JUBILEE STAMPS FOR E. AFRICA

To be Available on May 6

Other New Issues

EXTRACTED TO BE READY IN APRIL

(TRENCH BROTHER'S AGENCY) London, Jan. 8.

A new issue of postage stamps for use in the three white territories—Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika—is at present in process of being prepared, and it is expected that it will be available for distribution to the public before April.

It will be recalled that at the beginning of last year the Post Office organized a competition open to every collector to obtain in any of the three territories, for a new design of stamps, the competition being mainly the outcome of strong representations by the local communities, who felt that pictorial stamps for Eastern Africa were desirable. Of the 428 entries submitted, 41 were selected and sent to the Secretary of State for the Colonies who considered them with such officers which may have been sent to the Crown Agents direct.

Although no information is available regarding the designs already selected, it is understood that different designs will be employed for the various dominions of the new issue.

On May 6, the Irish Jubilee of the King's accession to the Throne, official public stamps in four denominations will be issued in the territories, and will continue to be on sale until the end of the year. During that period the corresponding denominations in the territories will be available.

STOCK MARKETS

Weekly Review of the Position

The following report on the London Stock Market has been received from Mr. George A. Taylor:

Conditions on the London Stock Market were again very life during the week ending December 21, but it was satisfactory to note that in spite of the prices of the whole have been very firm, the London stock market has improved and that there have been many features of strength among leading shares.

London stock particularly improved since 1955. The Building group has also been outstanding since 1955. The Building group has also been outstanding since 1955.

Gold Mining shares have been another important feature of strength in the market since Gold Coast Securities 40 1/2 and South 14 1/2. This is particularly of the opinion of one of the West African companies' meetings which have taken place recently.

So far as we can tell, the outlook for securities generally seems optimistic. There appears to be very little stock about and very little selling of securities would we think, result in a further rise in prices all round.

ADVANCES IN MEDICAL SCIENCE

Some Outstanding Events of Last Year

CANCER RESEARCH

Promotion of Research on Aid to Long Life

CONSERVATIVE

London, January 1. (By A. M. M.)

Last year was not unimportant in the medical world, for there were shown research advances promising a return to the application system after the final examination before registration for a fully-qualified doctor, and the year closed with the medical world in the grip of the London of the year for the registration and registration of Osteopaths.

Medical societies have been of the opinion of one of the West African companies' meetings which have taken place recently.

So far as we can tell, the outlook for securities generally seems optimistic. There appears to be very little stock about and very little selling of securities would we think, result in a further rise in prices all round.

Motor Rally in the Belgian Congo

DETAILS OF INTERESTING TRIP TO LAKE KIVU

Pigmies and Gorillas

ROUTE WHICH INCLUDES SOME OF THE GRANDEST SCENERY IN AFRICA

Meetings with pigmies and encounters with gorillas were incidents in the Motor Rally in the Belgian Congo which took place during the Christmas holidays and which was attended by several East African motorists.

A Hunting Dance

Mr. Oulton-Fennie writes as follows:— One of my members who had returned from the Motor Rally at Lake Kivu which was reached by the Tourist Club of Congo (Belgium), reports that it was one of the finest motor trips ever made in Africa, including as it did, the thrill of meeting some of the most primitive people in the world.

Mountains Beauty

The road which is beautifully graded, winds up from the Kapepe road to an altitude of about 7,000 to 8,000 feet. Owing to the recent rains the atmosphere was very clear and one could see the entire range of hills lying away into the distance and the mountains.

Real Trail

All track of the gorillas was lost so the pigmies walked round a circle of about 200 feet, which meant that he had to walk a step along the road.

The Watusi

The tribe in this part of the country is the Watusi, and averages about 6 feet and sometimes 6 feet 6 inches and even 7 feet. These natives wear dresses of white and orange 'togas' and are supposed to be the tallest of the last known phylaxians who came up from the African continent at the time of Anthony and Clopton.

Dumbara

The first day's trip was through the forest territory of Uganda. The night was spent at Dumbara at the head of Lake Tanganyika. The next day we proceeded to Gotesmanville, the road being most interesting.

The Return Journey

The party on Christmas Day reached Lake Kivu in the 'General Tombar' which is a most comfortable vehicle for four cars. A most excellent lunch was provided which included a most delicious native dish called 'panda' which is a mixture of meat and vegetables.

