PROPOSED HOSPITAL RATE REJECTED "A Moth and Maggot Eaten Proposal"

A special public meeting was held in the Playhouse Theatre on Thursday night under the chairmanship of His Worship the Mayor, Councilor M. J. O'Brien to discuss the proposed hospital rate.

The Mayor opened the meeting by explaining that a Municipal Council meeting a proposal was made that a hospital rate should be levied on every adult European in town.

The actual resolution was presented in Council because only 18 members voted for it. It was then proposed that a public meeting should be held in an endeavour to get information from a representative gathering of ratepayers of Nairobi on two points:

(1) Was the hospital rate really necessary? (2) If it was wanted what terms should it take and how far should it go.

His Worship in inviting expressions of opinion, administration has been that re-orientation and anxiety would not help.

There was a good attendance of ratepayers, and the meeting was called by Mr. James Riddell, an ex-Mayor of Nairobi.

The proposed levy, he said, did not go to the root of the whole subject. Government's responsibility. The health of the community was not only a matter of the community but of the whole of Kenya.

Kenya today, with its expanding activities, its growing population, its importance as a part of the Empire with its important capacity, should have all sections of its community catered for.

The reason nothing had been done, continued Mr. Anderson was that until public opinion was worked up to such an intensity that they were prepared to do something, Government could not be "brought into action."

Some had medical aid. Administration staffs and Indian printers had been getting medical aid were the people who were the backbone of the Colony. They were educated in Western civilization and had had enhanced the value of the Colony since they came into it.

Mr. T. J. O'Brien told the audience that he was speaking on behalf of the Kenya Youth Society, and that it was necessary that he speak frankly but respectfully, and fairly.

Mr. Anderson: "I have got a suggestion. I take it that the article I am referring to is not yours." Mr. Green: "What use is that? From a correspondent. That is a matter of the railway and public revenue."

Mr. O'Brien: "I am sorry to hear that. The healthy should pay for the sick. Don't leave the sick to run a hospital. I am going to vote against the 1/10 a day rate for hospital fees."

Mr. D. Newman was then invited by the chairman to come on to the platform and give his opinion. Mr. Newman, in characterizing the proposal as a "moth and maggot eaten" proposal, stated that the community as a whole of Kenya could not get anything done in East Africa without Government aid.

Mr. Newman proposed that the hospital rate be levied on the basis of the number of people in the town and not on the basis of the number of people in the Colony.

The speaker was the Deputy Mayor, Councilor Ullah, who said that it was a time for plain speaking, without fear or favour, he commented on the scheme from the point of view of the hospital and nursing homes.

Mr. Newman: "I am sorry to hear that. The healthy should pay for the sick. Don't leave the sick to run a hospital. I am going to vote against the 1/10 a day rate for hospital fees."

SPORT IN THE SERVICES

[BY ROYER]

Two more inter-Army matches are to be played at the Railway Club Ground tomorrow in the United Services Sports Organisation Inter-Army League. The first match at 10 o'clock is England and East Africa and judging from displays of soccer last week on the same ground, it should prove to be the most watching England if you remember what the R.A.F.'s chances of reaching the top of the league by beating them by four goals to nil. East Africa too did their share of "sneaking" when they beat Scotland, who looked good enough to meet everybody, by four goals to nil.

At 3.30, the second game is between the leaders of the League, South Africa, and R.A.F. and although the latter were beaten by England last week, they still have the opportunity to occupy the top of the League with South Africa, if they beat the Springboks on Sunday. In Wednesday's columns of this paper I gave you a surprise forecast when I wrote that R.A.F. would beat South Africa and I still stick to this forecast. The R.A.F. had a very weak side last week when they were beaten by England but I feel certain that if they do bring back their old stars for the game tomorrow against South Africa they stand a fair chance of pulling off a surprise. AFRICAN WADE CUP MATCH

The final match in the African Football League, Junior Division, for the "W. C. Cup" is to be played at the Native Stadium on Saturday next, starting at 4.30 p.m. This competition is played on the League system but, owing to the number of teams participating in this season, the competition was divided into two divisions. The winners of each special section competition, the four best sides, were then drawn for a match play. W. J. King won the prize for the best goal score returning 15 goals in 10 matches. Other qualifiers were, R. A. Wood 14, J. E. Davis 10, W. J. Wood 10. In the match play W. J. Wheeler beat J. V. King and R. A. Wood beat J. Davis. The final was won by W. J. Wheeler on 2 and 1 after an exciting game.

