INQUEST FINDINGS ALSO IMPLICATE TRAIN DRIVER

A Kenya level crossing accident on August 27 in which Miss Lane Lindstrom (19), a Nairobi magistrate, Mr. A. J. Cream, said there was prima facie evidence that Miss Lane Lindstrom was a passenger, had unlawfully caused the death of Mr. Cream and was responsible for causing a summons to be served on Mr. Huth to plead to a charge of manslaughter, and alternatively to causing death by driving.

Referring to the engine driver, Mr. Ochieng Nangia, Mr. Cream said he would be required to answer to two counts of the East African Railways and Harbours Act. The first was that he did not keep a good lookout and in particular was not especially vigilant when approaching a level crossing.

The second was that he failed to sound more than one blast of the whistle when approaching a level crossing in circumstances when it was necessary to do so.

Mr. Cream said that in a collision with a locomotive driven by Mr. Huth on August 27 the pick-up truck carrying from Kahawa towards Nairobi. The car burst into three parts.

Mr. Huth survived in one portion with severe head injuries. He was taken to the hospital where he died through lack of medical attention. He must have been killed instantaneously.

On the evidence available, Mr. Huth drove the car past the warning signal and struck the train. It is a possibility that he had a momentary lapse of consciousness when he was driving.

ROAD TOLL A WORLD PROBLEM

IF the experience of 1958 is repeated more than 4,000 people will die this year in road accidents in Britain. About 750 will be children.

In the United States 45,000 die in the same way in the same way. In France the toll will be 5,000; in Germany at least 12,000; in Italy 20,000; in the Congo 2,000; and in Kenya 500 will come to 282.

That is the shape of the peril on the roads in countries with a high density of motor vehicles. It is the shape of a danger to which no nation has yet found the answer.

As a more and more vehicles come to the roads, the accident toll rises. The following table shows what has happened in Britain:

Year	Victims	Yearly Value of Damage
1957	4,900,000	£27,520,000
1958	4,930,000	£27,180,000
1959	5,000,000	£27,190,000
1960	5,250,000	£28,100,000

JOHN BAKER writes: Order of the Road Indignities is a book which indicates that he has been involved in an accident, or involved for a motorist in the same way. He is a member of the Order of the Road Indignities, his membership number being No. 763. He is a Justice of the Peace in Britain, and, on the average, 20 years older in Britain than he is in Europe.

As for a Britain of conventional, there are 400,000 that are taken straight away that might reduce the road toll. These of these could be followed by other countries. They are the same crash helmets of approved pattern compulsory for all motor-cyclists and motor-bicycles to use.

U.K. regulations to use must more freely their powers of discretion for road and dangerous driving.

In 1957 there were 4,900 victims in Britain for dangerous and serious driving. Last year of the 4,930 victims were 4,930. There were 4,930 victims for dangerous and serious driving.

Bukuksi forts make rewarding study

By HEZEKIAH WEPUKHULU

AMONG the greatest treasures of the Bukuksi, the largest tribe in Elgeyo Nyiro, are the forts (Chisobos) which nowadays attract so many visitors to the area. Many of these forts were built over 80 years ago and some are still standing and the remains of others which have been demolished can still be seen.

The forts are built on hills and are made of mud and stone. They are built in a circular shape and are surrounded by a wall. The walls are made of mud and stone and are built in a circular shape. The walls are made of mud and stone and are built in a circular shape.

No. 14131

Nairobi, Monday, November 9, 1959

East African Standard

Increased development needs more engineers

TECHNOLOGY KEY TO FUTURE

Dismally low total of men trained locally

EAST AFRICA'S future must be based on raising standards of living of the people, particularly Africans, and the most important way of achieving this was by technological advancement, the president of the East African Institution of Engineers, Mr. C. C. W. Jahan, told members at their annual dinner in Nairobi.

Referring to the "ever-increasing tempo" of development since the war, he said there would be a growing demand for highly qualified engineers supported by an adequate number of skilled artisans and technicians of all descriptions.

When the list from East Africa were these people to come, he said. For a number of years, however, they could take to be provided from overseas because of a lack of local material of required standards and a lack of facilities for their special training.

