Miss Johnson
The "old war" period has begun. This we may venture to predict. The risk of offending the delicate susceptibilities of the Japanese, whose behavior is as barbarous yesterday. With the tide of the great war, the human history. And already it is the tide of the world that our first duty is to accept. We must be clear and to accept. We must be clear and to accept. "So I'll Wait For The Wild Rose..."

OF COURSE, in a way, an Irishman would not be a "romantic" if he did not have a "wild rose" in his life. He would not be a "romantic" if he did not have a "wild rose" in his life. He would not be a "romantic" if he did not have a "wild rose" in his life.

...the fact that the "wild rose" is a symbol of love and passion. It is a symbol of love and passion. It is a symbol of love and passion. It is a symbol of love and passion.

(Mr. and Mrs. Temple-Boreham after their wedding.)

WEDDING BELLS

Temple-Boreham-Collinge

Sabbath-pink gladiolus, arum lilies, red hot pokers were carried into the Cathedral of the Highlands, Edinburgh, for the wedding of Miss Temple-Boreham, the bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Collinge of Nairobi, and the late Mr. Walter Temple-Boreham of Nigeria.

The bride looked very lovely as she walked up the aisle on the arm of the bridegroom who acted in his proper rôle. Her dress was made of white satin, and she had slipped on white shoes. She was held by her betrothed while they stood before the altar. The bridegroom wore a dark suit with a white shirt and a white necktie.

When the ceremony was over, the bride and groom were seated at a reception table at the Avonmouth Hotel. The bride's mother was a member of the party, and she was seated next to the bride.

Bingham-Smith

A 47-year-old attendant about the person was Miss Dorothy Smith of the A.T.S. was married to George Bingham, M.A. The ceremony was performed at the Cathedral of the Highlands, Edinburgh, on the 19th inst. "Tell me, doctor . . ."

How can 'Dettol' kill germs instantly and yet allow the wound to heal?*

"Dettol" never fails to disinfect between germs and living tissues, although they are so minute that they are invisible to the eye. "Dettol" is three times more deadly to germs than carbolic acid, yet it cleanses the tissue so gently that actual healing is effected in the shortest possible time. Applied to you as a cut or scorch, "Dettol" will prevent the germ infection which would lead to painful poisoning.

"Dettol" is a clean, clear fluid, pleasant to smell, and it does not stain linen. "Dettol" is so easy and safe to use that it is recommended by the Ministry of Health as a disinfectant for use in the home.

"Veritos" Points To "An Obvious Game"

When the late Mr. Veritos, the late Premier of the Colony of Kenya, passed away, he left behind him a vast amount of property, including a large collection of shares in various companies, and a large amount of cash. It is believed that the estate is valued at about £1,000,000. The estate is being administered by the late Mr. Veritos' solicitor, Mr. J. J. O'Brien. Mr. O'Brien has recently issued a statement in which he points out that the estate is being administered in accordance with the wishes of the late Mr. Veritos. He states that the late Mr. Veritos was a man of great wealth and that his estate is being administered in a very efficient manner. He also states that the late Mr. Veritos was a man of great integrity and that his estate is being administered in a very honest manner. This statement has been widely reported in the press and has caused much interest.

Will Britain Cede Bermuda To America?

The American Government has recently announced that it is considering the possibility of purchasing the island of Bermuda from the British Government. The American Government has stated that it is interested in Bermuda because of its strategic location in the Western Hemisphere. The American Government has also stated that it is willing to pay a large sum of money for the island. The British Government has not yet responded to the American offer. It is believed that the British Government will not accept the offer because Bermuda is an important part of the British Empire. Bermuda is a self-governing colony and has a long history of independence. It is also a major center of trade and commerce in the Caribbean. The British Government has a strong interest in maintaining Bermuda as a part of the Empire. It is believed that the British Government will not accept the American offer.

20,000 Cases Of Flu For Britain

A recent report from the Health Ministry in London states that there are expected to be 20,000 cases of influenza in Britain this year. The report is based on a survey of influenza cases in various parts of the country. The Health Ministry has stated that the number of cases is expected to be higher than in previous years because of the large number of people who have returned from abroad. It is also expected that the number of cases will be higher because of the large number of people who have been in contact with each other in the large cities. The Health Ministry has advised that people should take steps to prevent the spread of influenza. This includes avoiding crowded places, wearing a mask, and washing hands frequently. It also advises that people should get vaccinated against influenza.

MANY ASKARI WISH TO JOIN THE BRITISH LEGION

Eager Response To Formation Of African Section

A large number of African soldiers in the British Army have expressed their desire to join the British Legion. This is particularly true of those soldiers who have served in the front lines during the war. They have seen the need for a home for disabled soldiers and for a way to help them in their civilian lives. The British Legion has been successful in recruiting many new members and has been able to provide a wide range of services to its members. It has been able to help members find employment, provide financial assistance, and provide a place where they can meet and talk to other members. The formation of an African section of the British Legion has been a success. Many African soldiers have joined and are now receiving the services and support that they need. It is believed that more African soldiers will join the British Legion in the future.

