INDEPENDENCE BILL PASSED Citizens law criticised in House

'Whites seek genuine partnership'

The House of Commons gave an unopposed Third Reading and passed the Kenya Independence Bill after an M.P. told the House that European aims in Kenya sought 'a genuine partnership'.

During the committee stage of the Bill, which was taken clause by clause, Dr Alan Glyn, a Conservative, asked about the British Government's responsibility for compensation to Kenyan settlers. He said he understood there was nothing in the Bill to make any form of compensation legal.

Therefore the Government was to go unaided, now or in the future, to pay any specific sum or compensation to settlers in Kenya of any category, though it was suggested during the Bill's Second Reading that certain settlers would have to be compensated.

The Member of Parliament, Mr. Glyn, speaking in the House of Commons on the independence bill.

THE BREWING of City Lager or Pilsener Ale is a delicate and lengthy process. Carefully selected malted barley is crushed and mixed with water in the mashing cistern. There it is subjected to a range of temperatures, calculating the work of different enzymes and forming a variety of sugars from the malt. The mash is then pumped in the next tank where the liquid wort is drained from the spent grains.
The wort is now boiled with the chosen hops,
and after clarification and cooling, ten years culture are added. The wort then ferments for about ten days in the fermentation cistern. The result is beer—but not the beer as you know it.
It has still to be matured in storage tanks for about two weeks before it can be filtered into the bright beer tanks from which it is bottled.
Once in a bottle and pasteurized, it is the 'City' which delights your eye and palate with its aroma, refreshing taste and sparkling brightness.

You, a fastidious person—but without superstitious and pedantic attention to detail, and the skill of our famous Chapman brewers, it still wouldn't be the perfect beer that is 'City'.

Letters to the Editor

The editor of this newspaper has received several letters from readers regarding current events and local news. Some of the letters express concerns about the state of the economy and the need for government intervention.

From the Editorials

In our editorial, we discuss the impact of the recent political developments on the country. We believe that the current government's policies are not in the best interests of the people, and we urge for a change in leadership.

Citizenship

As citizens, we have a responsibility to stay informed about the issues that affect our lives. We encourage readers to participate in the democratic process and to hold their elected representatives accountable.

Parental apathy

There is a growing concern about parental apathy towards their children's education. Many parents are not actively involved in their children's school life, which can lead to poor academic performance.

What is wrong with the education system? This is a complex question with many factors contributing to the problem. Issues such as lack of resources, outdated curriculum, and teacher shortages are all factors that need to be addressed.

What is wrong with the economy? The current economic situation is challenging, with high inflation and unemployment. We need to implement effective economic policies to stabilize the country and create jobs for its citizens.

BE KEYA-WIDE New era in relations with Russia

Accusation of favouritism denied

Kenya's Minister for Commerce and Industry, Dr. Kiyo, emphasised in a statement yesterday that the policy of his Ministry is to encourage establishment of industry in all parts of Kenya. He denied allegations in the Senate recently that the Ministry tended to favour his own constituency (Fort Hall) and generally to neglect other Regions.

After lengthy detailing progress on projects for trade expansion, the Minister warned that jealousy and rivalry between the Regions, rumours directed against Ministers without office and the fact were unparliamentary. He expected in Kenya next year visitors from all parts of the world to visit all Regions, but to Nairobi and Mombasa because they had usually had the most favourable conditions. The Minister also disclosed that changes in the Trade and Industry Commission were being considered but had only been partially effected. He said the new fund concept had been seriously affected by defaulters on repayments.

$56,000 still owing

He gave figures showing that more than $56,000 was owing under the scheme, which he devised to help small traders to establish or expand their business. Mr. Kiyo said he had received 1,200 applications, and had one of the highest default rates, at around 50 per cent.

The numbers of defaulters, with the amount owing, are: Nairobi, 128 (126,167); Western, 143 (129,700); East Valley, 120 (120,000); Central, 101 (90,492); Nairobi Area, 54 (51,100).

The Minister said "while it is not my policy to help many as many as possible, it is my policy to help those who are serious about their business and who are willing to accept the conditions of the scheme. I am not a philanthropist and I do not intend to help those who are not serious about their business and who are unwilling to accept the conditions of the scheme. I am not a philanthropist and I do not intend to help those who are not serious about their business and who are unwilling to accept the conditions of the scheme."

