ECONOMIC PLANNING

A GOVERNMENT report on the development situation in Kenya shows that progress will almost certainly be made in the next few years, but it is not certain that the country will be able to meet its growing needs for food, clothing, housing, and other necessities. The report, which was prepared by the Kenya Planning Commission, states that the country's economy is still largely dependent on agriculture, and that the government must take steps to diversify its economy and to improve its infrastructure. The report also notes that the government has a long way to go in order to meet the needs of its growing population, and that it must continue to work on its development plans.

Broadening the base by industrialization

Mr. Kihika indicated that the most progressive step that the Government has taken in the past few years is the establishment of a central bank. This move, he said, will help to stabilize the country's currency and to attract foreign investment. He also noted that the government is working to improve its infrastructure, particularly in the areas of roads, ports, and telecommunications. Mr. Kihika stressed that the government's primary goal is to create jobs and to improve the living standards of its people. He said that the government is committed to a policy of economic growth and development, and that it will continue to work on its development plans in the years ahead.

Arms hold-up

The South African Police threatened to hold up a shipment of arms to the Government of Kenya. The police said that they had discovered that the shipment contained arms that were being smuggled into the country. The government of Kenya has denied the charges and has said that the shipment is for the use of the Kenyan police force. The matter is still being investigated by the South African police.

Kenya's Refugees

Tanganyika to settle 8,000 refugees

THE Government of Tanganyika has concluded an agreement to settle 8,000 refugees from Rwanda and Western Tanganyika. It was announced in London yesterday.

The agreement was concluded with the League of Red Cross Societies and the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees in Geneva, and it provides for a pilot operation. The Tanganyika Secretary for the Vice-President's Office in Dar es Salaam, Mr. N. N. Njama, announced the agreement.

Mr. Njama said that the plan was to settle 8,000 refugees in the Mtwara Area, which is a fertile area and has a good water supply. The refugees will be settled in 100 small plots, each of one acre, and will be given seed and tools to enable them to start their own farms.

Mr. Njama said that the refugees will be given a period of three months to settle in the area. He said that the Government was prepared to provide them with all the facilities they would need to start their own farms.

Kanungu's speech in Assembly

THE Leader of the Opposition, Mr. Ngala, was deluged out of the Chamber during the adjournment debate in the House of Representatives yesterday after noisy scenes with Government Members constantly interrupting Mr. Ngala as he tried to speak on the broad-casting of political rallies.

As he spoke Members from the Government side interrupted with points of order, but the Deputy Speaker, Mr. De Souza, ruled many of them not to be points of order. After constant harassment of Mr. Ngala, Mr. De Souza announced to the House to give him 10 minutes. The boomers, in points of order continued until at last Mr. Ngala said he was not giving way. I am fed up with this," he said, thumping the table with his fist.

The Minister for Justice and Constitutional Affairs, Mr. Mboya, pressed the Deputy Speaker to abide by stand-orders but the Deputy Speaker, who had listened more than the allotted 10 minutes. Mr. Ngala continued to speak, and Mr. De Souza said that he would have to leave the House. Mr. De Souza said after this remark that he had to leave the House. Mr. De Souza said after this remark that he had to leave the House.

Row looms on order

APARTHEID IN SPORT?

SPORT and politics should not mix but, alas, in the international field they often do. Recently Egypt's participation in the world cup football tournament by the apartheid South African Government's sponsored football. This results in the apartheid South African team being excluded from the Olympic Games by a Broughton committee only... even though those representatives of its population in the Broughton committee are white.

There is a general consensus of all those who believe that the apartheid South African team should be excluded from the Olympic Games. It is particularly true of the West African and of those who are particularly concerned with the welfare of the African continent. It is particularly true of those who are particularly concerned with the welfare of the African continent. It is particularly true of those who are particularly concerned with the welfare of the African continent.

Boys tell why they're keen to climb mountain

It is not the prospect of a big climb that has attracted the boys to the mountain, but the fact that it is a mountain that has been climbed by a boy of their own age.

The 12-year-old boy, who is now in the fifth grade at the school, has been climbing the mountain for several months. He has been climbing it every day, and he has been climbing it for several months.

Firestone CABLE TREAD 455 (High) does give a steady 10% extra mileage—every 11th mile is free

The photograph demonstrates the extra mileage you can get from the Cable Mileage Credit 455 Firestone tyre. Both tyres are tested on the same car, at the same rate, alternating in the same wheel position on the same miles travelled. You see that the 455 Cable Tread tyre on the right has tested 10% extra mileage as compared with the almost worn tyre on the left. Cable credit counted towards as this tyre continued to show a steady 10% improvement, so we give you a credit of 10% extra mileage from every 11th mile on Cable Tread 455.

RUBBER is used in every Firestone tyre. The rubber is made from the best natural rubber, and it is made in a way that makes it last longer. The rubber is made from the best natural rubber, and it is made in a way that makes it last longer.

Mau Mau—the other side of the picture

By ERIC MARSDEN
with JOSTAR MWANGI KARIBU, Ombia, K.A.

THE Mau Mau rebellion in Kenya has been a total revelation to the British public. It has shown the political relations of a colonial people to their ruler. Mau Mau is undoubtedly part of Kenya's history.

It was not always clear that the Mau Mau rebellion was a total revelation to the British public. It has shown the political relations of a colonial people to their ruler. Mau Mau is undoubtedly part of Kenya's history.

There is a danger that the Mau Mau rebellion will be seen as a mere episode in the history of Kenya. It is not so. It is a part of the history of the Mau Mau people.

