Motion alleging London talks an 'abject failure' lost INTERFERED BY ... ENDED Round the world

Member under fire for Council attack

ALLEGATIONS of American interference in the affairs of Kenya were sharply criticised in the Legislative Council yesterday by the Chief Secretary, Mr. Mounts.

He said the allegations, made by Mr. E. T. Howard-Williams (North) yesterday to accusing the United States Government of interference in Kenya, to do this without proof was wholly irresponsible.

Mr. Howard-Williams put forward a motion alleging that the Lancaster House Conference was "an abject failure" and that the Council to set its acceptance of the Lennox-Boyd Commission was defeated.

Two bizarre portrayals of the various subjects were made by the Chief Secretary in the 1960 Show of the Royal Academy in London.

The two controversial pieces are "The Visit of the Princess Elizabeth and the huge anti-aircraft gun" and "The Visit of the Princess Elizabeth and the huge anti-aircraft gun" by the artist, Mr. G. O. Keane.

These artists were members of the Royal Academy in 1960.

Warrior's spears and a shield, donated by the Embu tribe, are to be hung in Nairobi Airport. Senior Chief Kibuka Muriuki, accompanied by two tribesmen, handed over the trophies to the Minister for Commerce and Industry, Dr. Kioko, at the airport yesterday.

ROW ON CHURCH STARTS POLISH STREET BATTLE

AT LEAST 15 police and an unknown number of demonstrators were injured in a pitched battle in the streets of the Polish street town of Nowa Huta.

The riot was started by Roman Catholic women when a group of workmen began to dig up a cross which had been reserved for a church. The crosses were being removed because the authorities had decided it was unsuitable for a church, being in the corner of streets named after Maria and Ignacy.

The demonstrators sang up barricades across a street leading from the site to the Town Hall, and started and set fire to the hall itself.

Police hurled tear-gas bombs to disperse the crowds, estimated at about 2,000. Some demonstrators were injured when they tried to pick up the bombs and throw them back.

For a time a furious battle raged. Afterwards, police arrested about 90 of the demonstrators.

Police fire on student rioters in Turkey

SEVERAL people were injured in fresh clashes between students and police in Ankara yesterday, according to reports reaching Istanbul. Trouble developed after students from Ankara University had demonstrated against Government moves.

Ankara and Ankara are under curfew and martial law after demonstrations on Thursday against the suspension from Parliament of Mr. Ismet Inönü, leader of the Republican People's Party, and 12 other Opposition Members.

They had attacked a Bill giving the Government sweeping powers. The Government had attacked a Bill giving the Government sweeping powers.

In Ankara the clash developed yesterday afternoon as students in silence in memory of Mr. Inönü, leader of the Thursday's anti-Government demonstration, in Istanbul who police opened fire after being provoked.

Names published

Unofficial reports said seven had died and the names of several students were published yesterday in Istanbul. It was said to have involved only a few. The third city of Turkey, Izmir, was taken over by martial law and had been imposed there was discussed.

Council must maintain repute

REVIEW OF LAW ON LOSS OF SEAT WHEN JAILED

CRITICISM was levelled in the Kenya Legislative Council on Thursday when a Member had to vacate his seat on the grounds of his non-attendance, owing through the absence of his members' imprisonment, and the Attorney-General, Mr. Griffin-Jones, accepted the proposal of the Council, introduced by Mr. Mboya (Nairobi Area) calling for a review of the appropriate provisions of the Constitution. He cited the cases of two former African Elected Members, Mr. D. N. Mumbo, who had represented Mwakikago, and Mr. L. C. Ugoya, who had represented Nyanza South.

Two jailed for 'sharp practice'

TWO men who took part in "sharp practices" in the extreme were sent to prison by a Nairobi magistrate after pleading "Guilty" to two counts of obtaining money by false pretences.

Left unrepresented
Mr. Griffin-Jones said he agreed it was unsatisfactory. The problem was to find a practicable alternative. The people of the Council had to be maintained, and even after appeals had been sent in East Africa there was still no indication for a concerted effort to elect a new Member to the Council in Britain.

Harinder Singh was sentenced to two months imprisonment. He was employed by Ajit Singh, Chief Jyoti. A. A. Harinder Singh was the sole proprietor of Modern Auto Sales, Nairobi and of Kenya Auto Sales. Both firms had filed bankruptcy notices.

