FUTILE NAZI BOAST

Official statements issued by the Admiralty and the Air Ministry show an interesting light on the German boat that their power would score a decisive victory over the British Navy.

From the successes reported in the two communications issued on Thursday night, it would seem that the Royal Air Force is itself able to counteract the efforts of the German Air Force in spite of the fact that British planes have to fly so much greater distances.

Two Heinkel and one Dornier damaged during German attacks on British warships. The destruction of several German troops landed on the ground and damaged to warships.

ALLIES MAY FIGHT GERMANS NEAR TRONDHEIM

More British Troops Landed

It is probable that the Allied and German forces will meet in a battle in the Trondheim district of Norway.

More British troops have been landed and although the War Office communique gives nothing beyond that fact, it is learned from other sources that the disembarkation took place at a place 80 miles North of Trondheim.

Further German reinforcements have arrived by air in the Trondheim area.

One thing was evident and that was that Germany was not going there, to employ, and British and France had no desire to intervene. Why, in these circumstances, should anything happen there at all?

WAR OFFICE KEEPS PRESS GOSSINGING IN NORWAY
504 TO NONE
Deputies Behind French Premier To A Man

Result Of Reticence— Germans Contradict Themselves
FRENCH TROOPS ARRIVE

The situation in Norway is still obscure and most of the information regarding it comes from German communiques, from the terms of which it is evident that Nazi forces are not getting along as quickly as they expected.

A British War Office communique on Saturday announced that French troops have arrived in Norway, that operations are going according to plan and that Allied forces are in possession of certain vantage points.

Since the invasion of Norway the War Office has issued only three communiques, totalling 58 words. This reticence has undoubtedly kept the Germans guessing, for they are now speaking with two contradictory voices on the situation in Norway.

Both Allies and Germans are making efforts to stop opposing reinforcements from reaching Norway. British submarines have sunk two German transports sailing in convoy; the R.A.F. on Saturday night made the first attack on an RAAF air base in Denmark, a suspected one on Aalborg, a German air base in northern Denmark, which has served as an advanced base against Norway. The Nazis, on the other hand, have made fruitless bombing attacks on British transports and seaconvoys.

April 21.
The support of the French people for M. Paul Reynaud's Government was strikingly demonstrated on Friday night when the Chamber of Deputies gave a unanimous vote of confidence to the Government.

The war came at the end of the session in the course of which M. Reynaud's resignation of the premiership and political situation was remembered that M. Reynaud received the full support of the Senate when he made a similar appeal to the Upper Chamber on Thursday.

Twenty-six of the last few days have been a great personal triumph for M. Reynaud, but only one day saw the power he had a majority of only one in the Chamber, but on that day the 404 Deputies who were present were behind him to a man.

A resolution passed at the end of the session stated that the Chamber would support the Government and the policy which has always had the approval of Parliament.

How The
"Truant"
Did It

April 21.
The British submarine Truant returned to base after one of its most remarkable exploits in the war, the forcing of the door on the German cruiser Karlsruhe in the waters off the coast of Norway.

German transports were being guarded by cruisers sailing in convoy to reach the port of Trondheim to reach through an enemy mine field. This hazardous exploit the submarine came upon them on the night of April 20th and was immediately attacked to depth charges from the accompanying destroyers.

The ship was damaged for a while and was again at great risk, but was thrown through the minefield and for Britain where she has found a great welcome.

R.A.F. CASUALTY LIST

London, April 21.
The latest Royal Air Force casualty list contains 129 names. It comprises 10 killed (six previously reported missing), 67 missing, 33 wounded, 80 killed, three previously reported missing, and two reported safe.

Russia Wants To Trade With Britain

Trade talks between Russia and Britain were broken off when the Soviet forces invaded Finland. Now Russia wants to resume them.

Britain is ready to continue the talks—but in the first place they must be purely exploratory for the British Government does not wish to be completely satisfied that no British goods find their way to Russia.

London, April 21.
The Russian Government has today told Great Britain that the trade talks which were broken off by the Soviet invasion of Finland are being resumed.

The British reply to the request from Moscow that the trade talks be resumed from communication to the Russian Government in London.

It is reported in official circles in London to the effect that it was a trade agreement which was broken off.

Five men were killed and a number of others seriously injured in an explosion at a munitions factory in Waz, France, on Saturday morning. Damage outside the factory is reported to be considerable.

The French wireless stated last night that the French Air Force is also taking part in bombing and reconnaissance operations over Norway.

The British Admiralty also announced that German transports have been sunk in the North Sea.

Manitowish Factory Explosion: 5 Killed

London.
Five men were killed and a number of others seriously injured in an explosion at a munitions factory in Waz, France, on Saturday morning. Damage outside the factory is reported to be considerable.

The French wireless stated last night that the French Air Force is also taking part in bombing and reconnaissance operations over Norway.

The British Admiralty also announced that German transports have been sunk in the North Sea.

radio stated yesterday in Berlin that the military operations in Norway have been completed in two or three weeks.

Most of the information regarding the situation in Norway comes from German communiques. The official German News Agency described how the German advance is being held up by big battles have been fought, and the communiques, but the Norwegians are retreating in small detachments. At one point a German cliff side was dynamited on to a road and the Germans had to leave a company behind at that other point where bridges were blown up by the Germans but the loss and were met with such fierce resistance that they had to retreat.

These Main Areas

Reports from Sweden say that events are developing in three main areas—Narvik, Trondheim, and the country around, and the districts of Narvik and Hamar areas. Two towns in the Narvik area, 120 were north of Oslo. The main German drive is directed towards Trondheim. In the Hamar area, 120 were north of Oslo. The main German drive is directed towards Trondheim.

German Forces Isolated

The Swedish reports said that the German troops at Narvik are isolated between Allied troops in the coastal areas and the Norwegian forces.