THE UGANDA GOVERNMENT ganda hopes to sell cut-price coffee

The Uganda Government is hoping to sell a three-week tally that combined a honey-mooney and State coffee for a cut-price of the country's surplus coffee at cut prices in the European and American markets.

The Uganda Government is now restricting the output of coffee to about 100,000 tons, but it is expected that the output will be increased to 150,000 tons in 1953.

33 YEARS' SERVICE

Mr. Felix Anthon, 27½, who has retired after 33 years' service in the Kenya Police, left yesterday for the United Kingdom. He was accompanied by his wife and two children.

Mr. Anthon was born in the United Kingdom and joined the Kenya Police in 1919. He served in various capacities, including that of a sergeant, and was promoted to the rank of sergeant major in 1948.

Kenya is first experiment

TIGER FIGHT CONTROVERSY

Following controversy between the world middle-weight champion, Dick Tiger, of Nigeria, and his American challenger, Joey Giardino, over the rules which will prevail for the title bout, in Atlantic City, on Saturday, the New Jersey State Athletic Commissioner, Joseph Walker, has issued orders to both fighters, their managers and referees to attend a special meeting at which he would clarify the regulations to be effective for the contest.

Both Tiger and Giardino have been licensed in Atlantic City. The battle of wits between the Nigerian and Italian who split over two previous bouts today began took the course from Cape Palace broke out again on Friday when Tiger said he would insist that the mandatory eight-round bout, at a weight of 147 lbs., be a single round only, naturally terminating the fight, he wanted.

Giardino, in answer, said he would insist that the mandatory eight-round bout, at a weight of 147 lbs., be a single round only, naturally terminating the fight, he wanted.

SOMALIA ATTACKING ATTACKERS

Kenya charge after new raid on post

Attacks on police posts and homes in the N.F.D. were being planned and mounted with the assistance of the Somalia Government, a Government statement said last night. The statement was issued after the police had reported the 13th attack on a police post during the recent wave of Shifra raids.

The Government had "an increasing volume of information" confirming Somalia's complicity and found it "very difficult to believe in the peaceful intentions of the Somalia Government", the statement said.

The Government issued the text of a statement made by a Somali in the Kenya Police after he had returned to Kenya. The statement said:

"I have recently been in a Shifra camp in Somalia near the Somalia border where I and other members of my tribe were given rifles. Sixty rifles, each with 200 rounds of ammunition, and some hand grenades had been sent by trucks to the Shifra on behalf of General Dada, the G.O.C. of the Somalia Army."

'Fire from other side'

"I was told that Somali leaders had returned to Mogadishu from this camp to get more arms. While I was in the camp, it was told that the Shifra had been sent to attack homes and police posts in the N.F.D. and to ambush Government vehicles."

"We were told not to do anything which would suggest that those attacks were coming from Somalia but always to fire from the Kenya side of the border."

The Government criticized "murdering and kidnapping" and "theft of property" and said that the Somali Government had "no right to be in Somalia" and that it had no right to be in Kenya.

E.A.C.S.O. TO OFFER SCHOLARSHIPS

Solution to finding Africans for specialised posts

Standard Staff Reporter

BECAUSE of the difficulty in finding highly qualified Africans for specialised posts in the East African Commission Services Organisation, the Administration plans to provide the same scholarships for school leavers to go to university as soon as it can find the money.

E.A.C.S.O.'s Secretary-General, Mr. A. I. Ash, who disclosed this to the Central Legislative Assembly in Kampala, said that the organisation no longer wanted to have to rely on the three Territorial Governments for scholarships. It had already been School of Education.

Mr. Ash said he hoped Mr. C. O. Atieno, who wanted to leave Kenya for the post of Deputy Director of the Meteorology Department of the Government of Kenya, was going to be offered a scholarship to go to the University of Cambridge.

The Secretary-General said that suitable Africans were not readily available in the area and he would be glad to discuss the matter with any interested party.

A capsule history of a significant watch achievement

- 1949: Eterna-Matic, with its revolutionary ballbearing-mounted self winding system, created a technical sensation.
- 1956: The «Centenaire» series brought still another great success: the first really thin automatic watch.
- Today: The progress attained by pioneers of research and technology has made it possible, for the first time, to produce a startling new design: the Eterna-Matic 3000 «Dato»; a model of precision and endurance, yet by far the thinnest automatic calendar watch with centre second.

