BANK MEN LIKE NEW SCHEME

"Standard" Corporation, Johannesburg
A SCHEME has been prepared for supplying electricity to Gulu, Lira, Mandali and Hoima from the Owen Falls power station. It is an alternative to an earlier plan for building a new power station at the Owen Falls Falls in the Murchison Falls National Park.

Mr. W. D. Fenton, chairman of the Uganda Electricity Board, said the new scheme would cost about the same as building the Karuma plant, but on balance it was thought better to carry power which was available from the Owen Falls. A World Bank mission which is in Uganda to investigate, with city projects, had agreed with the Government to investigate the carrying out of these extensions depends, of course, on finance from the World Bank, Mr. Fenton added.

U.S. — BRAZIL DEAL HITS COFFEE

"Standard" Corporation, Kampala
 The price of standard grade Robusta in Kampala had fallen by about 4c a cwt. by the weekend, but the market was still considered firm. Commenting on the decline within 48 hours, a leading Kampala broker said from the United States indicating that of interest in Central America. This, he said, followed a similar decline in the price of coffee which Brazil had been selling on an American coffee house. It is said a "spot" auction in Kampala 12 of the 20 lots of standard grade Robusta offered were sold and the remainder held.

HAND-in-hand down the long nave of Westminster Abbey Princess Margaret and Mr. Antony Armstrong-Jones walk towards the West Door at the end of the wedding ceremony. Following them as they pass under the ornately carved organ loft—most of the vantage points for television cameramen—are the eight young bridesmaids, headed by Princess Anne. Among the ranks of guests the bright dresses of the women and the military uniforms contrast sharply against the soberness of morning suits.

After five weeks' work, Mr. Frank Jacobs sets the finishing touches to the official cake for Princess Margaret's wedding. The cake was five feet high and weighed approximately 150lb. Each white sugar paste, rose parading the Princess's personal seal of arms and the initials of the bride and bridegroom. The ingredients, including icing and decorations, were 8lb. of flour, 7lb. butter, 6lb. of sugar, 6lb. of eggs, 12lb. of ornaments, 12lb. of cream, 12lb. of mixed past, 1lb. of sweet almond paste and 1lb. of mixed nuts and brandy.

Citizens to college early this year

Apathy warning given SITE VALUATION RISE REVERSED PLEA FOR UNITY

MACLEOD DETAILS GIVEN OF PLAN OUT OF DATE

£35,000 ADULT
EDUCATION SCHEME

A KEVVA College of Arts, Science and Commerce is to be established on a 200-acre site at Kibungu.

The college is being built out of funds provided by the £23,000 Divulver Trust. Work on the site at the Presbyterian Church will start next month.

The chairman of the Board of Governors, Mr. W. D. D. Kibungu, says that the college meeting held at the Royal Technical College on Saturday.

LECTURES KEPT TO MINIMUM

High Commission officials, the Government and the school buildings and enough to run the courses for only a short time. The cost for a student at the college for each day would be about 25 cents.

It was intended that the college would run in liaison with University College of Kenya when there would be a minimum of classroom lecturing at the college and research and extension.

The object of the courses would be to provide the students with a better understanding of the community, independent of the Government, and to encourage them to take part in the development of their country.

Mr. Nathoo gives full press progress report to Legislature

BY THE end of June the whole station of new road work in the Kenya Legislative Council was led by the Minister for Works, Mr. Nathoo.

He said that he would have been topped by the middle of this month but heavy rain had held up much of the work. During the first two months of the contract it had been possible to complete the work within the contract period.

At the most of the earthworks on this road had been completed. In the past eight months of this progress had been made and the road would be completed by the end of June. The Minister said that he would have been topped by the middle of this month but heavy rain had held up much of the work.

MINISTER PRAISES FACTORY BUILDING

THE Minister for Agriculture, Mr. M. K. Mwangi, has praised the Government for its policy of encouraging the building of factories.

He said that the Government had spent a large amount of money on the building of factories and that this had done much to increase the productivity of the country.

Mr. Nathoo gives full press progress report to Legislature

BY THE end of June the whole station of new road work in the Kenya Legislative Council was led by the Minister for Works, Mr. Nathoo.

He said that he would have been topped by the middle of this month but heavy rain had held up much of the work. During the first two months of the contract it had been possible to complete the work within the contract period.

Two teams to work on the road

The road work on the road was originally to have been carried out by the contractors. It was found, however, that the road was not being completed as fast as was expected.

The Minister said that he had decided to send two teams of workers to the road to help in the work. One team would be responsible for the road work and the other for the maintenance of the road.

Cyclists on increase in Nairobi

MORE Africans in Nairobi are becoming cyclists, according to a report from the Kenya Cycling Club.

The club has reported that the number of cyclists in Nairobi has increased by about 50 per cent in the last year. This is due to the fact that more and more people are becoming interested in the sport.

Thousands mourn Kabaka's brother

Members of the Uganda Royal Family were among the thousands who gathered in Kampala for the funeral of the late Kabaka's brother, Mr. M. M. Mwangi.

The funeral was held at the Royal Technical College in Kampala. It was attended by many dignitaries and members of the public.

The weather

The weather in Nairobi today was bright and sunny. The temperature was in the high 70s and low 80s.

The wind was light and from the east. There was a slight increase in humidity during the day.

OPPOSITIONERS of the latest increase in Nairobi's site valuations are urging that the city's taxpayers Association—disbanded because of lack of support early last year—should be re-formed to lobby the cause.

But a former secretary, Mr. F. R. Corrie, told the East African Standard yesterday that he did not favour the move. He revealed that the association's later meetings attracted had only just reached double figures—an indication of the general apathy and dissatisfaction—and that members had been reluctant to share the secretary's duties.

Agreement in coffee industry

Both the Kenya Federation of Labour and the Kenya Agricultural Union have agreed to a joint meeting.