The German wireless, which until now has been very reticent, said that there had been some German losses in the Narvik area, but that they were extremely low.

The Air Ministry announced that morning that several of the Royal Air Force bombers had been shot down in the Narvik area.

ALLIES WANT TO BE FRIENDS WITH ITALY
But Should She Choose Partnership With Germany

The French Government is making overtures to Italy for a better Mediterranean understanding because France considers such to be vital to peace.

During the week-end it was established in London that both Britain and France desire the establishment of friendship with Italy. Nevertheless, it was made abundantly clear that should she choose German partnership she would know what to expect.

LATEST NEWS

In addition to the attack on the German air base at Aalborg in Denmark last night planes of the R.A.F. also visited Christiansund and Stanger. At the former enemy planes were observed on the aerodrome and were attacked with bombs. At Stanger several German transport planes were seen to be the runways while the bursting of another was followed by a tremendous explosion. A seaplane has near Stanger was also attacked.

At Aalborg, R.A.F. planes dived a hangar, others started fire and one bomber attacked a German transport plane which was about to land.

INTENSE ARTILLERY FIRE

The French official communique yesterday morning said: "Activity of contact units. To the east of Moulon an enemy raid was driven back. Artillery fire in the vicinity of Als." Last night's French communique reports enemy raids driven off and that artillery fire by both sides was heavier and more intense on the entire of the front than it has been for some days.

CLOSER UNDERSTANDING AMONG BALKAN STATES
Hungary's Example: Russia To Take A Hand?

News from the Balkans suggests that there may move towards a closer understanding among the small States, in face of the common danger, and that Russia is taking part in it.

For instance it is now thought in Bucharest, the Rumanian capital, that there may soon be trade negotiations between Hungary and Rumania. Two treaties to these which are about to be opened between Russia and Rumania.

German Soldiers Continue To Blow Up Bridges

The German soldiers continue to blow up bridges that would only give great hardship to others.

Reports from Sweden reached London yesterday morning of fighting between British and German troops on the west coast of Norway. Fighting there, which reports, which were given prominence in the Swedish newspapers, spoke of an engagement north of Trondheim, in the area of the town of Hamar.

DEPLETION OF NAZI AIR FORCE CONTINUES
54 Planes Lost In 9 Days: 10 More On Saturday

The Nazis recently claimed that only ten of their planes had been brought down in the last few days but this is refuted by authoritative quarters in London.

During the nine days preceding April 17, 54 Nazi planes were destroyed and 19 probably destroyed, while British losses for the same period were 25.

On Saturday the Germans lost ten more machines at least: three Allied machines had to make forced landings.

April 21.
The German losses last night were 10 machines, one of them being a Heinkel III which fell in French territory and the crew was captured. A British patrol attacked four German planes, three of them being shot down by British fighters. One German bomber and one fighter were shot down.

Later another British patrol engaged nine German fighters and shot down one behind the French lines. The pilot attempted to escape by parachute but it failed to open and he was killed. Another fighter is believed to have been destroyed in the air but the pilot was rescued.

French successes were also reported in numerous fights with the

Air Mails From Kenya To Union

One of the questions dealt with at today's meeting of the Kenya Chamber of Commerce was the possibility of air mail service to the Union of South Africa. A member firm has raised the question of posting by the South African Airways service to Johannesburg was delayed, or not at all. This member firm pointed out that air mail service from the Cape Town postal authorities to Durban, Air mail correspondence to Durban, Durban and places south of the Cape would be despatched only by the ftying-out services. It was suggested that the South African Airways service on Thursdays be air despatched to Durban, Durban and places south of the Cape would be despatched from Durban by the South African Airways service leaving on Wednesday.

AWARDS FOR GALLANTRY

An Australian officer who begins his career in the Royal Australian Air Force is being awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross by the King. The recipient is Pilot Officer Harry, his navigating officer, having been awarded for an attack on the enemy's air base at Bergin, during which he met a German plane and shot it down. The D.F.C. goes to Squadron Leader who returned to his base to make a second attack after his machine had been shot down. He was a German flying boat.

ADMIRAL SIR ERNEST GAUNT

The death took place yesterday of Admiral Sir Ernest Gaunt, 71, who was a member of the Admiralty from 1914 to 1918 and was in command of the battle of Jutland. He was Commander-in-Chief of the East Indies in 1917-18 and Commander-in-Chief of the Mediterranean in 1921-22. He became an Admiral in 1924 and went on to be Commander-in-Chief of the Mediterranean in 1928.

Hard Days Fixation of Prices For Trailers Meeting This Week To Consider The Position

One of the matters discussed at Friday's meeting of the Nairobi Chamber of Commerce was the fixation of prices and it was proposed that a committee be appointed to consider the position. The committee will be made up of Mr. P. Phillips, who will represent the Chamber at the meeting to be held on Thursday next, April 25, and the representatives of Supply Bazaar of Kenya and Uganda and of various Chambers of Commerce. The committee will be asked to report to the Nairobi Chamber's office at 4.45 p.m. on the subject of this price meeting.

Mr. H. S. Brown, a member of the Kenya Supply Board, explained that the committee would be asked to consider the position in connection with price fixation under the provisions of the Supply Bazaar Act. He said that the committee would be asked to consider the position in connection with price fixation under the provisions of the Supply Bazaar Act. ### CANADA'S SHIPYARDS WORKING NIGHT AND DAY

The Canadian Maritime Supply and Munitions station in Ottawa yesterday stated that Canada's ship construction programme was proceeding apace. Fifteen shipyards were working night and day on a programme which covers nearly 100 vessels. The programme includes the construction of destroyers, minesweepers, and other vessels. The programme is being carried out by the Canadian Maritime Supply and Munitions station in Ottawa.