COUNTRYWIDE DEVELOPMENT

MOST countries of the world experience the development stages of over-concentration in industrial development, with resultant areas of unemployment. Consequently, Government intervention is essential to ensure the development of the new states. Kenya is no exception in this regard. The Government has initiated a number of measures to ensure that the country is not left behind in the development process. The Minister for Commerce and Industry has stated that the Government is committed to a policy of balanced development. This involves the establishment of a new industrial sector in each province to ensure that the benefits of development are spread throughout the country. The Minister has also mentioned that the Government is planning to establish a number of small-scale industries in the rural areas to provide employment for the unemployed. He has also stated that the Government is committed to a policy of self-reliance and is determined to develop the country's resources to the fullest extent possible. The Minister has also mentioned that the Government is planning to establish a number of technical schools to train the country's youth in various trades and professions. He has also stated that the Government is committed to a policy of social justice and is determined to ensure that the benefits of development are shared by all sections of the community. The Minister has also mentioned that the Government is planning to establish a number of housing schemes to provide accommodation for the growing urban population. He has also stated that the Government is committed to a policy of economic growth and is determined to ensure that the country's economy is self-sufficient and capable of supporting a growing population. The Minister has also mentioned that the Government is planning to establish a number of agricultural schemes to improve the productivity of the country's agriculture and to provide employment for the rural population. He has also stated that the Government is committed to a policy of social justice and is determined to ensure that the benefits of development are shared by all sections of the community.

Punishment for defaming M.P.s

One aspect of Mr. Kiara's statement is most disturbing. He referred to the charges of defaming the Trustees' Law. It is a well-known fact that the Trustees' Law is a fundamental principle of the Kenyan constitution. Any attempt to defame the Trustees' Law is an attempt to undermine the constitution and the rule of law. The Government is committed to the protection of the constitution and the rule of law and is determined to take appropriate action against anyone who attempts to defame the Trustees' Law. The Minister for Justice has stated that the Government is committed to a policy of social justice and is determined to ensure that the benefits of development are shared by all sections of the community. He has also mentioned that the Government is planning to establish a number of technical schools to train the country's youth in various trades and professions. He has also stated that the Government is committed to a policy of social justice and is determined to ensure that the benefits of development are shared by all sections of the community. Exporting wheat farmers to get priority payment

Arrangements have been made by the Government for priority payment of wheat produced by these farmers.

These farmers will not qualify for finance advances but will, instead, receive on or about the 21st of the month following the month of delivery, the full value of the crop less deductions as in past years and less also a charge of 1/4% to cover costs incurred by the Government in providing the early storage facilities.

These farmers intending to leave Kenya are requested to advise the P.A. as soon as possible. Receipts of this information, the K.P.A. will issue instructions for delivery of wheat to be purchased.

These farmers who do not desire to leave Kenya will receive instructions from the Government. These instructions may have to be applied for in the early part of the year.

The K.P.A. retains full rights of disposal in the wheat of those who leave Kenya. Where, from information supplied, it is established that a farmer is a resident of Kenya, the K.P.A. has been instructed to pay to the applicant the full value of the wheat or what is the market value of the wheat at the time of sale.

Withdrawal through work commitments

THE Kenya Association ordered yesterday that the Kenya captain, George Sitama, will withdraw from the Uruu District because of work drawn from the Uruu District because of work commitments. He will always a tower of strength in the half back line when wearing the national colours.

He will be missed as a player. But it is a double blow to the team for the decision himself as he felt it would be unfair to his employers to ask for more leave. He is employed by a chemical firm and is stationed at Mchale in Uganda, and he is at present taking an important training course.

Kenya was written to the F.A. explaining his decision. His services as captain will be missed when the Kenya team is called upon to play in the Uruu District because of work commitments. He will always a tower of strength in the half back line when wearing the national colours.

At the close Pakistan, facing a total of 109 for nine wickets declared, had made 42 for eight wickets, and with only one day remaining for play the match seems certain to end in a draw.

NORWAY has formally proposed that the United Nations Security Council request all States to stop supplying to South Africa equipment and materials for the manufacture and maintenance of arms and ammunition. The draft resolution also proposes for the establishment of a 'Secretary-General's Panel' of experts to study the means of resolving the problem in South Africa and to consider what part the United Nations might play.

U.S.-RUSSIA MEETING IN JANUARY

NEW U.S.-Soviet talks which were postponed last month following the Moscow arrest of U.S. professor, are expected to begin in January, according to authoritative Washington sources.