Terrible Indictment Of The Japs At Singapore

Prisoners Tell Of Torture And Beatings

British and Indian troops who were taken over by the Japanese during the occupation of Singapore have given a terrible indictment of the way in which they were treated. The prisoners have told of being beaten, tortured, and starved. They have also told of being forced to work long hours and of being subjected to other forms of punishment. The prisoners have also told of being treated as slaves and of being used for forced labor. The Japanese have also told of being subjected to other forms of punishment. The prisoners have also told of being treated as slaves and of being used for forced labor. The Japanese have also told of being subjected to other forms of punishment. The prisoners have also told of being treated as slaves and of being used for forced labor.

Factors Affecting Release

The factors which affect the release of prisoners of war are many and varied. These include the number of prisoners, the location of the prisoners, the political situation, and the military situation. The number of prisoners is a major factor because the more prisoners there are, the more difficult it is to transport them. The location of the prisoners is also important because it affects the cost of transport. The political situation is also important because it affects the willingness of the government to release prisoners. The military situation is also important because it affects the need for prisoners. These factors all affect the release of prisoners and must be taken into account when making decisions about release.

To Thrash Out Problems Of Peace

The United Nations Conference on International Law is currently meeting in London. The purpose of the conference is to discuss the problems of peace and to find ways to solve them. The conference is being held at a time when the world is still recovering from the effects of the war. It is important that the world find ways to prevent another war from breaking out. The conference will discuss a wide range of issues, including disarmament, human rights, and the role of the United Nations. It is hoped that the conference will be successful in finding solutions to the world's problems.

Women's Contribution To Britain's War Effort

Women have made a significant contribution to Britain's war effort. They have worked in factories, on farms, and in the military. They have also worked in the home, taking care of the children and the household. Women have also worked in the medical services, serving as nurses and medical assistants. Women have also worked in the civil service, helping to run the government. Women have also worked in the arts and sciences, contributing to the war effort in many other ways. Women's contribution to the war effort has been essential and has helped Britain win the war.

Spanish Comment On Tanager Decision

The Spanish Government has commented on the decision of the United Nations Security Council regarding the Tanager Islands. The Security Council has decided that the Tanager Islands should be returned to the United Kingdom. The Spanish Government has stated that it is disappointed with this decision. It believes that the Tanager Islands should remain under Spanish sovereignty. The Spanish Government has also stated that it will continue to work for a peaceful resolution of the dispute. It is believed that the Spanish Government will continue to oppose the decision of the Security Council.

Import Control Ends In The Union Today

Import control in the United Kingdom has ended today. This means that there will be no restrictions on the import of goods from other countries. This is a significant development because it will allow for a greater flow of goods and services between the United Kingdom and other countries. This will also help to reduce the cost of goods and services in the United Kingdom. This is a welcome development for the United Kingdom and for other countries.

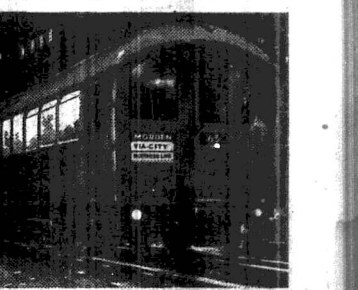

How Wages Have Increased In Britain

Wages in Britain have increased significantly since the start of the war. This is due to a number of factors, including the need for more workers, the shortage of goods, and the government's policy of wage control. Wages have increased in many different ways, including through the payment of bonuses, overtime, and other benefits. This has helped to improve the standard of living in Britain and has helped to encourage workers to work longer hours. This is a positive development for the United Kingdom.

It Is Brains And More That Count

The Department of Education has announced that it is planning to increase the number of students who study science and mathematics in schools. This is because the Department believes that these subjects are essential for the development of a modern society. The Department has also announced that it is planning to increase the number of teachers who teach science and mathematics. This will help to ensure that there are enough qualified teachers to teach these subjects. This is a positive development for the United Kingdom.

G.E.C. always in the forefront of electrical progress

G.E.C. electric traction equipment for railway, tramway and trolleybus systems has helped to achieve, both in peace and war, many proved records of service by public transport undertakings in Great Britain and overseas. When the outbreak of war brought manifold problems of urgent and phenomenal operations, the experience accumulated in the days of pre-war development was put to the test in the most exacting conditions. The G.E.C.—the largest British electrical manufacturing organization in the Empire—has devoted its entire technical and manufacturing resources to the war effort. American engineers have been in close application of electricity, including the important use of electronics, and when space means developments will be of the greatest value to all concerned with reconstruction in any part of the world.