Belgian Hospitality

In conclusion I was told that the kindness and hospitality of the Belgian officials was very marked and the absence of any formalities such as passports, etc., was most appreciated. It was a most interesting trip and one which will be remembered for many years.

Eve of Plebiscite in the Saar Basin

WORLD ATTENTION FOCUSED UPON HISTORIC EVENT

Momentous event, upon which world-wide attention is fixed, in the plebiscite which will take place to-morrow to decide the future status of the Saar.

Elaborate Arrangements for Fair and Secret Voting

Elaborate precautions have been taken by the Plebiscite Commission to ensure secrecy and freedom of voting upon three alternatives: Restoration to Germany; union with France; maintenance of the status quo under the League of Nations.

Back to Germany?

The attention of the world is focused upon the Saar, where the plebiscite is to determine the future of the region will take place to-morrow.

Three Alternatives

Decision was made that after the expiration of 15 years of the operation of the League of Nations, the Saar should revert to Germany.

Maintenance of the present status quo

Under the Treaty of Versailles the coal mines in the Saar Basin were handed to France by Germany as compensation for the destruction of rail routes in the north of France during the Great War.

Union with France

The Saar is a coalfield of the first importance in Europe. It is situated in the heart of the industrial zone of the Saar Basin.

UGANDA TELEPHONES

Extension of System to Masaka

By the courtesy of the Assistant Postmaster (General) of Uganda your correspondent was allowed to talk to Masaka via the telephone last Monday morning prior to the official opening of the line on January 1. The reception was excellent in fact quite as good as the local service—and Mr. Oak, the officer in charge of the installation at the Masaka end could be heard very clearly.

This is another stride forward in linking up important places in the outcantonments with Kampala. The line is about six miles long and there is also a station at Mpigi, about 25 miles from Kampala on the Masaka Road, from which it is possible to talk to all the stations served by the main line. In addition to the great convenience to business people, especially during the cotton and native coffee seasons tourists coming to Uganda should remember that they can now telephone from Masaka or Mpigi to Kampala, Hoole, Entebbe and Jinja and this may prove of value in the future.

While your representative was telephoning the Katikro (Prime Minister of the Native Government) and the (Uruwanka (Treasurer of the Government) came into the A.P.M.S. office, and telephoned to the Sons Chief, Buloba, at Masaka and they were so impressed by the importance of this development in communication that they immediately applied for two connections with the Lukho at Menga Reservations, one to the Sam Ebad and one to the Ambani Reservations in the Masaka area. This now makes a total of 18 subscribers on the Masaka Exchange, with a call box at both Masaka and Mpigi. The following are the charges for use of the line—Masaka to Kampala 2/6, Masaka to Mpigi 2/6, Masaka to Jinja 2/6, Mpigi to Kampala 75 cents, Mpigi to Jinja 2/6.

A Safeguard against Infection

You know that feeling—so difficult to express—you don't feel ill—but you don't feel well—you have little energy—the appetite—very irritable and no desire to do anything. These symptoms are indications of lowered resistance. This is the time when you are off your guard against infection. Don't be taken unawares—keep a bottle of Bryl's Anarsa handy. After a few doses of the wonderful tonic your appetite will return and you and vigor usually restored to the entire system.

No need ever to feel like that again. Eat a Nic-o-cin regularly last thing at night. You'll wake up in the morning feeling fresh and fit for your day's work.

INDIAN CURRENCY TO BE ABANDONED IN FAVOUR OF STERLING

A speech of great interest to East Africa as a whole was made recently by his Legislative Council by His Excellency, Mr. G. L. Lethem, Governor of the Seychelles...

Since 1934 has experienced a series of deficits for four years and the surplus balance has fallen from nearly Rs. 600,000 to Rs. 200,000...

In vigorous economies, the annual recurrent expenditure of the Colony has been reduced by Rs. 177,000...

Although the Seychelles Budget has been balanced and shows a surplus, and though revenue has improved, the Governor still requests a further increase in the rate of interest...

One of the most interesting announcements is the intention of Government to abandon the Indian Rupee and to link the currency of Seychelles with sterling...