The meeting will be held in Nairobi on May 15th. It will discuss the recent increase in coffee valuations and the effect of the new regulations on the industry.

PROPERLY constituted work councils are to be established "within the next few weeks" possible time.

The Kenya Federation of Labour and the Kenya Agricultural Union have agreed to a joint meeting.

The meeting will be held in Nairobi on May 15th. It will discuss the recent increase in coffee valuations and the effect of the new regulations on the industry.

Raid clears the air—but not for long

FOR a few hours the air was clear of the smoke and dust which had been caused by the recent fire in Nairobi.

The fire had destroyed a large number of buildings and had caused a great deal of damage to the city. The fire was caused by a gas leak in one of the buildings.

Meeting stops

The meeting of the Kenya Federation of Labour and the Kenya Agricultural Union was stopped by a power cut.

The meeting was held in Nairobi on May 15th. It was attended by many dignitaries and members of the public.

Must consolidate

On agricultural generally, he said that the Government was interested in a number of ways.

The Minister said that the Government was planning to increase the productivity of the agricultural sector. This was to be done by providing more resources and by encouraging the farmers to produce more.

Common to get Corfield Paper soon

Mr. Macleod, the Colonial Secretary, said that the Government was planning to issue a common paper for the Kenya Federation of Labour and the Kenya Agricultural Union.

The common paper would be issued in Nairobi. It would contain information about the activities of the two organizations.

Names only

The names of the members of the Kenya Federation of Labour and the Kenya Agricultural Union were announced.

The names were: Mr. M. K. Mwangi, Mr. F. R. Corrie, Mr. J. M. Mwangi, Mr. K. M. Mwangi, Mr. L. M. Mwangi, Mr. N. M. Mwangi, Mr. O. M. Mwangi, Mr. P. M. Mwangi, Mr. Q. M. Mwangi, Mr. R. M. Mwangi, Mr. S. M. Mwangi, Mr. T. M. Mwangi, Mr. U. M. Mwangi, Mr. V. M. Mwangi, Mr. W. M. Mwangi, Mr. X. M. Mwangi, Mr. Y. M. Mwangi, Mr. Z. M. Mwangi.

Optimists in Uganda even gloomy now

MANY Kampala traders who had been optimistic about the prospects of the trade in the last few months are now adopting a more gloomy outlook.

The traders are concerned about the recent increase in the price of goods and the effect of the new regulations on the trade.

Bombs and rain

Weather and bombs led to a number of deaths in Kampala.

The weather was very bad and there was a heavy rain. This led to a number of accidents and deaths. In addition, there were several bombings in the city.

Useful means

It was a useful means of transport for the people of Kampala.

The new means of transport was a motor bus. It was found to be very useful for the people of the city. It was able to carry a large number of people and was very comfortable.

CHIEF CALLS FOR MORE AID TO POLICE

The Chief of Police has called for more aid for the police force.

The Chief said that the police force was in need of more resources and equipment. He said that the Government should provide more aid to the police force.

STANDARD DIARY

The Standard Diary for the month of May is now available.

The diary contains information about the events of the month and the activities of the various organizations.

COME-TO-UNION OFFICE TO BE PICKETED

The Come-to-Union Office is to be picketed by the members of the Kenya Federation of Labour and the Kenya Agricultural Union.

The picketing is planned for May 15th. It is a protest against the recent increase in site valuations.

Governor's firm confirmation of decision

President Kenyatta's firm confirmation of his decision not to release Kenyatta, and for "firm confirmation" of that decision. He said he had carefully studied the results of the research carried out by Mr. D. Corfield and found that Kenyatta was an imbricatrix or fear of co-operation with other people...

FEARS OF DICTATORSHIP

"I have been here long enough to know that without such operation Kenya will not become a modern and developing nation but will split into opposing tribes again and either be subjected to the fears and oppression of a dictator or a state of anarchy...

PREMIERS DISCUSS S. AFRICA

THE Commonwealth Prime Ministers' conference in London yesterday discussed the "restricted" session to discuss South Africa's apartheid policy. The group, which included Prime Ministers Harold Wilson, Alec Douglas-Home, and others...

Darkness at war with the light

The Governor's statement, which was released this morning simultaneously in London and Nairobi, is as follows: "I have received your letter of the 11th of March 31st following statement was issued from the Government House: 'The Government has decided to release one case of person under restriction is presently reviewed. Government policy remains as previously stated that persons will be released who are in a danger to security. The Governor remains of the view that persons who are in a danger to security are those who are in a danger to security...'"

VIOLENCE NEAR SURFACE

During the Kenya debate in the House of Lords on March 30 the Archbishop of Canterbury twice referred to the African struggle between light and darkness, life and death. I believe that there is such a struggle and that here in Kenya Africans are at the crisis of that struggle. Kenya, and particularly Kikuyu land, has for generations been a land of leaders. These leaders have not accepted their own role in the struggle for freedom and justice. They thought they would gain what they wanted for themselves and their people by cooperation with the Government and non-violent opposition to the Government and those who believed in violent opposition. Violence, indeed, has never been very far from the surface of African life. Men have been murdered for their political beliefs. The culmination of such non-violent and violent was the struggle for Kenya's demarcation known as the Mau Mau movement, a rebellion of fearful cities in Kenya and the destruction, savagery and bestiality shocked the world. It tore the life out of many people in Kenya and it is the responsibility of the ability of African leaders in Kenya to separate politics from religion. Jomo Kenyatta was the recognized leader of the non-cooperation movement which organized Mau Mau. Mau Mau with its foul outlook and violent aims, has been declared an unlawful society. He was convicted of many crimes and sentenced to imprisonment. He was appealed to the Supreme Court and the Privy Council. His separate courts his guilt was established and confirmed.

