NEWS BLACKOUT ON RHODESIA TALKS

No statement likely before Monday

Standard Staff Reporter London.
A complete news blackout on the British vanguard Tiger, making towards an unknown destination in the Mediterranean, was the statement on the confrontation between the Prime Minister, Mr. Wilson, and the Rhodesian régime's leader, Mr. Smith, is not expected before Monday evening.
Mr. Smith, the Rhodesian Governor, Sir Humphrey Gibbs, and the Chief Justice, Sir Hugh Beadle, joined Mr. Wilson aboard the cruiser at Gibraltar in the early hours of yesterday morning. Under the cloak of strict security, the two leaders flew into the colony for talks aimed at settling the Rhodesian independence problem.
After going aboard the warship, Mr. Wilson and Mr. Smith had a brief welcoming talk, and then retired for the night. H.M.S. Tiger sailed for an unbroken destination—thought likely to be Malta—at 7 a.m.

SAFETY GUARANTEED

British officials said that the extraordinary precautions and the decision to head the talks aboard a cruiser had two aims. They would guarantee Mr. Smith's safety; they would enable the talks to go ahead far from political pressure and from intensive coverage by Press, radio and television.
Mr. Wilson is expected to report on the outcome of his talks to the House of Commons on Monday evening. Should the talks succeed, there will be a debate on Wednesday. The same time the Government will have published a White Paper.

It is now being said that the talks are being held in a safe area of the sea, and that the cruiser will be escorted by a fleet of British warships. It is also said that the talks will be held in a secure area of the sea, and that the cruiser will be escorted by a fleet of British warships.

CRITICISM FROM SALISBURY

MR SMITH'S handling of negotiations with Mr. Wilson was criticised in Salisbury yesterday by the leader of the African Opposition in Rhodesia's Parliament.
The leader of the United People's Party Mr. Joshua Nkomo said: "The Rhodesian régime, which affects all Rhodesians, must accept on the part of the Government the need for a complete and total withdrawal of its troops from Rhodesia."
He suggested that the Rhodesian régime should accept on the part of the Government the need for a complete and total withdrawal of its troops from Rhodesia.

E.A. CURRENCY PROBLEMS TO BE DISCUSSED

REPRESENTATIVES of the three Central Banks of East Africa are to meet in Nairobi next week to discuss currency problems arising from the introduction of separate currencies. The Kenya Minister for Finance, Mr. Gichuru, said yesterday.
The group, consisting of the House of Representatives during the adjournment of the East African Council, will be led by Mr. J. M. Shikuku (Kenya), Minister for Finance. Mr. Gichuru said that the meeting would be held in a position to issue a common statement.

Rejection order to post offices

POST offices throughout East Africa will accept only the currency of their own country while they remain legal tender. East African currency notes, a statement from the East African Posts and Telecommunications Administration said yesterday.
The statement said that the notes of the other two countries would not be accepted. It said that the notes of the other two countries would not be accepted.

MAN CHARGED WITH V.S.O.'S MURDER

HAMBURGTON James Adams, 21, an employee at the Government Medical Research Laboratory, Nairobi, appeared in court yesterday charged with the murder of a V.S.O. worker. Miss Alison Smith, No. 10, Nairobi, was named as the victim. She was found dead in her room at the Government Medical Research Laboratory, Nairobi, on December 1, 1966. Adams was arrested on December 2, 1966, and is being held in custody at the Government Medical Research Laboratory, Nairobi.

U.S. planes blast Hanoi's outskirts

UNITED States Navy planes yesterday bombed an area of North Vietnam within five miles of the centre of Hanoi—the nearest to the North Vietnamese capital since June.
A U.S. military spokesman said he could not confirm reports that air-ground missiles were used in the strikes, but planes often carry missiles on raids over North Vietnam. Five flights of A-4 Skyhawks and F-4 Crusaders blasted a vehicle park.

The only previous bombing raid in the Hanoi area was in the main lanes had struck about three and a half miles from the city centre. These were said to be immediately available of damage caused in yesterday's raid.
In Saigon, South Vietnamese authorities announced yesterday that they had found a Vietcong base on the edge of Saigon's new river port with half a ton of explosives in it.

Acted on a tip-off Acting on information from local inhabitants in Thanh Dien base, Government officials were charged in a riverbank near Hanoi. The base was about five miles from the city centre. The base was about five miles from the city centre.

School children must be honest about fees

...to keep the teacher from taking money but also to keep the school from taking money from the parents. It is in this honesty, the honesty of the school, that the honesty of the child is to be found. It is in this honesty that the honesty of the school is to be found.

In the former European schools, all communitarian schools were operated on the parents, but in African schools this was seldom possible.

The responsibility of a great country for her many poor must be met, and the responsibility of a great country for her many poor must be met, and the responsibility of a great country for her many poor must be met.

RUSSIANS RE-APPRAISE STALIN

Limited respectability for man whom Kruschchev branded as a murderer

The Soviet dictator was glorified as a hero of a historical epoch, in the days when he was regaining a semblance of respectability in the West after his belated re-appearing in history.

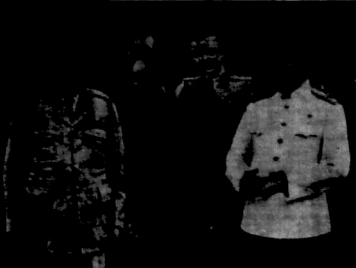

He is called for about as much as the names of the great conquerors of the past were called for. He is called for as the man who has brought about a new look at the world, and the role of the Communist Party in it. He is called for as the man who has brought about a new look at the world, and the role of the Communist Party in it.

...of the Soviet Union, the first in the history of the world to have a woman as its leader, and the first to have a woman as its premier. It is a great achievement for a woman to lead a great nation, and it is a great achievement for a woman to be premier of the Soviet Union.

...of the Soviet Union, the first in the history of the world to have a woman as its leader, and the first to have a woman as its premier. It is a great achievement for a woman to lead a great nation, and it is a great achievement for a woman to be premier of the Soviet Union.

SOVIET COLLEGES FACE BULGE

Soviet universities admitted the most brilliant batch of school boys in an ever-recorded number of the beginning of the current year.

Some 1,200,000 youngsters will be entering college in the autumn of 1956, when only 1,000,000 were admitted last year.

There is no school leaving examination, and no machine-made tests to be taken by the candidates.

Successful season completed in commercial football

High tribute to the discipline of the 22 clubs in last year's Coast Commercial and Services Football League was paid by the league's president, Mr. Gerry Conway, in his annual report at the December Social Ball last week. Mr. Conway and they were very proud that discipline was better last season than in 1965 and there was not a single meeting of the disciplinary committee. Mr. Conway said no player had been sent to prison last year and the league's staff was a great success. The league, which is affiliated to the International Football Association and the F.A. of Kenya, as well as to the Sports and Recreation Commission, organizes a football competition during the first half of the year.

