ANALYSIS
The Nairobi office of the Kenya Council for the East African Muslim Welfare Society, the richest Muslim organisation in East Africa, met recently at the Site Ali Bin Sallan Club for the first time in three years.

The members criticised the Council of the Society for rejecting £240,000 donated by the Egyptian Government for building community centres, nursery schools and dispensaries.

The Egyptian Government agreed to send its own people to build the institutions and run them for three years, and thereafter to hand over to a Trustee Board agreed to represent the Muslims in Kenya for another three years.

Despite the offer the members refused to look into the matter and try to give the laws of the Muslims in Kenya were in dire need of help, especially the African Muslim community.

The organising secretary, Mr. M. Nairidi, said the Society had spent £100,000 on the site and school, had had a voluntary staff of 12,000 for the missionary work.

The members were not satisfied about the way the money had been spent and thought it had brought meagre progress to the Muslim.

Wrong term
The organising secretary indicated that the Aga Khan was the Society's only donor, since he had been paying 4 per cent contributions made by individual Muslim organisations for their projects; the members rebuked the term "only donor" preferring "principal donor".

The organising secretary said it was difficult for the society to run smoothly under the present constitution, this being the main reason for the failure

Most refreshing single to top charts this year

TWO weeks ago in this column I mentioned a record called the PROCK Harmon. I told you that I was not impressed that by this week it was still at all that was spoken has come to be known as the "Prock Harmon" and it is listed in the history of the company.

A seasonal answer story for a new group (the record is the only one that has been after release) here. It is an answer story that comes in the instance in one hundred per cent answered. I believe that of Paul's name now on the most beautifully answered specific music was to give the best. And it is appropriate that it should be so. The time with which that other famous answer story, "The Prock Harmon" is what the record is all about. So it is more than meeting.

It is a fashion record. It is quite the most refreshing single in the charts that year. It is a record that has been enough to get it into writing a review the first time. The Prock Harmon is the name of a prize-winning picture. It is the name of a prize-winning picture.

Kenya's stormy petrel makes some political revelations

NOT YET DIBERT, by Oginga Odinga (Heinemann, 25s)

WITHOUT any doubt, Mr. Oginga Odinga, or Jaramogi as he is more familiarly and usually known, is an established personality. Very few readers will agree with him as he says in his foreword that many will dispute a great deal, but everybody must admit that the authorship is an attractive one.

In collaborating with Huxley Brown, who has been editing and giving shape to the manuscript, Odinga has produced an impressive account of half a century in Kenya's evolution, beginning with the times when a first bicycle caused a major sensation and continuing into the jet-propelled age of urban.

For Jaramogi, political independence granted after the Mau Mau fighting and subsequent political struggle, was only the end of the beginning. He goes back to the early days of the political campaign to Mr. Harry Thuku, to the KAU, and the organization known as the Thuryi Group, to the onset of the forest fighting with some novel explanations of the tangles in those dark days.

One of heros is Dr. Nnamah writes in the foreword, "the liberation struggle in Kenya was bound to be one of the most dramatic in the history of the continent." Several references are made to Dr. Nnamah, his brand of socialism, his nationalism and yet pan-Africanism, and it is clear to us that Kenya's heroes had much of their life spent over their own country in Ghana, including his own Communist nationalism.

Turn to East

"I am not a Communist," he protests indignantly as a writer who has known him closely in the past. He is indeed not. He is indeed too intelligent to have had his name so often associated with Communism and with Communist aims.

Doubts removed but patience needed

UNCERTAINTIES and doubts about the future of the President Kennedy have been completely removed by the signing of the Treaty of Commerce between Kenya and the United Kingdom National Assembly which has laid the basis for the new relationship. The treaty also provides for the abolition of all discriminatory trade practices and for the establishment of a common external tariff. It is expected that the treaty will be signed by the British Parliament in the next few weeks and by the Kenyan Parliament in the next few months.

GANA AT APPEAL FOR UNITY

Mr. Obote presents plan for republic

IDENT OBOTE yesterday made a powerful appeal for a united society in Uganda, with all its people joining to achieve the aim of a united nation. He was presenting to Parliament a sitting as a Constituent Assembly — the Government's Constitution proposals to turn the country into a republic and to abolish the four hereditary kingdoms.