The talks will deal with a new cultural exchange agreement to replace one which expired at the end of the year.

A U.S. delegation has been sent to open negotiations in Moscow on November 15 but its departure was put off following the arrest of Prof. Fredrickson.

The professor's subsequent return by the Russians cleared the way for the talks to be conducted. Meanwhile, Soviet nuclear scientists left New York for home after a delay over U.S. atomic installations.

E. African talks with Market

THE Common Market Council has agreed on the opening of exploratory talks with Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika on the possibility of their association with the Common Market, the chairman, Dr. Joseph Luns, said in Brussels yesterday.

He said the council would also be presented with a report on talks between the commission and Nigeria, Mauritania, and a Nigerian delegation.

During these talks the Nigerian side were thinking of forming a separate association in terms of the Common Market which would be dissolved if the already existing association convention.

But no formal application for Nigeria for the date of negotiations has not been made.

City Notes

No. 2 THE BREWING OF City Lager or Tavern Ale is a delicate and intriguing process. Carefully selected malted barley is crushed and mixed with water in the mashing vessel. There it is subjected to a range of temperatures, stimulating the work of different enzymes and forming a variety of sugars from the malt. The resultant mash is pumped to the mash tun where the liquid 'wort' is drained from the spent grain.

The wort is now boiled with the choicest hops and, after clarification and cooling, our own yeast cultures are added. The wort then ferments for about ten days in the fermentation cellar. The result is beer—but not the beer as you know it. It is still to be matured in storage tanks for about ten weeks before it can be filtered into the bright beer tanks from which it is bottled. Once in a bottle and pasteurized, it is the 'City' which delights your eye and palate with its aroma, refreshing tan and sparkling brilliancy.

Yes, a fascinating process—but without scrupulous and patient attention to detail, and the skill of our famous Oat-papboom brewer, it still wouldn't be the perfect brew that is 'City'.

THE QUEEN'S GIFT FOR HER ROYAL MAJESTY

Royal Lodge at Sagana handed back

QUEEN ELIZABETH II to give back the Royal Lodge, Sagana, to Kenya as an Independence gift. The lodge was given to her and the Duke of Edinburgh in 1947 as a wedding present from the people of Kenya.

A Kenya Government statement yesterday said that the Governor, Mr. MacDonald, had been authorised to announce the Queen's decision. It said she had always hoped that she and her family would be able to visit the lodge, but that her duties had unfortunately made this impracticable.

The statement continued: "Her Majesty considers that the lodge should not remain unused, and that other people should be free to enjoy it."

Gratefully accepted

"She has therefore decided to present the Royal Lodge to the Government of Kenya on the occasion of the Queen's attainment of Independence on December 12, and that she would be glad to have the lodge as a gift for the entertainment of important guests of the Kenya Government."

The Prime Minister of Kenya, Mr. Kenyatta, has gratefully accepted the gift on behalf of the Government. The Government intends to use the Royal Lodge in the way that she herself will be able to control it.

The Kenya Government also announced yesterday that there will be only one day of touring in Kenya, and that the United Kingdom is at midday on December 11. This will be at the Uhuru stadium in Nairobi and will symbolise the end of the British colonial era.

It was announced that the Government will pay the running expenses of the lodge, but that the Kenya Government will be responsible for the maintenance of the building.

Now Kinangops are safe says Minister

APPOINTED DIRECTOR OF K.C.C.

SECURITY in the Kinangops should present no fears now that the crash settlement programme had been successfully completed, the Minister for Lands and Settlements yesterday.

It was revealed yesterday that the crash programme begun on November 11 on the direct orders of Prime Minister Kenyatta had not only been finished well within the target but also resulted in 1,500 more families being settled than Mr. Kenyatta had instructed.

Leading officers who have been involved in the project during the last few weeks of intensive work and learned that their four weeks of intensive work had resulted in a 50 per cent improvement in security in the Highlands area. "I don't think there is any danger at all about security there," said the Minister said.

The Regional Government Agent at Nyandarua, Mr. P. J. Wheeler, said before the scheme started there had been a good deal of tension about what might happen in the area, but now about 25,000 people had been settled he thought the situation would improve "enormously".

THEY WERE DELIGHTED

A year ago more than 2,000 Kikuyu families from all over Kenya had been brought to the foot of Kilgoris Mountain as a Government measure to try to get the situation out of the town.

