FREEDOM HAILED AS KENYA FLAG FLIES IN INDIA

THE FIRST Teller flag to fly from ever hoisted and was hoisted by a South African and a Canadian. The hoisting took place at the Independence House in New Delhi. A new national song, "Mungu Nguvu ya Kwanza" (God is our strength) was sung by the Indian National Congress and the Kenya National Congress.

Unveiling of stones ends celebrations

The first stone in the Independence House in New Delhi was unveiled by the Indian Prime Minister, Jawahar Lal Nehru, and the Kenyan Prime Minister, J.M. Oginga Odinga. The ceremony was held on the day of Kenya's independence. The stone is made of granite and is a symbol of the new nation's unity and strength. The unveiling ceremony was attended by many dignitaries and was a significant event in the history of Kenya's independence.

IN POSTAGES

Restaurant proprietors generally attribute the sharp increase in the cost of foreign postage to the authority granted to the Government in Africa and elsewhere in the world.

The increase in postage rates is not a new phenomenon. It has been observed in other parts of the world and is a result of the high cost of fuel and other materials used in the production of postage stamps.

The Government in Africa and elsewhere in the world has been granted authority to increase postage rates to meet the rising cost of production.

CHRISTMAS WELCOME

Christmas Eve in London was a busy one for the thousands of people who were out on the streets. The city was filled with the sounds of bells and the sight of people in festive attire. The streets were crowded with people who were out to enjoy the holiday season. The atmosphere was festive and joyful.

Street carols to help the needy

Thousands of old and young people were singing carols in the streets of London on Christmas Eve. The carols were sung to help the needy and to raise money for the Christmas fund. The streets were filled with the sound of voices and the sight of people who were out to help their fellow citizens.

World-famous entertainers will be singing in the streets of Britain on Sunday to help the needy in East Africa. Stars of stage, screen and television will join in carol singing for the Oxford Committee for Foreign Relief in London, Birmingham, Manchester, Sheffield, Leeds, Bristol, Cardiff and Plymouth.

Escape fare by Nakuru Players

Shirley and Mervyn, a young couple who have just returned from a holiday in Nakuru, Kenya, are planning to escape the winter weather by going to Nakuru. They are planning to go to Nakuru for a few weeks and to enjoy the beautiful scenery and the warm weather.

Christmas time around the world

With the Bethlehem message of joy and peace on Christmas Eve, and women across the world will once again cast an ancient aside and rejoice at the birth of one who nearly 2,000 years ago, came to spread peace and good will.

On the world, the Bethlehem message of joy and peace on Christmas Eve, and women across the world will once again cast an ancient aside and rejoice at the birth of one who nearly 2,000 years ago, came to spread peace and good will.

for the masses of good will, however, have been spreading the word.

WOMEN IN THE STATE OF MICHIGAN have been holding special services on Christmas Eve, by candlelight and singing of hymns for the birth of the Christ Child who came to bring peace to the world.

PAGAN CANDLES are kindled in the homes of the North American people, and the children of the North American people are kindled in the homes of the North American people.

By contrast, in countries where the Christmas message is not so widely known, the children of the North American people are kindled in the homes of the North American people.

She does not, by candlelight, as the children of the North American people do, but she does not, by candlelight, as the children of the North American people do.

In some countries, as in Denmark, the children of the North American people are kindled in the homes of the North American people.

When at the divided city of Jerusalem, the children of the North American people are kindled in the homes of the North American people.

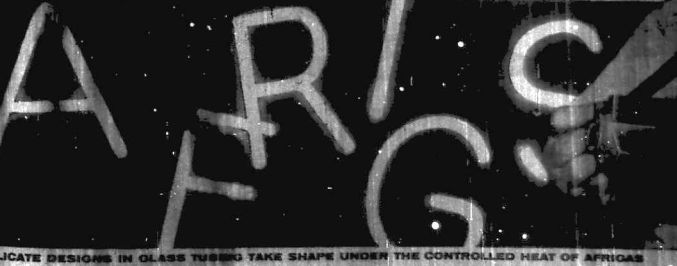

Much of the excitement of Christmas stems from the pre-holiday task of decorating the home. This small girl is preparing to hang a lighted Star of Bethlehem.

Dinner in England in 1845. The Norfolk coach came into London. With a view of the ground and the coach lined with people and tables for Christmas dinners, the scene has a cheerfully seasonal appearance.