DIVISIONS MUST END

Here was the African leader to darkness and death. He was sentenced by the process of law to seven years' imprisonment (the maximum punishment for his offences), and the court recommended that a restriction order be made against him. The Government-in-Council should decide to succeed the terms of his imprisonment. The Government-in-Council made the order restricting him indefinitely to the Province. It has taken years to put the barons of Mau Mau behind us. Anyone who seeks to resurrect Kenyatta, is the instigation and enemy of Kenyatta's Mau Mau Government. (Continued on page 5)

"muffled" nuclear explosion five times greater than those of the first atomic bombs can be carried out without detection as such for at least several years. A group of British scientists gave Mr. Hugh Gough and Lord Latham the right to assert their leadership by making a statement to the House of Commons that the United States had used a "muffled" nuclear explosion five times greater than those of the first atomic bombs can be carried out without detection as such for at least several years.

Slip-up by intelligence CONGRESS MAY ORDER BAN ON SPY FLIGHTS

Demands are expected to be made in the United States Congress by the Intelligence Committee for the banning of Soviet spy flights over the American continent. The White House Press Secretary, Mr. Haggerty, said in Washington yesterday that he was not aware of any special instructions by President Eisenhower, other than an order to continue the Government's investigation into the flight of the U-2 jet aircraft brought down by a Russian rocket. President Eisenhower had ordered that the U-2 jet aircraft be shot down by the American Air Force. The American intelligence apparatus had indicated from a report in Congress, however, that the U-2 jet aircraft was not a spy plane but a reconnaissance plane. Russia may hand over U2 pilot

There have been hints in Moscow that the pilot of the U-2, Gary Powers, might now be held as a spy but released as a "grand gesture" in view of the imminent summit conference and President Eisenhower's projected visit to Russia next month. Russian newspaper yesterday gave accounts of the capture of the civilian pilot of the jet aircraft, which Mr. Krushchev said had been shot down 1,200 miles inside Soviet territory.

Britain will take nine days

It is believed that this discussion will not have permitted such a serious operation to take place and that any event it was unlikely on the part of the summit conference to send aircraft anywhere near the North Sea, let alone to the sea. The Labour Party should declare without reservation for the U-2 jet aircraft. The Labour Party should declare without reservation for the U-2 jet aircraft. Anti-mob march

Three thousand people marched yesterday in London in the largest anti-mob march since the war. The march was led by the Rev. Dr. James Bevel and was held in support of the anti-mob campaign. The march was held in support of the anti-mob campaign.

MOTHER AND GIRLS ATTACKED BY MOB

Mrs. Lillian Burton, 38, and her two daughters, Rosemary, 12, and Debbie, four, escaped with their lives when their car was stoned and set alight by a mob of 200 youths in Northern Rhodesia.

Nasser lauds Russia

President Nasser followed a letter attack on the United States and its "policy" in the Middle East. He lauded the Russian position in the Middle East and its "policy" in the Middle East.

Fled into bush

When Mrs. Burton, her dress and two children, were surrounded by a mob of 200 youths, she fled into the bush with her two daughters. The mob was led by a young man who was shouting "Nasser is a traitor".

DRIFT VALLEY was the venue for the 15th Mombasa quarter-final of the Mombasa and District Cricket Association. The match was played on Saturday, May 7, and was a display for superior in the field.

From the start both teams settled down to play an attractive football and for the first five minutes Mombasa proved very hard. Had it not been for stout defence on the part of visitors, who were supported by their first half-back, A. J. Kerry, Mombasa could have taken a first-innings lead. Frank Robinson, by his fearless captaincy, and the local defender, J. G. Gossage, who was the star of the match, foiled Mombasa's attack. The visitors were 100 runs ahead at the end of the first hour. The Mombasa players were 100 runs behind at the end of the first hour. ## Compensation offer 'would tempt opportunists'

INCENTIVES FOR CIVIL SERVANTS

Inducement to stay needed

Member says

TALK of compensation for civil servants and farmers continued up thoughts of 'gold-brokers and golden handshakes'. Mr. S. Alexander (Nairobi West) said in Kenya Legislative Council yesterday when the Budget debate was resumed.

To make large sums available for those who newly vacated office was a temptation for some opportunists to manoeuvre deliberately into starting or counting dismissal, he added.

The New Kenya Group was more imaginative and positive in dealing with this problem, and with a few days it would issue a policy statement on the future of civil servants.

Referring to people's fears and suspicions, imagined or real, in the present circumstances of constitutional change, Mr. Alexander said that the Government should acknowledge, in the best interests of the country, that there must be positive incentives for civil servants to remain.

They wanted these people to stay, just as they wanted other farmers, industrialists and others to remain.

He said that the Government must show that it was not only willing to pay, but also to pay in a way that would be fair to the people.

He said that the Government must also be prepared to pay in a way that would be fair to the people.

Kenya welcomes board's move to East Africa

THE East African Currency Board is to be transferred from London to East Africa on July 1. The board's offices will be in Nairobi.

The move was announced yesterday afternoon that this decision had been made by the Colonial Secretary, Mr. Macleod, to whom the board will remain solely responsible.

The Minister has requested a new board to take charge when the transfer takes place, which will be on July 1, for as soon as possible.

The board's present chairman, Mr. R. D. Davis, is the Colonial Secretary, Kenya, the present Secretary to the Treasury, Tanganyika; the Secretary to the Treasury, Uganda; the Financial Secretary, Zanzibar; a representative of the Government of Aden; Mr. B. L. Logan, Bank of England, secretary, Mr. H. Hirst.

Commenting on the transfer of the East African Currency Board to East Africa, Mr. Alexander (Nairobi West) said in the Kenya Legislative Council yesterday a common language and a common membership of the board would be a great incentive to work in the common interest.