"We have settled 1,000 of these interim settlers—all that were remaining—and they were delighted," Mr. Wheeler said. "They had all been born in the area."

Many farmers from Kikuyu, Mr. T. W. Wayland, requested a director of the Kenya Co-operative Creameries (K.C.C.) to be appointed to take over the K.C.C. in Nairobi, Mr. Wayland said. He said that the K.C.C. was in a very bad way and that he was sure that the K.C.C. would be a great asset to the Government.

Minister's message

I would like to extend my congratulations to Messrs. Kassam and Karmali and Messrs. Ahamed's Provision Stores. The merger of these two long-established firms will enable them to provide even better service to the public.

I am also gratified to learn of the participation in the new company of an African director and shareholder. I have often called for increased participation of Africans in business and the co-operation of all races in our economy. I am pleased with this response and extend my best wishes to the new company.

Dr. J. G. KIANGO,
Minister for Commerce and Industry.

New supermarket is a practical celebration

TWO of Nairobi's oldest trading companies, Kassam and Karmali and Ahamed's Provision Store, have united to form a new company.

Their renovated premises, on the corner of Kenyatta Avenue near the Post Office, where Kassam and Karmali carried on their hardware businesses are to be known as K and A Self-Selection Store.

This new supermarket, which officially opens today — about a week before Independence Day as a new store can open — is a declaration of faith in independent Kenya.

AN INNOVATION FOR NAIROBI SHOPPERS

FOR this advertisement in the new Kenya, the directors of the parent companies have pooled their knowledge. The senior directors on the board of six are Mr. Ahamed and Mr. Karmali, and those immediately responsible for the two departments are their sons, Mr. Abdul

MAU MAU LEADER MEETS PREMIER

AFTER more than ten years in hiding, "Fred Marshall" Mwarua, former leader of Mau Mau terrorists in Meru district, had a reunion with the Kenya Prime Minister, Mr. Kenyantha, at his Gatundu home on Saturday.

The two men, who were formerly different circumstances from the Mau Mau movement, met for the first time since the terms of the amnesty offer were still holding in the forest.

Mwarua, who claims to have been a member of the "amnesty" group, was accompanied by his son, who was also present.

The Premier has extended the amnesty to all Mau Mau fighters, but those who have been convicted in the forest are excluded.

Mwarua received a letter from the Premier, which was accompanied by a check for 100 shillings.

The Premier also visited the Mau Mau fighters in the forest, and they were very happy to see him.

Duke ushers in new era for Zanzibar

STANDARD STAFF REPORTER ZANZIBAR
Spectacles of rifle fire from troops on parade, the sharp crack of machine guns salute from the waterfront and the simultaneous breaking of champagne at midnight last night proclaimed Zanzibar's return to independent statehood and its entry into the Commonwealth of Nations.

REJOICING TO MARK REPUBLIC

TENS OF THOUSANDS of people in Zanzibar and villages throughout the country yesterday rejoiced at the Zanzibar Republic's coming of age. The ceremony, marking the anniversary of the Republic, was the second of the celebrations.

Guests from 70 countries

Between and around them were members of the Zanzibar Government and guests from 70 countries. The Duke of Edinburgh and the King of Burundi were two most distinguished visitors. Floodlights picked out national flags and the heraldic uniforms of the heads of the 14 British Armed Forces and the simple black and white of evening dress.

Two new flags were worn by the crowd of about 30,000 that ranged the small arena. From one flagpole flew the scarlet flag of the Sultan, centered in white with his monogram in Arabic. From the other fluttered Zanzibar's new national flag, 11, 10, 11, in red, with a green centre from which springs two palm trees, a white crescent and a white Zanzibar Zulu in all the rest that is absent.

The Duke continued "I'm pleased to be here with you on the occasion of Zanzibar's independence. It is a great day for Zanzibar and for the Commonwealth of Nations. I am glad to take this opportunity to wish you every success in the future."

Ground flooded

Long before the ceremonial parade and Independence celebrations were due to take their hundreds of people, a heavy rain fell on the island. It was a relief to those who had been waiting for the rain to stop. The rain was a relief to those who had been waiting for the rain to stop.

ELECTRONICS EXHIBITION OPENED Kenya tells world—and learns about weather

A RADIO message telling the world of Kenya's Independence was sent out from Nairobi yesterday while thousands of feet above the city a transmitter suspended from a balloon was sending back information to Uthuru weather prospects.