One body to speak for 250,000 men

Kenya's agricultural unions, representing a potential membership of between 250,000 and 400,000 workers employed in small and general agricultural industries, have decided to form a new body, the Kenya Planters and Agricultural Workers' Union which was announced yesterday.

The new union is being formed by the amalgamation of the Kenya Planters and Agricultural Workers' Union and the Tea Plantation Workers' Union yesterday called on the Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Labour and Social Services, Mr. O. Jowi, to tell him of the decision.

F.K.E. not opposed

He felt that a strong workers' federation would be useful if the amalgamation succeeded. His former views on the subject were expressed in a speech at the annual conference of the various facets of the agricultural industry.

70 nations endorse test treaty

Many nations of the world yesterday set their names in Moscow, Washington and London to the Nuclear Test Ban Treaty, which India's Deputy to Russia, Mr. Prakash Singh, described as a human charter of peaceful happiness.

Better relations

His Ministry yesterday made a statement which would lead to a better understanding between the Government and the industrial community.

Government pledge on game hailed

By the Editor and Correspondent

They, holding that that the Government has taken a long and noble step in its pledge to the people of the country to take the game out of the hands of the few and put it in the hands of the many, have hailed the Government's decision to take the game out of the hands of the few and put it in the hands of the many.

The game has been a source of contention for many years, and the Government's decision to take it out of the hands of the few and put it in the hands of the many is a long and noble step.

 The Finance Department of the Government has issued a notice regarding the services of financial advisers. The notice states that the Government is seeking to recruit more financial advisers to assist in the management of public funds. The advisers will be responsible for providing financial advice to the Government and for managing public funds on its behalf. The notice also states that the Government is offering a competitive salary and benefits package to successful candidates.

Jailed man admits more offences
 A man with 2 previous convictions yesterday pleaded 'guilty' before the District Sessions Bench, Magistrate, Mr. J. F. McClellan, to one charge of theft and five charges of obtaining property by false pretences. The man, John Howard Ross, is of 17 years of age, a three-year-old son, a wife and a child. He was arrested on 11/10/52 at his home in the City of London. He had been charged with the theft of a motor car and five charges of obtaining property by false pretences. He was sentenced to 12 months imprisonment with hard labour.

COURT WARNS 'BOOTLEGGERS'
 ILLEGAL possession of liquor appeared to be the main reason for the arrest of a man who was fined for bootlegging. The man, Mr. G. A. Burke-Collis, was fined £100 for possession of liquor in a district court. The court warned 'bootleggers' that the law is strict and that they should stop their illegal activities. The court also stated that bootlegging is a serious offence and that those who are caught will be severely punished.

IMPRESARIO SEEKS KENYA PERMISSION
 Mr. Alfred Herbert, the South African impresario, is seeking permission from the Kenya Government to bring a touring party to Kenya. The party consists of a group of performers who will be touring the country for several months. Mr. Herbert has applied to the Kenya Government for permission to bring the party to Kenya and to perform in various parts of the country. The Kenya Government has agreed to consider his application.

Women must help the new Kenya
 THE President of the British Women's Homecraft Training Centre, Mrs. D. T. Maitland, has urged women to help in the development of the new Kenya. She stated that women have a vital role to play in the economic and social development of the country. She encouraged women to take part in homecraft training and to start small businesses. She also stated that women should be active in community work and in promoting social progress.

Up-country
 A group of up-country workers in Kenya are planning to form a union. The workers are employed in various parts of the country and are seeking to improve their working conditions and wages. They have elected a committee to represent them and to negotiate with their employers. The union is expected to be formed in the near future.

Objective book on Mau Mau
 A new book, 'The Mau Mau Uprising', has been published. The book provides an objective and detailed account of the Mau Mau uprising in Kenya. It covers the background of the uprising, the events that led to it, and the impact it had on Kenya. The book is written by a team of experts and is considered to be one of the most authoritative works on the subject.

CROWD PROTESTS AT MEMBER'S SWITCH
 A CROWD of 1000 protesters gathered in front of the Regional Government offices in Nairobi to protest against the resignation of a member of the Regional Council. The protesters were angry that the member had resigned without consulting them. They demanded that the member be reinstated to the council. The Regional Government has agreed to consider the protesters' demands.

£10,000 raised for training centre
 A total of £10,000 has been raised for a new training centre in Kenya. The money was raised through a series of public appeals and donations. The training centre will provide vocational training for young people in Kenya. It is expected to be completed in the next few months.

site poses host of problems

Nairobi firm

By GRAHAM MULLEY

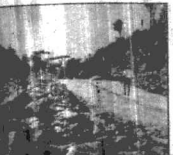

and Victoria, the capital of Malawi, a month ago. It is the only building in Malawi which has been built for the heavy equipment which the firm has had to bring from Kenya and Africa. The machines were first shipped by lorry to the quarry, some of the equipment being dismantled, and then loaded for the small five-ton capacity crane.

To combat this problem the firm undertook pillar at the site and brought two 45-ton cranes with 30-ton capacity from Britain. Now their heavy trucks and supplies can be used direct.

ON MOUNTAIN

The major site is on the top of a hill, the mountain about 100 feet from Victoria. The firm has had to erect the site on a steeply sloping hillside. The site is now being used for the storage of materials and for the construction of the dam.

Thoughtfully, the road from Victoria has an average gradient of one in eight. It is 100 feet long. The road is now being used for the transport of materials and for the construction of the dam.