During his speech, Mr. Obote made a passionate reference to the problem of East African Uganda was opposed to unity and he said he had heard it said that Uganda was saying quite openly that it was the desire of Kenya and Tanzania, Uganda it was ready.

The constitutional proposals were published earlier this month by the Uganda Government and designed to replace the existing Constitution which President Obote introduced in April last year, when he abrogated the 1962 Independence Constitution.

Fled after attack

Under the proposals the four kingdoms of Buganda, Bunyoro, Ankole and Toro would be replaced by four provinces with a population of 2,000,000. It would be divided into four administrative districts.

Its rules, Sir Edward Mutesa, who was Uganda's first President, fled the country to London last year after Ugandan troops attacked palace on outskirts of Kampala.

President Obote has since said that Sir Edward, who now lives in Britain, had "abdicated" the throne, but has denied this. Other rulers are Sir Tito Winyi (Bunyoro), Sir Godfrey Gyeyo (Ankole), and Sir Frederick Oculu (Toro), who succeeded Sir Edward.

Denouncing Uganda as a "pariah state," Sir Edward said the proposals were "unjust, unworkable, and unworkable." He said the proposals were "unjust, unworkable, and unworkable." He said the proposals were "unjust, unworkable, and unworkable."

The House was packed with angry members and the Government was forced to suspend the debate. Mr. Obote said the proposals were "unjust, unworkable, and unworkable." He said the proposals were "unjust, unworkable, and unworkable."

Official details were not available but it was estimated that more than 100 people were injured and 100 killed.

More than a dozen large offices in the Government Buildings were damaged by fire.

Mr. Obote said the proposals were "unjust, unworkable, and unworkable." He said the proposals were "unjust, unworkable, and unworkable."

Lead of shame

Referring to the "let our people be led by a pariah state," Mr. Obote said there should be no one, or subcommittee of districts, within an independent state.

The Opposition, led by Mr. Obote, said the proposals were "unjust, unworkable, and unworkable." He said the proposals were "unjust, unworkable, and unworkable."

Mr. Kibaki to open Kenya Pavilion at Zambia's Trade Fair

THE Minister for Commerce and Industry, Mr. Kibaki, will open the Kenya Pavilion at the Zambia Trade Fair, which opens at Ndola on the Copperbelt on June 30. 17 Kenya industries will be displaying their goods at the Fair, which will continue for three days.

Trade between Kenya and Zambia had increased substantially for the last two years. Both Kenyan and Zambian traders are showing greater interest in each other's products. In 1960 the total value of trade between the two countries was only £207,001. This rose to £1,601,145 last year.

The Israeli Defense Forces said the weapons were found in a warehouse in the Gaza Strip, which is under Egyptian control.

The seizure was part of a series of operations aimed at cutting off the flow of arms to the Palestinian Liberation Organization (PLO).

The PLO has been fighting a guerrilla war against Israel since 1967.

THE TRIALS OF AIR TRAVEL

WHEN THE GUARANTEED for a loan of £300,000 to be shared by the three East African countries on behalf of E.A. Airways, in order to carry out the V.C.I.B. was debated in Kenya's National Assembly this week, it was said the two agencies were already in operation and expected to start operations from Nairobi soon.

As the result of entering successfully into the international flying business, E.A.A. is one of the few national airlines in the world to show a handsome profit. The revenue earned on the overseas routes helps to subsidize those of the domestic routes which are uneconomical. Despite all the criticisms and stories of E.A.A. losses, the two-thirds Kenya, E.A.A. expects this year to make a 10 per cent profit and to have a turnover of £200,000 mark for the first time if the expectation is realized.

Some of the speakers in the debate asked for improved cabin service. Modern aircraft having high standards of performance, it is services that need to be insisted on passengers who are paid from the general public by travelling by the national airline, but the general public cannot be forced to do so by governments or travel agents. They will use the airlines of their own choice.

Unfortunately, E.A.A. suffers from the backhairs of inefficiency at the airport. Though mistakenly, most blame the airlines for the trouble they encounter along the route. Some travellers are fortunate enough to have a speedy passage through Customs and Immigration and, after their baggage is checked, they are allowed to proceed more or less as they please. Others, however, are subjected to a long and tedious wait in the queue at the departure parcels are sorted and distributed to their owners. Why cannot these services be handled over to the airlines?