He congratulated the Minister for Finance, Mr. Macleod, on the decision, and said that the board would have been of a very definite benefit to the country.

ANOTHER ATTRACTION TO THE NAIROBI SKYLINE

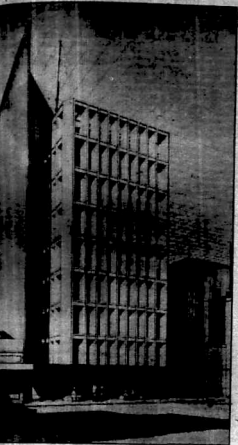

NAIROBI'S skyline is due for another change in Government Road later this year, when the block of 15 acres next to the Standard Bank of South Africa (left) gives way to a 15-story skyscraper for the First Permanent Building Society. Below left is an artist's impression of how the new block will look.

The old building has served Nairobi for many years but cannot compete with one which will include a basement car park, a driveway bank and six floors of office.

An official of the First Permanent Building Society said yesterday that the new building represented "yet another demonstration of faith and confidence in the future of Kenya".

The architect, Mr. Derek L. D. Morgan, said that very large windows, both east and west, were to be used in the construction to avoid interior supporting columns.

An artist's impression of the new block will look like a modern skyscraper with a basement car park, a driveway bank and six floors of office.

SEE THE VICTORIA FALLS— ON YOUR WAY TO THE SOUTH

While you're in Africa, you're so pleased to see the Victoria Falls—the most magnificent of all wonders which the Continent has to offer.

The Falls are certainly unspoiled—you can walk in the very bank, and marvel at how a water cascade beneath your feet covers meadows. You can walk in the Rain Forest, where luxuriant vegetation is constantly watered by spray from the Falls, or take a canoe trip on one of the lakes which and the highest Zambesi.

Why see your itinerary to include a visit to the Victoria Falls? The comprehensive tourist booklet of air routes operated by East African Airways and Central African Airways makes it easy! Ask your travel agent about this and other excursions whether business or pleasure calls on you in the South.

CURRENCY BOARD

THE decision announced yesterday to transfer the East African Currency Board from Millbank, London, to Nairobi with effect from July 1, or as soon as possible thereafter, is a significant development for the colonies. The matter has been raised on many occasions during the past few years, but the official move has always been that it is preferable to maintain the board in London.

Brethren to produce more skilled workers

ARTISANS VITAL ROLE IN KENYA'S ADVANCEMENT

THE Industrial Training Ordinance, designed to ensure the thorough and systematic training of industrial workers, comes into force today.

This measure, which was enacted last October, will, the Government hopes, help to raise the general standards of skill in the craft industry.

The ordinance, which is provided for in the main part of Mr. K. L. Kaplan.

It will allow the Labour Commissioner on any matter connected with artisan training.

Industry as well as from the public service, and are experienced in training over a wide range of trades.

A SPUR TO YOUTH

The expected raising of standards of skill will, it is believed, be of direct benefit to industry and confer a higher status on the craftsman who, in turn, will encourage more youths to enter into training.

Welcoming members of the first meeting of the board, the Labour Commissioner, Mr. W. R. C. Keeler, stressed the importance of the ordinance.

He said that the need to produce more skilled workers was a matter of national importance and that the ordinance was a vital step towards meeting this need.

He also pointed out that the ordinance would provide a framework for the development of a system of artisan training which would be based on the needs of industry and the interests of the workers themselves.

AWARD FOR DISARMING RAN AMOK

THE Queen has approved the award of a £1000 award for the disarming of a man who had been running amok in Nairobi.

The award was made to Mr. A. M. Mwangi, who was the first to discover the man and to take him to the police station.

The man, who was armed with a knife and a gun, had been running amok in the city for several hours before he was captured.

Warning as five are sentenced for airport disturbance

A WARNING that irresponsible acts would be dealt with by the full rigour of the law was given by a sentence five men in detention for creating a disturbance at Nairobi Airport.

The men, who were sentenced to three months' detention, were charged with disturbing the peace and with using force to resist arrest.

The court, presided over by Judge J. M. O. O'Connell, said that the men's actions were a serious breach of the law and that they must be deterred from repeating them.

Employee stole £1,900 from bank

WHEN Felix Jacob's mother asked him to send her a substantial amount of money, he told her that he had stolen £1,900 from the bank.

The man, who was 35 years old, was arrested by the police after a tip-off from a friend.

He was charged with stealing from the bank and with using force to resist arrest.

Up goes the price of a haircut

EUROPEAN owners of barber shops have decided to put up the price of a haircut by 10 per cent.

The increase is due to the rise in the cost of living and to the fact that the owners are having to pay more for their premises.

The new price of a haircut is now 10 shillings and 6 pence, up from 9 shillings and 6 pence.

Accused of bombing mosque

A "Standard" correspondent has accused a man of being the bomber of a mosque in Nairobi.

The man, who was 30 years old, was arrested by the police after a tip-off from a friend.

He was charged with bombing the mosque and with using force to resist arrest.

Man to tour Nairobi

King Hussein of Jordan will accompany a party to Nairobi on a tour of the city.

The party, which will be led by the King's brother, Prince Zein, will arrive in Nairobi on Monday.

The King will spend several days in Nairobi before returning to Jordan.

Gang slashes brothers in Nyeri shop

TWO brothers were slashed by a gang of armed Africans in a shop in Nyeri.

The brothers, who were 25 and 28 years old, were attacked by the gang while they were in the shop.

The gang, which was armed with knives and guns, slashed the brothers and stole some of their money.

Women injured

Dr. M. A. Williams, medical officer of health for Nairobi, has reported that a number of women were injured in a riot in the city.

The riot, which took place on Monday, was the result of a dispute between the women and the police.

The women, who were protesting against the police, were injured by the police's use of force.

