INDIAN STORES CLOSED IN ABYSSINIA

REGARDED AS CONSULAR AGENCIES FOR BRITAIN

British Comment:

ALLEGATIONS CHARACTERISED
AS RIDICULOUS

[ETHIOPIAN SERVICE'S AGENCY.]
Addis Ababa, March 30.

An official statement regarding the British policy of closing the Addis Ababa Indian stores following the attempt to assassinate Marshal Badami denies that Italian troops fired indiscriminately on them. It says they set fire to native huts, except in those cases where ammunition was found in huts.

ITALIANS EXPELLED

General (Ayda) writing in the "Giornale d'Italia" reveals that the Mohamed Ali chain of stores have been closed and all the Indian employees expelled.

He states that the connection between the British policy of closing of Abyssinia and the Indian organisation of these stores was such that in some cases district branch managers acted as British consular agents.

A London message says the Italian Press allegations with regard to the Mohamed Ali stores are described in British quarters in London as ridiculous.

EXAMINATION OF 100,000 ROAD ACCIDENTS

VALUABLE REPORT PUBLISHED IN BRITAIN

Results of Analysis

[ETHIOPIAN SERVICE'S AGENCY.]
Birmingham, March 31.
A report which has been awaited with much interest by the public authorities and road users, not only in England but abroad as well, was published this morning.

It offers a detailed analysis of the particulars shown in the reports of 100,000 road accidents involving personal injury which occurred during the months April to September 1936, and information is now for the first time available as to the incidence and causes of road accidents involving injuries to persons which did not prove fatal as well as of those in which fatal injuries were avoided. The results of the analysis are given in a series of tables, and among the findings which emerge are the following:

Firstly, the relative severity of accidents in areas not built-up, where speed would normally be higher, and where nearly 20 per cent. of the serious results in death or serious injury, compared with 23.3 per cent. in built-up areas.

Secondly, the high proportion of accidents which occur at junctions—42.2 per cent.

those analysed—especially in built-up areas.

Fourthly, comparative severity of the casualties to motor cyclists are given as severe, one third being either killed or seriously injured.

Fifthly, one third of the accidents analysed show the driver to have been held to be at fault, in 28 per cent. pedestrians, and in 26 per cent. pedal cyclists.

Sixthly, in nearly 8,000 cases, or over 28 per cent. of all the accidents, it was stated that they were held responsible, the accident was ascribed to a child driver seven years old.

The report published today contains "half a million" of the examination of the results of the investigation of transport's recent investigation, and of the present stage of road accidents are attached—British Official Wireless Service.

REV. DR. J. W. ARTHUR
LEAVES KENYA TO-DAY AFTER 30 YEARS' MISSION WORK
Kikuyu 1907-1937

To-day, after thirty years in Kenya, the Rev. Dr. John W. Arthur, O.B.E., M.B.Ch.B., M.D., head of the Church of Scotland Mission, Kikuyu for the past twenty-five years, will leave Nairobi on route for Home, on retirement. He will be accompanied by his daughter, Caroline, and younger son, David. Mrs. Arthur has been his constant helper and colleague in the work at Kikuyu since 1921 and shares in the achievement of her husband.

As His Excellency the Acting Governor, Mr. A. de V. Wode, put it recently, Dr. Arthur will remain a mark of his greatness among the Kikuyu people, a visible memorial of which is the Church of the Torch at Kikuyu, rising in its beauty from among the green lawns that surround it.

Portrait of some eminent citizens could be paid to the man who, with Scottish determination and courage, continued by a high staff and unflinchingly to leave that part of the world in which he lived a fervent and a clear path for his fellow workers with whom he came into contact year after year in his "mission work." On the results of his achievement his name will go down as a memorial.

Running on Roller Bearings this machine maintains full power year after year, staying true and wear, outlasting any other type of electric lighting plant. It is impossible to place a limit on the years of service from this amazing mechanism.

High power-producing efficiency has been achieved in this thoroughly modern plant through years of experimentation and tests. The generator and propeller are particularly perfected for this work.

Simple, internal gears, fully enclosed and running in oil, are used in driving the generator-making possible fast revolutions, and no gear drive to one of the propeller. Thus the propeller speed from light winds can be put to useful work. Turbine-driven generators usually require a great efficiency due to lower speeds. The generator of the Universal Aerolectric is built especially for wind electric service. It makes history-creating plants at lower wind velocities.