His Worship The Mayor, Councilor E. A. Vasey, has kindly consented to attend the match and to present the Cup to the winning team at the Native Stadium. The match will be preceded by a Senior League match between Fangani "A" and Kenya Police "A", which will start at 3.30 p.m. Admission charges will be normal. Europeans 50c, Non-Europeans 25c.

MUTHAIGA

Several British competitors in the inter-colonial competition resulted in a win for Mrs. Muthaiga, who was the only woman to play. Mrs. Muthaiga who played for the Muthaiga Golf Club last Saturday, was the only woman to play. Mrs. Muthaiga who played for the Muthaiga Golf Club last Saturday, was the only woman to play. PROPOSED HOSPITAL RATE REDUCED

The debate continued and one member in the audience pointed out that 30/- was not an equitable charge as there were people in the community who could not afford to pay it. He made the suggestion that for people whose income came under a certain figure hospital facilities should be free, and for those with incomes over that figure a very small charge should be imposed. Councilor Wood suggested that every native in the Colony should pay 25 cents per month for hospital facilities, that every Asian should pay 35 cents per month and that every European should pay 60 cents per month.

UGANDA AND SIR PHILIP MITCHELL

Explanation Wanted

The Uganda Herald in an editorial writes: "A copy of time has now elapsed since Sir Philip Mitchell's article first appeared in 'The East and West Review' to enable any of our readers who wish to do so to express their views."
This is what Sir Philip said as reported in 'The East and West Review' of the 11th September last. To East Africa the three principal objections to the general welfare of the country are poverty and social intolerance. When millions of men and women live in a terror of society and regard the elementary knowledge of civility and civility as their enemy, there is no wonder when millions of men, women and children live in hovels and have neither enough to eat, nor wholesome food, nor shelter, nor the means of living much better than the ape, there is no wonder; when the law says for man and woman according to their race or colour, there is no wonder... We do not forget that it was Sir Philip Mitchell who started it. We had thought that Sir Philip's position was derived from contributing to the Press controversial subjects until he had finally retired from public service. If Sir Philip had considered the question urged, as it undoubtedly is, should the fact be correct, the right forum for the matter up to the Government's Conference. There is to be a meeting of the Conference this week, and we express the hope that Sir Philip's position was derived from contributing to the Press controversial subjects until he had finally retired from public service. Uganda Cotton Setback

News has been received from Kampala that the import duty on Foreign Cotton into India has been doubled and is now five shillings per pound, equivalent to sixteen cents in the shipping in Uganda. As a result, business in cotton has been somewhat depressed for the moment.

Three decades ago, during the last war, conditions were such that famine could be periodically expected, but now the situation is different. Now, in our Eastern Province, reserves of food are the most prominent feature to be seen in the villages. While Uganda is justified in her indignation at Sir Philip's charges, we must not allow ourselves to get carried away and should remember the benefits we owe to him. We refer to the introduction of water and lighting supplies to Kisumu and Kampala, and his chief monument, Makerere.

Had Sir Philip Mitchell written his article from a different angle, describing difficulties existing when for those who like Good Gin stout and confident defence of the Philippines by General MacArthur is effected the same purpose by holding up a disproportionate percentage of the total Japanese forces, thus delaying the enemy's time schedule. Unless the Japanese can secure decisions which will provide ample future safeguard for their long lives of supply in a protracted war, their gains become progressively insecure as the Allied forces, particularly the United States, mount in strength. In the present situation of protracted and successful fighting of Singapore, Philippines and Burma will steadily reduce the enemy threat to manageable proportions by producing stability in a situation which the Japanese desire to keep as fluid and as confused as possible.