Return for the money, and the purchase of the boarding pass stamped accordingly, so to many other airports. Some arriving in Kenya have to complete immigration formalities at the airport. Some have to be handed over to the police for passport, health and other documents. Some are handed to the officials who are to be checked. Some are paroled from their passport, especially when arriving in a country where a passport is not required. Some officials do not stand around in a waiting-room while the passengers are checked. Some are in a hurry to get further documents and freights to be in order of arrival while others are waiting for their baggage to be checked.

Cheaper fares on scheduled flights

The "modest" arrivals pass inside for scrutiny. Why cannot this process be speeded up as it is in New York? This does not seem to be a security check, but it would seem, possibly, for the airlines to consider the fact that the airlines of other countries approach this check, without all the fuss of the Kenya check. It is not clear whether all passengers are inspected by passengers collecting their baggage. It is not clear whether the airlines of other countries are allowed to take four, the number of more passengers in a Customs staff of only three.

The airline business is in a constant state of flux as new routes are opened, new routes are closed, and new routes are opened. During the debate, it was mentioned that Super-Vicco had been suspended until 1970. It is not clear whether this is a permanent suspension or until 1970. By then, the Airline-Bureau line between Nairobi and London is expected to be established. The £1,000,000 mark for the airline business is expected to be reached by the end of the year. It is not clear whether this is a realistic target or not.

When the decision in the number of passengers carried by a plane is made, it is considered whether the plane is to be used for a long time or whether it is to be used for a short time. It is not clear whether the decision is made by the airlines or by the government. It is not clear whether the decision is made by the airlines or by the government. It is not clear whether the decision is made by the airlines or by the government.

Great efforts are being made to expand the local industry, and it is to be hoped that the airlines will be able to do so. It is not clear whether the airlines will be able to do so. It is not clear whether the airlines will be able to do so. It is not clear whether the airlines will be able to do so. It is not clear whether the airlines will be able to do so.

Farm learning more important than history

The big hotel scramble

Airlines prepare for the jumbo jet age

SUDDENLY, for the world's hotel builders, it is spring in East Africa. And excitement is a hotel one being built at this moment in Nairobi alone. It is a place for more accommodation in the same place.

Behind these new towers are the world's biggest airlines, who are being forced to write in East Africa, bringing a new generation of tourists. One of them alone could fill the towers of the hotels which is being currently built.

Some idea of this new expansion, and its long-term effect on hotels, are given in this article by MIKE RUSSELL.

THREE of the world's biggest airlines are simultaneously involved in building hotels in Nairobi. It is no coincidence, Africa generally, and East Africa in particular, is at present the tourist magnet of the world. The airlines know this, and do not Kenya.

The airlines realize that there is little use bringing tourists to East Africa if there is nowhere for them to stay. Thus, the United Arab Emirates, Overseas Airways and British Overseas Airways are all building hotels in Nairobi — and give the facts.

Each hotel is not only planned to meet the needs of the tourists, but also to be a part of the city's development. The hotels are being built in the heart of Nairobi, where the population is growing rapidly. The hotels are being built in the heart of Nairobi, where the population is growing rapidly.

The 250-room hotel will cost about £2,500,000 by the time it is finished, and is being built by the Government of Kenya. It will be known as the Hilton Hotel.

A strange feat of architecture is being undertaken by the Hilton Hotel International. There is no connection other than similarity of name between it and the Hilton Hotel International which is being built at the intersection of Nairobi Street and the old Nairobi Hotel.

A striking bid for this famous hotel was made by the world-famous Hilton Hotel Group. The Hilton Hotel International Corporation, which is the company which owns the Hilton Hotel in New York, has been awarded the contract to build the Hilton Hotel in Nairobi.

The Hilton Hotel in Nairobi will be a 250-room hotel, and will be the largest hotel in Nairobi. It will be built on a site which is one of the best in Nairobi. The Hilton Hotel in Nairobi will be a 250-room hotel, and will be the largest hotel in Nairobi.

The other two hotels in Nairobi are being built by the United Arab Emirates and British Overseas Airways. They are being built on sites which are also in the heart of Nairobi. The United Arab Emirates hotel will be a 250-room hotel, and will be the largest hotel in Nairobi.