First Lord On "Filib Pollution of Nazi Tyranny"

Lord Halifax, British Ambassador to the United States, said today that he was deeply shocked by the "filib pollution" of Nazi tyranny. He said that the "filib pollution" was a serious threat to the world's peace and stability. He called for a united front against the "filib pollution" of Nazi tyranny.

Cabled News In Brief

Thirty people were killed and 100 injured when the Lake Shore Express derailed at Little Falls, New York. The train was carrying a large number of passengers and cargo. The accident was caused by a signal failure.

32 CHILDREN AND WARD SAVINGS More Adoptions For The Holiday Camp

The Express Transport Company has adopted two children: a welcome £10 subscription ensures that these two youngsters will have their holiday at Membasa this year.

Two other children have been similarly provided for, anonymously and the other by a resident and his wife.

In addition there are smaller subscriptions which all go to help this good cause. This week opens with about £25 added to the total.

Please remember that £5 will make one child happy.

Subscriptions should be sent to—

Question of Extreme Complexity

A matter of considerable complexity, which has been referred for legal opinion to Messrs. Shipley, Roberts & Hertz, was discussed at Friday's meeting of the Nairobi Chamber of Commerce. This was the question of debts incurred by Messrs. Shipley, Roberts & Hertz, which had been referred for legal opinion to Messrs. Shipley, Roberts & Hertz.

NAIROBI CHAMBER DISCUSSES DEBTS OF SOLDIERS

The possibility and desirability of making possible local direct purchases of the 2 per cent Deferred Bonds and National Savings Certificates in Kenya was again discussed at Friday's meeting of the Nairobi Chamber of Commerce. The Chairman remarked that this matter had been dealt with before and Government had been asked on the subject, but so far, after three or four months, no definite information was available.

FIGHTING IN THREE SECTORS IN NORWAY

Allies and Norwegians Oppose Germans North of Oslo

The first is the Harar sector, where the fighting is around 70 miles to the north of Oslo, the second is around Trondheim and the third and most obscure is the country around Narvik.

At Hamar and Elverum Allied forces are known to be fighting together with the Norwegians against German detachments which have travelled north from Oslo. They reached this district a day or two after the landing and here they attacked.

It is announced by the Norwegian Government that British troops are now fighting side by side with the Norwegian Army in the important eastern sector of Norway where the advanced Norwegian Army has been fighting off gallantly against German forces from Oslo. The Norwegian command is maintaining news which has been carefully controlled. The command's reports does not say exactly where British troops are operating and the British War Office has added that the campaign continues and that British troops are operating in conjunction with Norwegians. However, unconfirmed Swedish reports still maintain that British troops have reached the Harar-Narvik sector, roughly 90 miles north of Oslo.

The Rainy Day in the Reich

Reports issued in Washington by the Federal Reserve Board show that more than $100 million are being transferred from the German citizens in the names of other people. It is believed that this money is being sent to Germany by the German Government and that the money is being used to finance the German war effort. The reports also indicate that the German Government is using the money to purchase raw materials and other goods from the United States.

It is also reported that the German Government is using the money to purchase military equipment and other goods from the United States. The reports also indicate that the German Government is using the money to purchase raw materials and other goods from the United States.

THREE DANGERS FOR SWISS

The Swiss Army declared on Sunday that Switzerland was faced with danger from three sides. The danger from the east is the German Army, the danger from the west is the French Army, and the danger from the south is the Italian Army. The Swiss Government is taking steps to defend itself against these dangers.

DEATH OF
MR. G. BARNES

The German (Draught) Wireless states that Signor Mussolini in birthday greetings to Herr Hitler on Saturday expressed his confidence that Germany would victoriously stand the great test it was undergoing.

On Sunday Italy celebrated the anniversary of the foundation of Rome which is also the Italian Labour Day. A large crowd gathered outside the Palazzo Venezia and cheered Signor Mussolini who came out on to the balcony and made a very short speech.

"Today" he said "the watchword for the Italian people must be labour and arms."

It is known in Rome yesterday that the German Ambassador to Italy, Baron von Mackensen, is on a visit to Berlin.

GOOD DAY FOR R.A.F. SWEDEN SHOOT DOWN NAZI PLANE

6 Nazi Machines
Down
Others Forced To Land

The Royal Air Force had another good day on the Western front on Sunday and Tuesday. German machines were brought down and were seen to crash in German territory. A third was driven with great care during the afternoon when British fighters shot down a German formation and brought down two planes at a time in French territory.

It is considered likely that another German plane, which was shot down, was also destroyed during the day. The British losses were nil. One pilot was wounded and made a forced landing, but otherwise all the British planes returned to their bases.

These German losses are in addition to the seven machines brought down by British and French aircraft on the western front on Saturday. There is no other news from the Western front except artillery action near the River Biele. (Reuter)

IT CAN BE DONE BETTER WITH A MODERN HOWITZER

Much of the industrial equipment which has been in use in this country by contractors and industrial firms is as obsolete and inadequate to modern conditions as the old muzzle loading siege gun. Taucos Machines are designed to meet modern requirements. They are exceptionally low in first cost, require only a fraction of the power necessitated by heavier, older machinery, are light and portable and possess remarkable starting power with lower maintenance costs under production conditions. Britain's mighty rearmament industry has already been quick to recognise the ability of Taucos equipment to cut costs and speed production, as have thousands of alert organisations and famous manufacturing establishments throughout the world.

Last night the Royal Air Force was again successful in its raid on the Danes' air base at Aalborg. The raiders were met by anti-aircraft fire and machine-guns but the batteries round the aerodrome, as well as by gunfire from the surrounding hills, did not prevent the machines from getting in to complete their task...

The Air Ministry report on the latest attack on Stavanger in the Norwegian coast is that the raid was successful and a number of enemy aircraft were destroyed. All our aircraft returned safely.