The Minister for Works and Communications, Mr. Muenira, turned a switch at the opening of the Independence Celebrations electronics exhibition which set a punched tape in motion. This marked the second time that Kenya's independence message has been sent out through the special station set up at the exhibition by the Radio Society of East Africa. It was sent out in 20 letters at a rate of one per second. The message was sent in a code which has been used at the summit of Mount Kenya. Similar messages are being carried by the flag-raising party at present climbing the mountain.

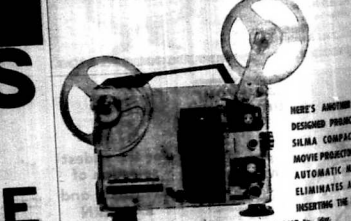

The patron of the Radio Society of East Africa, Mr. E. Robson, operating a wireless set which he has used at the summit of Mount Kenya. Similar sets are being carried by the flag-raising party at present climbing the mountain.

Small goodwill before the exhibition opened at Uthuru yesterday. The society's station has been equipped with a transmitter and receiver of good world from many parts of the world, including Brazil, South Africa, Hungary, India, and London. Britain sent a man in a hat.

An amateur in New York checked up the station's call sign yesterday and introduced a message which should be sent to the Minister for Works and Communications, Mr. Muenira, at the opening of the exhibition. Mr. Muenira, who is the Minister for Works and Communications, said that he was pleased to receive the message. He said that the station was a very good one and that he was sure that it would be a great success.

On view to the public for the first time at the exhibition is a new transmitter and receiver which has been developed by the Kenya Meteorological Department. The transmitter and receiver are of a type which will be used in the police communication system. The transmitter and receiver are of a type which will be used in the police communication system. Salute from Israel

In a special message to the "Daily Nation" (Nairobi), the Israeli Foreign Minister said: "It was good to be able to set down in writing columns as very friendly and well-founded and sincere and most valuable and informed, on the part of the Government, on the great day of our independence." "I salute from Kenya, I wish it well for ever. To my dear friends, Mr. Githongo and all the Kenyan friends, whom I had the honour of knowing, I offer my warmest personal greetings."

"It is my profound hope and conviction that the cooperation to the full of the Jewish people and the peoples of a modern world, who have joined hands in the struggle for peace, will bring about the day when we shall be able to live together in peace and harmony."

ATTACK ON NATIONS' ENEMIES More guests fly in to celebrate

Foreign view absurd says Dr. Nyerere

Standard Staff Reporter Dar es Salaam.

Dr. Nyerere to establish the East African Federation in 1963 had been perhaps the biggest disappointment of the year. President Nyerere had tonight in a Republic Day broadcast from his residence at Mombasa.

MAU MAU WEAPONS MUST BE GIVEN IN

COMMUNISTS would not attempt to maintain identity with Kenya government. Secretary of State for Defence, Dr. George Brown, said today in the House of Commons that the Mau Mau weapons must be given in full to the Kenya Government.

"Genuine difficulties do exist, as in any other move to unity," he said. "But in understanding the difficulties that exist, we must reject some of the pre-conditions that have been made from outside East Africa."

"We have already heard the curious argument that the withdrawal of East African troops from Kenya would be a pre-condition for the formation of East African unity, that is some very existing federations. Like that of the United Kingdom and the British of Africa Unity, but new federations—like that of East Africa—would be contrary to it. They are attempts to maintain identity."

"One of the hard facts we have to face on our way to unity is that this unity must be based on the principles of the surrender of sovereignty and the participation of individuals. The surrender of high powers. We must face quite squarely the fact that so far there has been no such surrender in the name of African unity."

'NOT BY MAKING SPEECHES'

"If, therefore, any part of our continent, and any number of African leaders, want to demonstrate that these surrender are possible—and demonstrate not by writing articles or making speeches but by constructive actualizing their sovereignties—it would be the duty of those leaders to make such a demonstration, and it would be our duty to encourage them."

"I say this in all seriousness, we in Tanganyika will support and assist any brother African country and intend that we should do this in the name of African unity."

Realistic view on charity

People must be realistic in their view of social problems and looking for realistic solutions, said Dr. Nyerere in a speech to the Parliament in Dar es Salaam.

"We must look at the situation and realize that we are not in a position to do anything about it unless we have the necessary resources. We must look at the situation and realize that we are not in a position to do anything about it unless we have the necessary resources. We must look at the situation and realize that we are not in a position to do anything about it unless we have the necessary resources."