HEAT Where heat is needed - Shell Afrigas

Industry needs heat. Shell Afrigas provides it, in hundreds of industries. Take Glass Blowing—the expert needs heat of varying temperatures and intensity to bend and mould glass tubing into the intricate shapes that spell out words and designs in neon signs. Afrigas supplies that heat and by the regulation of gas and air flow, just the right temperature, so gained to soften the glass without melting or cracking it.

AFRIGAS IS VERSATILE
Heat is needed in industry as well as in the home. Shell Afrigas, in thousands of homes, businesses and industries, is a gas that is used to heat water, to heat homes, to heat hospitals, dentists, car repair shops, swimming pools, schools, wherever heat is needed, there's a job for Afrigas. In industry alone, there are hundreds of uses for Shell Afrigas.

AFRIGAS OFFERS INDUSTRY
Free estimates for installation and operating cost. Free advice by experienced engineers on any industrial heating problem. And a thorough, rapid-acting after-sales service. Shell Afrigas offers industry a further unique advantage— you can now have a gas that is equally available—or several—installed at your expense. Only Afrigas provides this, both quality and quantity.

THE TREE ON THE HILL

By ROBINA WRIGHT

THE tree on the hill is a sight. He always sighed a lot on bright, clear days, when he could see for many miles. Across the river, far, far away, was a pinkish-white patch. The tree on the hill knew that it was a town for the birds had told him about it. He wished he could go there, for he was a kindly old tree up there by himself.

They told him about the birds going to school and the children playing in the park. "How I wish I could go to see them all, and have them playing in my shade on the hill!" he said to the sun.

The rain went by, and the pinkish-white patch which was the town slowly came nearer to the tree on the hill. He could see the shape of the big buildings, and the roads, and the trees, and the people.

What is happening? he thought. The birds are not cutting the grass and digging the earth down there. Will there be houses on my hill, after all?

Children come to the tree, people come to the tree, and the tree is the backbone of the garden, especially when the weather turns cold.

"There are a lot of rats in the town," said the birds, warning that there was plenty of grumpy, old men, "bigger people but they'll break out in us in their '50s' garden."

A road was made at the bottom of the hill, and the tree looked down and saw the cars and buses, and he saw other trees of down and taken care of, and he was happy.

"Oh no," they told the tree. "When the morning sun is out, this much a few trees on the top of it, they and they would go to the top of the hill, and they would make it a mark where people could walk, or sit in the shade."

"They are going to plant small trees, and beds of flowers, and put seats for the people to sit on."

Shows how the old is a photograph of a small page shown in the newspaper of 15 or 20 years ago, and this month by the trees and the people of the hill.

The man was making the tree down to the top of the hill one day, and reached the shade of the tree. The tree looked down and saw the cars and buses, and he was happy.

New moves for more states in Nigeria

By Richard O'Connell
Lagos, Nigeria

NEW moves have been made to create more states in Nigeria. The Federal Government has announced that it will have to consider the proposal to divide the present 12 states into 16.

The proposal, which is being considered by the Federal Executive Council, is to create four new states in the north and west of the country. These are to be the states of Zambezi, Niger, Sokoto and Kano.

The states of Zambezi and Niger are to be created from the northern part of the present state of Northern Nigeria. The states of Sokoto and Kano are to be created from the northern part of the present state of Western Nigeria.

The proposal is being considered in the light of the fact that the present 12 states are too large to be administered effectively. It is also being considered in the light of the fact that the present 12 states do not have a balanced distribution of population.

WAO FATIPI

The Nigerian People's Party (NPP) has announced that it will support the proposal to create more states in Nigeria. The party's spokesman, Mr. Fatihi, said that the party is in favour of the proposal because it will help to bring about a more balanced distribution of population in the country.

Mr. Fatihi also said that the party is in favour of the proposal because it will help to bring about a more balanced distribution of population in the country. He said that the party is in favour of the proposal because it will help to bring about a more balanced distribution of population in the country.

SENIOR PARTNER

The Northern Peoples Congress (NPC) has announced that it will support the proposal to create more states in Nigeria. The party's spokesman, Mr. Fatihi, said that the party is in favour of the proposal because it will help to bring about a more balanced distribution of population in the country.

Mr. Fatihi also said that the party is in favour of the proposal because it will help to bring about a more balanced distribution of population in the country. He said that the party is in favour of the proposal because it will help to bring about a more balanced distribution of population in the country.

The Nigerian Government's decision to encourage village industries has met with marked success. Handicrafts industries are becoming popular, and many small-scale industries have been set up in many villages. This is a welcome sign, as it will help to bring about a more balanced distribution of population in the country.