Intruders slash watchman
A "watchman" at Barry's Hotel, Thompson's Falls, was slashed and severely injured when he was demoted the keys of the hotel. The watchman, Henry Kulahe, blew his whistle when he was attacked and the manager came to his assistance.

RESIDENTS WANT TO SEE MINISTER

THE Nging District Association is to set up a sub-committee of the members of the Nairobi Urban Council to meet with the Minister for Local Government to discuss the council's proposed building by-law.

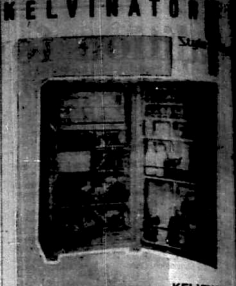

Changing conditions
Mr. W. J. Berry, who was invited to meet the council had put forward the same proposals as those of the Nging District Association. He said the time was ripe to set them in the various areas.

Go-ahead for Tanganyika schools plan

THE Aga Khan has approved a new programme for educational development in Tanganyika. The programme is to be carried out by the Aga Khan's Education Trust. It has been given the green light to say there should be as much expansion as possible and that any educational facilities should be made available to anyone who wants to make use of them.

Haiti Selsacic scholarships
The Haiti Selsacic scholarship scheme (which are now available for African students) has been approved by the General Council of Education. It is equivalent to an ordinary scholarship of £100 per annum.

Food programme
The Ford Foundation announced a £100,000 grant to boost food production in selected districts of India at least 10 per cent in five years.

horses run better on courses!

but... cars run better on SUPERSHELL it's got ICA

The best horses respond to the excitement at the course on Race Day. Car owners, too, can get extra response from their mounts by using Supershell with I.C.A.! Prove it this very day. Fill up with Supershell and feel the full thrust of modern petrol at its most powerful. And soon you'll notice something else... your engine is smoother, quieter, quicker to accelerate. That's Ignition Control Additive—I.C.A.—at work, overcoming troublesome engine deposits in combustion chambers and on spark plugs, giving you an even engine rhythm. Every car needs I.C.A. and modern high compression engines need it most of all. Get Supershell with I.C.A. for your car.

And remember, if you run on Shell—that's got I.C.A. too!

WIDESPREAD interest in current developments in Kenya has been discovered by the United States Ambassador, Mr. R. Ngala, during a tour of the Kenya State. Speaking in Chicago, Mr. Ngala said interest was particularly marked among Negroes, who identified themselves with people in Africa. There was a general wish to help the new nations in Africa. People were watching their progress, and especially the difficulties Negroes and Ngala who arrived in Kenya as a guest of the African American Institute of New York. In Chicago, Mr. Ngala visited a school, a university and a Negro college. He also visited the Negro University Mr. Ngala said that the school's education programme, African student should come to the United States for their management. He intended to discuss the matter with Mr. T. Moya on his return to Kenya.

Kenya economy threatened by 'wild-cat' strikes

Member complains of disturbing features

The Kenya Government was asked in the Legislative Council yesterday to make a statement on the labour position and on the serious situation in some parts of the country because of strikes, intimidation and general contempt of law and order. The demand was made by Sir Charles Mathison, the first speaker in the debate on the Budget proposals.

It was also necessary for the Government to issue a statement making their intentions clear about the future of Jomo Kenyatta whether it believed in his release or continued restriction was beside the point he said.

The present uncertainty could not continue.

There were three African Electors (Area) said in the Government greater responsibility must be placed on their shoulders with regard to security in their own community.

Mr. T. A. Mwangi (Mainot Area) urged the immediate release of Jomo Kenyatta and contended that his release was not as great a menace to security as has been continued restriction. He said that the Government had been asked to release him but that it had not done so.

Mr. J. M. Njiru (East Electoral Area) said that the Government should be placed on their shoulders with regard to security in their own community.

Save-Chessman attempt fails by seconds

By the telephone number, there was a shoozoo delay for the Chessman to get to the telephone booth. He was late by a few seconds and the American convict failed to get to the telephone booth in time to get the Chessman's name. Macmillian opens Commonwealth Premiers' talks

MR. MACMILLIAN yesterday opened a ten-day Commonwealth Prime Ministers' conference in London on summit prospects, other international problems and economic questions.

The over-riding issue in the minds of the 11 statesmen as they assembled at 10 Downing Street was, however, the South African racial controversy and its implications for the Commonwealth. The Malaysian Premier, Tunku Abdul Razak, was expected to refer to the issue in his reply to Mr. Macmillian's speech of welcome.

