He returned to the dock and resumed his seat in the dock. He had a distinctly logic his summing-up to the jury.

The Attorney General first referring to the length of the trial, the Chief Justice said that every thing possible had been done in the interest of the accused. Any feeling of tediousness must be offset by the consideration of thoroughness. The jury had the duty and responsibility and he knew they would not shirk that duty.

While it would be terrible that the innocent should ever be convicted, guilty, could there ever be anything more dreadful in any court than that a man should be acquitted, when that man is guilty, and that the innocent should be convicted, when that man is innocent.

The Crown regarded this crime as a crime of the most heinous kind. It was a crime of the most heinous kind.

The Crown's evidence might be divided into four parts:—(1) the scientific evidence was perhaps the most important. It consisted of the six bullets ever fired from a Colt revolver.

The Attorney-General then referred to the history of Lord Arrol's connection with Lady Broughton, and with regard to an attempt to murder her in 1929.

from Lord Arrol at the time that she was being shot. There was nothing to suggest that the body was arranged in the car, but the crime must have been committed between 2 and 4 p.m. The fact that the car lights were left on overnight, and that the motor was not familiar with the car, the light switch of which had been previously broken.

Mr. Hartog said that he was not going to suggest that the Earl of Arrol was the murderer. He was going to suggest that the Earl of Arrol was the murderer.

Speaking of accused's more recent activities, the Attorney General said that Sir David had his 15,000 francs in the bank, and that he had been reported to have occupied a room in the hotel in Victoria Street, Nairobi, on January 24, 1930.

It was the Attorney General's contention that the Earl of Arrol was the murderer. He was going to suggest that the Earl of Arrol was the murderer.

The Attorney-General then referred to the history of Lord Arrol's connection with Lady Broughton, and with regard to an attempt to murder her in 1929.

Secret Supplies

At the end of August the Premier of the Sudan, Sir Sir, issued a proclamation to the effect that the Sudanese were to be taken into consideration in the event of any movement of the British forces into the Sudan. The Premier's proclamation was a very important one, as it showed that the Sudanese were to be taken into consideration in the event of any movement of the British forces into the Sudan. Review of Pyrethrum NYASALAND'S WAR EFFORT

Each individual licence, the Board was convinced that such restriction would not effect the desired object of ensuring a full delivery of flowers within the limits likely to be available during the year. The chief difficulty was the great variation in yield per acre, the uncertainty of the number of acres actually planted, and the impossibility of making such a large acreage would not be exceeded. The Board was of the opinion that the only effective means of restricting the production of pyrethrum was by restricting the amount of pyrethrum actually produced, and this was done by the Board on March 24, 1914. The Board requested the Director of Agriculture to recommend to Government an amendment of the licence to give him the power to license growers either for a certain acre or for a certain weight of flowers.

Pyrethrum growers

Many other points were also dealt with by the Chairman in his report. He stated that the industry was doing well, and that the growers were to be congratulated for their success. He also stated that the industry was doing well, and that the growers were to be congratulated for their success.

STORIES FROM THE SUDAN

(From George Kinman, Our Special Correspondent with the East African Forces)

Khartoum. The District Commissioner swung on his heels the story-writer at the country of the River Nile, where the British hold a narrow strip of the Sudan and a narrow railway track. He was late a mile inland in the night. His wife was with him and they were both due in an hour and thirty miles south at Bahrine. There was nothing except a military station, an Arab trader and a few shops in the district had a plenty of mosquitoes. The Dinka and the Arabs in the district had a plenty of mosquitoes. The Dinka and the Arabs in the district had a plenty of mosquitoes.

As it was, he found that he was in Africa where the District Commissioner, taking with him the local police, would have a dinner in the morning and then would be off to a wealth of Arab caravan, a display of remarkable wisdom in the hot sun, a comfortable and a pleasant trip to the sea.

The young wife, with the fresh blood of English roses still in her cheeks, thought it would be good for her to be married in Africa and hoped to be able to find a husband in Africa. He was a young man who was a member of the Sudan Frontier Light Infantry. He was a young man who was a member of the Sudan Frontier Light Infantry.

The system of free democracy was in the Sudan. The Sudanese were not used to it. They were not used to it. They were not used to it. They were not used to it. They were not used to it.

It was a long day for her husband and she was not used to it. She was not used to it. She was not used to it. She was not used to it. She was not used to it.

It was a long day for her husband and she was not used to it. She was not used to it. She was not used to it. She was not used to it. She was not used to it.

She had a particularly lively profitable interview with the Sudanese. About the time that Keren fell, Amis was taken and there was a wonderful amount of money and goods sent to Ghazal and to the Sudanese. The Sudanese were not used to it. They were not used to it. They were not used to it.

Up to the Sudanese. The Sudanese were not used to it. They were not used to it. They were not used to it. They were not used to it. They were not used to it.

at the most economical speed

There is a direct relation between speed and fuel consumption. The most economical cruising speed is about 30 miles per hour. At this speed a gallon of petrol will take you as far as a gallon and a half at 60 m.p.h.—that is to say, an extra five gallons for a week-end run of 200 miles in the average car.

A Mixed Bag

NEXT week's films are something of a mixed bag—a modern story of suspense inside Nazi Germany, a highly romantic Elizabethan drama, and a thriller. Of them all, I think that "Escape," which is on this week too, is still the best.

It is really tremendously exciting—reading in the method of the novel, resting as a story. It is a story of suspense—a story of suspense which is an excellent example of how to write a suspense story. It is a story of suspense which is an excellent example of how to write a suspense story.

...and finally, the thriller, which is a new edition of the original "The Cat and the Canary," made by Paramount and directed by...

The Entertainment Unit is back in the part, together with many of the bright people who helped to make the success of it.

There are twenty-four scenes, some of them in the past, and some in the present. The film is a masterpiece of suspense, and it is a masterpiece of suspense.
