Council rules on age difference

'Impossible to say' on which side of Border two died

It was impossible to say whether the incident in which two Uganda game guards were shot dead happened in Uganda or in Sudanese territory. This was stated yesterday in an announcement by the Council Secretary's office in Nairobi.

The men were killed while on a safari in the area of the border between the two countries.

It was not clear whether it was the international boundary which was crossed or the administrative boundary between the two countries.

The game guards, William Wain and Felix, were on a safari in the area of the border on October 19. They were looking for ivory when they were shot.

APPRENTICESHIPS BILL FAIR TO ALL RACES

DEFINITION OF THE WORD "MINOR" IN CLAUSE 2 OF THE Industrial Training Bill, 1956, has been considered by the Council of State after representations. The Bill was passed by the Legislative Council on October 19. The clause states that "minor" means a person under the age of 18 in the case of an African under 18 for non-Africans other than European, and under 17 for European.

This definition relates to clauses of the Bill which require a minor to have the consent of his parent or guardian, or if there is no parent or guardian, the consent of a district officer or labour officer—when he binds himself as an apprentice or indentured learner, or when a contract of apprenticeship or learnership is ended by mutual agreement.

SUGGESTED DISADVANTAGES

It was suggested to the Council that the effect of the definition might be disadvantageous to the African since he would have five years' less protection than a European and two years' less than a non-African other than European.

Another argument, however, was that it might be that the non-Africans who were placed at a disadvantage in that they were held in "thrall" for longer periods than the Africans. The Council examined the position fully before the Bill was introduced.

FEW COUNTRIES CAN OFFER MORE SCOPE FOR 'MAGIC EYE'

By Ronald Hutton

Few places, if any, can offer more scope for photo-graphy than East Africa. The scenery from the whole of the continent embraces a wide variety of subjects, many parts of the world, and its wide life offers un-parallelled opportunities for nature photography.

The supply of subjects is almost unlimited and, in- stead of waiting for good picture-making oppor-tunities the East African amateur photographer is served by a market better and more reasonably supplied than most and offering a surprising variety of equip-ment and materials.

Unfortunately it is this very variety of fittings that makes it difficult to choose. He is tempted to buy a camera with a lens of 100 to 125 range and a shutter speed of 1/1000. There are many types of cameras available, from the simple box camera to the sophisticated professional camera. The choice is wide and the prices range from a few shillings to several hundred pounds.

It is generally thought that the best camera for the amateur is one that is simple to use and has a wide range of lenses. The Leica is a popular choice for this reason.

One of the main reasons for the popularity of the Leica is its compact size and its ability to fit into a small camera bag.

Another reason for its popularity is its excellent image quality and its wide range of lenses.

Collecting records — universal pastime of 20th century

STAMP collecting and shell-hunting are old favourites as hobbies, so to speak, model aircraft building and model-making. But for a typically 20th-century pastime, one that is always up to date, surely record collecting leads the field.

With millions of adherents, both for the "pop" and the classical, it is a truly universal hobby, spanning the world by radio links of record programmes, in great numbers at home and on the television screen, from concert platforms, sound tracks and stage productions.

SOCIETY OF KENYA ISSUES FIVE-POINT STATEMENT

Mr. L. R. M. Whithead

A STATEMENT on the East African Land in the Highlands was issued by the chairman of the Society of Kenya, Mr. L. R. M. Whithead, yesterday. It reads: "The Society of Kenya, through its Executive Committee, has today expressed its views on the White Paper on Land."

It is obvious from the telegrams exchanged between Mr. Evelyn Baring and the Secretary of State that it is the intention to force the paper through Legation. The members of the committee will doubtless be able to do this, but it will be to the detriment of the interests of the people.

U.S. COURT UPHELDS ORDER TO STRIKERS

A FEDERAL Appeals Court in Philadelphia today applied a ban to work orders to the 300,000 United States electricians who are on strike.

The court, however, gave the order on the condition that the strikers file an affidavit that they would not accept any work under the ban.

The court's order was issued in a decision handed down by the Third Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia.

The court's decision was based on the fact that the strikers had failed to comply with the conditions of the order.

JUNIORS PRODUCE GOOD TENNIS

Reidy takes three Parklands titles

THE organisers of this year's Parklands Sports Club junior lawn tennis tournament would have every right to feel extremely pleased with this customarily well-organised event for it attracted an extremely good entry and was productive of some good competitive tennis. It was most gratifying too, to see the number of parents who turned up to watch their children play.

Success came from an far affected by the weather. A noticeable improvement in the state of affairs for which the credit of Shirley Turner was mainly responsible.