Seriousness recognised

In the early stages of East Africa's development all plans had to be brought in from overseas and for too many years little has done outside the railway workshops and other heavy engineering to produce skilled engineering men locally.

The recognition of this state of affairs had been increasing late in the day, and since the war an increasing number of engineering firms had started engineering schools and other training of students in order to develop local talent.

It was also admitted that the gradual and overall standard of local engineering education today was still far below that of the most advanced.

Mr. Jahan said that the number and overall standard of local engineering education today was still far below that of the most advanced.

Thousands pay tribute at War Memorials

THOUSANDS of people braved the threat of rain to watch yesterday's Remembrance Day ceremony at the Cenotaph and the African War Memorial in Delamere Avenue, Nairobi, and to pay tribute to the dead of the World Wars and to those who died fighting against the Mau Mau rebels.

Many carried umbrellas and raincoats, but the sun broke through to add the finishing touches to an impressive scene. An hour after the crowds had dispersed, thousands of men in military uniforms marched in the parade.

BADMINTON TITLES

Third 'treble' for Aga Khan champion

A NEAR-CAPACITY crowd saw some excellent Badminton Association championships were completed at the new Patel Club on Saturday evening. The court in a spacious, high-roofed hall was an ideal venue. Shamoon-ul-Din Bhatti (Aga Khan Club) proved beyond any doubt to be the Colony's outstanding player. Ever since the championships were instituted in 1955, this excellent player has gained a triple title and for the third successive year took the top prize. Details in the long form.

Added to his honours...
 The singles final was also won by the doubles and he again took the title. This year with Miss R. Sult...
 He is a brilliant player with a hard smash, a very sound backhand and excellent control of the delicate dropshots that cause him numerous doublets.

The singles final was played on the fact that it was the first time that he had met a local opponent of his calibre when he was quite young. He is a very good player and playing on the backhand side of the net he is a formidable opponent.

But Shamoon-ul-Din gave a glimpse of his real quality by winning the first set of the final in only one point.

Meaning anticipation
 The victory, undoubtedly sustained anxiety of the spectators who were glad to see the first prize given to a local player.

The doubles final was played on the fact that it was the first time that he had met a local opponent of his calibre when he was quite young. He is a very good player and playing on the backhand side of the net he is a formidable opponent.

OVER 35-and WORRIED?

Road how you can STAY YOUNGER-LONGER and get the utmost from your extra years of life!

"VITAMIN ESSENTIAL"
 An American School of Anatomy Science

In an article in the British Medical Journal (June 2, 1946), a 1932 two doctors of the Cambridge School of Anatomy says: "It is common for drugs to be abandoned because they fail to cure certain diseases; they are essential food factors, and unless they are present in our diet we die."

Science shows that, due to the tremendous advance in medical knowledge, people may expect to live longer than their grandfathers did! Medicine has learned how to keep a vital organ, but we need a very strong source in order to enjoy life to the full.

Every woman of all ages especially after age 35 After age 35 is becoming more prone to petty ailments, especially when stress and worries accumulate. So it is particularly important to keep our bodies toned up. A surprising minimum dose of essential vitamins can help us greatly!

MEMBER'S ADVICE TO KENYA OWNERS OF CARS MAKING THEFT EASY

WITHOUT a continuing supply of capital and skill from Europeans and Asians the Kenya African National Union will be a political slogan, Sir Charles Mathison, Member for Kamukoungi, said Saturday.

He said, "It is a good idea that some of us should give advice to those people who are competent to give advice to us all the time. My advice, then, is to the Kenya owners of cars that it has been said, might one day be the bones of our business."

The African must appreciate that whatever his numbers are, all races have the right to participate in the government of this country.

His advice was that the theory of shares without controlling European and Asian skill and capital was meaningless. Democracy as we know it followed many centuries of progressive civilization and did not grow on poverty-stricken bushes or in Makdara Hall. The African must respect those who are his leaders who advocated bitter racial antagonism.

These people are the Kenya African National Union. It has been said that it is a good idea that some of us should give advice to those people who are competent to give advice to us all the time. My advice, then, is to the Kenya owners of cars that it has been said, might one day be the bones of our business."

COFFEE EXPORT LIMIT PLAN

E. Africa may hold back 5,000 tons

PLANS to limit exports of East African coffee to about 23,000 tons for the year ending September 30, 1960, are to be placed before the Coffee Board of Kenya and the Coffee Marketing Board in Nairobi tomorrow.