Teachers not to unite

A "Standard" correspondent has reported that the teachers in Nairobi are not to unite.

The teachers, who were protesting against the government, were told that they must not unite with the other teachers in the country.

The government, which is opposed to the teachers' union, said that the union would be a threat to the stability of the country.

TIME TO HALT EXPANSION OF RAILWAYS, MEMBER SAYS

East African Railways and Harbours should halt the expansion of its railway network, says a member of the Kenya Legislative Council.

FUNDS MUST BE SPENT WISELY

Spending during the continued expansion of the railway network is being done in a wasteful manner, says a member of the Kenya Legislative Council.

The member, who is a member of the Kenya Legislative Council, said that the funds being spent on the railway network should be used more wisely.

He said that the railway network should be expanded only where it is really needed and that the funds should be used to improve the existing network.

Wheat seed testing plan takes shape

Details of a Ministry of Agriculture field experiment scheme for wheat seed testing have been worked out by the Department of Agriculture in Nairobi.

The scheme, which is being carried out in the Nairobi district, will involve the testing of wheat seed from different sources.

Kisumu to have new council

LITTLE CITY INCENTIVE

Company news one bright spot

PART took a steady line of good company news. There were 1100 shares of Little City Inc. sold on London market yesterday, and with Wall Street closing lower, there was not a deal of change in price during the day.

However, the company's earnings for the first three months of the year were reported as being 10 per cent higher than for the corresponding period of 1934. This was due to an increase in sales and a reduction in expenses.

The company's assets are estimated to be worth £1,000,000, and it is expected to be a profitable concern in the future.

PRICES FOR COTTON DROP IN KAMPALA

Standard's Commercial.

UGANDA Lint Marketing Board announced that about 10,000 bales of first- and second-quality cotton from the 1934-35 Uganda crop remain to be sold after the week's auction in Kampala.

The board said that no further sale had been held. The board was aware of the fact that the various grades of cotton are being sold at different prices.

Nearer others

Just under 10,000 bales of A.R. cotton from the 1934-35 Uganda crop, and just over 1,000 bales of second quality cotton, were offered. On the average A.R. cotton was sold at 10s. 6d. per cwt. and second quality cotton at 10s. 0d. per cwt.

The prices obtained, however, were well below the bid prices, and were mostly related to those ruling on the London market.

The total of 7,500 bales of A.R. cotton was sold, and 1,500 bales of second quality cotton.

Less demand for tea

Offerings at yesterday's 5,000 lbs. tea auction amounted to 2,000 lbs. of tea. The tea was mostly of the 1934-35 crop, and was offered at 10s. 0d. per cwt.

The price obtained for the tea was 10s. 0d. per cwt., which is a fall of 10s. 0d. on the previous day's price.

The reason for the fall in price is said to be the less demand for tea in the market.

Export of minerals show big increase

Mineral exports from the East African region for the first three months of 1935 were 277,000 tons, compared with 250,000 tons for the same period in 1934. This represents an increase of 10.8 per cent.

The increase is due to a rise in the export of minerals, particularly of iron ore, which was 147,000 tons in 1935, compared with 130,000 tons in 1934.

The value of mineral exports for the first three months of 1935 was £1,000,000, compared with £900,000 for the same period in 1934.

The increase in mineral exports is a sign of the growing importance of the East African region as a source of minerals for the world.

MORE ADVANCE THAN THEY GIVE

YOU have just published three articles by a London committee claiming to voice the opinion of the United Kingdom on race discrimination in Kenya.

It is not surprising that you have not mentioned the fact that the committee is made up of individuals who are not only not responsible for the policy which they are claiming to speak for, but who are also not even members of the British Government.

The committee is headed by Lord Latham, a former Lord of Appeal, and includes other members of the House of Lords, the House of Commons, and the House of Bishops.

The committee's report is a masterpiece of self-deception and self-interest. It is a document which is designed to mislead the public and to create a false impression of the views of the British Government on race discrimination in Kenya.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

PUTNEY'S JUST PERFECT

THE article "Spoken" is a masterpiece of self-deception and self-interest. It is a document which is designed to mislead the public and to create a false impression of the views of the British Government on race discrimination in Kenya.

THREE while "spoken"

I started from some of the residents of Kenya, Langata and Ng'ara had already very strongly opposed last year.

FROM IN READING THIS

I had had a number of letters from overseas, British and non-British, which were sent to me by the editor of the paper.

THESE NOISY WEEKENDS

I READ the letter of a "Gardener" with great interest. Although I sympathize, I am afraid the motor-power, like the washing machine, has come to stay and the steady hum is likely to pervade the country.

I would agree that the roads in Nairobi are in a state of disrepair. It is a pity that the City Council does not do more to improve them.

Wrong example

If by chance we have any idea what we are doing, the City Council of Nairobi is not doing it.

Warning about African nationalism

BANDA AND NYERERE MAKE JOINT CALL FOR DETAINEES' RELEASE

THERE was no conflict in Africa between Europeans and Africans other than by means of arms and ammunition, Dr. Hastings Banda said today.

In a brief press conference at the airport, he said that the Tory government in Britain follow the line of Dr. Banda and Nyerere in demanding a joint release of the detainees in Kenya and other political prisoners in Tanganyika, Nyasaland and the rest of Africa.

Dr. Banda told reporters: "Europeans and Africans are not enemies. I believe that we should have a common front. I do not know that it is the best use any reason why we should not take this common front."

He expressed the view that if the Commonwealth would become a united front, it would be a great asset to the world. Mr. Macdonald was leading Africa, and he would be a great asset to the world.

'WE KNOW WHAT IS BEST FOR UNION'

South Africa's Minister of External Affairs, Mr. J. G. Louw, strongly defended his country's racial policies at a dinner of the South Africa Club in London. In a hard-hitting speech he also warned that the Union's relations with Britain might be seriously disturbed if the anti-South African campaign which was increasing in bitterness and intensity every year, was permitted to continue unchecked.