Mr. Conway said that there is no doubt that at present the football world of Kenya and other areas are enjoying a period of peace and stability. He said that more than 100,000 people in the Kenya Football League.

PROGRESS OF JUDO RAPID

JUDO has become a very popular sport throughout the world. It is now recognized as an Olympic sport and was first included as an event in the 1964 Summer Olympics in Tokyo, Kenya has a promising and progressive club in the Nairobi Judo Club at Wilson Airport and has a good chance of participating in international judo meetings and activities.

What has made judo so popular in Kenya is the fact that it is a sport that can be played by people of all ages and in all climates. It is a sport that is both physically and mentally demanding, and it is a sport that is both individual and team-oriented.

World records could go in Australia

NAPTALI YEMU, Kenya's dominant runner, is important to each of the three athletes, who are being trained hard and are confident. Yemu, who won the world in Jamaica last August by beating the American, Ken Clarke, into first place in the six miles, will again be meeting him in four months from December 8 to December 11.

Yemu has a lot to live up to. It was thought Clarke could not be beaten over six miles to regain his former status by beating Yemu. The Kenyan, on the other hand, has to remain at the top at present and as the best try, and remain there.

LEAGUE MATCHES ALTERED

THE executive committee of the Kenya National Football League has decided to alter the fixtures of the Oginga Odinga Cup to be played in Nairobi, Mombasa and Kisumu Hot Stars.

It was announced at a meeting held at the club house of the Kenya Amateur Athletic Association, which was held on December 20, that the fixtures of the Oginga Odinga Cup would be altered to take place in Nairobi, Mombasa and Kisumu Hot Stars.

RODESIA HEADLOCK MAY END TODAY

Readers agree on working document'

British Cabinet last night accepted a draft document which could break the deadlock in the Rhodesia independence crisis, it was officially announced.

A statement from 10 Downing Street said: "After listening to a comprehensive report from the Prime Minister, the Commonwealth Secretary and the Attorney-General on their discussions with Mr. Smith in H.M.S. Tiger, the Cabinet fully endorsed the course of a working document."

Political observers said this meant the British Government had formally approved the entire Rhodesian proposals about 15 hours before the deadline set for both sides. An answer from Mr. Smith has been asked for by 10:30 G.M.T. today.

The British Prime Minister, Mr. Wilson, flew on his return to London yesterday that he and Mr. Smith had largely agreed on the terms of the document.

Silence on Salisbury reaction

The British cruiser H.M.S. Tiger arrived back in Gibraltar on Saturday with the two leaders aboard and Mr. Smith was in Salisbury in the early hours of yesterday morning.

Mr. Wilson maintained silence on the outcome of the talks until he arrived in London. He said there that he saw no reason why the document should not be accepted as it had been intended to provide for Rhodesia's independence, which he said was a matter of internal Rhodesian politics.

SITUATION FLUID - Dr. KARANJA

Commonwealth African diplomats were somewhat suspicious of the "working document" agreed by British and Rhodesian leaders and inclined yesterday to reserve judgement until after the deadline today.

Kenya's High Commissioner, Mr. Kenyan, said the situation at Salisbury was still very fluid and it would be difficult to say anything at the moment.

It was the most important thing that came out of the meeting of the British Commonwealth Ministers in London last night. Mr. Wilson said that he had been very much impressed by the agreement and that he would be glad to see it put into effect as soon as possible.

SAIGON BASE STORMED BY VIETCONG

VIETCONG guerrillas, clad in black pyjama-style uniforms, broke through the defences of the tightly guarded Saigon Air Base yesterday. While a squad of 30 guerrillas fought their way to the main runway, supporting mortar or rocket fire seriously damaged two aircraft.

It was the Vietcong's first air base to be captured, and it was a major victory for them. The Vietcong leader, Nguyen Huu Chinh, said he had ordered his forces to capture the base and to destroy the aircraft on the runway.

Landslides threaten Italian villages

ITALY's lands flooded yesterday with the rivers overflowing by recent heavy rains threatened to engulf several villages in the South.

At least 100 villages in the South are threatened by landslides. The situation is very serious and the government has ordered that the affected areas be evacuated as soon as possible.

PRINCE GOING TO CAMBRIDGE

The Prince of Wales is expected to visit Cambridge University in the near future. The visit is expected to be a major event and will be attended by a large number of people.

POOD DROPPED TO STRANDED CARS

Travellers find it so hard to find a car to hire in the city. The situation is very serious and the government has ordered that the affected areas be evacuated as soon as possible.

Cheaper air fares for tourists

REDUCTIONS in fares for "all inclusive" tours arranged by travel agents in Africa and the Middle East have been announced by the International Air Transport Association, meeting in Rome.

An IATA traffic conference which ended at the weekend also decided to allow member airlines to grant a reduction of about 30 per cent in prices for charter flights for sports groups, previously granted only by non-IATA members.

NO 'SECRET' COURTS

There will be widespread satisfaction at the news that the Government has decided to withdraw its proposal to set up a special court for political offenders. The original decree seemed to have been a rather drastic one, and it was feared that it would have done much to harm the image of Zanzibar's parent country, Tanzania.

The court, stated to have to sit in secret chambers, with imprisonment and flogging, and it drew those accused before it the right to legal representation was rightly demanded as tantamount to the barbaric practices of the Spanish Inquisition.

At the time no official comment was forthcoming from the Central Government and it may be concluded that it is reliably understood that the decree setting up the court was in Zanzibar without consultation with the Tanzania Government, and that it caused considerable concern on the mainland.

It may therefore be assumed that the moderating influence of President Nyerere has been seen at work, leading to the weekend announcement suspending the decree. The decision will be received with relief and gratitude by all who value Tanzania's good name. The decree has so far merely been 'postponed', but this may prove to be a diplomatic half-way stage.

When the whole matter has been thrashed out between the Zanzibar authorities and the Central Government, as it should have been in the first place, the plan for secret inquisitions will doubtless be dropped altogether. No trust to national security, real or imaginary, could justify it.

Some questions remain to be answered. The decree, when announced, was said to have been backdated to May 1, though no explanation for this was given. The latest assumption was that it was to give some dubious justification for action already taken by a special 'court'. If so, this should be made public and, if possible (that it may not be possible is a chilling thought) those dealt with under the retroactive provision should be given a fair and open trial.

Justice in Zanzibar should be integrated with that of the mainland wherever it may be deemed expedient, as decided by President Nyerere in taking steps to see that the same Ministers would be appointed to the Government of the credit for seeing reason and thinking again.

Confusion on deportations

FURTHER REPORTS from Tanzania dated the weekend have said more deportations of Kenyans, though in some cases it is suggested that, after being tried, those taken over of a plantation in the Arabai District, those arrested returned in Kenya voluntarily rather than sent elsewhere in Tanzania. There is a good deal of confusion over this matter, which has been clarified as follows.

