

Health services threatened with complete breakdown

REFUGEE COLUMN DRIVES TOWARDS NAIROBI

Disease could spread over borders

SERIOUS epidemics could break out in the Congo Republic and spread to neighboring territories, the Belgian Health Ministry has warned.

The threat arises because of an almost complete paralysis of medical services in the Congo. Belgian doctors and nurses were finding it impossible to carry out their duties properly, the Ministry said.

THE general opinion in the African continent is that the granting of self-government to the African States is a matter of time. It is a matter of time because the African States are now in the process of preparing their constitutions and laws. It is a matter of time because the African States are now in the process of preparing their constitutions and laws.

The Congo is a vast country, larger in area than East Africa and Nyasaland put together. Belgium is a small country with a very small colonial army.

At the discussions held in Brussels and Leopoldville between the Belgian Government and certain African politicians as a prelude to the independence of the Congo, the latter indicated that if self-government was not granted immediately they would not be held responsible for the consequences which they said would be widespread bloodshed.

The Belgians explained that the country was not ready for self-government and that to grant it would result in bloodshed. The Africans would not listen. Eventually the Belgian Government set up a committee to study the matter. The committee was made up of representatives from both sides. The committee was made up of representatives from both sides.

At the time these discussions were being held, Mr. Lumumba and some of his lieutenants were plotting what some Belgians are now calling "the Congo Revolution". They were organizing a meeting of the Congo Revolutionaries in the Congo. The meeting was held in the Congo. The meeting was held in the Congo.

It is to be hoped that the Belgian Government is taking sufficient care to ensure that the Congo Revolutionaries do not take the law into their own hands. NYASALAND CONFERENCE

ANOTHER conference opened yesterday at Lancaster House, that cynosure of colonial interest. This time, Nyasaland's future is being considered. Though there is small hope of the white continent, it can only be hoped that the Nyasaland conference has an easier passage than the one Mr. Macdonald conducted on Kenya.

The first use of the conference was to receive yesterday the conference of the Nyasaland conference has an easier passage than the one Mr. Macdonald conducted on Kenya. The conference is the direct outcome of Mr. Maderoff's visit to Nyasaland since the Lancaster House conference.

Overhauling African majority demanded

Already, Dr. Banda has announced sweeping demands for a new constitution for the Federation of Africa. The new constitution would provide for a majority of African membership from a minority of seven to a dominating majority of 70 per cent.

Stand with O'Linn for sixth wicket averts follow-on DOV MELEAN, playing with wonderful composure, made 90 runs in 100 minutes to help his team to a narrow victory over South Africa. The batsman's stand with O'Linn averted a follow-on for the South African side.

Melean was bowled by Allen after making 100, including 14 fours. It was his fourth Test century and probably the best innings he has ever played. When he was out, South Africa were 100 runs ahead of the hosts.

Only a few weeks left—so ENTER NOW for the CALTEX STAR PHOTOGRAPHER OF 1960 COMPETITION!

USE THE ENTRY FORM BELOW

August 1, 1960, is the closing date for the Caltex Star Photographer of 1960 Competition, the greatest photographic achievement ever in the history of Tanganyika, Kenya and Zambia.

With your own prints or negatives in your own name, you can win a prize of up to £5,000.00. The winning entries will be exhibited, and the prizes will be awarded, on the Caltex Stand at the Royal Show, Nairobi, 1960.

Please note the revised regulations below.

Please study the regulations carefully before completing your entry form. Since this competition is first announced, several of the regulations have been revised as a result of the interest shown by leading East African photographers, and your useful suggestions.

These are the wonderful cash prizes:

1st Prize — Shs. 5,000.00
2nd Prize — Shs. 2,000.00
3rd Prize — Shs. 1,000.00

Highly recommended — 10 prizes of Shs. 200.00 each, to be awarded to the best amateur photographers in the Royal Show.

Entries submitted on the previous entry form, available from your club or club, those regulations will apply.

ANSWER TO KENYA CRITICS

Muddle perhaps — but rush to aid refugees was overwhelming

By DAVID SAKRY

WHEN the first refugees from the Congo first landed in Kenya they were housed and cared for by voluntary workers in Nairobi.

Now in the wake of the departing refugees, mostly admitted to Kampala, come criticisms of the much organisation here, too little, there, and more at all somewhere.

The Nairobi public and Kenya people generally are entitled to know how true these accusations are.

Was there the great muddle that some people allege? Was aid so unorganised, haphazard, and wasteful or not? Were refugees housed or cared for better?

The short answer was given by one official, who took a great interest in the matter. Of course there was a muddle. It had never been ready plan for every day. It had never been a long-term plan. It had never been a long-term plan. It had never been a long-term plan.

The short answer was given by one official, who took a great interest in the matter. Of course there was a muddle. It had never been ready plan for every day. It had never been a long-term plan. It had never been a long-term plan.