It is almost certain that Nairobi is the only capital city in the world in which all the major airlines are building hotels. This is a unique situation, and it is a sign of the importance of Nairobi as a tourist destination.

And so to bed... but why must it be so early?

By ROGER HOME

WHY does Auntie V.O.K. think television viewers should all be safely in bed by 10.30, or 11 o'clock at the latest, on week nights? Why, for the clouds of about 10.35 on Tuesday, after the film of the President's meeting with National leaders at State House.

The announcer led that that would be shown at 11.00 on the P.M. — but why could it not have been shown earlier? It would have been better for a more general audience. It is a pity that it was not shown at 10.30 on Tuesday night. It is a pity that it was not shown at 10.30 on Tuesday night. It is a pity that it was not shown at 10.30 on Tuesday night.

After all, sound studio conditions in 11 p.m. every night would mean that the show would be shown at 11 p.m. every night. It is a pity that it was not shown at 10.30 on Tuesday night. It is a pity that it was not shown at 10.30 on Tuesday night. It is a pity that it was not shown at 10.30 on Tuesday night.

Through the film was occasionally funny in the main it was well done and the general standard was high. It is a pity that it was not shown at 10.30 on Tuesday night. It is a pity that it was not shown at 10.30 on Tuesday night. It is a pity that it was not shown at 10.30 on Tuesday night.

Magis shoes and mischief

By CYNTHIA HUNTER

HELLEN lived by the sea-side. Her father was used to walk along the beach. She was always there. One evening, as she was passing underneath an overhanging coral bank, she saw a man in the dark. She was through the opening and found herself in a large cave. At first it seemed very dark. The bright sunlight outside and she could not see anything at all.

After a few minutes her eyes became used to the dim light and she wandered around looking into all the nooks and crannies. Suddenly she noticed one of the rocks of the cave was a little more stuck out than the others. On it were letters - "M.S." on the lid.

"Wherever these letters mean," she said aloud.

"Open me," said a voice which seemed to come from the box.

She carefully Helen took the lid and she found a piece of paper and blue ink. She started to read it. It was a letter from her father. She read it slowly and then she read it again. She was sure that she had not read it before. She was sure that she had not read it before. She was sure that she had not read it before.

"Where are you hiding?" asked her mother's father. "Come out at once," said her father. "I have been waiting for you for some time. You should not have hidden in the cave. You should not have hidden in the cave. You should not have hidden in the cave."

Don't blame the record shops

POP fans will no doubt have noticed that certain Hit Parade artists are not available for their record shops. This can be extremely frustrating for you if you like to keep in touch with the scene, and the reasons lie in the latest hit sounds on various occasions.

Before you condemn the record shops, you should know that a great many of the records on the shelves are not yours. They are yours only in the sense that they have been bought by someone else. It is this person who is responsible for the record shops' stock. If you have bought a record and the artist is not available, it is because you have bought the wrong record. This is a common occurrence and is not the fault of the record shops. It is the fault of the record shops' stock.

POP REVIEW

All this artistic review in connection with the small record shops and the big record shops is a bit of a nuisance. It is a bit of a nuisance because it is a bit of a nuisance. the proclamation of a state of Kenya and other K.A.U. members of the Kenya African National Union (K.A.N.U.)

designated to receive Kibwa's resignation. It was a move that it represented a significant step towards the independence of Kenya.

Before the outbreak of the emergency, and particularly the arrest and detention of Mr. Okoti, the views of European states towards the movement for the independence of Kenya were generally favourable. However, the outbreak of the emergency led to a complete reversal of this attitude.

Another factor which prevented the colonial administrators to give Mr. Okoti a more favourable reception was the opposition of the British Government. The British Government was opposed to the independence of Kenya, and this opposition was a major factor in the failure of the movement.

But the authors think that the political frustrations of the African people, particularly the Kikuyu tribe, were the main reason for the outbreak of the emergency. The African people were frustrated by the denial of their political rights, and this frustration led to the outbreak of the emergency.

At the same time, though, the British Government was opposed to the independence of Kenya, and this opposition was a major factor in the failure of the movement. The British Government was opposed to the independence of Kenya, and this opposition was a major factor in the failure of the movement.