It is clear that the Government has decided to clear up quickly in the land the problem of deporting foreign nationals who are in the country in breach of immigration laws. This has been done in East Africa with varying degrees of success. For instance, there are 100 in all these countries among the inhabitants of the island of Pemba, Tanzania, but only 20 in all. In no case do exact figures appear to be available to the public.

It was the case of the Mwana deportations, a Tanzania Government source has said that some people were fined to be without the necessary permits and also that bargainers in the town were attributed to them. These reasons — which were given prominence in this newspaper along with the fact that some of the deportees were of the same nationality — do not amount to a full and clear explanation. It is true that some of the details have been given of the reasons Tanzania citizens in Kenya were being deported. With this in mind, one does not expect regulations to be enforced too strictly.

PLEA FOR CHEERFUL SERVICE AT THE POST OFFICE

I WENT to the post office to send a telegram money order and look care to read the signs hanging over the clerks on the counters. At last I saw one marked "Money Order".

I went to the queue and waited. When I came to the counter, I asked for a money order and was told that I should have a stamp. Then I went back and bought a stamp. I then went to the counter and asked for the form with the money order. I was told that I should have a stamp. I then went to the counter and asked for the form with the money order. I was told that I should have a stamp.

I looked at the board above me and saw that I had made a mistake. I had put the stamp on the wrong side. I then went to the counter and asked for the form with the money order. # Racial integration progressing in Kenya's schools

Kenya's leading schools was progressing rapidly despite a warning of a possible reversion of the status quo at speech days during the week-end. Two of the Ministers, Mr. Nyagah (Education) and Mr. Nyayaya, President's Office, spoke at Nairobi School, President's Office, boys from 24 countries were pupils and Mr. Nyayaya said that the many changes at Nairobi were reflected in the country at large. Speaking at Kioko Secondary School, the Minister for Economic Planning and Development, Mr. Mwangi, drew many facts and stressed the need for teachers at all levels, and technicians in all categories, of nurses, hospital drivers and surgeons.

HAMISI SHOWS CLASS

FRANCIS HAMISI, the Kenya Police light-heavyweight champion, represented Kenya at the Commonwealth Games in Rangoon, retaining his title on Saturday evening at the Kenya Police championships with a sparkling points win over Amis.

Hamisi landed only one score combination from seven attempts and showed that he has better skills than the Japanese. He was not overly difficult to defend against, and he had to settle for only half his points possible.

Previous titles have emerged from the championships and the Kenyan Police champion was the exception of James and Mwanuzi, both light-middleweights, a tough combat in which Mwanuzi was two points up, but Amis held on to win the first round.

He proved to be a victim of his own power and had to settle before his routine.

'Fight will go on' says Mr. Smith

RODESIA SPURNS LAST CHANCE

Emergency Cabinet called in London

RODESIA's rebel régime last night defied the British Government by rejecting proposals for a settlement of the independence crisis contained in the "working document" drawn up after Mr. Smith had met Britain's Premier, Mr. Wilson, aboard his Tiger at the weekend.

When the dramatic decision in Salisbury became known in London, Mr. Wilson called a meeting of senior Cabinet Ministers. He delayed his statement on Rhodesia to Parliament until late last night and postponed until today his television broadcast to the nation.

Immediately after Mr. Smith had announced that he would send his Cabinet's rejection of the ultimatum to Mr. Wilson he led cheering crowds outside his office in Salisbury. The fight goes on.

Proposals 'repugnant'

He explained that he and his colleagues were prepared to accept constitutional proposals which fulfilled Britain's general principles as a basis for a Constitution for an independent Rhodesia. But Mr. Wilson's proposals, he went on, were repugnant because they involved control of the armed forces.

He refused to accept some of the proposals which he described as "surrender and submission of power". Later it was learned that the proposals he referred to required the return to England of the Rhodesian Government and the control of the armed forces under the Governor of Hampshire.

Mr. Smith said he and his colleagues had given a "No" vote to the proposals. He said that the proposals were repugnant because they involved control of the armed forces. He said that the proposals were repugnant because they involved control of the armed forces.

Plans for mandatory sanctions go ahead

An emergency meeting of senior British Ministers called in London last night by Mr. Wilson soon after he had heard of the Rhodesian rejection of his "package plan".

Mr. Wilson received the official information of the Salisbury message from the hand of the British Minister in Salisbury, Mr. James Callaghan.

According to the Minister attending the Cabinet meeting, Mr. Wilson said that he had heard of the Rhodesian rejection of his "package plan".

At Jack Wright of Harrold with the Chairman of the Harrold Farmers' Club, Mr. Wright, who has been appointed to the Harrold Farmers' Club, is seen here with the Chairman of the Harrold Farmers' Club, Mr. Wright.

The end column

HUNDREDS of cheering students mobbed the Soviet Prime Minister, Mr. Kossygin, yesterday when he visited the Science Faculty of the University of Tbilisi. The visit of 42-year-old Mr. Kossygin, who has been appointed to the Science Faculty of the University of Tbilisi, is seen here with the Chairman of the Harrold Farmers' Club, Mr. Wright.

LATEST NEWS

Reports from Salisbury that Mr. Wilson's proposals were repugnant because they involved control of the armed forces.

In London, Mr. Wilson said the House of Commons would be asked to approve the proposals. He said that the proposals were repugnant because they involved control of the armed forces.

FULFILMENT OF PLAN WILL NEED MORE AID

UNLESS aid is increased five times over the current provision, average incomes in Kenya, Tanzania and Uganda will not reach £20 by 1967. This is emphasized in a report by the British National Institute of Economic and Social Research.

The report says that the current provision of aid is insufficient to meet the needs of the countries. It says that the countries need more aid to reach their goal.

New States must have good management

Efforts to improve management in developing countries would have to progress in a "fair wind" if they were to succeed, the principal of Britain's administrative staff college, Mr. Martin, said.

Mr. Bates was speaking at the second annual meeting of the East African Management Foundation, incorporating the Kenya, Tanzania and Uganda institutes of management, at the Sheraton Hotel, Nairobi, last night.

Referring to the East African States, Mr. Bates, who is principal of Heriotes-Thames Administrative Institute, said such institutions took a long time to mature, but it was worthwhile in the end.

He hoped the Kenya Institute would have a cordial relationship with the other East African institutes because cordiality was essential to the future of Kenya's institutions.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED

They should co-operate and help each other grow the organization for establishing an examinations programme which was the right course to take.

Mr. Bates said management development was concerned with current and future problems including the finding and development of men and women whose quality should be sufficient to meet the needs of planning.

AFRO-ASIANS TO SEEK SANCTIONS TOMORROW

Afro-Asians likely to demand oil embargo

BRITISH plans for United Nations aid in bringing down the illegal Rhodesian régime through offer economic sanctions, and a meeting put into effect last night — 24 hours after the minority Rhodesian cabinet had rejected the compromise plan for a return to constitutional government.

The Foreign Secretary, Mr. Brown, was due to fly to New York to put Britain's case at a meeting of the U.N. Security Council tomorrow for mandatory selective sanctions to be made effective through the world body.