This generator has a rigid steel frame, four ball rolls, four main brushes, and a regulating brush which automatically adjusts the charging rate when it has reached its maximum output. The generator is protected against fire. Its operation provides an excellent safety feature. It is protected by the patented V-Block system and a switching fan.

GENERATOR HIGHLY PERFECTED

Adaptations of generators designed originally for other work prove themselves in wind-power operation. The Universal Aerolectric is a not only designed for high efficiency, but is also built to last for the life of the plant. The two-way internal gear wind will never need replacement. Correct in electrical characteristics, and built especially to stand the strain of high speed use, this generator will give years of dependable, uninterrupted service. The type of service which cannot be expected from the generator of any plant built down to a price rather than up to the work it is to perform. The Universal Aerolectric has been designed and built to the job in every detail.

SENSITIVE PROPELLER

The two-bladed, nickel propeller of the Universal Aerolectric is the result of years of experiment with five, three, and four-bladed propellers for this type of work—and is fully covered by Universal-own patents. This type was chosen because it develops the highest speed and greatest power. Its design results in creation of a vacuum behind each blade as the wind pushes against the front. This vacuum pulls the blades in the same direction as the wind pushes, adding force to both the speed and power with which the propeller turns.

Universal propellers are built of thin steel, heat-treated wood. The blades are shaped by hand to precision accuracy. The edges are metal-sharpened for protection. Perfect balance in this propeller insures vibration even at the highest speeds.

The propeller shaft is mounted on Timken roller bearings, adjustable to compensate for wear.

"FOLLOWS" THE WIND

The plant head (generator and propeller) are set into the wind by simply tilting the chain (see illustration) through the operation of a windlass at the base of the tower. The chain then holds the plant head into the wind regardless of direction, the generator rotating instantly and smoothly on a turn table carried by self-aligning ball bearings. Set slightly off-center from the vertical center of the tower, the plant head will automatically hold itself out of the wind the instant it reaches a predetermined high velocity.

PROTECTED, ELECTRICALLY

The collector ring and brushes, which maintain contact with wires leading to the switchboard at the generator revolves, are fully enclosed from moisture and dirt.

The switchboard carries all necessary meters and instruments. The ammeter shows how much current is being put into, or taken from, the battery; the voltmeter shows the voltage of the generator; the ohmmeter shows the resistance of the generator; the ohmmeter shows the resistance of the battery when it is charging and discharging; the voltmeter shows the voltage drop between the generator and the battery when the battery is being charged.

MOUNTING

Driven by the wind, the Aerolectric must be placed to take full advantage of the wind. Near the ground—up to a height of 20 feet—the wind is filled with eddy currents. Universal towers are three feet high to place the plant head 20 feet above ground.

Strong, easily obtained timbers have been designed to hold one Amolectric high—where every possible stress can be brought out to work to serve you, free, with the modern magic of electric power.

UNIVERSAL AEROLECTRICS COST AS LITTLE AS $hs. 325/-

The Model No. 3200 Aerolectric is an absolutely reliable source of electric power for a small number of lamps. It will also charge water and radio batteries. Built like the bigger Aerolectrics in ruggedness, the generator is several times the size of other 6-volt wind generators and is built particularly for wind electric work. Runs on ball bearings in fully enclosed and designed to require no attention once installed. Will charge in winds as low as 5 miles per hour.

Universal 32 volt plant generators are sturdy built, completely enclosed and give years of propeller speeds by hour

All Universal 32 volt plants are equipped with large over-size 14 ft. propellers... perfectly designed and perfectly balanced.

If you will write mentioning your lighting requirements one of our engineers will be able to place before you up-to-the-minute information that will translate your vision of electric light without fuel costs into a reality.

POST OFFICE BONDS INVESTMENT BOARD SCHEME
To the Editor, 'E.A. Standard.'
Sir—As a temporary visitor to Kenya, I have read with much interest an article in your issue of March 19, entitled 'Should Kenya Receive for Development?' by T. J. O'Neil. The article discussed the Colony's national debt.

for looking out for a gradual reduction of existing public debt from a higher to a lower rate of interest, and at the same time increasing the public debt as a whole. The writer has stated that the British Government (Kenya Branch) has limited to the amount of £100,000 the amount of National Savings. It is to be further noted that 'Special' National Savings has been limited in the Total Budget in the Victoria Road Redemption Draw.