Further details of last night's raid on Stavanger reveal that one of the British bombers had dropped an explosive bomb right across the runway and that the runway was burnt into flames.

The crew of another British bomber which was shot down over Stavanger started six fires. One pilot approached the burning plane and was observed that the searchlight could not be directed on to the burning plane.

While particular attention has been paid during the last few days to the explosion of the R.A.F. in the photographs and by the R.A.F. in the newspapers, it has also been pointed out that there has been no cessation of the Bomber Command's operations over the Continent.

At night, except when rain clouds intervene, the moon is seen in the sky, but the weather, which has been so good since the arrival of the aircraft, is likely to be somewhat unsettled.

Let us be back with God, and with the sea, which He has given for grace inseparable. And with Him helps only defend ourselves. In them, and in ourselves, our safety lies.

A Second Visit The R.A.F. did not forget Stavanger which last night had its 7th raid and a number of enemy aircraft were destroyed. All our aircraft returned safely.

WEEPSTAKE RACE AT MOMBASA

Veteran's Fine Performance

Despite the approach of the close season, when conditions will put a temporary stop to racing, a goodly field will be headed for the annual trial, the Mombasa Light Horse carrying on as long as possible and the recent Dunlop Sweepstake have carried a more interesting and enjoyable affair.

Parklands Annual Tennis Tournament

Intending competitors in the 22nd annual Parklands Sports Club Tennis Tournament are reminded that entries should be sent to the Secretary, Parklands Sports Club, 100, Parklands Road, Nairobi, Kenya, on or before 10.00 p.m. on Monday, April 24, and may be handed in direct to the Club, or through the medium of the principal Nairobi Sports houses.

Five handicap events and a Level Mixed Doubles will be included and there are entries from all parts of the country will be a good one.

thence up Kilindi Harbour to the Mark Boat off the Magadi Jetty and back to the Club.

Several of the most trying, who were in the water before Kibide and Beaver, both faster boats, attempted to exploit the start-line advantage at the start, but were a trifle too late and were forced to give way to Fluttry and Curlew. It had on her side a lead of half-a-mile at the first turn and led the fleet to Magadi Jetty. On the second lap she was kept well in the quays to avoid the tide. Curlew II, using ground and Beaver and Kibide coming up fast.

Beaver failed to catch Curlew II by the end of the first round, but was doing so well that it looked as though this veteran racer might walk away with the race.

Kibide Captives

Kibide came along well, but her stern overboard, opposite the Club and over the beach.

On the second leg Fluttry led, then Curlew II, and Kibide followed her in the second leg. Fluttry led on her track and nearly charged the Beacon and Nimba, a 150 lb boat with a strong, shapely lot of water. Curlew II and Nimba, the latter having made a late start, arrived and soon after Dirk II heeled down her flag and took no further part in the proceedings.

Beaver led by a goodish distance, but she had the advantage of starting out into the tide after Beckham was overboard, having established well ahead, to get the gun and next to see Fluttry who was on the race on exercised time from Curlew, who followed her, by 2 minutes, 2 seconds. The rest of the fleet, who were on the race, 28 seconds behind Curlew. The rest of the fleet were well astern.

Corrected Times The order of ranking on corrected time was— H.M.S. FLUTTRY (May) 1 29 56 ... H.CURLEW (May) 2 32 56 ... BEAVER (Chris) 3 32 56 ... The remaining finishers were— LADY BEAN (C. Bishop, 1:38-49); Dirk (Palmer, 1:41-50); Spigell (Fisher, 1:41-41); and Lady Ben (Lockwood, 1:43-47). Nimba (Lockwood, 1:43-47), Curlew II, and Dirk II, retired.

LEICESTER SPRING MEETING

Two of the principal races to be run today (Sunday) at the Leicester Spring Meeting are the Leicester Handicap, over a straight mile and a half, and the Royal Air Force 2nd XV and the Royal Air Force 1st XV. The Royal Air Force 2nd XV will be run over a mile and a half, and the Royal Air Force 1st XV will be run over a mile and a half. Mr. M. Mowbray has supplied the probable winners and ages of the entry. They are—

PUZZLER (4) 8-7; WONERSH (4) 8-7; HALCON GIFT (3) 8-2; THORNTON (4) 8-2; MORNAY (4) 8-2; PEARL ROCK (4) 7-1; BRUNO (4) 7-1; ALLIANCE (4) 7-1; HEAVY WEIGHT (4) 7-1; LUNDS (4) 7-1; BIR AWAY (4) 7-1; APILLIE BOB (4) 7-1; TAVY (4) 7-1; SMY (4) 7-8; ROBERTSON (4) 7-4; TUNCE BOOB (4) 7-8; SEVENTH WOUNDER (4) 7-5; APPLE ANNIE (4) 7-5; SMY (4) 7-5; THE APPLE QUEEN (4) 1-6; CROSSING (4) 7-5; MOONLAD (4) 7-5; EXERCISED (4) 7-5; MERRY ABBOT (4) 7-4.

The French contented Diebel, who has already won a race this season, should beat three as he defeated Tent Meux easily in the Middle Park Stakes. If Paucok has a very high opinion of Hildy, who is entered in all the Classics, he will see the Newark Handicap at Nottingham, over 1 mile, heading events and is being ridden by W. Bullock, who rode Supermetta to victory in the Oaks and Oaks at far back as 1908. Hildy and Paucok who were third, are well worth notice.

Having the appearance of making a good stay, Tramaroa, a son of Tramar, got a better cleave, agreement to win the Clumber Plate of 1 mile 3 furlongs. Sugar Sandy, a nice filly by Spalding of 14 miles and in spite of her breeding she may make a good stay.

A feature of the meeting was the success of W. Smyth, who scored with his first winner in the Maiden Good Win. He will forward his has his charges approved by his 11 winners in date.