It is understood that Rhodesian export commodities such as tobacco, beef, sugar, sheep, copper, chromium and other minerals are involved. One of the major points of dispute on the Security Council is expected to be over the Afro-Asian group demand that mandatory sanctions should include oil. It is not clear whether the U.N. will be asked to demand that the Commonwealth States Committee in London that Rhodesian would not use the veto against any resolution as an embargo on their 'all in power'.

Done 'all in power'

It was said today that the British Government was willing to discuss the possibility of a general oil embargo on Rhodesia with the aim of forcing the Rhodesian régime to accept a return to constitutional government. ### U.K. POLICY TO SPREAD TRADE WAR IN SOUTHERN AFRICA

BRITAIN'S Cabinet yesterday agreed moves to ensure that a worldwide compulsory economic sanctions against Rhodesia do not involve Britain in a showdown with the whole of Southern Africa. Well-informed sources said the Prime Minister, Mr. Wilson, believed he had a formula which would guarantee that Britain alone would decide her limits to suffer sanctions against the South's régime. The Prime Minister made it plain to Parliament on Monday night that, come what may, he is determined to insist that Rhodesia to involve Britain in a trade war with South Africa, to their bloody trading partners.

An exact amount is not to be whether or not oil is included in the restrictions on the United Nations Security Council. The United Nations Security Council, which is understood to be a trade embargo on Rhodesia, is expected to be approved by the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Brown, on Monday night.

Other dangers of the British Government's policy are the possibility of a trade embargo on Rhodesia, which is understood to be a trade embargo on Rhodesia, is expected to be approved by the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Brown, on Monday night.

At present Britain will have the Security Council's authority to prevent Rhodesia from receiving any aid from the United Nations. The United Nations Security Council, which is understood to be a trade embargo on Rhodesia, is expected to be approved by the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Brown, on Monday night.

Delegates began talks on strategy

The President of the United Nations Security Council yesterday withdrew a decision to approve the U.N. to consider British proposal to apply mandatory sanctions against Rhodesia.

However, instead, a decision was made to refer the matter to the Security Council on Monday.

Lord Cogan, the resident British ambassador in London, said that the British Government was willing to discuss the possibility of a general oil embargo on Rhodesia with the aim of forcing the Rhodesian régime to accept a return to constitutional government.

It is understood that Rhodesian export commodities such as tobacco, beef, sugar, sheep, copper, chromium and other minerals are involved. One of the major points of dispute on the Security Council is expected to be over the Afro-Asian group demand that mandatory sanctions should include oil.

OFFICERS FIRE ON MUTINIOUS CHINESE CREW

MUTINIOUS Chinese seamen were repelled with gunfire by officers of the Dutch freighter Sriwijaya today when they tried to storm the captain's cabin and crew quarters.

The Sriwijaya was on a voyage from Singapore to the Netherlands. The mutiny broke out on Monday night when a group of Chinese seamen, led by a former crew member, tried to take control of the ship.

The mutiny was suppressed by the crew and the captain's party. The mutineers were fired upon and some were wounded. The ship is now en route to the Netherlands.

Oils steady: Slight falls in tobacco

THE failure of the Rhodesia market after last week's little apparent effect on early dealings on the London Stock Market yesterday, by noon the market seemed to have settled down at a little above the lowest levels quoted earlier.

The Financial Times soon said the drop is a point higher than the opening index. Declines reported little or no selling, but a great deal of buying of Treasury and just a number of buying orders for "cheap" lines. Falls in tobacco, but a great many were on account of the fact that the market was slightly down 1/2 of a point. It was noted that the market was slightly down 1/2 of a point. It was noted that the market was slightly down 1/2 of a point. It was noted that the market was slightly down 1/2 of a point.

Traders may pay G.P.T. on net and not gross incomes

SHOP-KEEPERS and other traders who in future have their assessments for graduated personal tax based on their net incomes and not on their gross earnings in House of Representatives yesterday.

Mr. Ogino was the initiator for the debate on the Graduated Personal Tax Bill which was passed through Third Reading after strong opposition from a number of Members, notably Mr. A. B. Shikuku (Kang'wa - Putei) and Mr. S. M. Njoroge (Kisumu).

Replying to criticism of the graduated personal tax system, the Minister said that during a meeting he attended in Addis Ababa this year delegates from many countries appreciated the problem facing the country and that it was necessary to have a system of graduated personal tax which would be able to pay the matter as they would have a say in the same way they do with income tax.

During the committee stage of the Bill, the Minister for Economic Planning and Development, Mr. Mwangi, said the Government had declared its intention to increase the minimum age of relieving from graduated personal tax people who earned less than £120 a year, but the present condition made this impossible.

The Minister said the exemption of this category of people could only come with economic development and growth. If everyone earning £120 a year was exempted, there would be very few people left to pay tax and it would be impossible for the Government to provide the country with necessary services.

Presenting what Kenya's per capita income was between £20 and £30, Mr. Mwangi said that the Government should get the best of the tax system and ensure that it was not too heavy. He said that the Government should get the best of the tax system and ensure that it was not too heavy.

Plan for African Ministers opposed

By Philip H. Kees
 The plan for African Ministers, which was announced last week, has met with a strong opposition in the Commonwealth. The plan, which was announced by the Prime Minister, Mr. Churchill, was to send a group of African Ministers to London to discuss the future of the African territories. The plan was opposed by the Conservative Party, the Labour Party, and the Liberal Party. The opposition was based on the fact that the plan would give the African Ministers a vote in the House of Commons, which would give them a powerful voice in the government. The opposition also argued that the plan would be a step towards the independence of the African territories, which would be a major change in the Commonwealth. The plan was eventually rejected by the House of Commons.

COMMONWEALTH 'NEARLY CAME TO AN END'

Mr. Wilson said a strong likelihood of a split in the Commonwealth was averted only after a long struggle. He said that the Commonwealth was in a state of crisis, and that the only way to save it was to bring the African Ministers to London. He said that the Commonwealth was a unique organization, and that it was essential to the world's peace and stability. He said that the Commonwealth was a family, and that it was essential to the world's unity. He said that the Commonwealth was a source of strength and inspiration, and that it was essential to the world's progress. He said that the Commonwealth was a symbol of hope and faith, and that it was essential to the world's future.

Rex Harrison learns to ride a rhino

By a Hollywood Correspondent
THE British actor Rex Harrison has been learning to work with animals for the first time in the role of a doctor ministering to animals after turning his back on the human world.

The actor made difficulty with a serpent which was to be tamed and later became completely after a week of close-up work. The rhino was a real test for the actor and he taught his horse to ride a rhino just in time for the film.

It was very nervous actually, but I added it was a bit more in the end. I was very nervous actually, but I added it was a bit more in the end. I was very nervous actually, but I added it was a bit more in the end.