Removing the danger

SITTING South in a recent diplomatic tournament, I found myself surrounded by four Spades on the following hand:

Hand of cards showing Spades and other suits.

I was looking for a way to remove the danger of being surrounded by four Spades. I decided to lead the King of Hearts, and this led to a successful outcome.

The King of Hearts was a good lead because it was a high card in the heart suit, and it was also a card that was likely to be held by the King of Clubs. This led to a successful outcome for my side.

Having won King's honour, I was able to take the trick, and this was a significant step towards the end of the hand.

E. NIGERIANS OVER OIL PLANTS

A Nigerian group of dissatisfied Eastern Nigerians has been pushed in Part II of the oil concession agreement in East Africa. The breakaway regime last week ordered the oil concession operations in East Africa to pay an estimated £5,000,000 in oil royalties to the Nigeri Government.

The Federal Government in Lagos also claims the money, which falls due on July 1. Lt. Col. Odiako, who took Eastern Nigerians away from the Nigerian Federation and declared the independent Republic of Biafra on May 30, requested the oil concession last week to submit details of their oil revenue to his regime by July 1.

He threatened fines of £50,000 if the oil companies did not comply with the request. Another big company involved in the crisis-over the royalty payment is the French Shell.

It is believed that about £2,000,000 of the estimated total royalties is due from Shell and B.P.

According to the information sources the troops had been posted from their installation to protect them.

It also shows the Lagos said the company would probably not to pay the royalties to the Federal Government in Lagos. The oil companies in the Nigeri Gov. Odiako or the breakaway regime in the last several months.

A Federal Government spokesman has said the data they will not pay the royalties until the date of the oil concession is resolved. They are confident of a settlement about the oil payments.

Many friends will have been saddened by the news of the sudden death of A. J. Don Small, a hard fact of his work in Kenya were fully covered in the obituary published in the East African Standard on June 22, but there is more to record than the usual outline of a tragic career.

London service throughout his long service he never spared himself. He took a personal interest in every aspect of the work of the company. He was a man of many talents and a man of many friends. He was a man who was loved by all who knew him.

Deeply mourned He was a man of many talents and a man of many friends. He was a man who was loved by all who knew him. He was a man of many talents and a man of many friends. He was a man who was loved by all who knew him.

CHINESE RAILROAD OFFER

WHEN PRESIDENT KAUNDA returned to Lusaka...

At the outset, it must be accepted that the construction of the railroad would be in the best interests of the two countries and spread benefits to the people of Zambia...

From time to time, a small unit of Ministers for Transport met in Lusaka to discuss the progress of the project...

The Minister of the Chinese Government, Mr. Sun Han-shan, visited Zambia during his visit to East Africa...

President Kaunda insisted that Zambia is not a Territorial Government. He reported his meeting with the Chinese Minister...

Some interest has been aroused by the difference between the terms of the Chinese offer to Tanzania and Zambia...

China has recently promised to supply the U.A.R. with 150,000 tons of wheat and 10,000,000 tons of hard currency...

It is clear that the Chinese offer to Tanzania and Zambia is not very good at making promises come true and, judging by the wild attack on Ministers leading to the well merited expulsion of the Charge d'Affaires from Nairobi...

HOW KENYA IS BAKING UP

All ships require bunkers and water. Bunkers for drinking and washing...

It is hoped, that the Government will be able to do something about this situation...

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

My literary reading of the newspapers has presented me with some interesting material...

Perhaps the attitude of the Government towards the situation of the people of East Africa is not what it should be...

Some of our representatives in the United Nations have been very vocal in their criticism of the Government...

It is also clear that the Government is not doing enough to improve the living conditions of the people...

The Government should take more steps to ensure that the needs of the people are met...

It is hoped that the Government will be able to do something about this situation...

Trooper hunts big game for posterity

FOR Americans, the term trooper suggests a mounted soldier on horseback. In this case, however, it refers to a man who has spent 11 years and more of his life hunting big game in the wilds of Africa. Mr. Hunt has now gathered up a lifetime's worth of trophies and is preparing to leave Africa to return to his home in the United States.

Report by Alan Chin

Mr. Hunt has spent 11 years in Africa, and he has gathered up a lifetime's worth of trophies. He has now gathered up a lifetime's worth of trophies and is preparing to leave Africa to return to his home in the United States.