Ask any man who knows a good Gin when he tastes it, and he'll tell you that Crystal is a clear, pure Gin, true in type and cultural in its flavor.

Singapore is not dependent on its air strength or safety. It is related to the defensive power of the Dutch East Indies on the one hand and Australia and New Zealand on the other. We should not think hysterical today in terms of loss of Singapore, but rather of the symbol of strength and dedication which the fortress represents just as Britain herself, in some straits and alone, faced and achieved for the world the same token of survival which in lesser measure is now the function of Singapore. The assault on Singapore with concentrated enemy forces on a major task of great magnitude, the Philippines will continue to engage his attention in the south. The continuous temptation to destroy the Burma road into China will attract him to a third major battlefield. And by setting a large-scale war in China. With these projects clearly defined, Allied retaliatory measures can be planned with precision. The smoke of confusion will dissipate in the Far East. We shall see the issues more clearly and with better understanding, and with that clarification will come the return of confidence. It is important today, as never before, to keep the whole world conflict in focus and to remember that what Russia, America and China are doing is part of the common achievement.

Justify, suggest nerves are a sign of Night-Starvation. If you wake in the morning tired, if you get run-down, irritable, if your nerves are ragged and frayed, they were sapping strength every waking moment you go to bed. Horlicks replaces the energy sapping sleep—so you may enjoy your own life.

ing the dignity long associated with their powers.

The Emperor was in a somewhat invidious position during the months which succeeded his return. Much of the work of administration they were left in the hands of British authorities, civil and military, and there was growing impatience among the young Ethiopians and perhaps among some of the older statesmen too. They wanted freedom to manage their own affairs. They were at the authority and the power of administration. Some of them began to wonder whether the British would ever really understand their feelings in Ethiopia at large. And in the districts outside Addis Ababa and further afield there were great armies, the personal adherents of the Emperor. In the towns thousands of Italian civilians were still resident and in many parts of Ethiopia the onward steps of the regime of the invader were plain enough to see.

An Agreement with Ethiopia

Impatient people in Britain have been criticising the delay in completing the Agreement between the British Government and the Emperor of Ethiopia. It is true that it is ten months since our forces entered Addis Ababa and nine months since the Emperor returned to his capital. The major campaign was concluded with the fall of Gomma and the last stages which the enemy made at Gondar in no way affected the course of the Treaty. But those who have been most closely associated with the negotiations, the small group of interested people in Britain know very well that difficulties have had to be overcome with great tact and patience.

EIRE'S DIFFICULTIES GROWING DAILY

February 4.

Mr. de Valera, Premier of Eire, is reported to his countrymen to be more and more convinced that Eire is in a most critical position.

It is urged to add that, when the Government, in the past, were so divided as to the difficulties of the country, it is now being urged to the sword or the hand grenade, and signs too that some of the native authorities are acting in the districts had learned very little about modern methods of administration and preferred the traditional forms of taxation.

It's probably something.

You may be "over-eat." Well, it's probably constipation. Elimination must be complete as well as regular. If it isn't, poison gets into the blood, causes rages, headache. Plus this there is a simple, honest prescription—Kruschen salts.