Currency Column, No. 2

EFFECT OF FIXATION ON REVENUE

THE FIXATION

My article No. 1, published in the "East African Standard" on December 11, 1933, established the fact that all children and prizes appearing in terms of local currency were not doubled by the fixation policy of 1922.

The first article dealt with expenditure and the article is intended to prove that the fixation (fixation) was effected by the same policy and to the same extent, that is increased by 100 per cent. In some cases adjustments have since been effected.

With a view to equating the writer will quote a few examples in order to prove the contention and those interested can get the details from their "expenditure" by examining every item in the Budget.

It is essential to divide reasons (rationing) into two groups. Namely those best described as contractual and those such as Customs, Export Duties and Excises which are usually based on value.

The writer finds it difficult to reconcile the optimistic outlook for 1934 with the depression condition, which appears to be a factor which will persist.

There is one factor which has not received sufficient prominence, although at the moment it is the most disturbing influence on the representative of price stability. It is "gold", so long as it remains a commodity in a free market with its value regulated by the natural law of supply and demand, so long will there be the additional basis for distributability in price levels.

The writer has heard it stated by competent authority that £12 sterling for one ounce of gold (first) is by no means fantastic or profuse. Whether such a price constitutes a new or is beside the point but it clearly establishes the fact that this element of instability, with its adverse influence on price levels, will persist unless and until the price of gold has been established as an monetary matter, done in the Gold Standard of the "floating line."

Industrial prices began to fall in 1920 and a definite slump was observed in 1922. To understand the reasons for this, it is essential to note the outcome of the War in 1918-1922. Consider the events as follows: The War ended with monetary value sky-high, resulting from the conditions of War and inflated currency.

As soon as the War ceased, manufacturers were able to resume delivery of goods with the result that industries which had been doubled and trebled in different channels, began to pour in on buyers. This inflated revenue.

The fixation policy in 1922 is a further disturbing factor as it further doubled and more...

It is interesting to note that the writer does not mention the fact that the fixation policy of 1922 was not applied to the value of the pound sterling in the United Kingdom.

These proposals additional continued for varying reasons, principally the fact that the Gold Standard since 1922 was the factor which mainly got to work and herein we see one of the fundamental reasons which have caused the present situation in commodity prices.

As the writer knows the World currency situation, he would be surprised with increasing intensity ever since.

The writer owns a small property in Palestine. The Land Office most gratification was received 30 and 100 Shillings (5/-) Land Office Rent on a Government bonded post-fixation was received 40 and 100 Shillings (5/-).

It is reasonable to assume that he today is paying in shillings just double the amount paid by him in pre-fixation times on account of Land Office Rent.

Arson Trial Ended After 28 Days Hearing

LONGEST CASE IN EAST AFRICA'S LEGAL HISTORY... All Accused Acquitted

Discrepancies in Crown Evidence and Absence of Motive... The final act in the arson trial took place on Saturday morning when His Honour the Chief Justice of Kenya...

The trial continues a record for East Africa and over a period of five and a half weeks, the Court sat for 28 days.

In the course of his judgment the Chief Justice commented on the discrepancies in the evidence of certain of the Crown witnesses and on the absence of any proof of motive.

The Judgment... Evidence of the intimate relation with which the proceedings have been followed since their inception...

On coming from the court buildings Mwangi and the other accused were warmly congratulated on their acquittal, being headed by a band of well-wishers, many of whom have attended the proceedings regularly since the trial commenced on December 14, 1951.

Mr. M. D. Hargreaves endeavored to make an unobtrusive exit from the court one day, but was immediately stopped by the large crowd who had been seen this time before awaiting their appearance at the Victoria Theatre.

It is interesting to note that the accused of possession had had a long trial in the matter of the building, that was immediately followed by the large crowd who had been seen this time before awaiting their appearance at the Victoria Theatre.

On the first news of the acquittal handed out from the court room the mob seemed to be highly elated and was hastily dispersed by Police officers.

The case against him is that he committed the burning of the house in question and in connection therewith, on a couple of days before the fire, selected the aid of one Abdul Hamid, alias John. According to this witness...

Both John and Jimmy are Police informants. The meeting John refers to took place when they were both very drunk on the night of the fire.

The evidence that both these persons are Police informants is based on the fact that they have been named in the early morning of January 10th in the report of the fire having been reported to the Fire Brigade at 12:40 a.m.