Mr. Hunt holds pet cheetah over his shoulder. He has hunted in Africa for 11 years and has gathered up a lifetime's worth of trophies.

600-POUND BABY TOO BIG FOR A PET

It is not unusual for a pet to be a bit of a handful, but in the case of a pet cheetah, it can be a bit of a handful. A pet cheetah named 'Baby' is so large that it is too big to be kept as a pet.

The cheetah is too large to be kept as a pet. It is now being kept in a zoo.

USE WELL THE DAYS—OR THEY?

HEAVEN! spent the summer part of that weekend looking the kind of a vacation over part of the East African Wildlife Club. Really, I found myself thinking about the vast changes which the automobile has undergone during the last 20 years.

The year 1940 marks the beginning of the modern part of the automobile's history. At that time, the automobile was still a novelty and was regarded with a mixture of curiosity and suspicion. It was a noisy, slow-moving machine that was often unreliable and prone to break down.

HOW TO BE A WILDLIFE PICTURE

JOHN KERMALL, the noted wildlife photographer and author of Wildlife Photography, tells you what you need to know to get the most out of your camera when you are out in the field.

WITH its abundance of wildlife and the comparative ease of access to the best shooting spots, East Africa offers a unique opportunity for both amateur and professional photographers to do the latter.

It is not necessarily due to the equipment or the facilities on his camera and various gadgets than the professional. But the professional photographer chooses the right type of equipment for his requirements and pays special attention to how he uses it.

The camera under which wildlife is photographed is a problem. Double or National type cameras are the best to use in the field. They are light and compact and the viewfinder is built into the camera body. The lens is built into the camera body and the viewfinder is built into the camera body.

One important point to remember is that you should use a camera that is built for the purpose for which you are using it. A camera that is built for the purpose of taking pictures of people is not the best camera for taking pictures of wildlife.

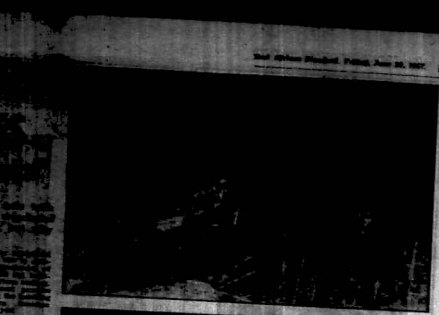

Chosen suggestions: The camera that you choose should be a camera that is built for the purpose for which you are using it. A camera that is built for the purpose of taking pictures of people is not the best camera for taking pictures of wildlife.

Good shooting... but which is not the best for the purpose for which you are using it. A camera that is built for the purpose of taking pictures of people is not the best camera for taking pictures of wildlife.

On the other hand, if you are using a camera that is built for the purpose of taking pictures of people, you should use a camera that is built for the purpose of taking pictures of people.

It all started with a Box Brownie...

MY ROBINSON, the well-known Nairobi photographer who has covered many of Africa's biggest news events for international television, is a light-hearted look at a cameraman's life.

WARNING... many people who read these pages today will be thinking about buying a camera or some other piece of photographic equipment. But before you part with your hard-earned money, see careful because it becomes a fever that you never get yourself of, once you have bought a camera.

There is always something that you will require of a camera. It is not the camera that you already have, but the camera that you want to have. It is not the camera that you have, but the camera that you want to have.

It was the old-fashioned Box Brownie that I bought. It was the old-fashioned Box Brownie that I bought. It was the old-fashioned Box Brownie that I bought.

I found that purchasing the right type of camera was not an easy matter. It was not an easy matter. It was not an easy matter. It was not an easy matter.

THE SPEED OF PROCESSING OF COLOUR FILM

COLOUR film processing has been going for five years in East Africa, and there are now two international firms with factories operating in East Africa—Kodak and Agfa-Gavart.

Kodak's modern factory in the Industrial Area of Nairobi has been open for two years, and does all the Kodachrome (transmission) processing in East Africa. The factory employs a total of 15 people as an extension of the processing side, and although it has had a temporary marginal loss in the price of film, its expansion which the firm is certain will reduce the local market price.

Kodak are reducing the price of Kodachrome prints which will move them into the low-cost market.

They are getting new machines at the factory and an automatic process to make sure that the density of the print of the film is just what the owner of the film wants through its various stages.