It isn't a drug, or a patent medicine, or a fat, or a fad, or a fad. It's a natural substance. A Crisis In Egypt

London, Feb. 4.—Verdon Bartlett, writing on the Egyptian Cabinet crisis says:

"Siri Pasha, the Prime Minister of Egypt since November 1936, has found it necessary to resign with his Cabinet. There are powerful people in Cairo who are not at all pleased by Siri Pasha's success—shrewd, energetic political economist of the '20s—improving relations between Egypt and Great Britain. It may be remembered that some of King Fuad's friends and advisers were very reticent to break off relations with Italy after Mussolini had gone to war against Britain in 1940. They appear now to have changed their minds. Siri Pasha's resignation is a heavy as formerly, therefore every step must count for more." This admission is significant, especially in view of the failure to attack the American equipped troops despite Sirat's resignation of home of it was most successful. A year ago Siri Pasha is anxious to help. London is still quiet, but next Thursday all voluntary parties will be taken over on a compulsory basis by the State, and will no longer able to display local pride. The local authorities have the fullest power over their outside movements up to 48 hours weekly. There is a possibility that this will be some trouble if it is not done very soon and with authority.

Income Tax Returns

The information Office has issued the following—

Many people in Kenya have now received their forms for the return of income tax for the current year. Those who have not yet had them may expect them very shortly.

The forms have been posted in unsealed envelopes so that they can be returned in the same envelopes sealed with the economy label which has been sent with each form.

It would be much appreciated if these forms could be completed and returned as soon as possible. If a return is not made reminders have to be sent or an estimated assessment made, in either case this entails waste of time and paper.

So will you please complete and return the forms as soon as you can, posting it in its original envelope enclosed with the economy seal provided.

AUDACIOUS ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE

German Prisoners Steal British Acroplane

The most spectacular and audacious attempt by two German prisoners of war to escape to Germany has ended with their capture and return to prison camp.

Prof. Ludwig Dörmann, who they stole a single-engine training acroplane in Northern England, and, owing to petrol shortage, land at an aerodrome near the coast of East Anglia, where they were arrested.

As a result of this escapade the War Office and the Air Ministry are making a study of the incident and its circumstances. The inquiry falls into two sections: How the two prisoners were able to escape, and how they were able to get hold of a German aeroplane and fly off with out being challenged.

A Simple Process

It is understood that after the two Germans had made their escape they went to an aerodrome which is used as an elementary flying training school.

There apparently they got in to the simple process of climbing over the boundary fence.

Inside they posed as Dutchmen, and were actually supplied with flying suits and helmets. When permission was given to take-off in the Magister training acroplane it became, but for a few days' flight.

Needed Fuel

The two had appeared when they landed at the aerodrome near the coast of East Anglia, where they landed a few flying wings and asked for petrol.

The airman in charge fortunately replied that he could not supply petrol without a permit from the adjutant. He directed the two men to the adjutant's office.

They went to the adjutant, to whom they posed as Dutch army aviators of them being flying instructor to the other. The adjutant was uncertain about them, and suggested that they should have a cup of coffee in the mess while he attended to their aeroplane.

While he was playing for time to check up on the supposed Dutchmen an urgent signal came through from the Air Ministry warning all stations that two Germans were believed to have escaped in a training aircraft.

That was the end of their adventure. They were immediately arrested.

GREECE UNDER OCCUPATION

Her Role In The "New Order"

[FROM A CORRESPONDENT]

Unemployment Problem

The second problem of the Greek Government is unemployment. To quote one of the two important provisions of the two important provisions of the 18,000 veterans has 12,000 unemployed. The annation by Greece of Three and Macedonia means that Greece lost a total of 45,000 hectares with tobacco, which accounts for 50 per cent of total Greek exports in 1928 and 43 per cent in 1929.

The merchant fleet, before the war, was the largest fleet in the world, no longer provides sufficient employment. The same applies to the tourist trade. Apart from this, Greece is a lack of raw materials which Germany does not wish to, or cannot, supply to Greek industries. These problems are further accentuated by transport difficulties.

German sources, emphasize that the Greek agriculture will have to be reformed. If not, the only basis for the Greek people is a searching prospect for Greece which is a lack of raw materials, the poorest inhabitant. The increased use of artificial fertilizers will have to be modernized. It is said that the Greek people could increase the country's productivity by 50 per cent. At the same time, it is suggested that the area under cotton should be increased by 150,000 hectares, without encroaching on agricultural land, which would enable Greece to export cotton which Germany is in need. If it is estimated that only 650 per cent of her wheat and 85 per cent of her main crops, the suggestion from home production, it can be judged how wide is the gap which the Greek of today, as considerably deprived of territory and financial means, is expected to bridge in the near future. It is admitted by the German press that this will mean a revolution for Greece, but "Greece" must pass through this revolution if she does not want to lose contact with Europe.