Non-Africans to lose stalls in Nairobi market

City Council last night decided to give three months' notice to non-African stall-holders in the City Market to vacate their stalls. The move was to "accelerate the Africanisation of the City Market."

The chairman of the council's Social Services and Housing Committee, Mr. Y. A. Muthiga, announced a resolution by his committee that council officers should be authorised to invite applications from suitable Africans for the tenancies of such stalls.

Another resolution by the committee stated that an application should be made to the appropriate Ministry for a loan of £200,000 to be used by the council in helping to finance the stalls.

The committee's minutes said that in a circular letter to the Ministry of Local Government, all local authorities municipal markets was being started by non-African stall-holders who were able to adopt a deliberate policy of making those stalls occupied by non-Africans in view of their large capital resources.

CITIZENS NOT PRECLUDED

The Ministry had stated to know what steps the council was taking to Africanise or localise the markets. A further letter to the council had asked the authorities to adopt a deliberate policy of making those stalls occupied by non-Africans vacant for occupation by Africans.

Mr. Mohamedani unsuccessfully tried to move an amendment which, if it had succeeded, would have meant that only non-citizens would be terminated their tenancies. He thought people who were citizens would be entitled to occupy stalls at the City Market.

Opposing the amendment, Mr. E. W. Njoroge said that the Government would see "all right" Government officials would be given priority. A move to revise the stalls occupied by the Council and the committee's resolution would be supported by the Council.

British proposals that Mr. Smith rejected

The proposals Mr. Smith said he rejected were:
 (1) The Constitution altered by his return to Rhodesia independent on November 11, 1966, the date when he had before him a new Constitution which would have given him the right to appoint and dismiss judges.
 (2) The Rhodesian Parliament would be dissolved and the British Government would assume powers of the kind of those which the British Government assumed in Hong Kong.
 (3) The British Government would assume powers of the kind of those which the British Government assumed in Hong Kong.

RHODESIA SEEKS U.N. HEARING Africans are 'martyred to save sterling'

Move to invalidate Wilson sanctions

BRITAIN'S Labour Government sought the approval of Parliament for its decision to ask the United Nations for selective economic sanctions against the rebel régime in Rhodesia. Foreign Secretary, Mr. George Brown, arrived earlier in New York than Britain's case for the sanctions to the Security Council.

Britain's request, which arises from the failure of the last attempt to reach a negotiated settlement in talks between the British, Prime Minister, Mr. Wilson, and the rebel leader, Mr. Ian Smith, in a Royal Navy cruiser at the weekend, is expected to be heard today.

From Salisbury last night it was reported that the Smith régime had made a direct appeal to the Security Council to invalidate Britain's move to have mandatory sanctions imposed. The régime asked the Security Council to invite Rhodesia to send a representative to any meeting in which the breakaway colony may be involved.

Mr. Wilson made the surprise disclosure on Thursday night that earlier in the year he had offered to integrate Rhodesia with Britain through an Act of Union, in an attempt to reach a solution at the dispute.

The Prime Minister was making a television broadcast, said at Westminster, Rhodesians - Britons and Africans - could have elected representatives to Parliament at the end of the year. The régime asked the Security Council to invite Rhodesia to send a representative to any meeting in which the breakaway colony may be involved.

Britain was indifferent to the fate of Africans in South Africa, a spokesman for Mr. A. E. Hughes, told the Special Political Committee of the United Nations in New York.

Mr. Hughes said that Britain and other Western countries with South Africa assumed to comply with the racialist policy of the Government. He said that for our death means the salvation of their country.

Mr. Hughes, statesman-general of the Parliamentary Congress of South Africa, said that the United States, Britain and France had sent 100,000 tons of goods with South Africa last year - and more of these except a few valuable trading goods.

Commemorative Issue of GOLD COINS

(PRESIDENT'S BUST) A spokesman for Barclays Bank DCO, Ltd. Head Office, Nairobi, states that commemorative gold coins in denominations of 25/- and 100/- will continue to be sold in Kenya until further notice. The supply of 25/- coins is limited and it is expected that only about 150,000 will be available. However, the supply of 100/- coins available should be sufficient to meet all demands. Applications to purchase these coins may be made to any bank in Kenya but attention is drawn to the regulations which permit an individual to hold only one coin of each denomination, i.e. 1 x 500/-, 1 x 250/-, 1 x 100/- either individually or in a set. As with previous offers for these coins payment must be made at the time of placing an order but it is emphasized that supply of the 25/- coins is limited and that it may not be possible to fulfil all orders. The purchase price of the coins will be as below: 100/- 320/- for the 25/- coin and 180/- for the 100/- coin and coins may not be purchased by residents of Kenya.

Mercedes-Benz trucks can stand this torture test for months.

The test drivers, unfortunately, can't!

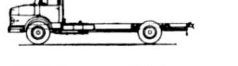

Mercedes-Benz can test the durability of their trucks on normal routes, but this takes too long. Keeping abreast of modern transport requires harder, faster testing. So... we get rough. Our specialists have devised 'torture runs'... mudholes, water puddles, 'shake-up' runs, sick pades, and a lot of other unpleasant things.

The vibration is unbelievable, but the trucks stand up to it. The drivers do not... understandably... and have to be replaced every half hour. The end result is, of course, trucks which are afraid of nothing... sturdy, economical to run, dependable.

MINISTERS STRESS NEED FOR UNITY

TWO Government Ministers here today told a Kial leaders conference that unity and co-operation were essential for the country's progress and that their leaders and Members of Parliament were vital for development.

The two Ministers, Mr. S. S. (Lionel) Government and the Minister for East Africa, Mr. S. S. (Lionel) Government, and the Minister of State in the Prime Minister's Office, Mr. S. S. (Lionel) Government, stressed that the independence of the country would be achieved through unity.

The conference discussed ways and means of solving various problems in the country, including the economic and industrial situation and the need for unity and co-operation among the various groups of Parliament and local leaders.

Education vital

Mr. S. S. Government also stressed the importance of education for the country's progress and that the Government was committed to providing the necessary facilities for all.

He said that the Government was committed to providing the necessary facilities for all and that the Government was committed to providing the necessary facilities for all.

Work easier

Mr. S. S. Government stressed the importance of work and that the Government was committed to providing the necessary facilities for all.

He said that the Government was committed to providing the necessary facilities for all and that the Government was committed to providing the necessary facilities for all.

Uganda's economic progress was checked by world politics and the country's development was hindered by the lack of unity and co-operation among the various groups of Parliament and local leaders.

FUTURE OF RYUKYU EMERGES AGAIN AS ISLAND U.S.

The future of the Ryukyu, a chain of 140 islands now in military conquest by the U.S. from Japan during the Second World War has again come to the forefront in Washington. Secretary of War Henry Stimson, in what Dr. Ryukyu has called the "Ryukyu Problem," has called the Ryukyu Islands "the greatest bilateral problem facing Japan and America has been given by the resignation of Gen. Albert Watson as High Commissioner for the Ryukyu Islands."