MAIDEN GOOD WIN

Sir Abe Bley's Meadow won the Newbury Cup after a good race with King Legend, who finished third. The winner is a nice colt by Farway, a King Legend, who has six times last season without being placed, showed considerable improvement and his turn should soon come.

Sir A. Bailey also won the Berkshire Handicap on the previous day with Port Erin, from Lord's Bepley and Mury Handicap. The last named went on to Doncaster and the Mury Handicap, after an objection, in Ascot when she was disqualified.

Knap's Armour carried his 7-10, greatly successfully, the good effort Handicap, making all the running. Halmes made a good effort to get on terms with the winner, but could make no impression. M. Borty who had already scored twice, won the Thruson Guinea Trial Plate on Allure. The filly is a daughter of the Thruson, and should be remembered. There, however, a French entry named France, won the Thruson Guinea Trial Plate on Allure. The filly is a daughter of the Thruson, and should be remembered.

It can be expected that some light will have been thrown on the well being of the various Classic coming from the Thruson, and the market in the Craven and the Colman Produce Stakes. Lord Astor's good filly Golden Penny will also be seen in the Severn Stakes and on previous occasions I have seen some horses in health the State of affairs, who should do well. About the same time, the Craven, may turn up to be the best stayer in training; Epibolus who is a French entry, who is a capable good improver; Wain. Test was trained by Lord Selsketh, who only ran twice last season, but the success of the Craven and the Craven in the New Stakes at Ascot.

ALLIES WIN NORWAY

Encouraging Report By The War Office

Although official details of the fighting in Norway are still lacking a British War Office communique declares that "considerable successes" have been achieved by the Allied forces in the face of great difficulties.

The Allies are said to be marching on Trondheim from north and south and are in control of the railway from the west coast to Hamar.

Another report speaks of fierce fighting at a place north east of Trondheim.

April 23. A communique issued by the War Office tonight in London says that a strong report has been received from Trondheim where our troops have been counter-attacked. In the north our troops in conjunction with the Norwegians are resisting enemy advances.

Last night also the War Office announced that our troops have been successful in the campaign in Norway. In the south our troops in conjunction with the Norwegians are resisting enemy advances. However, as encouraged reports, to conclude that these operations are going on.

The wording of the communique was as follows:

"Our troops, landed in many places, have achieved considerable successes in the face of great difficulties. They have gained touch with Norwegian forces and are now in a position to support in their power."

"These considerable successes announced at present described in detail in the official statement issued by the War Office."

The Swedish reports say that our forces are not only approaching Trondheim but are also secured control of the railway from the west coast at Alesund to Trondheim. They also control the main line which runs along the same coast and the railway. In addition the Swedish reports suggest that our troops are supporting the Norwegians who have barred German advances beyond Hamar and Bergen.

If these Swedish reports are true the public are constantly reminded that there with reserves to prevent a situation very unfavorable to the Germans because of the fact that the German army at Trondheim cannot get reinforcements and will be dependent on such reinforcements as the Germans are able to send by air.

The Swedish messages speak of our forces landing on the coast from the east and also from the west. It is stated that our troops have been bombing the German sector of the coast and the fact has been considerably reported. They have also been successful in various places and have been dropping bombs on the coast and the land particularly at the mouth of the North Norwegian fjords.

These vital news of communication between the Allied bases on the coast and the front in the north-western region.

It is clear that the Allied forces are now in a position to support in their power. It is also clear that the Allied forces are now in a position to support in their power.

New Imposition, Purchase Tax, To Be Levied

The British taxpayer is being called upon to find more money for the war effort.

THE CHANCELLOR OF THE EXCHEQUER YESTERDAY ANNOUNCED INCREASED DUTIES ON BEER, WHISKY, TOBACCO AND MATCHES, TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAMS.

A NEW FORM OF IMPOSITION TO BE KNOWN AS THE PURCHASE TAX IS TO BE INTRODUCED.

The results of taxation imposed at the time of the emergency budget seven months ago have been better than expected.

Sir John Simon said he estimated that the total expenditure on the war by the end of next March would be two thousand million pounds.

The Chancellor gave an assurance that everything possible was being done to avoid wasteful expenditure.

AIR RAIDERS TRIED TO SOW MINES

LATEST NEWS
Chased From English Coast

The German Air Force, having failed to drive off the British Navy or check the landing of British troops in Norway, seems to be returning to its old ways—the sowing of mines in the North Sea and trade routes and attacks on fishing boats.

After The Fair Is Over

Yesterday the Commandant of the Royal Air Force, Sir Charles Portal, issued a strong warning against the use of incendiary bombs in the attack on the German cities. He said that the use of incendiary bombs was a war crime and that the British Air Force would not be held responsible for any such attacks.

The Belfast Daily Fair has just come to an end and the thousands of people who came to visit it, including a large number from Germany, will now have to solve some reason why they should stay in Germany. It is reported that many Germans are leaving the country. (Hester).

EQUIPPED FOR ARCTIC CONDITIONS

April 23. Interesting details of the British troops in Norway were equipped for fighting in the Arctic region were given yesterday by the Ministry of Defence. It was stated that the equipment was of the highest quality and was specially designed for the Arctic conditions. The equipment included heavy winter clothing, skis, and other necessary gear.

Another point which is brought out by the experts is that the success of the raids has completely justified the British system of flying at night. The experts stated that the success of the raids was due to the fact that the German forces were not expecting an attack at night. The British forces were able to take the German forces by surprise and to inflict heavy losses.

REPELLED

A German detachment made an attack on a French outpost in the north of Trondheim. This is the first time since the evacuation of the French forces from the area that the German forces have been repelled. The French forces were able to inflict heavy losses on the German forces and to force them to retreat.

Record Income Tax Yield

The record income tax yield of 1939 has been exceeded. The total yield for the year was £2,200 million, compared with £2,100 million in 1939. This is a record for the United Kingdom and is a result of the increased income tax rates and the success of the emergency budget.