Mr. Louw said he had second a feeling of estrangement and of hostility towards South Africa in London.

Studies held up by Army, says youth

'Students' Corroborated

An apprentice told a Nairobi magistrate that he had had to give up studying for engineering because he was required to put territorial training with the Kenya Regt. before his future career.

The youth, Anthony Ogo, admitted failing to perform his school work because of the delay in the fulfilment of the territorial training. He was with the British Government Forces in Kenya for three months. He was taking a certificate in electrical engineering and was waiting for City and Guilds examination. He had applied for a diploma but had not been able to do so.

Nato member makes official protest to America

NORWAY AS SPY-GLASS ROW

U.S. denies planning to wreck summit

NORWAY—A Nato member—has joined Russia in protesting to America about the espionage flight over the Soviet Union.

Announcing this in the Norwegian Parliament yesterday, the Foreign Minister, Mr. Halvard Lange, explained that his Government's objection was the planned landing of the spy plane at Bodø.

World Bank chief arrives

Norway. The protest had been handed to the U.S. Ambassador to Norway, Miss Frances Willis.

Mr. Lange added that he had asked the United States for assurance that the plane would be taken to prevent the planning of similar stop-over landings in future.

FARM PLAN 'MISREPRESENTED'

Minister replies to outcry from union president

Mr. McKenzie referred to an article in yesterday's East African Standard written by the president, Mr. P. O. Ochieng, in which he put forward the union's proposals for agricultural stability in Kenya.

VOTERS CALL FOR RESIGNATION OF MEMBER

U.S. PUBLIC Meeting of U.S. African Committee at Eldoret last night called on Mrs. E. D. Hughes to resign her seat in the Legislative Council.

Mrs. Hughes told the meeting there are many of our constituents who are not here today. Difficult though it may be, it is my duty to resign. I will continue to do so until I am called to the meeting. Three hundred and fifty people attended and seventy-two voted for the resignation and against the retention.

HASSANALI SUPPLEMENT

Spacious new store landmark in extension of pioneer firm

MODERN AND PRACTICAL

OVERSEAS VISITS TO CHECK ON TRENDS

This language supplement is published to mark the opening in Kampala tonight of a spacious four-storey building, the latest built in the East African centre of Hassanali's Auto Spares. Here, the store is described in detail by JAMES WINSTON.

WHAT a difference there is between the old store in Kampala and the new one being opened this evening—one chock-a-block from floor to floor and the extensive Hassanali stand, the other as spacious as a motor showroom.

About 700 people have been invited to attend the opening ceremony this evening, including the Governor of Uganda, Sir Frederick Crawford, and Lady Crawford, the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester, the Mayor of Kampala and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Kibuka, as well as many of the Members of Uganda Legislative Council and Government departments.

Mr. Sajjan Hassanali, the chairman and father of the firm's directors, will preside, but all the other brothers may be able to get away from their own branches.

Mr. Hassanali said the business was definitely thriving and was not affected by the current trade boycott, more demand than others.

He replied that shock absorbers and exhaust mufflers with numerous stones to dent and pierce the exhaust pipes and a lot of work for the absorbers.

White four-storey block

Mr. Sadruddin Hassanali took me round the new store. It is a white, four-storey block on Kampala's Salisbury Road, with a big neon sign in the firm's colours reading: "Hassanali's for Automobile Spares". A bright blue on the upper half of the building catches the eye from some distance.

Vast spaces make an impressive view on entering the shop. The dimensions, in cold figures, are 20ft. by 60ft. A three-year-old mahogany counter runs the length of the room about 20ft. from the back. It has a Formica top coloured to match the wood's softy rich brown-red.

There are 14 divisions in the "free" front of the counter, and all have three wide shelves in them. Sliding doors at the rear allow for the insertion of display items.

A swing-gate at one end gives access to the staff side, and at the other is a brass-grilled cabber's desk.

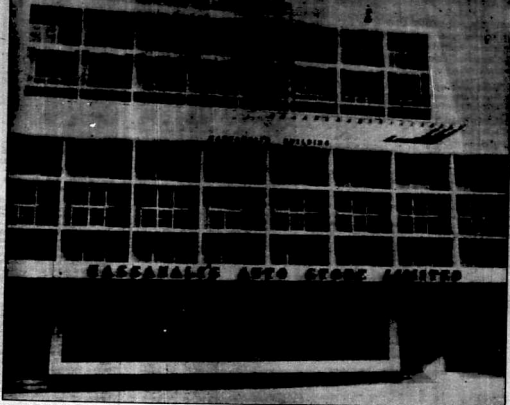

An unusual sight in any shop, let alone a spares store, is the presence of two large chrysanthemum-like flowers at the front of these two extremities. One is blue and the other yellow, both seemingly "pressed" in a transparent cover.

Hobby aids

White hardboard on the walls sports displays of light fittings and other ranges that are suitably presented in this manner, and there are stands all round the shop for the customer to be able to examine many more items.

Some of these will be arrayed with an eye to the hobbyists and those who have a particular fancy for gadgets. Mr. Hassanali says that such people will find much to draw them to his shop when they have a bit of free time, or during the week-end, and to this end the show window and interior displays

KEEPING abreast with his trade is the action of a wise business man. This is the policy which Mr. Hassanali has adopted for many years.

Little more than a month after the end of the second World War, he was given priority, along with military and Government V.I.P.s, to fly to London, then on to the United States, to arrange for the supply of badly-needed spares by East Africa's supporters. The previous year, the Army vehicles and their spare parts had been brought into the region.

REGULAR TRIPS

Since then, he has been making regular trips to Britain, Europe and the United States, visiting military and motor accessory factories.