On present estimates, this would mean that about 5,000 tons of exportable coffee may be retained in the three territories.

'Drink more' campaign

It is stated that if the year's estimate was reached, the free export of coffee would be reduced to 20,000 tons and to 15,000 tons for additional markets about 5,000 tons more than in 1959.

U.S. TRADERS OPTIMISTIC

Increased sales to Britain expected

EXPORTERS of women's fur clothes, cameras and machinery from the United States are expected to move quickly into Britain after Britain's decision to open all but a few import controls.

Government experts, however, thought the freeing of dollar goods would result in only a modest increase in United States exports to Britain next year.

Published figures on exports of American fur to Britain were described as "astonishingly high" by exporters, and trade sources predicted that the increase would be limited to around about £1,000,000 and probably would not exceed £1,500,000 next year, in 1957.

Exports to Britain were worth about £202,000,000 last year, and the new tariff and purchase tax on some commodities from the East of most European countries will be a factor limiting U.S. exports.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SCHOOL HOURS

HAVING read with interest the recent school hours, I feel that the school hours are not very different from those in Kenya.

When the school hours are not very different from those in Kenya, it is not surprising that the school hours are not very different from those in Kenya.

It is not surprising that the school hours are not very different from those in Kenya, as the school hours are not very different from those in Kenya.

Tariff protection to encourage new industries

It is not surprising that the school hours are not very different from those in Kenya, as the school hours are not very different from those in Kenya.

THE IMPORTANCE OF A SOUND AND THRIVING STOCK MARKET

OWING to the political bullaunty a very cogent subject has been allowed to displace from your columns. I refer to Mr. Tyson's reply to a correspondent's question as to how well-earned stock market.

Mr. Tyson thought that any politician who would suggest the stock market was the outcome of the political bullaunty was not only ignorant but also a bit of a fool.

Writing as one who has been referred to a bit of a fool in the course of an argument with a member of the House of Representatives, I would appreciate a word of advice as to how to deal with such a situation.

For instance, how does one deal with a member of the House of Representatives who is a member of the House of Representatives and who is a member of the House of Representatives?

It is not surprising that the school hours are not very different from those in Kenya, as the school hours are not very different from those in Kenya.

N.A.V. TAX RELIEFS URGED

NOW we are coming to the end of the year and other income tax questions are being raised.

Let us therefore, appeal to our legal friends to think up a way to deal with the N.A.V. tax which will prevent a public company distributing the financial position being a public company.

And further, let us have done with these clauses of the Income Tax Act which are usually introduced to deal with the ordinary shareholder without which, of course, the company could never have continued in business.

I have those clauses which suggest we will raise the level of the company's liability to a point where it is impossible to do so.

The corporation is a legal entity which is not a natural person and therefore it is not possible to deal with it in the same way as a natural person.

It is not surprising that the school hours are not very different from those in Kenya, as the school hours are not very different from those in Kenya.

Academic success means to greater goal

THE Principal of the Union Girls Secondary School, which has gained the highest percentage of passes among Government Assisted schools in Kenya, said at the school Speech Day on Saturday that academic success was not an end in itself.

The statement was made by Miss V. Vaughan, who said it was only a means to a greater end and the moulding of young men and young women of character who would be a credit to their school in their community and above all to Kenya which was so tremendously being built up from the rubble of a decade of war.

She said that academic success was not an end in itself but a means to a greater end.

ONE possible way out of the present dilemma over surplus world coffee production would be for Brazil to get rid of her vast stocks by burning it up before that time. KENYA'S HARD FIGHT IN Tanganyika win POLO TEST table tennis match

Tourists finish up odd-goal victors

SOUTH AFRICA beat Kenya by five goals to four in the third and last polo Test match on the Mitchell Park ground, Nairobi, on Sunday. The latter square six goals equally at half-time. A near-record crowd watched the match—cars ringing the centre bench here—and they saw a hard, sporting game.

The tourists always had a little extra in their eyes when they entered the field with more chance of being shown superior anticipation and being generally quicker on the ball. But Kenya marked the occasion by working in between Water and Allen soundly and a hard fight with the attack having more bite than in previous games.