What corroborates this is the fact that the house in question was burnt down on the night of January 10th, 1951, and the fact that the house in question was burnt down on the night of January 10th, 1951.

The result of the plebiscite will be announced at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning.

Charles Langdon and Norma Shearer appear in

"There is a variety of well-contrasted entertainments in the picture world of Nairobi this week, and some fine rare artists are appearing in one or other of the saloons which are being screened. It will be welcome news to many that "The Barriers of Wimpole Street" with Charles Laughton as Mr. Barrow and Norma Shearer as Mrs. Barrow is to be shown at Matinee performances at 5.15 to-day and to-morrow. The film was brought specially up from the coast for the week, and after Tuesday, it gives youth and there will be no further opportunity of seeing it.

Marie Dressler THE SOMETIMES THE element of audience comes into the service of a talker in far away Kenya. At the Capitol Theatre, for the first three nights of the week, we are to see Marie Dressler, that great artist who passed on so soon a time ago, in "Christopher Bean" and there can be no doubt that "Miss Dressler" with her powerful personality and rugged humanity will grace the part in the film version of "Christopher Bean" which Pauline Lord created in the original play. "The late Christopher Bean." Lionel Barrymore, who always studies the psychology of a part before he plays it, is co-star with Marie Dressler. These two did a scene two years ago and appeared before a brilliant assembly, and now to meet again for the best performances respectively for the year. Later in the week the Capitol Theatre has booked two certain laughter makers, Laurel and Hardy who have figured in many an amusing film.

Acoustic Reminded IT will be remembered that when the Theatre Royal first opened a part before he plays it, is co-star with Marie Dressler. These two did a scene two years ago and appeared before a brilliant assembly, and now to meet again for the best performances respectively for the year. Later in the week the Capitol Theatre has booked two certain laughter makers, Laurel and Hardy who have figured in many an amusing film.

A Film Slogan "THIS is the Night" which is making its debut at the Empire Theatre to-night has a slogan—"The best to laugh! Always to Love!" Rarely a good motto for difficult days. The picture promises good comedy, and the later talkie, which will fill the centre place in the second half of the week presents both drama and romance, with Lionel Barrymore and Stow Lauenroth as the principal stars.

Two Fine Pictures IT is good to know that "Karna" is attracting considerable attention at the Princess Theatre, and that "Dinner for Two" has drawn big houses, night after night at the Capitol Theatre. Both these films had amazing success at home, and the fact that they have been had here says everything for the discernment of the Nairobi public.

Obscure at Ter's A considerable crowd of diners, and a well filled balcony, greatly enjoyed the work of Ben Bruce's "Nine O'clock Boy" Company at Ter's Hotel, Nairobi on Saturday evening, when they presented a Cabaret show. Despite their being East African boys and the fact that they had only finished their theatre performance an hour before, the girls carried into the spirit of their numbers at midnight with great good humour and enthusiasm. Their dancing in the cabaret setting was excellent and they were able to introduce some new combined act individual items which were greatly appreciated and enhanced their reputation as accomplished artists. The Cabaret show always finds a good

A Popular Competition DANCING, and dancing competitions are becoming more and more popular in Nairobi. The two locally organized events, and a recent one of children's dancing proved that there is ample talent in Nairobi, which, properly cultivated, makes delightful entertainment. On Wednesday evening a dancing competition is to be held at Ter's Hotel, and the occasion should bring many pretty competitors, wearing specially pretty frocks, who with their dancing partners, will have the opportunity of showing their prowess in a Waltz, slow Foxtrot and Quick Step. The competition will begin at 10 o'clock.

setting at Ter's and on Saturday night, after a dinner of quality will serve, and with the hotel dance orchestra in good form, the hours passed very pleasantly and quickly.

Tribe Choir will sing Elgar's "Benedicite" St. George and several new songs, and Mrs. A. Dewar, Miss Joyce Spencer Palmer, and Captain Barrow-Dewar are among other artists who have kindly consented to contribute to the programme.

Tickets 2/- each can be obtained from the Rev. Mr. Bethel Superior and members of the choir. They will also be on sale at several shops in town and at the Hall on the evening of the performance.