In the words of the Frankfurter Zeitung, the changes in the economy will have to be accompanied by changes in accepted values and thought and a reorganizing of the social scale.

This is a high price, indeed, for the mere results which will be obtained from entering a "voluntary" producer; the organized poverty of the New Order.

Widespread Repression

Meanwhile, General Tsolakoglou, the self-appointed head of the disbanded Greek Government, has taken an openly in favour of the New Order. In which, he expects, the "Führer" as an admirer of the civilization of Ancient Greece, will grant her a "discharge." This subservience to the Axis has only had the effect of strengthening pro-British feelings and also the opposition of the Greek Government. The death penalty has recently had to be introduced to ensure the execution of Government orders regarding the re-planting of corn, fodder and vegetables to the central office. The Italian occupation authorities have made propaganda for Communism or anarchy, as well as the warring of Germany, of many countries, punishable by imprisonment up to twenty five years and even by death.

The economic situation is more than critical, and the very widespread shortage of foodstuffs is the greatest disaster. Greece which before the war imported 300,000,000 tons of wheat (producing only 124 million tons in 1929), has not only to do without foreign shipments, but has also lost the rich Macedonia and Thracian wheat lands, and has in addition been deprived of all its stocks. The daily bread ration varies between 120 and 180 grammes (about 4 to 6 oz.), which is much less than the poorer classes were used to consume. In Salonika, Athens and Patras, the ration is reported to reach only 80 grammes (about 2 oz.), which is only about one-fourth of the normal consumption.

On the coast far used to Greece, the principal commodities of which have practically disappeared. Vegetables—in the matter of Kenya Co-operative Creamery, Limited, P.O. and in the matter of Miss Dina s/o Karin Blux, deceased, are diminishing rapidly.

NEW WINGS for Production

Facing the necessity of building an air armada overnight, the American aviation industry knew that nothing short of a "production revolution" would turn the trick.

In this crisis, aviation engineers were quick to take advantage of revolutionary new types of machine tools that had been created by Taucos engineers during the past 14 years. These machines had been found remarkably efficient in meeting the needs of aircraft and war industries.

Adaptable, portable, stripped of every useless ounce, these new fighting-trim Taucos outperform ponderous machines COSTING

THREE OR FOUR TIMES AS MUCH.

In units, batteries and special setups that obviated the need for building special machines, stock model Taucos units were rolled into aviation production lines to help smash the "tooling up" bottleneck.

Today, in the leading aircraft factories of Britain and North America, you'll find these mobile, stripped-for-action Taucos machines boring, sawing, grinding and cutting metal for the air fleets of the Allies.

By the hundreds of thousands, Taucos units are helping give new wings to production.

The low cost of Taucos and metal working machines places every unit within reach of the smallest industry or shop.

Ships Shot Down Bombers

Two Junkers 88 dive-bombers were shot down yesterday. One destroyed a convoy and was engaged by H.M. towler Coromah. It was identified to him by the Board. It was shot down by the British ship. A few moments later the plane itself plunged into the water in the middle of the convoy. No damage or casualties were sustained by the traveler.

The Late Capt. Kirton: An Appreciation

With the death on active service of Captain Walter Kirton, the world has lost one of its best known and most popular writers. ... Walter Kirton, better known as "Red", first came to Kenya in 1916. Early in the last war he received a commission in the D.C.L.I. and was later awarded the R.A.M. serving with the latter regiment in the "German Star" campaign. With his uncle, the late Major Kirton, he took up land in the Rift valley at the end of the last war and set out to cultivate and plant the K.K.K. and skull and crossbones mark of Kibungo Estate becoming well-known on the London market.