Tunji Abdul Rahman said that the Prime Ministers had met for the first session that they had agreed to say nothing to the Press.

Observers expected that the leaders would keep off the subject of South Africa in the opening meeting and leave that subject to the Prime Ministers in the course of the conference.

The opening session was preceded by a 30-minute informal chat during which the leaders discussed the photographs in the gallery of 10 Downing Street. The countries represented are Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Ghana, Nigeria, and the Central African Federation.

EARLY END TO NATO MEETING

THE 15-nation Nato Council of Ministers was expected to wind up its discussions in Istanbul yesterday, cutting short its scheduled three-day conference by one day after making swift progress.

It is a debate lasting less than an hour, the council agreed on a Western report on Germany and Berlin for the Summit conference with Mr. Krucek in Paris on May 16.

The British Foreign Secretary, Mr. Stewart Lloyd, is expected to be the first Minister to leave since he is to join the Commonwealth Prime Ministers' conference in London.

Coloured scene

Street security operations were taken to prevent possible demonstrations, and a small crowd of demonstrators, arrested a school teacher and a woman.

The report covered the water supply in the Johannesburg area. The water supply is being guarded because of the emergency.

Caln inside

The Minister after talks had been described by conference as an extremely smooth contrast to the tension and demonstrations outside the Government building following last night's student anti-Government riots.

Need to 'badger and nag' bad for morale

CIVIL SERVANTS AT GAITER PAW

Appeal by staff to High Commission

It seemed utterly wrong and extremely bad for morale and staff relations that civil servants in Kenya should be expected to take the initiative, collect facts and figures and badger and nag to secure an increasing hardship and discontent.

Mr. E. M. Hall, chairman of the High Commission Association of Administrative and Executive Officers, said this at the association's annual meeting in Nairobi yesterday. He said that in Britain there was machinery including a pay research unit for keeping the whole question of Civil Service salaries under constant review.

He suggested that establishment of such an establishment on this side should look into the question as a matter of fact.

The association had drawn attention to the fact that the cost-of-living index did not take into account one of the most important factors in the rise of income tax payers, the increased income tax payers for certain categories of vehicles.

Mr. H. R. Worlester, of Mackenzie Villa, Koliko, one of the districts of Kamania, who the shock was felt most acutely, said that he had been in the district for 12 years.

Another Koliko resident, mentioned by the violent trigger of her home, found that the trouble had struck her not only in her home but in her district.

Further east, Jigs was also a victim of the high commission. He was a member of the High Commission Association of Administrative and Executive Officers.

Plan for wider outlook

UNEMPLOYMENT in East Africa should be tackled on an inter-territorial basis, with development projects of such a size that they would catch the imagination of the world and attract larger sums of money.

The Kenya Legislative Council was told this during the Budget debate yesterday by the Earl of Portsmouth (Corporate Member). He said this was the moment to review the whole line of progress and cooperation with the three territories to make them a viable, economic unit.

In making this three-territory approach, he said, it was not intended to suggest that the present Government should be replaced, but that the Government should be replaced by a more progressive Government.

Fairy-tale wedding for a radiant Princess

BRITAIN TOASTS THE ROYAL BRIDE

Calypso serenade as yacht sails for Caribbean

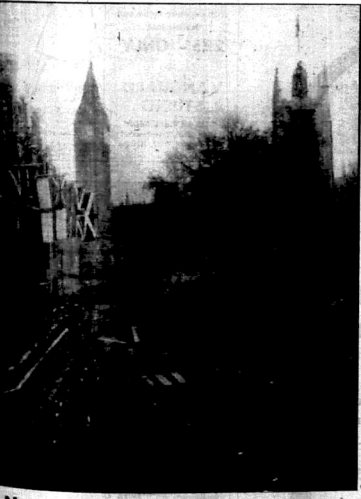

PRINCESS Margaret and her husband, Mr. Antony Armstrong-Jones, were last night on board the Royal Yacht Britannia, heading down the English Channel for their Caribbean honeymoon. They left London to the strains of calypso music. The Princess was married in a simple but moving ceremony in Westminster Abbey earlier in the day — a day on which glorious sunshine matched the gaily decorated London streets. A few minutes before noon, the congregation of 2,000 packing the Abbey heard the Archbishop of Canterbury pronounce them man and wife as they knelt before him.