The Ryukyu Islands, in the chain of islands, were taken by the United States Army and Navy in 1945. The Ryukyu Islands, in the chain of islands, were taken by the United States Army and Navy in 1945.

NOT END OF ROAD—RHODESIA

Republic question hanging fire

RHODESIA'S Prime Minister, Mr. Ian Smith, said yesterday he did not regard Britain's call for mandatory United Nations sanctions as the end of hopes for a negotiated settlement to the independence crisis.

Asked if proposals submitted to the U.N. Security Council by the British Foreign Secretary, Mr. Brown, on Thursday night meant the end of the road for negotiations, Mr. Smith replied: "No I don't believe you ever get to the end of the road."

S. Africa trade ban call to the West

Twenty-three African States have formally asked the United States, France and Britain in the United Nations to take steps to stop them from trading and cooperating with South Africa.

When he was asked whether he would carry out his threat and declare Rhodesia a republic now that Britain had taken the case to the U.N., the Prime Minister said: "We have not given any serious thought. I think what we've got to do is to let the dust settle."

Asked to comment on the list of exports Britain wants to sanction, Mr. Smith declined, saying he had not yet seen the list.

Britain faces rebuttal

At the United Nations yesterday, Britain faced the prospect of a rebuttal of its proposals for active mandatory sanctions when the Security Council resumed debate.

The Foreign Minister of Zambia, Mr. Kapembwa, was due to be the first speaker and, judging by the first African reaction, could be expected to demand harsher measures than those put forward in a draft resolution by Mr. Brown.

RUSSIANS WILL GO ON AIDING N. VIETNAM

RUSSIA will continue to aid North Vietnam politically and financially, according to a statement by the Soviet Premier, Mr. Khrushchev, and yesterday.

In a radio broadcast, Mr. Khrushchev said that the Soviet Union would continue to provide military equipment to North Vietnam. He said that the Soviet Union would also provide economic aid to North Vietnam.

Declaration made

He said Soviet and U.S. troops were not engaged in any military operations in the area. He said that the Soviet Union would continue to provide military equipment to North Vietnam.

THE BRITISH Foreign Secretary, Mr. James Callaghan, said yesterday that he would carry out his threat and declare Rhodesia a republic now that Britain had taken the case to the U.N.

Asked to comment on the list of exports Britain wants to sanction, Mr. Callaghan declined, saying he had not yet seen the list.

Tax dispute holds up visitors to Mombasa

A NAHOROBI travel agency executive and two visiting executives from London and Dar es Salaam were held by District Commissioner's men for almost an hour at Nyal Bridge, Mombasa, yesterday because they were not carrying personal tax receipts.

Yesterday in Nairobi the men, Mr. Carl Adams, a director of Kenarid's travel agency, the company's managing director from London, Mr. Basil Purcell, and its managing director from Dar es Salaam, Mr. E. J. Adams, were held by District Commissioner's men for almost an hour at Nyal Bridge, Mombasa, yesterday because they were not carrying personal tax receipts.

Police arrested seven people in Shamba, Nigeria, who were accused of killing three students, discovered by two three hours in Takbar, Okara.

AN EAST GERMAN hanged by the British on Thursday night after a hail of fire from his own side.

WEST GERMANY'S new coalition Government has introduced a law on public order which will allow the police to search for and seize any weapons.

The Premier's address, which was broadcast on the radio, was the first since the British Government announced its decision to take Rhodesia to the U.N. (See page 11.)

Ex-Ghana envoy's release fails

THE application by the former Ghana Trade Minister, Kwasi Aducci, for his release from jail has been rejected by three British judges.

He was jailed last month by a London magistrate in a writ proceeding in Ghana.

He was also arrested in London last month by a London magistrate in a writ proceeding in Ghana.

Bata partners in progress...

Since the opening of their shoe factory in Limuru in 1960, Bata have witnessed the progress of the Kenya nation to full independence and republican status. They, in turn, have progressively expanded and developed their investments in Kenya.

The Limuru factory which employs over 1,200 Kenyans, is currently producing nearly 5,000,000 pairs of shoes per annum. In addition to supplying footwear for the Bata shops in Kenya and several thousands of independent shoe stockists, the Limuru factory exports its products all over the world, thus making a valued contribution to the national economy.

The employment of local personnel and comprehensive training schemes to fit them for managerial responsibilities, has always been an important consideration in the Company's planning—planning which is designed to produce a better product, at economical prices, for everyone.

Imagine life without E.A.R. & H.

The Largest Organisation in East Africa

— At a cool £200,000,000 —

Is East African Railways and Harbours

This year, more than 41 million people will travel by E.A.R. & H. trains. Trains are fast, clean, and safe. What might surprise these passengers is that, for every one of them, E.A.R. & H. carry more than a ton of freight and that this (together with E.A.R. & H. hotels, road services and ports) involves a staff of 45,000 with an annual payroll of £11 million. E.A.R. & H. is very big business.

Developments on Lake Victoria show an enlightened approach to transport. A rail-wagon ferry runs between Kisumu and Mwanza. Goods wagons (E.A.R. & H. run 10,000) are simply shunted on and off the ferry at each end. Save time, and goods don't disappear or get damaged en route; they're safely loaded away, and stay that way till destination is reached.

Specialized goods' E.A.R. & H. handle almost anything. Last year's figures show, amongst much else, 296 million gallons of bulk oil, 500,000 head of cattle, 300,000 tons of coffee, 760,000 bales of cotton, 150,000 tons of steel, 720,000 tons of grain, 300,000 tons of sugar, 115,000 tons of timber, 185,000 tons of cement and 110,000 tons of copper. It's no coincidence that these are the very backbone of East Africa's economy.

Land consolidation team to visit Hamisi in 1967

The Government accepted a motion moved by Mr. C. S. Godia (Kisumu, Hamisi) yesterday and the Assistant Minister for Lands and Settlements, Mr. J. M. Githiga, promised that members from the land consolidation team would go to Hamisi in 1967 to arrange land registration in his moiety. Mr. Godia said that the people in his constituency had been asking for their land to be consolidated and he urged them and he urged that the Government arrange to visit the farmers and businessmen with land deed titles as soon as possible.

LEADERS IN QUALITY

CONGRATULATIONS

1963-1966 YEARS OF HARAMBEE

When the history books record the initial years 1963-1966 of Kenya's Uhuru, the keyword in the narrative will be achievement.

Achievement resulting from the inspiring spirit of Harambee which, through the unparalleled efforts made by the Government and people of Kenya, has transformed targets into realities.

Industry, too, has played its part in this endeavour and B.A.T. Kenya Limited has been in the vanguard of the Harambee march of progress.

B.A.T. employees, tobacco growers, cigarette wholesalers and retailers - in fact thousands of Kenyans in concert with this leading tobacco company have given their full support to the Government in these momentous times.

We look forward to future years of even greater achievement, and in so doing we offer our hearty congratulations to His Excellency the President, Mzee Jomo Kenyatta, the Government and the people of Kenya.