Even a sheep? They will be glad to know the better was not made out of exchanged at shops for something to eat. The Nairobi public and Kenya people generally are entitled to know how true these accusations are.

PRaise FOR HELP FROM COLONY BY MR. COULTS

AFTER following statements by the United Kingdom Secretary of State, Mr. Douglas Home, in the House of Commons, Mr. Coult's expressed his appreciation of the help given by Kenya to refugees from the Congo.

The hon. member in a sudden burst of enthusiasm congratulated the Government and the British people for their generous contribution to the relief of the refugees.

Refugees started to arrive on July 12 and today, a Special Relief Unit, about 2,500 have entered Kenya, and it is expected that they will be about 3,000 by the end of the month.

The hon. member in a sudden burst of enthusiasm congratulated the Government and the British people for their generous contribution to the relief of the refugees.

TRAFFIC JAMS FEARED

In an interview the Town Clerk, Mr. C. Dwyer, said that what was feared was a major traffic jam in the area to find out whether more restrictions were necessary.

Mr. Dwyer said that the congestion of traffic would be a major problem in the area to find out whether more restrictions were necessary.

WORLD SECURITY WOULD BE ROUSED Appeal by Member not to form private armies

THE formation of private armies among Europeans in Kenya would be an embarrassment to the authorities but would ruin Sir Charles Markham, said at a meeting of the European electors, and those they formed private to prepare themselves for any future events of the world. If they were proper ways of doing it, through district associations.

Competitors were always people in Kenya should be not be discouraged by events in the Congo. They should not be in the Congo and say it could not happen. Those who wanted to be prepared should not be Kenya Reserve or should be Kenya Reserve. The European Executive Members of the K.F.P. should be urged to suggest that that should be open to all races.

Lesson taught
When they set down to security they had to try to differentiate between common sense and panic measures. They should be ready for any emergency and they should be ready to act. The Congo taught what was meant.

They would never know the strategy of what happened in the Congo and what happened in the Congo was not a disaster. The organization panicked completely and disintegrated. Sir Charles said there were areas in Kenya that were not under Government control. One was complete failure by through political pressure. Government and to hand over a stable Government. He could not blame the Africans for what happened in the Congo but you can blame the British Government for coming into the face of the pressure of some high-powered tysons in America.

Our duty
The same thing would happen in Kenya if the British Government maintained an attitude of indifference to the Africans. Every encouragement Administration is still here to take care of them. But it is not in their own interests but it is in the interests of the House of Commons. The Africans would be unable to take the pressure of Africa. He was not blaming the British Government for what happened in the Congo but you can blame the British Government for coming into the face of the pressure of some high-powered tysons in America.

When Sir Ferdinand Cavendish Brentnall, the head of the Kenya Colony, said he had received 1,000 letters from Kenya Africans giving him their support for the British Government. He was not blaming the British Government for what happened in the Congo but you can blame the British Government for coming into the face of the pressure of some high-powered tysons in America.

Five points
But nevertheless I have no doubt that they will come along. In fact, Mr. Salter remarked that the British Government could take five points which the British Government could take. There were five points which the British Government could take. There were five points which the British Government could take.

Mr. Salter said Sir Ferdinand Cavendish Brentnall, the head of the Kenya Colony, said he had received 1,000 letters from Kenya Africans giving him their support for the British Government. He was not blaming the British Government for what happened in the Congo but you can blame the British Government for coming into the face of the pressure of some high-powered tysons in America.

CHAMBER ASKS FOR CHANGE IN TAX LAW

NAIROBI Chamber of Commerce is asking the Government to change the tax law so that companies should be allowed to deduct the cost of advertising in the press from their taxable income.

The Chamber has advised the Government that it is possible to change the law so that companies should be allowed to deduct the cost of advertising in the press from their taxable income.

Incentive needed
A meeting on Monday decided to make representations to the Income Tax (Management) Act of 1952 amended by the Income Tax (Amendment) Act of 1953.

Balanced views
I believe the views expressed by the Government are the views of all of us in Kenya. It is not a matter of difficulty by industries which are not being considered.

African Backing For Coalition
When Sir Ferdinand Cavendish Brentnall, the head of the Kenya Colony, said he had received 1,000 letters from Kenya Africans giving him their support for the British Government. He was not blaming the British Government for what happened in the Congo but you can blame the British Government for coming into the face of the pressure of some high-powered tysons in America.

School fees

It is very disappointing to read of Mrs. Kwan's attitude in the emergency. As a mother of five — and one at the Kenya High School — I was glad that the political situation was in a very smug and thoughtless to the girls' share in helping her to pay. And what a real thrill it was to get home for the day earlier than expected. I would like to ask the parents of the people of the four tranchised schools to locate in the Mares' Park. Find the small amount that we have lost in this term's fees, authorities very kind offer to...

looting in the Katanga Province capital of Elisabethville. The wide pavement is littered with stones and other rubble and with sheets from the shops fronting that road.