Balcony appearance

Soon afterwards, after signing the marriage register, the Princess and her husband emerged from the Chapel of St. Edward, the Confessor as trumpets blared a triumphal fanfare. Hand-in-hand, they walked slowly down the long, blue-carpeted nave to a platform at the West Door of the Abbey and faced a crowd of cheering from the balcony waiting outside. During the drive back to Buckingham Palace the Princess was laughing with sheer happiness as she responded to the greetings of the crowds. When she and her husband appeared on the balcony of the Palace, a seething mass of people rushed down the Mall and more than 20 policemen had to link arms to hold it back. Every time the bride and bridegroom turned as if to leave they were stopped by another tremendous burst of cheering. In the end they stayed on the balcony for five minutes.

THEY LEAVE THE ABBEY HAND-IN-HAND

Hand-in-hand the bride and bridegroom leave Westminster Abbey to the thousands of excited Londoners and the joyful peal of the Abbey bells. This picture — and others in this page — were radioed from London to the "East African Standard" last night. Below, Princess Margaret is seen arriving at the Abbey in the Glass Coach.

Nyeri — and the Margaret Falls

PROCESSIONS were made at 23 miles from Nyeri. News last night that the second fall on the Corn River in the Margaret Falls should be named Prince Falls. It is third child, born in February 1958, when the Queen was in Kenya. The first waterfall, which is present referred to as Kenyan, the falls.

The scene in Westminster Abbey when the Princess and her bridegroom kneel before the altar on the Dean of Westminster explains the solemn part of the ceremony. On the right can be seen Queen, the Queen Mother and Prince Charles. Behind Princess Margaret is Princess Anne, the chief bridesmaid.

Gasps of Delight At Dress

THE shimmering, white wedding gown worn by the Princess was of simple design yet magnificent enough to cause women spectators in the crowds to gasp in admiration. Made of white silk organza with long, light-fitting sleeves, the neckline, bodice, skirt and small train of the organza were delicately beaded with a small "V" in the front. The voluminous skirt was formed by three layers of the organza cut into 12 pleats which narrowed at the waistline and spreading to flares at the hem.

Orehead bouquet

Each panel was joined with five wooden plates while similar plates beaded the entire head of the full-flowing skirt, which took a train at the back.

The dress was mounted on a foundation of stiffened white tulle. The Princess wore a veil of white beads and bordered with piping of white organza to match the dress. She had a diamond tiara, which had a diamond stone, which she wore during the ceremony. She also wore a diamond necklace and a diamond bracelet. Her shoes were white with a diamond toe cap.

BIGGEST CROWDS SINCE CORONATION

WEDDING fever gripped London and the capital with the white and crimson "M.A." banners (for Margaret and Antony) fluttering gaily, and most of the streets were filled two hours before the procession was due.

Clarence House, Mr. Hancock's residence on Thursday night to return to Buckingham Palace he was besieged by women attempting to kiss the windows of his house.

More than 4,000 people slept overnight in the parks along both sides of the Mall and in the hundreds of motoring hawkers who moved through the crowds to provide the men with fresh shirts for the occasion.

Women were busy throughout the night and early morning getting the final touches to the Royal attire in the Mall which was decorated with many in keeping with the name of the Princess, Margaret Rose.

Crowds were also attracted to London and Tower Bridge, a glimpse of the Royal Yacht Britannia, newly painted and lit up through the night. The 2,300-ton ship, which had sailed from the Clyde, was in the water, ready to receive the bride and groom. The ship was decorated with many in keeping with the name of the Princess, Margaret Rose. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Editor of the Times Herald:

I am writing to you regarding the article in your issue of May 7, 1950, concerning the situation in South Africa. I am a South African and I am deeply concerned about the situation in my country. I believe that the situation in South Africa is a serious one and that it is a matter that should be of concern to the entire world.

FOUNDER IN FILM TRADE FOR 25 YEARS

A group which owns the new Casino Cinema—the Jerath Organisation—is headed by Mr. J. K. Jerath, who arrived in Kenya from India in 1938. He began work as a clerk with the railways and opened a grocery's shop. It was not until 1953 that he became a nyika Minister for Finance.

Mr. J. K. Jerath

He ran this for three or four years before it was let to a man called Wanyu—now Sir Wanyu Wanyu, the Tanganyika Minister for Finance. He is now managing director of three different organisations of Overseas Film Distributors Ltd., East Africa, which is managed by his son, Mr. S. D. Jerath, who is also a director, in a social category.

It was mainly due to the latter that the new cinema has been built, Mr. Jerath said. He has supervised the project from the time the first brick of the old Film India cinema was laid down until the opening tonight when the projector starts whirring.