Each of the film units are unpacked in complete darkness and passed electrically automatic through the various stages, which are checked entirely automatic, and there are constant checks to make sure that the best possible quality is obtained from each facility.

A wetmator will load each facility print with the instruction "blue net" or "more blue". In addition, the present company in America sends colour films without warning for processing in Nairobi to make sure that international standards are kept up.

Finally the prints are placed and are ready for the customer. Because of the comparatively small amount of film going in, the transparencies are still made manually. The transparencies are not produced in Nairobi because the process is too involved.

Agfa's £48,000 has been invested in machinery for the Nairobi factory.

Big investment

AGFA-GAVART established their Nairobi factory five years ago. There, they are processing the film.

Story of the development of the microfilm

A vast amount of the work done in the past few years has been completed on microfilm. The work has been done by the National Archives and Records Administration in the United States. The work is based on the idea of a single sheet of film which can be used to store a large amount of information. Stashed within a stainless steel capsule (shown) are the records of the life and work of Sir Winston Churchill. The records are stored on microfilm.

New ideas on view at Olympia

AMONG the many new ideas on view at the recent International Photo-Che Fair at Olympia, in London, were a revolutionary new printing machine to replace the traditional and an amateur photographic kit costing £50.

The printer is the invention of the late Sir Gordon Stanger, a professional photographer who spent a year of his life measuring up to his requirements for a machine which would be used by his own machine. Called the 'Photo-Che', it is a printing machine which is easy to use and has proved so successful that it is now being exported to 17 countries.

Another interesting exhibit was the first demonstration in Britain of 'Zograph', a professional 35mm camera which can be replaced in 10 seconds without needing the 35mm effect.

The Royal Air Force showed their latest 16mm high-light film camera alongside the P95 level model which was taken down to 2,000 ft. The world's best photographs were on show including British war photos of the 1940s.

SOFT FOCUS TO BRING ARTISTIC EFFECTS

ONCE an amateur photographer learns how to make consistently good pictures, he can broaden his skill by trying some special effects which will lift his work out of the realm of the ordinary.

The technique known as 'soft focus' is such an effect. Here, conventional pictures take on an ethereal quality which enhances more photo-subjects.

Take on many techniques available to the photographer who strives for artistry in his work, soft focus may be used with discretion, and it must be exercised with care. Its potentiality and its limitations can be known.

A soft focus picture is not one which is out-of-focus in the usual sense of the word. Rather the term refers to a photographic technique which requires attachments, either the camera or darkroom enlarger, aim to produce a 'soft' effect. This softening effect helps convey a mood, usually soft focus is helpful and effective in landscape and still life settings when the photographer wishes to keep his viewer's eye from the clutter of unimportant and distracting details.

Wispny background

When using soft focus, a lot of the background spread light from the brighter parts of the picture filter into the darker areas. This light which creates the 'wispny' background, while the subject is especially effective when coupled with a softening which tends to produce hair-like halos on the subject.

Soft focus may be used to advantage to make the effect of surface texture or to create a sense of depth in the subject. Portrait negatives which have been developed in the camera seldom need further softening.

Depending upon the type of camera you use and on the distance you are working at, the 'soft' effect may be achieved either in the camera when the subject is in focus or after during the printing process in the enlarger.

LONELY DAYS OVER FOR HEDGEHOG

By CYNTHIA HUNTER

ONE evening Nania heard a snuffling sound by a locker near the house. She had been playing with some friends in the garden and her mother had told her to come and finish her homework.

"Just a moment, Mother," she called. "Come and listen! I can hear a funny sound."

Her mother came to the door and they both stood still for a few minutes. The snuffling sound continued.

"I think it's a hedgehog," said Mother. "So if you can find it, you can have it."

By now it was nearly dark and Nania went down and began feeling gently under the hedge.

"Oh, yes, it's the preem-ment!" she called. "You'll find it in the garden."

Then you can look it up."

Nania stood still, looking at the little animal. It was so tiny and so very lonely. She was sure it was a hedgehog. She was sure it was a hedgehog. She was sure it was a hedgehog.

"Leave it to me," said her mother. "I'll take care of it. I'll take care of it. I'll take care of it."