GEOFFREY GANNON IN THE SADDLE

Fighting His First Enemy of All Time

"Never has Germany assumed so lifeless and so vile an aspect as under the leadership of this filthy money-making murderer" said the Rt. Hon. A. Duff Cooper, former First Lord of the Admiralty, proposing the St. George's Day toast of England in London yesterday.

After cataloging Germany's crimes he said these were not the crimes of one man nor of one small band of criminals. They were the crimes of the whole people of Germany. When they were defeated again the German people would come to us with the same tale and say that these crimes had only been committed by a small number of unrepresentative politicians. "I hope we shall not be deceived again," said Mr. Duff Cooper amid a roar of applause.

St. George's Day—April 23.—A stirring speech was delivered in London by Mr. A. Duff Cooper, former First Lord of the Admiralty, deputising for Mr. Winston Churchill, on the occasion of the St. George's Day luncheon which was held at the Grosvenor Hotel. The function was under the aegis of the Royal Society of St. George's and the President of the Royal Loyal Quornshooters.

The High Commissioners of Canada, Australia, New Zealand, the South African Republic, and also the diplomatic representatives of Holland, Belgium, and other friendly nations. The Norwegian and Danish High Commissioners were also present.

Lord Quornshooters announced that he was the very first of the guests of public business Mr. Churchill, and he was the first to be made a member of the British Loyal Quornshooters.

Lord Quornshooters announced that he was the very first of the guests of public business Mr. Churchill, and he was the first to be made a member of the British Loyal Quornshooters.

Mr. Duff Cooper said that the whole world knew us. It was a mood of bitter rage of grief that drove the whole world to us.

Germany's Guilt—Not even the wildest mendacity would lay the blame of this war on the shoulders of England, Germany had hardy ceased to pray her guiltless-ness and she had been reduced to the status of a helpless creature.

Small Vain—It always was the small countries that had to pay the price. The late war was a lesson to the world.

Denmark, a defenceless and weak country, was not a guarantee against aggression.

British Navy is Still Strong—This series of crimes which had laid a horror of death on the whole of Europe.

Feared—It was not a calm, cool, collected mind that was behind these moves.

Never Again—I hope we shall not be deceived again by these people.

British Navy is Still Strong—The British Navy is still strong and capable of maintaining our freedom against any aggression.

KENYA PEOPLE NOT DOING ALL THEY COULD

BRIG. GEN. LEWIN.

Many Speeches At St. George's Society Dinner

Well over 100 members and friends attended the annual dinner of the Nakuru branch of the Royal Society of St. George last Saturday night.

Most speakers referred directly or indirectly to the war and were firmly convinced that the Allies would win. Brigadier General Lewin said: "I know we cannot be beaten but we shall have to give our best to win this war."

General Lewin thought that the feeling of complacency should be stopped and people should realise they were in a life and death struggle. He thought people in Kenya were not doing all they could and that every man, woman and child should do everything possible to win the war.

The Nakuru branch of the Royal Society of St. George held its annual dinner last Saturday at the Nakuru Hotel. There were well over one hundred members and guests present and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

Greetings were received from other branches of the Society and telegrams were read by Captain Selts from the East Colonies, the East African Members, Southampton (York), Warrington, and also from Colonel Griffiths, who is away in England. Nakuru sent a telegram to the Parent Society in London saying: "Nakuru Branch recognises cordial greetings to the East Colonies and the East African Members, Southampton (York), Warrington, and also from Colonel Griffiths, who is away in England."

The President of the Nakuru Society, Mr. L. A. Wisdom, in giving the toast of "England" said that though it was essentially an evening for England, they were not unmindful of all that they owed to the courage and faithful friendship of Scotland, Wales, and Ireland.

Once again England had entered into a struggle of life and death in defence of liberty and justice. The war seemed remote from Kenya but it touched all very closely, because it was a conflict which was to determine the whole of England's future, and with England, Kenya's future. If Germany won everyone would feel the results of that victory of tyranny.

Mr. Wray recalled Britain's record of the past 400 years, adding: "I do not think Hitler or Germany will succeed in doing that, which 400 years of history has proved impossible, but that you, only by determination, using all our strength and all great resources which they have, will succeed in doing so. Germany is no mean adversary and there may be dark days ahead, but if we are united in purpose, we shall have no dark days. This we owe to the past, but more to the future, for it is our duty to hand to our children the freedom that is ours."

England, he said, had always prized their freedom very dearly. England had always upheld and fought for the principles of freedom for all peoples; that is why she had been victorious and that was why England would be victorious again.

The toast of "Imperial Forces" was proposed by Mr. E. W. Bennett and replied to by Brigadier-General Lewin. Mr. Bennett said he was honoured with the toast of the Imperial Forces, which, of course, included...

Kenya still remained a more or less unknown country to the rest of the world. Kenya, which still was a young colony, could not afford to neglect its own interests. It was essential that Kenya should be able to maintain its own independence and that it should be able to defend itself against any possible aggression.

The toast of "The Guest" was replied to by Mr. D. L. Bunt, Director of the Nakuru Hotel. He had returned to Kenya after an absence of seven years and in which he had been in the United Kingdom. He had seen the world and had seen the progress of the world and had seen the progress of the world and had seen the progress of the world.

Mr. R. S. Spence, in proposing the toast of the "Royal Society of St. George," referred to the fact that the society had been founded in 1850 and had since that time been a source of inspiration and encouragement to the people of Kenya.

BRITAIN ACCEPTS LABOUR AND THE CHEERFULLY

Big Price Which Must Be Paid

British people on the whole appear to be facing up to the demands of a new Budget with a good heart. The proposals generally are regarded as a measure of the country's determination to win the war.

The item most criticised is the Purchase Tax which in some quarters is considered bad trade.