He claims to have visited every motor factory in those parts of the world which supply vehicles to East Africa — Britain, France, Germany, Italy and the United States.

The one exception has been Australia, which in recent years has sent East Africa increasing numbers of Holden, Ford, Vaux, however, he has to visit Australia, and it is the importation of Japanese cars which has been the most recent trend in the market.

Mr. Hassanali has visited the United States six times. The last occasion was only this year, when he attended the International Motor Show in New York. There he met fellow-members of the Overseas Automotive Club of America, an association of the members of American cars and accessories.

Mr. Hassanali is the secretary of the International section of the club.

A FAMILY CONCERN

THE firm of Hassanali is essentially a family concern. Below are Mr. Sajjan Hassanali and three of his sons who are in the business.

The photograph of his other son, who is also in the business, will be found in Page 4. His daughter, Shab Begum Hassanali, who works at the Nairobi headquarters, can be seen in Page 6.

LONG LIST OF EXCLUSIVE AGENCIES

It might be of interest to know more about Hassanali's exclusive agencies. These, sometimes complicated trade names were no trouble to Mr. Sajjan Hassanali who rattled them off glibly while I tried to keep up on the typed list he had given me.

I asked him to tell me with what firm supplied him. Putting his own list in front of him for the purpose of making brief references from number to number, he sat back, closed his eyes and began — half an hour later we had reached the end.

United States agencies lead the field with 18. In this connection Sajjan Hassanali remarked that he is always tested by the motor magazines over there — but it does not necessarily follow that he buys their wares, he added.

YEARS GIVEN

The year in which each agency was acquired is given in brackets after the firm's name.

Thompson Products Inc. (1946) are the manufacturers of engine parts for General Motors, who use them as particular items in their cars, in common with most American car makers.

The Republic Car Co., Gabriel and the Weathered Co. are three agencies that were set up on Mr. S. Hassanali's first visit to the United States. The first makes transmission

WIDE VARIETY

These are produced at the New Jersey factory in Camden, the largest and oldest chemical concern in the world. They claim to meet every motorist's requirements in a range of more than 40 "White" products.

For balls, ball races and brake parts come from Thermodyne (1947). This outfit claims to be a steady supply of rubber tyre bolters, and tyre boot makers in the United States, the Doan Manufacturing Co., while all engine parts for every American car are provided by C. E. and Sons (1947), who supply ball bearings, as do breaks and other parts.

MANY BEARINGS

Radiators, engine gaskets, oil seals and ball races come from Number One on the list in the United States, the Federal Ball and Roller Bearings Co. who supply ball bearings in the United States, Britain, France and other parts.

They make bearings for all movable parts in a car, and also for tractors and steamers — anything at all that Mr. Hassanali commended.

Another ball-bearing agency obtained in the same year, 1947, was the Pacific Ball and Roller Bearings. This company

KISMET EQUIPMENT never lets you down

The KISMET 'Duplex Master' Powerful—yet amazingly easy in operation

The Kismet 'Duplex Master' is designed on a patent two-stage principle. The smaller of the concentrically arranged cylinders, through compresses it and forces it into the tyre at extremely high pressure. Thus a large volume of air is delivered to the tyre with astonishing little effort. No need for forcing. The end of the stroke is as easy as the beginning. This is the footpump for the man who demands the best.

The KISMET 'Popular' Footpump
A lightweight alternative to the 'Duplex Master'. Strong, efficient, and precision-built to give years of faultless service. A good reliable footpump in worth its weight in gold. Get yours now. You never know when you'll need Kismet-range TODAY.

TRAINING SCHEME STARTED

... of appointing a Tanganyika branch within three months of the start of the beginning of the year.

... Mr. Shah Hassanali said he had had the first of money had been sent to him to turn over to the manager of the staff to a reasonably similar and amount of quick review.

... Reference to catalogue numbers is omitted so that the customer is not expected to take part in writing and mailed plainness as to what is wanted, or to have to wait while the knowledge of the shop is being ascertained.

... After training at the Nairobi school these applicants are sent to the branches where they have passed their aptitude and ability.

... The training scheme is open at the moment to European and Asian boys who have just left school. Very soon it is intended to extend to Africans.

how well the boy has absorbed his instructions, and if he has enough sense to use his training to recognize the parts played by various machines and the necessity to keep on running to get help in locating something.

At long last the great day arrives when he is to be called on the counter; in particular he must remember that his duty is to attend to the customer, and then to serve him.

RAPID MOVES
At first his services will be restricted to dealing with accounts only; the field department comes next, and then he goes on to square themselves.

More senior salesmen will see more or less automatically sent more or less established boys and it is not yet open to good running order. Salary is based on merit.

at the moment of becoming an endorser and will be sent shortly to Europe or the District. He is the father of the family. He may join the firm, but the decision will be left entirely to him, his father said.

The daughter, Shah Begum Hassanali, who is the firm's secretary, was educated at the Aga Khan School in Nairobi and then took a shorthand-typing course. She and her brothers are all members of the family. Mr. Shah Hassanali is the managing director and chairman.

The family has come into the firm gradually since 1946, beginning with Sadruddeen Hassanali. His sister entered employ in about 1950. She is not married, nor are the other brothers.

They have picked up the order department duties and watching their father at work when they were children. Now they are no longer that way but they are able to carry on independently. Mr. Shah Hassanali said proudly.

It is given to a purchaser who may be unsure of how to fit his car or size of house to his needs, but which the customer is sent, but repairs are not done.

SON OF FARMER
A monthly inventory is taken by the order department duty and sends out the order department to every family stocktaking at every month and can take up to three months before being fully completed.

Shah Hassanali is very fond of his family. "At present there is no serious form of housing scheme, but these will be serious later. A fortnight's leave is granted annually and sick leave when called for. It is very seldom that people leave the firm, and they are not good enough to cope with the demands of our work. They are asked to leave.