It was most impressive C. Reidy, who has only just emerged from the junior into the senior boys ranks who sent impressive and, in fact, an accomplished player who made his mark in the quarter-finals of the entire tournament. He emerged as the automatic competitor with those titles being the main reason for the boys' double — with his partner, John O'Connell. Reidy's partner, John O'Connell, had a very good match with the boys' double, but the boys' double was too good for him. # DIFFICULTIES IN THE PIG INDUSTRY

ATTER visiting the Royal Show in Nairobi a few weeks ago I came away with the impression that the pig industry has gone backwards instead of forwards, especially when I saw the carcasses which were displayed in the lifts.

As yet it is not clear whether the industry is one of the most important branches of Kenya's agriculture and essential to the sustenance of the white country and not just a luxury industry.

It is a pity that the industry is not being treated as a serious business. It is not being treated as a serious business. It is not being treated as a serious business.

Time to drop trade barriers

ONE WAY TO HELP LESS DEVELOPED COUNTRIES

MINISTERIAL delegates to the General Agreement on Trade and Tariffs (G.A.T.T.) ended a five-day conference in Tokyo with a communique declaring their agreement that discriminatory trade restrictions were no longer justified.

Earlier the leader of the British delegation, Sir Paul Gore-Booth, told the conference that Britain had very good hopes of early and substantial progress in removing dollar import restrictions. He criticised protectionist policies of some industrial countries against less developed primary-producing nations.

For Paul the conference was a success because it had shown that British representations on this score were not just something for the record. Less powerful G.A.T.T. members had protested that there was some preaching that structure about the suspension of non-economic measures.

The final communique said the Ministers asked the members to take action if a barrier had been found to be a barrier. The main road to Makerere College, the University of College East Africa, was closed.

Kruschev regrets dispute between India and China RUSSA URGES BORDER PEACE

Friendly talks way to solve problems

RUSSIA would be happy if there were no more incidents on the border between India and China, Mr. Krushchev said in a major foreign policy speech to the Supreme Soviet. The frontier disputes should be settled by way of friendly negotiations to the mutual satisfaction of both sides, Mr. Krushchev said.

We very much regret the incidents which have taken place lately on the frontier between two States friendly to us—the Chinese People's Republic to whom we are bound by unbreakable bonds of brotherly friendship and the Republic of India, with whom we have been successfully developing friendly relations, he added.

The frontiers of the Indian Army is taking over direct control of the frontier with China in the Ladakh area of Kashmir, and troops occupied to engage any hostile army will take the place of border guards. The army is also stationed near the North-East Frontier.

Indian officials disclosing further details about the October 21 incident when nine Indians were killed, said a patrol party split into two groups to search for missing persons. As one party was about to cross a dry river bed, Chinese troops opened fire with mortars and threw grenades from a flanking hill. Another party of Chinese on the other side of the river also opened fire.

In Bilahar, Northern India, the Vice-President Dr. Rajendra Prasad, said India was "battered by the behavior of the Chinese. If there were any disputed areas, the Chinese method of settling by force was in contrast with her profession of friendship. China had little to gain by antagonizing people who had nothing but good will and friendship for her."

Governmental aid... A Western summit meeting held in Paris on December 15, 1958, was attended by the Prime Minister of the United Kingdom, Mr. Harold Macmillan, and the President of the French Republic, Mr. Charles de Gaulle.

Progress likely... The progress of the negotiations between the United Kingdom and the French Republic is likely to be completed in the near future. The two countries have agreed to a number of measures to improve relations and to settle their differences.

Man saved from pool... A man was saved from a swimming pool in Nairobi. The man had fallen into the pool and was struggling for help. A lifeguard saw him and jumped in to rescue him.

Positive results... The results of the negotiations between the United Kingdom and the French Republic are positive. Both countries have agreed to a number of measures to improve relations and to settle their differences.

Society calls for Ngongoro plan... The Society of the Ngongoro has called for a plan to improve the lives of the people in the area. The plan includes the construction of roads, schools, and health centers.

Snub from Togoland... A snub from Togoland has been reported. The Togolanders have refused to accept the plan proposed by the Ngongoro Society.

Everpool docks normal again... The docks at Everpool have returned to normal after a period of disruption. The disruption was caused by a strike by the dockworkers.

Council opening... The Council has opened its sessions for the year. The Council will discuss a number of important issues and will make recommendations to the Government.

More motorists use Mobiloil... More motorists are using Mobiloil Special. The reason for this is that Mobiloil Special is a high quality motor oil that provides excellent performance and protection for the engine.

Kenya land proposals 'open a door to farming prosperity'

DECEMBER VISIT BY MR. MACLEOD

Constitutional conference in January

PLANS are being made for the new Colonial Secretary, Mr. Iain Macleod, to visit East Africa next month. When Mr. Macleod reaches his intention, during a debate on colonial affairs in the House of Commons last night, he set January 18 as the date for the opening of London talks on Kenya's constitutional future.