In a broadcast after the Budget, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir John Simon, stressed the need for frugality of living as a means of aiding the war effort and urged that there should be no unnecessary buying of any kind.

Mr. Arthur Greenwood, Deputy Leader of the Labour Party, declared in London today that the Budget movement stood 100 per cent behind any other necessary for the successful prosecution of the war.

Hitler, he said, made his first aerial blunder when he decided on the invasion of Denmark and Norway. This step only proved that Corporal Hitler could never have been a soldier.

Mr. Greenwood went on to say that he would not be able to read Admiral Raeder's diary as he would be thinking of his beloved leader; nor would he think of Hitler's very fatigues.

Speaking of the position of the neutrals Mr. Greenwood said that even the United States was now having to pile up expenditure on armaments, but because it was threatened, but because it was not a belligerent power which planned that neutral powers should be sufficient for us with to ensure victory.

Referring to freedom of criticism in Britain, Mr. Greenwood said that the "No Fringe Minister" ought to give his opinion. That is what he is afraid to do. It is fundamental that we should have full freedom of expression.

The British Press is unanimous on one aspect of the Budget that it is a heavy price to pay for the defeat of Hitler, but that the price must be paid. Ministers are directed chiefly to matters of detail.

Full support and approval comes from the Daily Telegraph which says that whatever criticism may be made it is in the interest of the nation to meet the general principle of the tax-payer's pocket. Altogether, the paper says, the Budget is certain to make a strong appeal to the public as an imaginative effort to grapple with the problem.

The Times characterized it as a Budget which possesses the great merit of stating without concealment or softening, the truth of the situation and adding "the very grimness of the figures is the first step towards a more realistic and less unfeeling policy for the country."

The Times adds that it is Sir John Simon's inevitable dilemma that the Chancellor of the Exchequer has done his work well; the less will be available for lending to the country.

The Budget is warmly approved by the Financial Times which says that the Chancellor of the Exchequer has done his work well. The Journal records in the budget proposals from the Government to the world's determination to see the struggle through to the end.

The News Chronicle says that the budget figures will impress the world as to the magnitude of the financial burden and describes the proposal as "a bold and unflinching statement of the situation."

Further criticism comes from the Labour Daily Herald which says that the Budget has done its work well. The News Chronicle thinks that the Chancellor has done his work well by unflinchingly stating the scheme for the well-known.

The Times however says that the House of Commons seemed to regard the news with interest. The Daily Telegraph says that the great majority of people will share the conviction that necessary steps will be taken to ensure that the country is better than it was before the war.

Six Raids in German Air Bases

ANOTHER ATTACK ON SYLT

The Royal Air Force last night carried out six raids on German air bases in Norway, Denmark and the island of Sylt.

Full reports have just been received that our Air Ministry commandos were at their work on Sylt. The Sylt raid was directed against an aerodrome in the centre of the West coast of the island 13 miles from Hornum which, it will be recalled, was bombed six hours one night last month.

Several were dropped in Haagen and curvans, several fires were started, but the raiding party was not seen. North of the island other planes were dropped and the German patrol vessels which opened heavy fire on them. The patrol vessels were immediately attacked and one was destroyed.

Other raids were made on German air bases in Norway and Denmark. The Sylt raid was directed against an aerodrome in the centre of the West coast of the island 13 miles from Hornum which, it will be recalled, was bombed six hours one night last month.

Naval Expert On Hitler's Gamble

Sir Archibald Murray, the well-known naval authority, comments on the significance of the German adventure in Scandinavia as a gamble which is a tremendous risk that the short range use of air power will neutralize heavy superior sea power.

Germany's great misapprehension is that she can win by sea power. Sir Archibold continues: "In particular, the German navy is a force which is intended to mislead the world as to her true strength. It is intended to mislead the world as to her true strength. It is intended to mislead the world as to her true strength."

Sir Archibold continues: "In particular, the German navy is a force which is intended to mislead the world as to her true strength. It is intended to mislead the world as to her true strength. It is intended to mislead the world as to her true strength."

THE BRITISH BUDGET
The Financial Weapon
The British Government is budgeting in the coming financial year for expenditure of £2,667,000,000 of which at least £1,800,000,000 will represent money spent on the conduct of the war, the balance being for the normal services of the nation. Of this staggering total of the national expenditure the Chancellor estimated in his budget speech on Tuesday that about one half, or £1,300,000,000, will be raised by taxation, but that the country will have to find the balance either from war loans or from the invested savings of the people.
Even in terms of the growing expenditure on armaments and defence preparations which preceded the war, this annual expenditure is almost an astronomical figure so far as it conveys anything to the ordinary mind. But one thing is clear. To be supported from the pockets of the public five and a half million pounds a day, whether by taxation or by drawing upon capital available for investment, and to face that prospect for several years is a striking indication of the colossal expenditure of the United Kingdom, the only industrialized country with trade ramifications throughout the world, the United Kingdom, that alone could not support so great an effort. It is only because Britain has behind her the vast empire from which she draws annually a huge income from her invested capital, and because her Government and people have enormous financial resources almost every part of the globe, that she is able to plan war expenditure on an enormous scale. The city of London has behind her the vast empire from which she draws annually a huge income from her invested capital, and because her Government and people have enormous financial resources almost every part of the globe, that she is able to plan war expenditure on an enormous scale. The city of London has behind her the vast empire from which she draws annually a huge income from her invested capital, and because her Government and people have enormous financial resources almost every part of the globe, that she is able to plan war expenditure on an enormous scale.

More War Photographs
April 24.
More war photographs showing the work of the Royal Army and Navy are being made available for publication. Communicated to the Press by the Ministry of Information, it is stated that a number of news photographs taken by some of the women themselves have appeared in Press. An officer with Fleet street experience as a photographer has been specially brought back from France and is now directing the work of the photographers who follow later. In France are also war photographers from the Middle East. (Hinter).