GOVERNMENT APPROVES THE PRODUCTION PLAN

The Board will be appointed by the Governor annually from a panel of three representatives of the Board. It is intended to obtain the widest possible representation of all agricultural interests throughout the Colony, though such representation will not be on a district basis. In view of the present situation and the desirability of maintaining unity, the existing personnel of the Board, which now numbers 11, will be continued during 1942, but it is proposed to add three additional members in order to widen the scope of existing representation.

Alteration of Floor ALTERNATIVE HEADSTUPTS IN KENYA

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard." Sir—As you are conducting the same by using the term "alteration"...

Other notable features in today's correspondence are the sentiments of respect to which the African and African community are accustomed...

If I remember rightly one of your correspondents recently pointed out the local lead as "placed," presumably not being sufficiently interested in the matter...

When I first came to Kenya the Kikuyu was meagre (or rather, the Kikuyu was meagre (or rather, the Kikuyu was meagre...

It is the Editor, "E.A. Standard." Sir—With reference to the recent appointment of a Senior Official to act as a Super-Super-Duper...

When you have a date you have put the invitation (African) suggesting you were to be invited every 10 or 15 p. to the world...

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard." Sir—I read the fine article "The Old" which was published in your issue of 29th January...

It contains the usual statements which point to the plagues of the "Dietary" savoury, and deal with "Today be wiser!" And, again, only the line: "Love as a fundamental right against the A."

need or enjoyment of such. It merely pointed out that it was known to be printed on the same page of the newspaper news which must have brought sorrow to numbers of people...

I have played many gambling games, but doubt if there would be any girls to "win" Charlie, even were I to do my best...

It would be better for the country to show the absence of "falls" up, and follow that given in the advertisement appearing at the top right-hand corner of the correspondence page of today's issue of your newspaper...

In conclusion, I would say, as I am a mother, I am not entitled to be called "mother."

LABOUR POSTCARDS. To the Editor, "E.A. Standard." Sir—In your issue of January 15, 1942, you published a notice...

It has been able to review the whole of labour postcards, and it might be helpful to him—and to other employees in the local, coast, and military areas...

ECONOMY—IN WORDS. To the Editor, "E.A. Standard." Sir—With reference to the recent appointment of a Senior Official...

Perhaps the newly appointed Principal Inspector of Forests might be requested to authorise the broadening of his example of Government saving, and to amplify the contents "Save to Defend."

RAILWAY AND THE PETROL RESTRICTIONS. To the Editor, "E.A. Standard." Sir—I think most of us heartily agree with the new petrol cuts...

It is a pity that the railway authorities should take this matter so seriously, and put it as a "must" on the public's mind...

PLAGUE

SATURDAY, JANUARY 31, 1942. Considering its history and the nature of its development, Nairobi has been a fortunate town so far as plague outbreaks are concerned. They have occurred sporadically but they have never been very serious. At present Nairobi is experiencing a plague probably the first outbreak in its history. Figures were high in May and October last year, they are high this year also. The public has been warned that if successful steps are not taken to deal with the situation now, there will be a more serious position in the future and after the long rains when cold weather increases rat mortality...

Evacuation of plague is a duty that the individual and the Authority. Every household is also expected to help in the direction of cleaning his property, preventing exposure of food to rats, killing rats in house and yards, properly covering dustbins, and other measures which though of a minor character in themselves are cumulative help in the fight against plague. Nairobi is a difficult town in which to control factors in plague. There is a constant stream of people, particularly Africans, from the adjoining areas; there is overcrowding among Asians and Africans; there are houses and buildings out of keeping with modern standards; there are insanitary and open drains. Nairobi is not a comfortable place for a rat.