Another view of damage in an Elisabethville street. A shop has been fired after looters have taken away all they can carry and now stands gutted. The roof has collapsed and the windows are all smashed. On the right outside the shop someone has chalked the name 'Hitler'.

KEVIN'S LOSS AFTER LEADING BY 8-0

S. A. KEANE RUNNER-UP IN UGANDA

Standard Correspondent, Kampala.

S. A. KEANE, of Karen, finished as runner-up in the Uganda amateur golf championship in Kampala yesterday with 210 for the four rounds. K. N. Hogan, also of Karen, won the prize for the best first 36 holes with 146.

The winner was M. G. Johnson from Miale with 110 for the four rounds. It was his second victory in the tournament, which he first won in 1954.

Dr. A. R. Duff, of Uganda Golf Club, took the prize for the best score over 72 holes, a 212, from Miale, with two birdies, one of the Uganda C.C. and the best second 36 with 117.

High final round

Johnson returned a rather high 75 for his final round, but had to play some carefully appraised putting. Striking the ball very long put at the 6th put him back on the hole after a period of struggle. He finished in difficulties again but he pulled off another long putt to put himself in a position to form a hole in two, and to beat the two men likely to finish with him, Keane and Hogan.

Keane came to the hole in the last round and made his best putt of the match with a 20. Hogan had an unlucky save when the first hole was to be taken in two to the previous day's position. He finished with 192, but his final round was 94.

Johnson's figures for the four rounds were 30, 40, 71, 73 (gross). Keane returned 81, 78 and 78.

Fast 100 metres

Carl Kaufmann of West Berlin won the world this year in the 100 metres in 10.6 sec. at the West German national championships in Berlin. He topped three-tenths of a second from his own European record, and his performance was only tenths of a second outside the world record.

IMPALA won R.A.F. Cup in B.U.P.A. seven-1/2 after six minutes of extra time. In first half Quins were leading 8-0 and looked like repeating their performance in the Nakuru Sevens, which they beat IMPALA in the final with comparative ease. On this occasion, however, they had faded out in the second, and Impala backs were for ever threatening the Quins line.

DUKES PLAY NAKURU A.C.

Many enthusiasts at Nakuru will have the opportunity today of seeing one of the best repeated sides the Army has ever produced when the Duke of Wellington plays Nakuru Athletic Club this afternoon, kick-off being at 2.15.

The players started training at the N.A.C. ground about 4.30 p.m. on Tuesday. On Saturday afternoon last week the Duke's side was defeated by Nakuru in a 10-0 victory. The players' starting lineup for the match against Impala but were both their wingers, Young and Vile. Bristow succeeded in scoring a try in extra time to put the Nairobi side in the lead.

Scores 10 points

Quins played well together in their match against the Duke's side. The Army side made the most powerful in the history and they were not to be outdone in any of their 10 points. Denning, their line of defence, was injured when tackling Butherford on the 10th. In this game Butherford scored 10 points, kicking with the same power and accuracy as his customary game.

Offer to pay fare to Rome

COL T. S. CONNER, from O. C. in the Northern Province of Tanganyika, has offered to pay the expenses of the Kenya hockey player who was chosen as non-travelling reserve for the Olympic Games.

Col. Conner said he made the offer as a token of his appreciation of the fine performance by the Kenya Olympic team during the series of "Test" matches in London.

A special meeting of the Kenya Olympic Council is to be held to consider the offer. If it is accepted, it will represent a maximum strength of 18 at Rome in the hockey contingent and give another player experience in world-class hockey.

KENYA GUINEAS WON BY MY REALM

BACKERS of favourites at Nairobi news yesterday were right on the mark, scoring in three of the first four Guineas, including the Kenya Guineas won by "Blondie" Francis My Realm, which was tipped by "Blondie" and Mrs. W. A. Fritsch's "Diamond". After holding the lead for five furlongs, the jockey, Chestnut cut in the pack for five furlongs, the jockey, Ray Arnold, gave his mount his head turning into the straight. The two-furlong margin, My Realm, in the centre of the course, kept amply past the remaining Spanish Order and the distance his performance made his competitors look weak. At the post Mr. Realm, the first winner of the event for 10 years, had opened up a gap of five lengths and was leading to the finish. Spanish Order, who made his mark as a sprinter last year, was a hindering pace until he always had been better. Realm took home, however, just as he was making a steady, fast finish, raising the minor berth a further eight lengths behind the two leaders.

Combined Schools Rugby tour

Combined Schools Rugby touring side was two and lost two of the matches played in-country. Results were: Edmore 20-Combined Schools 10; Kintu 20-Combined Schools 0; Keturu 20-Combined Schools 10; Nakuru 17-Combined Schools 10.

Pakistan win Test

Over 12,000 people saw the Pakistan Test match at the National Stadium, Lahore, on Tuesday. The match was a hard-fought one, with Pakistan winning by 100 runs. The Pakistan batsmen showed tremendous strength and consistency throughout the match, while the Indian bowlers were unable to contain them.