GABONESE GIRL'S UHURU

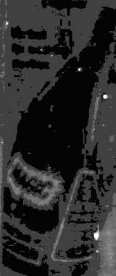

COLETTE Mohi, a 14-year-old Gabonese girl who was sold by her parents when she was five, has been helped to freedom with funds raised by a Spanish radio programme. It was reported in Madrid.

The Gabonese newspaper 'Le Soleil' reported that Colette, in a letter to President Léon M'ba of Gabon, claimed she had spent most of the past 10 years in slavery in Spain.

Colette left the house of her master when she was 10 years old and spent the next four years in a brothel in Madrid. She then spent the next six years in a circus in Spain. She was finally rescued by a Spanish radio programme which raised funds for her freedom.

employers WORRIED?

Have you got (1) a plan on your mind? Problems which involve the introduction of a Provident Fund scheme to attract and keep talented personnel? Many employers have already found their solution by arranging for the Post Office Savings Bank to administer such a scheme and on income tax they it is simple to operate and involves no expense, no legal fees or other administrative costs to burden the employer. (2) Is an employer worried because the Post Office Savings Bank will not write to the Controller, P.O. Box 90313, Nairobi, and find out more about the advantages of a Provident Fund Scheme for your staff?

GENERAL DIRECTORY OF EAST AFRICA

By JOHN WARDEN

General—The general directory of East Africa is a comprehensive guide to the continent's resources, industries, and administrative structure. It covers the major economic sectors, including agriculture, mining, and commerce, and provides detailed information on government departments, educational institutions, and professional associations across the various East African states.

Education—This section details the educational landscape of East Africa, listing primary, secondary, and tertiary institutions. It includes information on curriculum standards, enrollment figures, and the role of education in national development.

Health—The health section addresses the medical services available in East Africa, including hospitals, clinics, and public health initiatives. It discusses the prevalence of various diseases and the efforts being made to improve healthcare infrastructure and access.

Business—This section provides a detailed overview of the business environment in East Africa, including major trading companies, industrial enterprises, and financial institutions. It highlights key economic hubs and investment opportunities.

Transportation—The transportation section details the infrastructure of East Africa, including roads, railways, and air services. It provides information on major transport routes, schedules, and the challenges of maintaining and improving the continent's transport network.

Government—This section lists the administrative structures of the various East African states, including ministries, departments, and local government bodies. It provides contact information for key officials and government offices.

Religion—The religion section details the diverse religious landscape of East Africa, including major religious groups, places of worship, and religious organizations. It discusses the role of religion in society and the challenges of religious tolerance.

Culture—This section explores the rich cultural heritage of East Africa, including traditional arts, music, and customs. It discusses the impact of colonialism and globalization on African culture and the efforts to preserve and promote traditional values.

Environment—The environment section addresses the natural resources and environmental challenges of East Africa. It discusses the impact of climate change, deforestation, and the need for sustainable development practices.

History—This section provides a brief overview of the historical context of East Africa, including the role of the continent in the slave trade, colonialism, and the struggle for independence.

Geography—The geography section details the physical features of East Africa, including major rivers, lakes, and mountain ranges. It discusses the impact of geography on the continent's climate, agriculture, and settlement patterns.

Demographics—This section provides information on the population of East Africa, including population growth, migration, and the distribution of the population across the continent.

Language—The language section discusses the diverse linguistic landscape of East Africa, including major languages and the role of language in national identity and communication.

Index—The index provides a comprehensive list of all entries in the directory, organized by category and region, to facilitate easy navigation and information retrieval.

DEVELOPMENT

THE PROSPECTS OF AFRICA

The prospects of Africa are being re-evaluated in the light of the continent's recent economic and political developments. While the continent has long been seen as a vast reservoir of raw materials, it is now being recognized as a continent with a growing and diverse economy. The rapid growth of the service sector, particularly in the telecommunications and financial services industries, is a testament to the continent's potential for economic transformation.

NOTES—This section provides a series of short, analytical pieces on various aspects of African development. It covers topics such as the impact of globalization, the role of the private sector, and the challenges of infrastructure development. These notes offer a critical perspective on the current state of African economies and the path forward.

General trends—This section discusses the broader economic and social trends shaping Africa's future. It examines the impact of technological innovation, the changing demographics of the continent, and the role of international organizations in supporting African development. The analysis suggests that while challenges remain, the continent's potential for sustained economic growth is significant.

NEW FICTION

THE PROLIFIC GARDNER

By Andrew Ross