D. Boston-Smith, who played a manly, energetic and quick game, was assisted and guided up and down the field by a number of players. The ground shot and heavy near the goal was not the only reason for the success of the tourists. The game was played on a level which was not very good for the tourists. The ground was very uneven and the tourists were not very accurate in their shooting. The tourists were very accurate in their shooting and the tourists were very accurate in their shooting.

Governor announces formal lifting as soon as new Bills are passed

END OF KENYA'S EMERGENCY IN SIGHT

Act of Grace for former terrorists

The State of Emergency declared in Kenya in October, 1952, will end early in the New Year. This decision was announced by the Governor, Sir Philip Kenyon, in his first speech in Legislative Council yesterday.

Simultaneous draft legislation was published which will replace these Emergency powers which it is considered the Government still required to deal with possible future threats to public security. It is planned that these Bills should be passed into law in the minimum statutory time so that Emergency powers can be shelved early in 1960.

APPLAUSE GREETED DECISION

MEMBERS of the Kenya Legislative Council welcomed the Governor's announcement of the end of the State of Emergency with a resounding applause. The Council members expressed their approval of the Governor's decision to lift the State of Emergency as soon as possible.

The preservation of Public Security Bills would enable the Government to make regulations for such purposes as the expulsion of undesirable persons. Authority to detain people without trial, or to exact compulsory labour would be excluded when these powers—except under the Detained and Restricted Persons (Special Provisions) Bill, which had not been found necessary to re-examine because of their continuing nature.

Under the Bill, the Government would be empowered to make regulations for the confinement of persons who had been found guilty of terrorism. The Governor announced a decision taken in agreement with the British Government to make an Act of Grace towards those who are still serving prison sentences for Emergency offences. This was a move to emphasize the Government's new policy of peace and constructive future.

New surrender offer

Of 141 Mau Mau or K.K.M. convicts remaining in prison, 10 will be set free. Another 10 will be transferred to detention, while the rest will be discharged conditionally from prison for monthly work to be followed by a course of therapy or to undergo rehabilitation. If the process does not prove successful, they will be returned to prison.

Some members of the loyalist forces serving prison sentences for offences committed during the Emergency—some of them were convicted of murder—will be shown similar leniency.

In a "final effort" to end the country's Mau Mau violence any remaining Mau Mau or K.K.M. members who have not yet surrendered before the end of the year will be prosecuted for any offence committed before yesterday.

M.P.'s welcome news

The ministers of the Emergency in Kenya announced by the Colonial Secretary yesterday, was welcomed by the House of Commons. The House of Commons members expressed their approval of the Government's decision to lift the State of Emergency as soon as possible.

MEMBERS COMMENT ON SECURITY MEASURES

PROPOSALS to strengthen the ordinary resources of law and order when the Emergency Regulations were lifted should be welcomed by the public, the leader of The New Kenya Group, Mr. M. Blandford, said after the Governor's speech.

People would understand the Act of Grace, especially as it had been applied to individuals convicted of offences which were not capital in the final battle. They would also be reassured by the pledge on the inevitability of full assurance by the Government on International Security.

The Belgian Congo Government is reported to be considering the possibility of asking the United Nations to take over the administration of the troubled territory of Ruanda, east of the Belgian Congo, in the event of a breakdown in the interim administration which is being set up in the area.

The Government has announced that it will be introducing a new Bill to strengthen the ordinary resources of law and order.

TIME TO PUT DARKNESS BEHIND US

Sir Patrick opens Legislative Council

ANNOUNCING the decision to bring to an end the State of Emergency and the use of Emergency powers, the Governor, Sir Patrick Hennessey, today opened the Legislative Council yesterday. "We are determined to take the moment which our predecessors have built for us," there was a new Government in England.

Sir Patrick's personal knowledge of the magnitude of the task he had to face was underlined by a string of the past. The emergency had required extensive examination powers. Additional Emergency powers were thought to be desirable to provide the Government with the means to deal with any situation which might be required for the future.

PLEDGE GIVEN

No public danger

"It is my duty as a Minister to pledge to the people of this island that no public danger will be caused by the removal of the State of Emergency," Sir Patrick said in his opening address to the Council. "The Government will continue to take all necessary steps to ensure that the island remains safe and secure."