Trips are made practically every year to the United States and Europe to look around and have points retained to me.

His interest in the working world of a car goes back to the age of 13, when his father bought him one of the first model 'F' Ford. "When I lived in the garage in place were often then on the road." He used to meddle with everything that seemed to be detachable, trying to see why it was there and what it contributed to the car's running.

In motorist circles Hassanali's name has gained recognition in all corners wherever the car industry flourishes his name is known. This is due to Mr. Hassanali's first business visit to the British and Continental factories four times and more of the British and Continental factories have seen him at least a dozen times since the end of the Second World War. # BETTER ROADS ADVOCATED BY ONE WHO REMEMBERS...

By BASIL DEANER

MR. HASSANALI is the first to admit that Kenya's still-primitive road surfaces are good for his agricultural business. But this does not mean that he favours a standstill in road development.

On the contrary, he feels that although good roads will automatically mean a reduction in the demand for spare parts, there will soon be a case for expanded, which form of gadgets designed for added comfort, which motorists will require and without because of the extra cost.

Even today's main arterial roads are like modern motorways compared with the roads and tracks which existed in the early 1920s — and long afterwards — when Mr. Hassanali was abandoned, his own trade routes across East Africa.

In those days, there were only a few thousand motor vehicles in East Africa, and between 80 and 90 per cent of those were American. Continental cars far outnumbered British and American—and standard—Chrysler—cars. Continental cars far outnumbered American vehicles.

Several factors are responsible for this trend, among them the increased value of the dollar vis a vis the pound sterling, the increased list of American cars to a point at which they were regarded as a practical economic proposition for the average East African motorist, and the

DANGEROUS FERRIES

ASAP from the figures and words of the railway roads, it is apparent that the Government has been to capture with bridges which at present they do away by flooded rivers drifts in unimproved phases and undependable and sometimes dangerous ferries.

Mr. Hassanali recalls that on one occasion he was driving from Nairobi to Kisumu when he met a large band of elephants crossing the road. They were unwilling to cross and he had to stop until they had passed.

On another occasion his car broke down in a place difficult to reach. He was only one mile from Voi. There was only one taxi to get to Voi and he had to leave the car, walk to

Mr. Hassanali triumphantly leads in his horse Gilt III at Nairobi Racecourse.

LOVE OF HORSES STEMS FROM BOYHOOD

AN early love of horses and horse riding during his school days in Pakistan stayed with Sajjan Hassanali during the years he was building up his business in the three East African territories.

With this business flourishing, and with four of his sons established in it in complementary positions, he found it possible five years ago to turn to his old love — horses, their training and racing.

At the present time, Mr. Hassanali has five horses which, bearing his familiar colours — green and black — are raced often both with and without success at Nairobi and Nakuru race courses. The horses are Gilt III, Madoka, Wainini, Grey Mist and Chika Boy. They are all trained at the Nairobi Forest course by Miss Maurice Valencia of the Nairobi Training Syndicate.

Mr. Hassanali's stable consisted originally of two horses — Lakoni and Gilt III, but Lakoni was sold when his performance did not meet the owner's requirements.

The general performance of all his present horses is considered to be "fairly successful." Mr. Hassanali usually backs his own horses, and others which he favours, but he makes it a strict rule to "back" a horse in the paddock before backing it on the course.

In hunting generally, Mr. Hassanali claims that he is invariably successful. He has not had more than £50 on a bet, he told me "and never more than £200 or £300."

Mr. Hassanali learnt to ride a horse when he was five. His father could not take him to races at Karachi and Lahore to see his horses run. Sometimes they were.

His interest in horses continued throughout his school days — he went to St. Patrick's School at Karachi and when he was a young man while he was a young man when he came to Kenya in 1929, however, there was no horse racing in Kenya at that time. He was in a position to own, train and race racehorses of his own.

HAPPY OCCASION

As a pacer, Mr. Hassanali's successes have not been confined to East African countries. He recalls a happy occasion in 1926 when he had a race with a few other horses in Madoka. His horse Mahmood won the race, and he was in a position to own, train and race racehorses of his own.

Mr. Hassanali is a member of the Jockey Club of Kenya. In five years time he plans to retire. But it will be an active retirement, for he hopes to buy about 100 acres of farm land in Kenya and breed and train horses on a large scale.

He is already a farmer in small ways, having orchards and coffee plantations in Africa. Mr. Hassanali has no definite plans of expanding his sports parts

Garden hobby of wife

Now that most members of her family are away at school or away at work, Mrs. Hassanali takes more and more to her garden. She is especially fond of roses and always has some of them in the house.

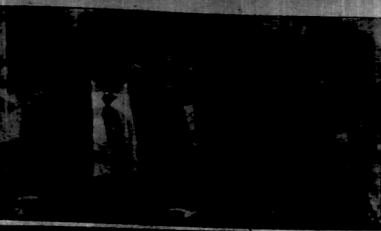

She and her husband have been married for 20 years, Mrs. Hassanali coming to Kenya in 1932 by wife in law. She is a native of Nairobi, and has returned to her home on safari with her husband. Her other hobby is riding; she attends the Nairobi riding club regularly and sometimes makes successful bets.

When Mrs. Hassanali was a young girl, her father used to give her a number of roses and a number of these were kept by her side.

COAST VISIT

Mrs. Hassanali has just returned from a visit to the coast with two of her children. She is expected to stay at an hotel during this time. On the dining-room wall, the picture of the late Aga Khan and of the present Aga Khan.

In the bedroom, which has its own green terrace bathroom, are pictures of Mr. Hassanali's father and of his late mother; and a picture of Hassanali and his wife taken in 1942 when the Hassanali High Priest of the Aga Khan's mosque.