The detailed itinerary of his East African tour is not yet available, but it is understood that he will spend a fortnight in the area from December 8 to 23. He is expected to visit Uganda first, then Kenya and Tanganyika, returning to Nairobi for a final stay of two days before flying back to Britain in time for Christmas.

Mr. Macleod told the House that in consultation with the Governor of Kenya he had decided that provisional arrangements could be made for the conference to study the first step in the Colony's evolution to open at Lancaster House in January. The terms of these terms will take part were not known in Nairobi last night, but a spokesman for the Government said it is intended that the British share in primarily from the Legislative Council.

No date for end of Emergency

Mr. Macleod said the proposals for land reform in Kenya had met with a wide and warm welcome in Britain and a great volume of criticism in Kenya. He said that such a decision would be taken in any way by this Government, he said, affirmed his belief that the proposals, soundly rejected, would open a new door to farming prosperity in which European and African, Asian and Arab could share in the full development of all land as an area of the Colony's future.

Although Mr. Macleod reiterated the wishes of Mr. Leung-Boyd and Sir Evelyn Baring to end the State of Emergency as soon as possible, he did not forecast any date.

His statement regarding East African affairs was made during his reply for the Government to an amendment to Parliament's message of thanks for the Queen's Speech, moved by Mr. James Callaghan, Labour's principal spokesman on colonial affairs. His remarks were mainly directed towards the Central African Federation, regarding that the Speech contained no proposals for ending the State of Emergency in Nyasaland, for the ending of a trial of partition in Northern Rhodesia, or the extension of the franchise in Nyasaland and Northern Rhodesia.

Mr. Macleod began his first speech as Colonial Secretary with a tribute to his predecessors. When the time comes, he said, every man who has served his country has earned the right to be remembered. He said that he would like to be remembered for the role he played.

Mr. Macleod spoke of the difficult problems in the colonial territories of the present time. He said the State of Emergency which has been declared in Nyasaland, Northern Rhodesia and Tanganyika, is a result of the failure of the Government to solve the problems of the African people.

Mr. Macleod said that the Government is determined to solve the problems of the African people. He said that the Government is determined to solve the problems of the African people.

TRAGIC QUESTION OF WILD LIFE

In 1956 the Government appointed a Game Policy Committee, its main tasks being to advise on the policy to be adopted for the long-term preservation of game, hunting regard to the interests of human population as a service area and to the economic development of the country.

To consider the issues between Parks and to make recommendations to the Government of the Game Department.

To consider existing game legislation, and to recommend amendments to be made to the strengthening of the Game Department.

In 1958 the report on the findings of the committee was published. In August 1959 a Government committee called 'Wild Life' was set up. The report was still being considered.

The problems of wild life conservation in Kenya are discussed in this article by Mr. Mung Graham Dettl, former Commissioner of Forests for the area East of the Rift. In a second article, which will appear tomorrow, Mr. Graham deals with nature reserves.

We are reminded by the fact that the Committee of 1956 was set up to advise on the policy to be adopted for the long-term preservation of game, hunting regard to the interests of human population as a service area and to the economic development of the country.

But the question of Wild Life is not only a matter of game preservation but also of the Government's in fact a matter of national policy at all.

In general, special development of the country is being hampered by the loss of its natural resources. The great majority of the products made in Kenya are imported. It is not possible to know the exact value of the products which are being lost. However, a very rough estimate of the value of the products which are being lost is that it is about 100 million shillings per year.

New road to Kericho opened

REALIGNMENT CUTS SEVEN MILES OFF FORMER ROUTE

THE new road to Kericho via Kowoa is now open to the public, the Ministry of Works announced yesterday. It is 23 miles long—saving seven miles on the old route via Lumwa—and has fewer corners and easier gradients.

Work began on the new road in 1957 and has involved major engineering works and a number of bridges. At present the road has been constructed up to gravel standard but this route is included in the Road Authority's bituminisation programme under the £4,000,000 contractor-finance scheme.

The Road Authority also plans to realign and reconstruct the road between Kowoa and Mau Summit, and work has already started on surveying a better alignment between Kericho and Abern, in Central Nyanza. These improvements should considerably shorten the time required to travel from Mau Summit to Kisumu.

While the Minister of Works is a warm supporter of the major road construction work now in progress between Kericho and Nyeri may cause temporary interruptions and disturbance to traffic during the rainy season.

The passage of lorries and buses over the route may have to be suspended temporarily after heavy rain.

Discretionary
Discretion and inter-traffic to permit road to be granted where possible and gains will be obtained by the Ministry in difficult.

A Ministry of Works spokesman said that realigned road, which involves a new route retaining and increasing an old route, means the provision of satisfactory diversions almost impossible.

It may indicate a new road was located alongside the

It has of present a gravel surface but is included in the Road Authority's £4,000,000 bituminisation programme. Meanwhile work continues on the Nairobi-Nyeri road. The picture below shows operations in the Kericho area.