Why not benefit State loans by increasing the amount of the small instalment through low priced P.O. bond containing the 'interest element'? The Committee on Premium Bonds approved in 1927, the principle, the French and Swiss banks in their evidence witnessed in the efficacy of premium bonds as a good incentive to thrift, the fact being that it has been limited in the Victoria Road Redemption Draw.

UASIN GISHU CLUB'S RACE MEETING

Selections for To-day's Card at Eldoret

All roads will be leading to Eldoret today when the Uasin Gishu Race Club hold their annual two days' festival. This has always proved a very attractive meeting, the more so by reason of the fact that it takes place during the quietest period of the year.

In two events to-day only the entries have been fixed, but in the others the entries have been quite fair, so that some good racing can be looked for not only this afternoon, but again to-morrow.

The stewards are always looking to the future, and it is with a view to encouraging and reviving interest in the sport that they have framed two very attractive afternoon races for the Eldoret October meeting.

ATHLETIC MEETING AT RUMURUTI

Several Outstanding Performances

A YEARLY FIXTURE

The other race is the October Chase, a handicap for a plate of 40 sows, for four year olds and up, words over 3 furlongs.

Steeplechasing has always been a popular type of race so far as the public are concerned, so that the Uasin Gishu Club's effort to revive and encourage this type of racing is a worthy one, the more so as in recent months these events have filled rather badly.

The two main events this afternoon are the "Eldoret" Handicap and the Uasin Gishu Handicap, both of which have already received fair fields. To-morrow the most important race is the "Eldoret" Cup for which there are eleven runners.

In the course of a telegram yesterday the "Eldoret Standard" correspondent says: "The new course is an excellent condition allowing upon two nights of gentle rain."

The following selections for to-day may prove profitable to all sportsmen.

4th Division Handicap: Old Times. R.A.C.B. Two Year Old Handicap: Chastney.

5th Division Handicap: Marha Arch. Uasin Gishu Handicap: Proctor. Maiden Two Year Old Handicap: Paga.

Two Year Old Handicap: Don Sol.

Two Eldoret Weddings

O'Shea-Thomas

A pretty wedding took place last Monday at Eldoret when Mr. Brandon O'Shea, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. O'Shea was married to Miss Marie Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas. The ceremony was officiated by Rev. Father Hartmann. The bride was dressed in white and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and delphiniums, and the Rev. Father Hartmann performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given away by Mr. W. A. Shaw, was dressed in white and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and delphiniums, and the Rev. Father Hartmann performed the ceremony.

The Johannesburg Winner Married

An interesting wedding took place at St. Mark's Church, Johannesburg, on the 28th inst. when Mr. Daniel Louwrens ("Baby") Engelbrecht was married to Miss Daisy Engelbrecht, "Baby" Engelbrecht's sister. The bride, who was given away by her father, Mr. van der Merwe, was dressed in white and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and delphiniums, and the Rev. Father Hartmann performed the ceremony.

According to the custom of the Dutch Church, the bridegroom was presented to his bride by the pastor, Mr. J. E. Engelbrecht, and the bride was presented to her groom by the pastor, Mr. J. E. Engelbrecht.

The ceremony was performed by Mr. Daniel Hertz who came up from Nakuru. The musical accompaniment was in the capable hands of Mrs. Francis van Hoerdt, and the solemn was satisfactorily performed by Mrs. G. Mathison.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Engelbrecht, where the wedding cake was crowned with the bride and groom. The bride was dressed in white and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and delphiniums, and the Rev. Father Hartmann performed the ceremony.

Amongst the guests who accepted invitations were Mr. R. E. Hancock who acted as Master of the Ceremony. Miss Thomas, the bride's best friend, acted as bridesmaid, and the solemn was satisfactorily performed by Mrs. G. Mathison.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hopley, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. O'Shea, Mr. and Mrs. G. van der Merwe, Mr. C. Thomas, Mr. J. M. Munnell, and other friends.

Diana and Philip Brooke-Popham, children of Kenya's new Governor who arrives in Nairobi next Tuesday. Diana and Philip are coming by the "Madura" this weekend and will therefore reach Nairobi before their parents.