LAW AND ORDER THE BASIS OF ADVANCE

Exploiting natural resources

THE maintenance of law and order within the country is an essential function of the Government in order to provide the internal security and stability which are absolutely necessary for Kenya's economic and social development.

By DANIELA MOI Minister for Home Affairs

For this reason it is imperative that a police force capable of maintaining law and order should be established and that the necessary capital equipment and personnel be provided. The police force has been established with a view to providing the necessary security and stability which are absolutely necessary for Kenya's economic and social development.

It is now possible to give attention to the maintenance of law and order in the country. The Government has decided to establish a police force capable of maintaining law and order within the country. This force will be equipped with modern equipment and personnel to provide the necessary security and stability which are absolutely necessary for Kenya's economic and social development.

Police powers

The Police Act which governs the powers, privileges and discipline of the police force will also be brought into operation. No progress can be made in this area unless certain elements are put out of circulation. The Police Department has continued to change its responsibilities with distinction and the work going on in the various establishments throughout the country.

A RECORD YEAR IN SIGHT — and now a look at the future

By BRUCE MCKENZIE
Minister for Agriculture and Animal Husbandry

As Minister for Agriculture, I appreciate the opportunity to write an article on the progress of the agricultural sector in Kenya during the past year. It is a privilege to share with you the achievements and challenges we have faced, and to look ahead to the future of our agriculture.

Some highlights

During the past year, the agricultural sector has made significant progress. The total value of agricultural production has increased by 15% compared to the previous year. This is a testament to the hard work of our farmers and the support of the Government.

One of our major achievements has been the successful implementation of the Agricultural Extension Service. This service has provided farmers with the knowledge and skills they need to improve their yields and productivity. We have also introduced new agricultural technologies and equipment to help farmers work more efficiently.

In addition to the Extension Service, we have also focused on improving the quality of our agricultural inputs. This includes the production and distribution of high-quality seeds, fertilizers, and pesticides. We have also established a network of agricultural extension workers to provide ongoing support to farmers.

Looking ahead, we are committed to continuing our efforts to improve the agricultural sector. We will focus on increasing the productivity of our farmers, improving the quality of our agricultural inputs, and providing ongoing support and training to our farmers. We believe that with our continued efforts, we can achieve a record year in sight and a bright future for our agriculture.

Thanks expressed

With this support, the year of development that we have experienced could not have been so great. I am grateful to the Government for its commitment to the agricultural sector and to the farmers for their hard work and dedication. I also thank the international community for their support and assistance in our development efforts.

As I indicated, Kenya's agricultural sector is a key pillar of our economy. It provides a source of income and employment for millions of Kenyans. It is essential that we continue to support and develop this sector to ensure a bright future for our country. We will continue to work closely with our partners and stakeholders to achieve our goals and improve the lives of our people.

BEAT THE HEADLINE Where has two-way

Obert discusses Rhodesia

"DOES ONE GROW OLDER SMITH?" observed the Hon. Obert, peering through the branches of the peach tree above the golden fence. But he did not allow such a thing as to peek at you, that other Mr. Smith, perché à l'ho."

"You and Smith, Wilton, have been arguing you up terrible lots of nights, isn't they? As though you ain't got more trouble than enough as it is. I'd be betting the Hon. Smith ain't got as up. Africa can't never be the same again after all 'e and in crosses 'ave never had the same sort of I say. Obert, get on for emphasis, snappage of an unripe peach which he instantly put on his back covered up in his 'olter distance. "We 'ave about the last of this little lot, but by all the betwacker in Rhodesia, we ain't."

"You 'ink, perhaps Mr. Smith might resign?"

"Not 'im," Obert replied. "Every time 'e talks about resigning, 'e 'e told by an outer relation of mine 'im." Wilton says two people tells 'im not to. One's Mr. Smith and 'olther's 'e wife."

Obert tapped the transmitter table slung over his shoulder, and it immediately burst into that no-gain singing. Many others in the room, including the Hon. Smith, looked on with interest as Obert continued to talk.

"Double bettra going so well, after the new transmitting line got at Nigrod," Obert exclaimed, turning down the volume control. "I want a lot on the radio down 'ere troubles they 'ave 'ing in England. Wat they oughter do, for a cure, in change 'em. Send Mr. Smith for London. I mention say, 'e 'ave the unions and strike, and they could see if they thinks 'e good 'e Smith there. 'e they respect Wilton and 'e little lot, 'e 'ave the fit Rhodesia, and praps they wouldn't."

Obert picked up a wild paw-waw which he tried to drop-keep over the Flame Tree, but stubbed his claws instead. "We that there a wilderness any good as Rugger?"

"Economists do not generally go in for games."

Doing what comes naturally

"Well, 'e oughter. 'E's too blamed good at weevil' and done that like cockroach' and miller' the dummy would've come natural. Only his spouse 'id 'ave done better so often in 'e house in England. Wat they oughter do, for a cure, in change 'em. Send Mr. Smith for London. I mention say, 'e 'ave the unions and strike, and they could see if they thinks 'e good 'e Smith there. 'e they respect Wilton and 'e little lot, 'e 'ave the fit Rhodesia, and praps they wouldn't."

"You can never trust Neath, nor Ebene, Vay, never mind Obesance."

"Well, there wasn't any biller' in my day, wolverine else we did in the arn't. They they 'ere and 'ere, else we did for wolverine played by girls while Rugger's a game for girls played by 'oligans. In my time and I happen in years as well, it was mostly played by the 'ill, rich school chensmen types who drove around in even skidged mopeds."

Obert broke off to peck droppings at the seeds of a red hot pepper, its golden flesh peeling brown and hooded.

"Only a fortnight for Christmas and I betcher ain't bought no presents, nor a tree nor woolsey cards."

"Still, you can count your blessings at a time like this, Mr. for instance. 'I'm a little glad 'e ain't one of those unfortunate turkeys got a duck waddler' to go to 'e. Obeser, don't let that worry you that you ain't got a duck waddler, but a duck waddler for that cat."

"A Merry Christmas to one and all, leave 'em both the Smiths and in the meantime an 'Appy Yashoo-billy."

"It is no holiday for newspapermen."

"You shouldn't 'ave jined' Obert retorted, grinning from ear to ear. He diffed his rattling cap in mockery of deference, bowed his long neck dravily and made a serene the paddock, away, the on-finger salute, in a gauge of peace passing his mouth to market, death and Valentine glory."

Chancellor Got Post of... Food Ministry officials in... ONLY SIX SHIPS

Food Ministry officials in London have reported that the United Kingdom has a surplus of 100,000 tons of wheat available for export. This is a significant achievement, especially given the recent grain shortage in several parts of the world.

The surplus is primarily due to a combination of factors, including a record harvest in 1962 and the release of stocks accumulated over several years. However, the Ministry officials caution that the surplus is not unlimited, and that the government will continue to monitor the situation closely.