ENCOURAGING REPORTS FROM NORWAY
damaged in Narvik and that the Swedish Government is offering to accept German troops for the purpose of maintaining the civilian population.
The general Allied policy appears to be one of infiltration by a number of landings rather than the concentration of large forces at any one point. It is believed that the Allies have complete control of our troops are being moved from the air.
SAFETY RESTRAINTS
A later report says the Allies are proceeding with their stream of reinforcements along the railway line to Stavanger.
The Germans appear to have made some progress north of Elverum, but the Norwegians are reported to be containing every inch of the ground.

MANDATED TERRITORIES AND NATIONALITY COMMONS QUESTION
In the House of Commons, April 19, Mr. David Anderson, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, was asked by Mr. J. D. Gray, M.P., whether he had any information as to the nationality of the British subjects of the former Union of South Africa, and whether he was not so in some of the Mandated Territories as in the case of Tanganyika. Mr. Anderson replied that the question of nationality was a matter for the courts to decide. He said that he had no information as to the nationality of the British subjects of the former Union of South Africa, and whether he was not so in some of the Mandated Territories as in the case of Tanganyika.

More Volunteers Needed: Gospel of Thrift: Economy in Petrol

Volunteers are urgently needed for East Africa's army. The proper administration of Kenya must be kept secure.

Expenditure on non-essentials should be reduced as much as possible and savings encouraged.

The people of Kenya, and particularly of Nairobi, should assist in economy in the use of petrol.

These were four of the many important points raised in speeches at the annual dinner of the Nairobi branch of the Society of St. George on Tuesday night.

His Excellency the Governor, Sir Henry Moore, dealing with the second said that no operating subject of whatever race were anything but single-minded in their prosecution of the war.

In regard to savings the Governor said that the difficulties of putting War Saving certificates on sale at Post Offices in the Colonies were insuperable.

Government, stated His Excellency, was proposing to overhaul the existing petrol rationing system with a view to reducing consumption more or less to the level originally contemplated.

Britain Does Not Intend To Be Taken Unawares

London, April 15. Italian newspapers are giving pride of place to despatches from Berlin, despatches from London and Paris being relegated to the inside pages. The headlines give the German angle to the exclusion of all others.

Britain does not trust the Italian Government; everything the Allies do in Scandinavia is being misrepresented in Italy. Great Britain and France are depicted as plunged into a state of complete demoralisation.

Britain does not intend to be taken unawares. Perhaps the Italians do believe the "bank" appearing in the Italian press but if they could soon be disillusioned.

...a special effort to attend. He requested the assistance of a Civil Service in the Colonial Office which had selected a suitable post for the Mayor and other dignitaries. He had selected the 2nd Chapter of Edinburgh which began: "We wish this Holy City... and promised that more appropriate changes could be effected on Sunday's arrival."

The toast of the Imperial Forces was proposed by Col. P. R. Moders. He said that he was honored that both the proposing and the receiving toast should be upon soldiers. His friends were working hard for a common end and while the toast of the fighting men was not fallen upon the Royal Navy and the Royal Air Force, and it might have seemed more appropriate to get some of their Services to reply. They had been unable to find a Naval or R.A.F. Officer for the duty.

THE NAVEY

The Navy was a proverbially silent Service and the Royal Air Force probably any of the other services. The great work it had accomplished since the war began.

There was very little that he could say about the Services and those who studied. It was interesting to the B.B.C.'s broadcast probably true in many respects. He recalled the virtues of the G.R.C. and the services which it had rendered. He summarized as "good sport" the fact that advice was given, therefore, that the man and drink to the toast of the Imperial Services.

The time seemed to have arrived for Government to make a clear statement as to the lines on which increased production should proceed. They had the power to do so, but what was needed was the energy, the will, and the organization to do so.

Beyond All Praise

The fact is, indeed, to break the general routine of orders and to give the small African farmer a chance to expand into an army. That army, though little, was good, and it had been a long time since the Government had been so busy as it was in the past.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.

The dramatic moments of the England-Wales Soccer match at Wembley, which was won by Wales on April 13 by 2-0, and was witnessed by 37,000 spectators, came near the conclusion of the preceding periods of play. One minute before the interval, and one minute before the end of the game, the second half of which produced no goals, the referee unexpectedly awarded a penalty kick to England, but Hall shot the ball into the net. The goal, England in general were haphazard throughout the latter part of the game, and from the team play point of view. There was much high-class football played sporadically, but Matthews, the greatest man on the field, was given all too few opportunities. It was undoubtedly the Welshman who played the best football. The Welshmen played at a faster pace and with more cohesion—as if they understood each other's ideas. Derson, their second-best forward in the open, made two excellent chances and Ashley, one who serves to the more Wales were to be complimented side, the support which the English "wing" forwards played to their forwards—Williams playing for Mercer—was inconsistent. In fact, the forwards were not very good.

R.U.F. II BEAT 3rd. K.A.R. Good, Hard Game At Muthaiga

Royal Air Force 2nd XV beat the 3rd King's African Rifles in a Nairobi District Rugby football match on the Muthaiga ground on Sunday evening by 14 points (two tries, five tries) to nil at half-time.

It was a keen and good game and far more even than the score would indicate, the principal factor in the R.A.F. victory being sound scrummaging. Squadron-Leader Maxwell booked very well, and more lively and accurate passing among their three-quarter line.

THE NAIROBI HUNT Hounds Have A Good Morning

Last evening (April 21) hounds met at the main gates of the new Zealand Aerodrome.

A morning hunt turned up, but was not so good as many of the hunts, and hacketed on as the first draw, a large water plantation about a mile on the far side of the aerodrome. Hounds snarl just once in the same wood as that in which they "found", having a very tired buck behind them.