The Governor's address was met with a warm reception by the members of the Council. Sir Patrick's pledge was seen as a significant step towards normalcy and the end of the emergency period.

The Council then proceeded to discuss the Governor's proposals for the future of the island. Sir Patrick emphasized the need for a stable and secure environment for the people of the island.

The Council also discussed the need for a new constitution for the island. Sir Patrick stated that the Government was committed to the principle of self-government for the island.

The Council then adjourned for the day. Sir Patrick's address was widely reported in the media and was seen as a landmark event in the island's history.

Because of its many important aspects, the Governor's speech at the opening of the Legislative Council yesterday is to be published in full. The first portion of the speech, dealing with the removal of the State of Emergency, appears today. The remainder of the speech will be published tomorrow.

to whom this Bill will apply will, as I have said, contain considerable amendments. Special Commissioners. At the Finance Committee said this work is a social and philanthropic work which will take a considerable time, but after the recognition that has been carried out and the consent of the House to the Bill, this special problem, there is, I believe, a general feeling that the Bill should be passed. I believe, however, that it is not possible to pass the Bill in its present form, and I have therefore proposed amendments which I hope it will be possible to bring into the Bill. I think it right to emphasize I believe, that it is not possible to pass the Bill in its present form, and I have therefore proposed amendments which I hope it will be possible to bring into the Bill.

Accordingly, the category persons to whom the Bill will apply is being widened. I think it right to emphasize I believe, that it is not possible to pass the Bill in its present form, and I have therefore proposed amendments which I hope it will be possible to bring into the Bill.

THE EMERGENCY, CLOSES

WHEM Emergency operations were at their height, and incidents with loss of life were almost everyday occurrences in Kenya, it was realised there would be no sudden change, overnight, from war to peace.

For many months now, the country has been treated as if for a peace period, and the Government has been trying to get the country back to normal.

There has been a period of peaceful reorganisation, for maintaining in use the powers granted in the Bill of Emergency, but it is now being withdrawn.

Calculated risks in a frog start

Certainly, as the Bill of Emergency was changed to give effect to the use of the Act, it was in the spirit of a calculated risk.

It is not a calculated risk, but a calculated risk, in the sense that the Government is taking a calculated risk.

The seven long years of Kenya's Emergency

By MICHAEL ROE

AFTER seven long years Kenya's Emergency brought to a close by what a British Parliamentary delegation described as a deliberate attempt to lead the Africans back to Kenya's back to savagery and the bush.

The seven long years of Kenya's Emergency brought to a close by what a British Parliamentary delegation described as a deliberate attempt to lead the Africans back to Kenya's back to savagery and the bush.

On October 10, the United Kingdom Government announced that it had decided to withdraw the Bill of Emergency from the House of Commons.

The Bill of Emergency was introduced in 1952 to give the Government powers to deal with the emergency situation in Kenya.

It is not a calculated risk, but a calculated risk, in the sense that the Government is taking a calculated risk.

Wide powers for public security

GOVERNOR GIVEN CONTROL UNDER PROPOSED LAWS

COME of the principal measures which the Kenya Government proposes should become law before Emergency powers are relinquished were published yesterday. They would give the Governor wide powers of public security.

Provision of Public Security Bill would repeal and replace the Emergency Powers Ordinance. It is designed as a measure to provide powers to be brought into operation by the Governor whenever or necessary, to ensure the preservation of public security and peace, when the powers and sanctions under the present substantial laws of the country are found to be inadequate for that purpose.

MOVES IN TWO STAGES

The powers which the Bill provides for the preservation of law and order could be brought into being in two stages, firstly when it is not necessary to make regulations under the Bill involving the detention of persons without trial or the performance of compulsory work of a specified nature, and secondly when the latter more arbitrary and far-reaching powers are required.

Both stages could be brought into operation simultaneously or in either stage separately, but it would be possible that the first-stage powers would not be or had not yet been approved by the Governor, in which case the second stage powers would be available to the Governor for that purpose.

FINISHING SCHOOLS ADAPTED

From tiny village to Dior boutique

TO SUIT THE MODERN GIRL

By ELIZABETH BANCROFT

WHEN the daughter of the house has returned to her school for the last term, there comes the time when parents get down to serious discussion of her future.