Only six ships are currently available for the export of this grain, which is a testament to the logistical challenges faced by the government. The Ministry is working to expedite the shipping process and to ensure that the grain reaches its intended destinations as quickly as possible.

THE traffic minister of the... Mrs. Bingham who is... Rhodesia (New York Times)...

THE traffic minister of the Rhodesia (New York Times) has announced that he will be interviewed by a number of news organizations in the coming weeks. Mrs. Bingham, who is also a member of the Rhodesia Council, has expressed her support for the government's policies and has indicated that she will continue to be active in public life.

The Rhodesia Council is a prominent organization that represents the interests of the white population in Rhodesia. Mrs. Bingham has been a vocal member of the council and has been instrumental in shaping its policies and actions. Her interview will provide an opportunity for her to discuss her views on the current situation in Rhodesia and to address the concerns of the public.

AFRICA AND... NIGERIA... SOUTH AFRICA... TANZANIA...

AFRICA AND NIGERIA: The political and economic developments in Nigeria continue to be a focus of international attention. The recent elections and the subsequent formation of the new government have raised hopes for stability and progress in the country.

SOUTH AFRICA: The apartheid regime in South Africa remains a source of controversy and international condemnation. The government's policies of racial segregation and discrimination have led to widespread protests and calls for reform.

TANZANIA: The newly independent nation of Tanzania is facing significant challenges, particularly in the areas of infrastructure and economic development. The government is working to address these issues and to promote growth and stability in the young nation.

Nairobi City Players revive 'The Man Who Came to Dinner'

It is one of the choicest pieces of literature with which the Man Who Came to Dinner is liberally bespattered one of the characters described in the current production.

Caution is advised, however, as the play is not as straightforward as it appears. The author, George S. Kaufman, has written a comedy that is both witty and satirical, and that is sure to appeal to a wide range of audiences.

The production is directed by the Nairobi City Players and features a talented cast of actors. The play is being performed at the Grand Theatre in Nairobi and is well-received by the audience.

Indian system of education undergoes constant revision

THIS is with reference to a letter written by Mr. R. Dutt regarding the need for reform in the Indian system of education.

Mr. Dutt has pointed out that the current system is outdated and does not meet the needs of the modern world. He has suggested a number of reforms, including the introduction of vocational education and the emphasis on practical skills.

The Indian government has agreed to consider these proposals and has indicated that it will undertake a comprehensive review of the education system. It is expected that these reforms will lead to a more relevant and effective system of education in India.

Parliamentary methods: The current debate on parliamentary methods in Kenya is a complex one. It involves a balance between the interests of different groups and the need for a strong and effective government.

The Constitution of Kenya provides a framework for the operation of the government, but it is not always clear how these provisions should be interpreted and applied. This has led to a series of challenges and controversies in the past.

It is essential that the government and the public work together to resolve these issues and to ensure that the system of government is based on the principles of democracy and the rule of law.

PARLIAMENTARY METHODS

MANY people often say "I am tired that this sort of thing, but that is the only thing to do."

In high time we understand the only thing to do is to have a new system of government. This is not a slogan, it is a reality. The current system is outdated and does not meet the needs of the modern world.

We need a system of government that is based on the principles of democracy and the rule of law. We need a system that is fair and equitable to all citizens. We need a system that is effective and efficient.

The government has a responsibility to the people to ensure that the system of government is based on these principles. It is essential that the government and the public work together to resolve these issues and to ensure that the system of government is based on the principles of democracy and the rule of law.

CONGRATULATIONS ON THE THIRD ANNIVERSARY OF KENYA'S INDEPENDENCE

Bigger and better service planned for coming year

By JAMES OSOGO
Minister for Information and Broadcasting

All and of this opportunity to explain something to the Ministry, what it has done and is doing in the interests of the people of Kenya which is now celebrating its third year of independence.

Ministry's main objective is to provide the public with the most up-to-date and accurate information possible. To this end, the Ministry has been working hard to improve its services. In the past year, we have introduced several new measures to make our work more efficient and effective. These include the introduction of a new system of public relations, the expansion of our radio and television services, and the improvement of our newspaper and magazine services. We are also working to improve our public information services, particularly in the areas of health, education, and agriculture. We believe that these measures will help to bring the Government closer to the people and to ensure that they are fully informed of the work of the Government.

New transmitter

The construction of a new transmitter for the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting is well advanced. This transmitter will be used for the transmission of radio and television programmes. It is expected to be completed by the end of the year. The new transmitter will be a major step forward in the development of our radio and television services. It will enable us to broadcast programmes of a higher quality and to reach a larger audience. We are confident that the new transmitter will be a valuable asset to the Ministry and to the people of Kenya.

We wish to thank the public for their interest in the work of the Ministry. We are sure that the new transmitter will be a welcome addition to our services. We are also working to improve our other services, particularly in the areas of public relations, newspaper and magazine services, and public information services. We are confident that these measures will help to bring the Government closer to the people and to ensure that they are fully informed of the work of the Government.

Small Service Statistics
The Ministry of Information and Broadcasting has received a large number of enquiries from the public. These enquiries have been dealt with in a timely and efficient manner. We are grateful to the public for their interest in the work of the Ministry. We are also working to improve our services, particularly in the areas of public relations, newspaper and magazine services, and public information services. We are confident that these measures will help to bring the Government closer to the people and to ensure that they are fully informed of the work of the Government.

GREAT STRIDES IN A UNIFIED EDUCATION SYSTEM

It is three years that we have chosen the motto of independence. It is a motto of education that the people of Kenya have been following.

JEREMIAH NYIRAH,
Minister of Education

Education

One of the first aims of the new Kenya Government was to set up the National Education Commission. This Commission was set up to study the educational system and to recommend measures to improve it. The Commission has since been working hard to carry out its mandate. It has held many public hearings and has received a large number of suggestions from the public. It has also conducted extensive research into the educational system and has produced a number of reports. These reports have provided a clear picture of the strengths and weaknesses of the educational system and have recommended measures to improve it.

At the same time, the Department of Education has been working hard to improve the educational system. We are also working to improve our public information services, particularly in the areas of health, education, and agriculture. We believe that these measures will help to bring the Government closer to the people and to ensure that they are fully informed of the work of the Government.

Another measure has been to improve the quality of our staff. We are recruiting more staff and are providing them with the necessary training and experience. We are also working to improve our other services, particularly in the areas of public relations, newspaper and magazine services, and public information services. We are confident that these measures will help to bring the Government closer to the people and to ensure that they are fully informed of the work of the Government.

At the same time, the Department of Education has been working hard to improve the educational system. It has introduced a number of new measures, including the introduction of a new system of public relations, the expansion of our radio and television services, and the improvement of our newspaper and magazine services. We are also working to improve our public information services, particularly in the areas of health, education, and agriculture. We believe that these measures will help to bring the Government closer to the people and to ensure that they are fully informed of the work of the Government.