Dainty Maidens in Cotton Evening Frocks

A short time ago, at a dinner in London, there was a display of cotton dresses of the latest fashion. The girls were wearing their favorite frocks. Think of the frock which was made of thin lace, the checks about an inch square. It was made up into an Empire style.

Frost with main chest with thin net lace - made up into an Empire style.

At the same time, a girl with black dress which had a white waist and white and black stripes. The latter style is still popular.

Among the more sophisticated models prepared for a general show to take place shortly, there were, of course, rich and glittering gowns made for Court and other formal occasions, with trains and jewels and fans, and tiaras. The true decoration models made wonderful backgrounds, as it were, for the less striking silks. These were, in the main, of the "Lille" type, an exquisite pale tone of the flower color; "iris blue," a pastel reminiscent of the pale inner petals of the Spanish iris; "Lilac rose," like chertwine; "lilac blue," true to its name.

My Favourite Poem

(Sent in by A.R.F.)

Home home from the horizon far and clear,
Either the soft wings sweep;
Flcks of the memories of the day draw near
The dovecoat cloas of sleep.

Oh, which are they that come through sweetest light
Of all these homing birds?
Your words to me, your words!

ALICE MEYNELL.

Mrs. J. W. Arthur WIFE AND MOTHER

(Mrs. Arthur is the wife of Dr. J. W. Arthur, head of the Church of Scotland Mission in Kenya. They are retiring this week and going to live in Scotland.)

I NEVER feel I am a typical missionary's wife," said Mrs. J. W. Arthur. "My home has always been in Kenya. In our Mission the woman must be well equipped to do her work. There are many things that she has to do to help with the work. I have been able to take classes from time to time in sewing, knitting, cooking and Bible classes, too.

Mrs. Arthur was among the first to teach knitting to the women and girls. The knitting was made from light wire by the women (sometimes in their own homes) and the wool was of the best quality. The wool was of the best quality and the wool was of the best quality.

It has been Mrs. Arthur's habit for some time to look after her husband and their three children, John, Caroline and David. The children have never been left alone. Mrs. Arthur has always been a good mother and a good wife. She has always been a good mother and a good wife.

What is she going to do when they retire? "I shall try to do as much as I can for the people here. I shall try to do as much as I can for the people here. I shall try to do as much as I can for the people here.

She: "Why they're fascinating! So cool and smooth - quite different. They taste even better."

HE: "That's the pleasant surprise, the Maudier's may be a luxury, but they're never expensive. They cost less now."

Within the smoke of the choicest Virginia tobacco is hidden the pure, essential flavour of the leaf. To have set free this natural fragrance, to have released it from all taint and bluish of burning, is the triumph of the du Maurier filter tip. Cooled, made smooth, cleaned of all that could mar its perfection, Virginia tobacco reveals a luscious richness - a charm all the more delightful for being unobtrusive.

TRUCK KILLED IN RAILWAY SMASH

TWO TRAINS COLLIDE ON LONDON VIADUCT

Near Victoria Station

SCENE DESCRIBED AS "A COMPLETE SHAMBLES"

(Reuter and British Official Wireless Service)

A serious railway accident, as a result of which six persons are reported killed, and many suffered injuries, occurred about eight o'clock this morning about a mile outside Victoria station, on the viaduct which spans the main line between South West and England.

Two electrical trains on the Central section of the Southern Railway line were involved, an up train from London for Victoria crashing into the rear of a stationary up train from Peckham Park, which was waiting to be signalled into Battersea Rise Station.

Doctors, nurses and ambulance men were speedily on the scene, and the breakdown gang set to work to free the injured passengers pinned under the wreckage.

TRAFFIC DIVERTED

In consequence of the disaster, it became necessary to divert all traffic, and for some hours no trains were run in or out of Victoria Station on the section of railway affected, which serves the Brighton and South Coast and some of the South and South-Western areas of London.

Eye-witnesses describe the scene as a complete shambles.

Thirty people were injured, some seriously.

EDGE OF VIADUCT

One carriage overturned and lay dangerously on the edge of the viaduct. Passengers had to crawl along narrow ledges to safety. Fortunately the fuses had blown on the electric current, and no one was hurt. Doctors and nurses had a hard time to get the injured to a hospital.

EMPIRE'S CHANCE TO HELP MOTHER COUNTRY

30,000 OVERSEAS PILOTS FOR GREAT AIR RESERVE

Reported Task for Kenya Governor

Plans are being made to form an Imperial Air Force reserve of 30,000 highly-trained young pilots to be drawn from the Dominions.