There was a little pile of grass by the shed that Nania's father had put there for the hedgehog. She was sure it was a hedgehog. She was sure it was a hedgehog. She was sure it was a hedgehog.

"What do hedgehogs eat?" asked Nania.

"They eat almost anything," replied Mother. "Fruit and small pieces of meat, insects, vegetables and fruit. They eat almost anything."

They were into the kitchen and Nania was sure it was a hedgehog. She was sure it was a hedgehog. She was sure it was a hedgehog.

"If you want to keep it, you'll have to take care of it. You'll have to take care of it. You'll have to take care of it."

Good night, Harry," said Nania. "Wait for me. I'll be home soon. I'll be home soon. I'll be home soon."

On the morning, she got up early to give Harry his breakfast. She was sure it was a hedgehog. She was sure it was a hedgehog. She was sure it was a hedgehog.

"What a surprise! He had been in the garden and he had been in the garden and he had been in the garden."

"Nania's mother and father were very surprised. They were very surprised. They were very surprised."

"Nania's mother and father were very surprised. They were very surprised. They were very surprised."

THE new Uganda Council proposals have been welcomed by the Bishops of Uganda, who in a statement describe them as necessary to stabilize the country and promote a greater standard of living.

The statement is issued by the Joint Christian Council on behalf of all the Anglican and Roman Catholic Bishops in Uganda.

Kenya's support of the bill in L.A.

By GUY SWEENEY

Mr. Kenney, who visited Kenya in 1965, has decided to run in Los Angeles, California, on July 2 and 3. He had previously been asked if he would change his mind about running in the United States. Kenney had recently turned down an invitation to tour Finland, Norway and the United States with four other Kenya athletes.

AROUND THE COUNTRIES

Mr. Kenney, who visited Kenya in 1965, has decided to run in Los Angeles, California, on July 2 and 3. He had previously been asked if he would change his mind about running in the United States. Kenney had recently turned down an invitation to tour Finland, Norway and the United States with four other Kenya athletes.

Mr. Kenney was asked by the executive committee of the K.A.A.A. in Nairobi to visit Kenya at the police college, where he is a sub-lecturer, with the Press. The interview took place in the office of the commandant of the college, Mr. DeLoach and Kenney was asked if he would change his mind about running in the United States. Kenney had recently turned down an invitation to tour Finland, Norway and the United States with four other Kenya athletes.

The four athletes and their manager, Mr. Charles Makara, are Richard Jones, Wilson Kibigat, Ben Kose and John Kariuki who are currently training in the World Games in Helsinki, Finland. Kenney said he was not at it to compete in the race, but last Saturday ran a mile in about 5:30 at Nyayo's Running Grounds.

PLEAS FROM AMERICA

On Wednesday the K.A.A.A. received three telegrams, two from Los Angeles and one from Honolulu, which were very impressive that Kenney should run in the Commonwealth L.A.A. match. Secretary General had asked whether he would be prepared to fly to America to run. At first he hesitated, but then he decided to run. He had been training for about two months. I was very glad to hear that he had decided to run. I have been in training for just two and a half weeks. Personally I do not know much about such things, but I know that Kenney and Jim Ryan.

I am not sure about running and to become on my terms. I found everything going right for me on Saturday but I was not at all sure. The second I was asked to go to an assembly in Los Angeles. I was asked to go to a game to go to a game in one of the schools in Los Angeles. I was asked to go to a game in one of the schools in Los Angeles. ## DON'T LET IT KEEP YOU AWAKE, TWO RENNIES WILL SEND IT AWAY

Does heartburn sometimes hit you just when you've settled down for the night? Just always keep Rennie on your bedside table. It's your first moment you start to feel a twinge of pain. Quickly, but gently the acute discomfort will be nothing but a memory.

PAIN-CAUSING ACID NEUTRALIZED

When you are heartburn, the usual cause is too much acid in your stomach. To get relief, too much acid must be neutralized. From that causing acid is neutralized, and you get that wonderful sensation that tells you your pain is beginning to go. And because the actual remedy is gently-drip by drip—they give you a long-acting relief.

GET RELIEF WITH RENNIES—ANY TIME, ANYWHERE

Rennies are individually wrapped so you can carry a few in your pocket or purse. Whenever you are when indigestion starts, you can get quick relief simply by sucking one or two Rennie tablets.