Shakespeare and Everyday Speech IT is a pity that many people realize that they frequently and curiously quote Shakespeare in their everyday speech. One of the reasons at any time and there will most surely be found an expression in regular daily use. These phrases are used, generally, with the vague feeling that they are quotations, but with no consciousness of their actual source. The finer and more famous phrases are common knowledge and everyone knows, for example that "The even was ever soft and low; and excellent thing to women" is part of King Lear's touching and pathetic speech on finding that his daughter Cordelia was dead. But few realize that "more stuned against than sinning" is also found in the same play. And so, unconscious tribute is paid to the greatest English dramatist whose influence on our language is so far-reaching.

PICTURE FLIGHT TO EAST AFRICA

Mr. M. A. Wetherill, professional London (by air mail) accompanied by Mr. Charles Healey, assistant producer, and Mr. William, camera man, are leaving Heston Aerodrome on the 29th of this month for East Africa. Their destination is Arusha in Tanganyika, but on the way out they intend to spend 10/14 days taking films from the air of acrobats. East Africa which they consider to be of importance in connection with the educational films which are to be made by Messrs. Healey (Africa) Ltd. In fact, this will form a large part of the backbone of these educational films.

Mr. Wetherill is going to make Arusha his headquarters for the time being, for the purpose of producing a series of African pictures, the sound equipment for which will be used some time in the New Year. Mr. O. D. Phillips, a director of Messrs. Safari (Africa) Limited, is accompanying them as far as Cape Town where he has a certain amount of business to transact.

The machine which is to be used for this flight is a de Havilland Gipsy Dragon. This machine, built for service on the East African airways, has been developed by Messrs. Safari for the purpose of originally intended to convert into a heavy machine, but has been converted into a light machine, with four large air-screws, with a cabin in front of each chair, carrying a pilot and a wireless operator.

Messrs. Safari (Africa) Limited is a newly-formed company, with a magnificent suite of offices, 28, St. James Square, London. The picture English dramatist whose influence on our language is so far-reaching.

SWING TO THE GREAT INCREASE of trade in our oiling and greasing department and our inability to serve our customers as quickly as we would wish, we have pleasure in informing the public that we have installed a second hydraulic car hoist and entirely duplicated our oiling and greasing equipment.

We will now be able to serve our customers with the usual efficiency and there will be no need to wait until the car on the hoist is finished, as was the case formerly. Skilled operators will be waiting to attend to your car, enabling you to drive straight on and have it worked on without any delay.

We apologise to those who have been kept waiting in the past and who have always waited with the utmost courtesy. This we take as a compliment to our service but it was not satisfactory, so we have expended a considerable some of money in order to effect an improvement.

To those who are not yet in the habit of giving their cars this very necessary attention, we extend a hearty invitation to come and test us.

Do not ask too much of your car, however good it is, by expecting unflinching service from it, without regular oiling and greasing.

It is far better to sign up a contract with us for monthly attention; your car will greatly benefit by this inexpensive economy.

We took GRANITE GRIT from mountain roads, made GRINDSTONES to TEST TYRES then built this new

How modern cars presented a baffling problem to tyre-builders—and now Goodyear engineers solved it with a flatter, huskier tyre that gives 43% greater non-skid mileage . . .

IT WAS mysterious, baffling!

A strange malady seemed to have suddenly attacked all makes of tyres. ALL TREADS WERE WEARING OUT TOO FAST!

Yet tyres were being made better than ever before. Something was wrong—BUT WHAT?

Finally the real cause was ferreted out. It wasn't the tyres at all. It was the new modern cars. Higher speeds, faster stops and starts were literally grinding the treads off all types.

"Speed up to 50 . . . stomp on the brakes . . . and keep it up night and day."

"Against 'grindstones' covered with granite grit sandpaper, we tested tread."

LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE

The new wider, flatter tread puts more non-skid blocks on the road. It is flatter and more compact. The ribs are 1 1/4" wider and the grooves are narrower. All this means more traction, more safety with the amazing "G-3".

The Engineers Go To Work

Goodyear engineers were ordered to solve this problem. They sent to the regions where tyres were reported wearing out fastest and secured samples of road grit—cruel, sharp granite grit—and made it into "grindstones" to test new tread designs.