At the forthcoming Imperial Conference, which will take place in London immediately after the Coronation, the details will be worked out (writes the air correspondent of the "Sunday Chronicle").

Immediately afterwards, in the case of the personnel but every outpost of the Empire, air experts will get down to details and the "Imperial" Air Force will start to take shape.

The draft scheme, which will be presented to the Imperial delegates, suggests that such dominions and territories should form the Air Force Reserve, on similar lines to Britain's.

The young volunteers will be invited to come to Britain for a few months for technical instruction, and the British Government will co-operate not only in the training of the personnel but in the supply of equipment.

Air Marshal Sir Robert Donaldson, who is to advise the South African Government on questions of air defence, and is understood that he is to pay particular attention to Kenya. It is expected to hold up a large air force not only to protect Kenya, but to be able to strike over British Somaliland and Egypt.

Another New Zealand pilot, Singapore will also be among the outstanding contributors to the force.

He discovered a London gang planning to supply British aircraft for the Spanish war—and he denounced them.

A mysterious phone call to his London flat apparently came to his ears when under London to consider an offer for flying a private plane across the Channel.

I was not in the lounge of the "Standard," said Mr. Links, "by three-thirty on the morning of the 1st."

I soon learned to the fact that they were on the old come of getting planes to Spain. No I decided to get all the information I could and then did the game.

Their scheme was for me to go to Gibraltar and pick up a short-span unregistered airplane, name O-ALDS, which had just been repatriated.

Three Rich Spanish

"I was to fly to Bordeaux, clear customs there on the name of a short flight, and make for Santander on the north coast of Spain."

There I was to pick up three Spanish gentlemen who would have been sent to the Government for a big profit, and I should have been left to get back as best I could.

They offered me £200 for the trip, and I persuaded them to raise it to £300. I asked for the money in advance, but they said I should be paid in France. I got a very cold of them, and agreed to do the job.

"It didn't chink that night we drove in a big car to Southend, where they said. I should get Customs facilities for clearing the plane. I gave them the slip for

AIR RAID

Wreckage of People Reported Killed

London, April 7. Several British and other civilians are reported killed in an Insurgent air raid on a town south-west of Bilbao. Sixty or more wounded are in the town hospital. There were two deaths on the day light and another during the evening.

["STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT.]

The scheme of the Insurgents of the Spanish frontiers is now likely to cease into full operation on April 10. British observers have already taken up their posts on the Spanish-Portuguese frontier and similar arrangements in respect of the Franco-Spanish frontier are now being completed.

French Warning

Paris, April 7. It is officially announced that all French warships have been instructed to admit Spanish warships, except on the high seas outside Spanish territorial waters, and to approve, if necessary, French ships on the high seas.

Announcement

"Today a strange walk-out to the door and was met by a group of men, who posed as police inspectors. He said that he was not to be seen, and I say my suspicion of 'them' has been proved."

The announcement adds that no sign of any 'patrol' or 'ambush' by Spanish vessels could be observed in the Bay of Biscay, which is the only object.

A British steamer turned back to Bilbao yesterday after being held up by Insurgent armed vessels this morning, according to the British destroyer 'Cerberus' which will take her to Bilbao by destination.

Died on Way Home

Rome, April 27. The Italian Propaganda Minister, while denying that Italy was sending more soldiers to Spain, spoke of only a few hundred men as the total of Italian troops. Madrid has declared that reports of a big Italian defeat had been exaggerated.

SEA GIVES UP ITS DEAD

Missing Author's Body Found

["STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT.]

A London doctor walking on the beach at Deal, Kent, found the body of Frank Vesper, thirty-seven-year-old actor-playwright, who had fled from the French frontier in Paris in the early part of March 5.

The body had drifted nearly 200 miles from the spot at which Vesper walked out of the station on Miss Mabel Oxford, London beauty queen, never to be seen alive again.

The body was made when found. When Vesper left the party in Paris he was fully dressed.

The dead man was recognized by Dr. Vesper, his father, who was called from London.

The spot at which Vesper's body was washed ashore is only a few miles from Hailuam, where, until a row was on, his father had his practice as a doctor.

"MY WONDERFUL WIFE"

A Husband's Tribute

["STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT.] London.