Everybody is agreed on the need for action since the only question is what action can and should be taken. The Government and the Municipal Authority have been in conference this week and there is no lack of willingness on the part of Government to strengthen the hands of the Local Authority sufficiently to deal with the present emergency. The point to be noted both by the public and Authority is that while public health is at stake there are also certain clear rights and interests involved which tend to be overlooked or brushed aside when there is a crisis. The obvious case is that of compulsory demarcation of streets and the provision of adequate drainage and the abuse of authority in normal times when there is no epidemic; it is less difficult to give effect to the law when there is an emergency tends to speed up official action. A properly based system of demarcation and drainage is not been the case in Nairobi. It has been planned for many months and little decision. Those faults that is does not matter at the moment. The immediate task is to grapple with the outbreak and then to take the steps which are necessary to prevent, as far as possible, the need to resort to emergency measures and the problems of health control...

Genasprin is a pure, harmless, safe medicine. It is available in 1/2 and 1/4 tablets. It is sold by all chemists and druggists. Genasprin is a registered trademark of Dr. J. H. P. to which an outbreak such as this gives birth. Past experience has indicated that any further delay could be as the procedure laid down under the Public Health Ordinance. Intermittent legal action, however, may be put into effect but they increase the danger to the community. With this view in mind, the Government under the use of authority in matters affecting private property, the procedure should be considered at the earliest possible moment. It is a matter of emergency and it is the Municipal Council is to be held responsible for the health of the community. It has given sufficient powers to deal with crisis conditions. These include powers to enter property for the purpose of exterminating rats, power to insist upon prompt response to notices issued for the abatement of nuisances, power (with the approval of the Courts) to order the evacuation of houses which are found to be infested, to consider the suitability of human habitation. The question of their demolition or repair can be considered at a later date. But above all what is necessary is a careful and complete review of all public health laws and regulations so that there can be a progressive improvement of sanitary conditions and reduced need for hasty interference in the citizen's life and interests in an emergency. It is necessary to make arrangements to keep the whole world contented and to remember that Russia, America and China are doing a part of common achievement.

Philippines and Burma will steadily reduce the enemy threat to manageable proportions by introducing a Japanese situation which the Japanese desire to keep as fluid and as confused as possible. Singapore is not dependent on the aid of its strongest ally. It is related to the rest of the world by the Dutch East Indies on the one hand and Australia and New Zealand on the other. We should not think lightly of today in terms of the loss of Singapore, but rather of the changes which would ensue, just as Britain herself, in sore straits and alone, faced and achieved for the whole Empire the task of survival which in lesser measure is now the function of Singapore. The assault on Singapore would concentrate enemy forces on a major task of great magnitude; the Philippines will continue to engage his attention, the United States will be tempted to divert his forces into the China theatre. And he is fighting a large scale war with Japan. These projects clearly defined. Allied retaliation measures can be planned for the whole Empire. The smoke of war and direct will dissipate in the Far East. We shall see the issues more clearly and with better understanding and with a better confidence will come the return of confidence. It is important today, it is never more important, to keep the whole world contented and to remember that Russia, America and China are doing a part of common achievement.

COST OF ILLNESS

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1942. The Mayor of Nairobi has called a public meeting last week in the hope of securing support for the proposed Hospital Bill. The proposed Hospital Bill got an answer which makes it impossible for the Council again to consider the scheme in its present form. The Council has had the not inconsiderable benefit of an experience which has been too rare in the past—namely, the Council Chamber. The Mayor has found it necessary to look into the matter. It is perhaps just as important as the question of the Hospital Bill. The general tone of the meeting points to several things of which the Government and the public should be aware. The most important is that the break with the past is coming rapidly upon this country. The present is not a continuation of the past. The population is growing, social values are changing, the needs of the people are increasing. The most important is that the break with the past is coming rapidly upon this country. An Agreement with Ethiopia

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1942. Impatient people in Britain have been criticising the delay in completing the Agreement between the British Government and the Emperor of Ethiopia. It is a true that it is not possible to force an agreement in a few months since the Emperor has entered Addis Ababa and nine months since the Emperor returned to his capital. The major part of the war is still being fought in the East. The Emperor has entered Addis Ababa and nine months since the Emperor returned to his capital. Will Japanese Invade Australia?