One tread—known simply as "G-3"—outlasted all others, so tyres were built and Goodyear test fleet drivers given these orders:

"Speed up to 50 miles an hour—then stomp on the brakes—and keep it up night and day!"

It was brutal. Brakes burned out every 8 hours—had to be refitted every 72. Drivers collapsed, cars broke down—but "G-3" kept right on rolling!

IT OUTRAN ANY PREVIOUS GOODYEAR AND KEPT ITS GRIP TWICE AS LONG AS ANY OTHER WELL-KNOWN MAKE OF TYRE TESTED.

The Mystery Solved

Now Goodyear dealers have this astonishing new tyre. When you see it you will note it keeps the car's All-Weather non-skid blocks in the tread-center where you need them for traction on modern highways.

Here Are the Improvements in Goodyear's New "G-3"

You get the broader road contact of a flatter, wider All-Weather Tread.

You get quicker-stopping and the greater road grip of more non-skid blocks in the center.

You get the easy steering and smooth travel of wider riding-ribs.

You get the slow, even wear of closer-nested non-skid blocks and ribs.

You get freedom from carcass failure with extra-resilient Supertwist construction and a heavy, super-strong bead.

You get more rubber in the tread—an average of two pounds more per tyre.

—all of which adds up to 43% MORE NON-SKID MILEAGE at no extra cost to you!

No Increase in Cost

Such a design puts extra strain on sidewalls, but Goodyear was prepared for that as no other tyre-maker. Its exclusive extra-durable, extra-resilient Supertwist Cord body easily carries this heavier tread.

And the best news of all comes last. With all these extra advantages this great new "G-3" All-Weather Tyre Costs Nothing Extra To Buy!

"G-3" COSTS US MORE TO BUILD—BUT—COSTS YOU NO MORE TO BUY

Unification of East African Territories

A TANGANYIKA REPLY TO UGANDA CRITICISM

To the Editor "E.A. Standard," Sir—I crave space in your valuable column to reply to the criticism on the subject of unification of the East African territories which appeared in your issue of January 8, over the name of Mr. D. N. Stafford, of Uganda. I am, I must however, disclaim the responsibility for the article. Mr. Stafford considers necessary to refute his ill-founded criticism, but I am, I must however, disclaim the responsibility for the article. Mr. Stafford considers necessary to refute his ill-founded criticism, but I am, I must however, disclaim the responsibility for the article.

I think that Mr. Stafford has been unfair (I hope not deliberate) in putting before the public the question of the respective territories dealt with without taking account of the respective territories, and while I do not doubt of the fact that those states have to be regarded as one, until they become due, more should be done with the utmost haste and alacrity.

It is, I think, a pity that the question of the respective territories dealt with without taking account of the respective territories, and while I do not doubt of the fact that those states have to be regarded as one, until they become due, more should be done with the utmost haste and alacrity.

Historic Plebiscite Passes Off Peacefully

NAZIS CONFIDENT OF AN OVERWHELMING MAJORITY

New Laws Envisaged

REICH SOVEREIGNTY OVER THE SAAR TO BE CLAIMED BY HITLER

The plebiscite in the Saar on Sunday passed off with a calm surpassing even the most optimistic expectations.

The Nazis are stated to be confident of victory, claiming that 80 per cent of the votes cast will be in their favour, while foreign estimates give them from 70 to 85 per cent. It is estimated that 97 per cent. of the eighth population voted.

Honour and pathos were intermingled in the scenes at the polling station. One elderly woman died in the booth.

Pictureque Scenes

While their elders were registering their votes citizens spent their time talking and snatching. Among the victims of the latter pastime was an Italian Army lieutenant wounded with machine gun.

Pictureque scenes were enacted throughout the night as heavily armed men carrying loaded rifles arrived at the polling stations at a late hour. The scene was one of a town where the streets were filled with soldiers and tanks to Warsaw, where this vote will be counted this evening.

Keep Your Mouth Shut

Wanted men with posters warning "Keep your mouth shut" were stationed at many booths. This suggestion was generally obeyed and up to now there have been no signs of disorder. It is estimated that 40 per cent. of the electorate had voted by 11 o'clock. The atmosphere was one of peace, with his wife and two daughters were only afraid.