Here is an extract from the will of Mr. Emanuel Harris Myers, of Hatfield-road, Harrogate.

"I desire to express, so far as I am able, my great gratitude to my dear wife for her cheer, full and unflinching devotion and tender care."

She has been a wonderful help to me, and it is through her that I have learned how self-sacrificing it is possible to be.

Compliments with these attributes I have always had complete confidence in her judgment in matters of business and domestic life.

The joy of such a wonderful understanding between husband and wife has always made me most appreciative of having such a truly loyal companion."

Mr. Myers, a manufacturer, died in London, April 6. He has left £29,000.

A MOTPING TRIP THROUGH AFRICA

Entomologist, lecturer, journalist, film-maker, expert photographer and traveller, M. Skafin has just returned from a motoring trip through Africa with a small Skoda motor car, adding to his marvellous collection of photographs, which now number nearly 7,000, and to his numerous entomological specimens, of which he has sent back to the National Museum of Prague, for whom he is travelling, nearly 80,000 different species. The world of insects comes to his net the peoples that inhabit the various places provide something new for his ever-ready lens. This is the fifth journey of importance that M. Skafin has undertaken. In 1929 he travelled, mostly on foot and alone, through Asia Minor, Palestine and Trans-Jordan, seeing something of the troubled lines on earth; in 1930 he visited the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan; Kenya and Abyssinia, returning on his latter country a gold medal for his work from Haile Selassie himself. In the latter year he assisted in the making of the first film in the Sudan. "Dereba" and the following year was on the steamer "Semlaniya" from London to Mombasa, by way of Zanzibar, by rail and by car, he has covered over 150,000 kilometres, collecting insects and obtaining a unique record of the countries through which he has travelled. In 1934-35 he travelled from Lisbon to West Africa, by sea, rounded down the Congo River to Angola, brought a car to Leopoldville and travelled through the Congo, the Spanish and French Cameroons to the West Coast, interviewing President Tadiy of the Liberian Republic.

The Present Trip. This time M. and Mrs. Skafin left Prague in June 1936 and after travelling through Central Europe, Belgium, Holland, and France sailed from Bordeaux to Dakar, Senegal, the Lake Chad area, the Sudan, French Equatorial Africa, the Belgian Congo and Uganda to Kenya. In a few days they will reach the start for Tanganyika.

ENTERTAINMENTS AT THE WEEK-END

Present and Coming Attractions

Tonight is the last chance of seeing "Night Must Fall" at the "Empire" Theatre, and this play has been produced and well acted. The plot centres in Dan, a young man who is a victim of a woman who lives in the depths of the country and her name is "Lulu". There are moments of keen suspense and moments of tragedy with much to laugh at as well. Lily Post, the celebrated French cabaret singer, appears in a play "I Dream Too Much" showing at the Empire Theatre this week-end. This play is a special matinee to-day at 5.15 p.m. It is a dramatic love story set against a background of opera and musical comedy. Among the musical sequences are the second act of "Lulu" and a musical comedy sequence. In addition Miss Post sings a number of Jerome Kern songs which include the theme song "I Dream Too Much." "What's Past is Best" is being screened at the Capital Theatre, has a background of Egyptian music. Most of the pictures were taken at Randolph Field Station, the largest field station in the world, with a population of more than 5,000 inhabitants dedicated to aviation in all its branches. The cast of the film includes Wallace Berry, Robert Young, Maureen O'Sullivan and Lewis Stone.

Next Week "The Adventurers", a pageant play presented by the Prince of Wales School, will be given at the Empire Theatre on Friday, April 2 and April 3 at 5.15 p.m. As its title suggests, it portrays various incidents in the lives of the nation's great adventurers. The film to be shown next week (include) "Evergreen" at the Empire Theatre on Monday, starting from Monday and Sunday. The film version of the story "The Adventure of the Blue Room" is being shown at the same theatre. The attraction at the Playhouse next week will be "Marie Hall Chorus" in which the "dancer" is Henry Hall's B.C. dance orchestra. It contains five musical stories and sets out to show the effect of Henry Hall's band on "Verichrome" is very sensitive. It is double-counted to get all possible detail in the dark parts of the picture as well as in the light. It has enormous latitude—even if you should give many times the correct exposure, "verichrome" will still bring a perfectly good picture.