WAR OFFICE TRIBUTE TO AFRICAN TROOPS

(Specialists' contribution)
London, January 30.—The War Office and the War Office think that it is possible at this time to give a more definite answer to the question of whether Japan will invade Australia. The War Office has a strong opinion that Australia will not be invaded by the Japanese who are already well entrenched in the A.B.D.A. area and in China to look up new transport, preventing air and sea, and in an attempt to stretch them almost to breaking point. It is possible that the Japanese force could give them a great deal of trouble and a certain amount of shipping on the Asian sea of East Australia could be captured. It might go towards cutting off troops, maintaining a large supply of food, and other necessities of war, and also a certain amount of equipment, including the transport of the Japanese, which would be a great help to the Empire.

Successes On Russian Front BERESVOYA RECAPTURED

Nazis Threatened Everywhere

The Russians are reported to have recaptured the town of Beresvoya in the Minsk district. The town, 100 miles west of Minsk, had been captured by the Germans in 1941. The recapture was announced by the Army newspaper, Red Star, which says it constitutes a heavy blow to the German westward drive. Beresvoya is the furthest point westwards reached in Marshal Timoshenko's present drive in that sector, and the German troops under Panzer are now placed in a position of extreme danger. The town was liberated three days and nights ago. The offensive started by Marshal Timoshenko is striking west from Lomva, some 20 miles from Beresvoya, and is now said to be only 35 miles from Minsk. A third drive in the Minsk region, and Kalushin road last night, said that the first group of Russians have recaptured more than 200 villages in that area.

THE WESTERN FRONT BENGHAZI IN AXIS HANDS

Unending Air Attacks On Rommel's Forces

The capture of Benghazi by Axis forces was officially announced in Cairo yesterday. Its capture was claimed overnight by both German and Italian communications. It was not reported in London, though a Cairo communique received yesterday stated that the town was threatened from the east and south. One body of Rommel's forces had reached a point 10 miles east and another advanced troops were pushing other enemy columns to the west. The Daily Telegraph notes that this advance threatens the whole of the Libyan coast from the Mediterranean to Khiva. The Daily Telegraph states that the German staff commentators are still holding their tongues about the capture of Benghazi, but the army has in common on the Eastern Front being the machines to their best to stay quiet on account of the defensive nature of the situation. 'Undoubtedly the Russian reserves in their main attacks. They like it in the west, but in the east, the position is the reverse. It is clear that the Russian staff is being more cautious than it has been in the past. The Allied powers advanced to take Benghazi in dawn to dusk attacks. The British tanks, and King's troops in the past few days accounted for several hundreds of enemy transport vehicles and inflicted more casualties on enemy troops. In one day 900 vehicles were destroyed. 300 heavy trucks alone have destroyed 300 vehicles in several operations. Describing these attacks a Pilot Officer stated: 'It has not been a case of dropping bombs on an enemy target. It has been a case of dropping bombs on an enemy target. It has not been a case of dropping bombs on an enemy target. It has been a case of dropping bombs on an enemy target.'

GENTLEMEN PREFER SHOP

THERE are to be found - even in such enlightened places as Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika - certain ill-placed individuals who object to a man talking shop. Why shouldn't a man talk shop in his hours of leisure? If a man can't be interested in the subject of his own job - coffee, mining, shipping, or what-happen-you-then he won't be worth hearing on any other topic. Here is an extract at that sunset hour when the sociable evenings on the water-holes for a couple of well-earned Gimlets and a chat. The said Gimlets being made with Rose's Lime Juice.

It's worth making a mental note of the fact that Rose's Lime Juice is made of the pure juice of the lime. Nothing extra or chemical about it. Rose's is quite sure of that, because they grow the limes themselves. Because Rose's Lime Juice is lime juice, you've got to pay just a little bit extra. But you've always got the satisfaction of knowing that you've bought the very best.