Sea Breezes for Kenya Children

It is interesting to learn that the Director of the Mount Elgon School has taken a large boat on the Coast and is transferring the school there for the 1932 summer term. The boat, which works in its own grounds at one hundred acres, faces the sea on the Indian Beach near the 20 miles north of Mombasa. The change should be of great benefit to the children.

Large bows are trimming many of the new day dresses. Some of these are made of silk and look exactly like the bows with which nursery folk make patterns in their Montessori play. ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE

Awaiting the Report

At its next of March last the Executive Committee of the Kenya Association for Economic Development Committee with reference to the report of the Economic Development Committee on the subject of the future of the Colony and the staff was carried unanimously, and it is understood that two members remained from voting.

A Judge's Experience "The longer I live the less I know of Kenya," remarked a member of the Court of Appeal for Eastern Africa, yesterday.

Debate at Thomson Falls A debate on "The East African Standard" was held at Thomson Falls on Saturday, January 12, at 7 p.m. The debate will be under the chairmanship of the Hon. Mr. J. G. Thomson, M.P.

Two It is the weekly meeting of the Nairobi City Council, to-day at 8.30 p.m., to-day at 8.30 p.m. Mr. J. G. Thomson will speak on "The East African Standard."

Judges and Justice In the course of a case before the Court of Appeal for Eastern Africa sitting in Nairobi yesterday (last January 14) the following remarks were made by the judges: "It is no use the judge going to the law books to find out what the law is, for the law is in the minds of the judges."

At of Control At about 6 p.m. on Saturday last (January 12) a fire broke out in the premises of the East African Standard, which being tended by another party got out of control while the fire engine was en route and crashed into a telegraph pole, causing the telegraph lines to fall and the fire to spread.

ment, but quiet faith in the country's potentialities and steady confidence in the Government's capacity. Neither optimism nor pessimism by themselves can help. The essential need is Kenya's feeling of the need for a more definite determination of its future, and of its Government into the one main object of its reconstruction. The Economic Committee has just begun its work, and it is to be hoped that the financial position and until the report is issued, there will be a willingness on all sides to allow controversy to be dormant until concrete proposals are before the country. When that point is reached the public will naturally expect that the principal object of optimism and a consequent reduction of hopes of taxation, will be the report of the Economic Development Committee. Since the Bureau of the Economic Development Committee is engaged on the examination of the present position, and since the public should have the opportunity of considering it with care before the report is issued, there will be a little less gloom than hitherto and more of a revelation.

THE POWYS MURDER RECALLED
"Apathy and Weakness of Authorities"

Under the heading "Murder by Royal Warrant" the following letter from the Editor of the Standard, dated January 10, 1935, appears in the "Morning Post" column of the Standard of today.

There were certain circumstances connected with the murder of Mr. Theodor Powys in Kenya some three years ago which do not appear in the reports of the trial contained in the "Morning Post" of November 9, and it is as well that they should be known, as they offer a melancholy explanation of why it has taken three years to discover "Who was the really" was murdered.

"Young Powys was a man of great charm and ability, liked by every one, against whom no sinister plot was laid against him. His duties required him to visit periodically the somewhat remote district of Ill Pong, leading the Northern (Kalenjin) Reserve, where Lady Eleanor Chelmsford was residing. It was on the 11th of November, 1931, that he was taken to his camp, and his native servants thought the best to the nearest farm, some 30 miles away. Before him 50 miles round accompanied a search for his body by police from Dismal Civil Station, and his remains, found his body was found after two days' search.

"The district abounded in lions (Powys had shot two that had been troubling his sheep the day before I last met him), and it was natural that the first assumption should be that he had been killed by a lion.

"The police and civil authorities stuck to the lion theory, and avoided the idea of murder; no adequate steps were taken to investigate the matter among the Kikuyu tribes who inhabited the area to the North, and the murderers were allowed to go home to be fined and honored for having killed a white man. It has taken three years for the truth to be known, although it was known to most of the natives in the sparsely populated district, and such examples of a weak Government served by the fear of being accused of acts of repression by ignorant critics in Manchester and Westminster.

"The apathy and weakness of the civil authorities, whose every man is distasteful or contemptuous to Natives, is much to be deplored. It is weakness such as this that will sooner or later cause Kenya to lose her position as the only 'savage' country in the world that has not yet had a native rising to mark the process of recouping the 'benefits' of civilization and civilization."