Some girls wish to leave as soon as they have completed their School Certificate, intelligent and possessing their fair share of common sense they do not consider themselves suited to an academic career, neither have they any desire to complete a vocational course.

Many of the girls would like to continue some kind of study combined with travel in Europe, with the alarming prospect of unemployment at home.

Naturally enough, a few of the older - mature - members whose homes are in Kenya and those who have spent or are now spending some time in Europe are keen to see their daughters get on with their studies.

There are few American girls in the "hard pressure" class. They are either at school or have already followed an academic career. Details of their schools with their fees and amenities can be obtained from the American Consulate in Nairobi. American students are catered for in the boarding schools.

Present parents who face the task of choosing their own daughter's future are hard to convince of the value of their daughters' studying, pushing, pushing and pushing until they are tired.

ALL-COURT GAME STILL THE BEST IN TENNIS

OF the penalties of signed print it is that the writer thereof lays himself open to criticism. And I have been criticised by two correspondents about professional lawn tennis players who recently visited Nairobi. Both took exception to, and proceeded to enlarge upon, the statement that the "day of the professional game" was over. It is perhaps unfortunate that the writer in question has not a specific and narrow scope to which he has confined his remarks. He has written in a general way, and after the fashion of a "big name" writer, who has given such players an initial advantage and well deserved, subsequently to the end.

In fact, he has not even read the "big name" writer's article. Praise for Act of Grace as example in democracy

POLICY DECLARATION SUPPORTED

NEW TEA FACTORY PLANNED AT MERU House debates address by Governor

MEMBERS of most groups in the Kenya Legislative Council yesterday gave general support to the outline of policy given to the Council the previous day by the Governor, Sir Patrick Kenyon.

Kenyan speakers said they felt the Act of Grace announced by the Governor did not go far enough, and asked for the release of Jomo Kenyatta and other detainees.

The motion taking to the Council to record its thanks for the expression of policy was moved by Mr. E. T. Jones (Nairobi Member), who said the Act of Grace revealed a flexibility typical of a democratic way of life.

Mr. M. Blundell, leader of the New Kenya Group, supported the proposals which the Government had put forward for the Emergency and the Demanded and Preservation of Public Security (Special Provisions) Bill.

He contended there was a great mistake but unfortunately which supported the decision of the Government not to release Kenyatta and his colleagues.

GOVERNOR OPENS NEW SESSION OF COUNCIL

DEVELOPMENT OF MARKETS AND AGRICULTURE will be the main programme in times to be expected to prevail throughout the continent for more people, not the least in the African lands, the Governor, Sir Patrick Hennessey, said in his speech at the opening of a new session of Kenya Legislative Council on Tuesday.

He added: "The general surprise of work-seekers for whom jobs cannot immediately be found is engaging the close attention of the Government."

In the opening of a land detailed presentation of the Government's approach to administration and control of agriculture and its extension to the rural areas was before the Council. The paper presented in 1962. This paper presented proposals for new regulations designed to provide uniformity in the systems of tenure and throughout Kenya.

The updated machinery proposed in the White Paper on Agriculture in the second year of operation in the new territory, the registration of all land, has taken place.

The progressive re-organizing of agricultural workers led to the fact that the land is being used in the most efficient manner possible. The Government has been given full opportunity to deal with the situation in the White Paper and to take the necessary steps to meet the needs of the country.

This paper presented proposals for new regulations designed to provide uniformity in the systems of tenure and throughout Kenya.

The updated machinery proposed in the White Paper on Agriculture in the second year of operation in the new territory, the registration of all land, has taken place.

The progressive re-organizing of agricultural workers led to the fact that the land is being used in the most efficient manner possible. The Government has been given full opportunity to deal with the situation in the White Paper and to take the necessary steps to meet the needs of the country.

Disappointment at delay over game report

Cash aid needed for game areas

"Standard Correspondent"
THE danger of losing the development of Uganda's national parks to stagnation is pointed out by Sir Clifford Vincent, Director and Chief Warden, Mr. H. H. Rose, in his report for the year ending June 30.

The report says that "the national parks are not being properly developed and that the Government should provide cash aid for the development of these areas."

Progress stagnated

Mr. Rose said that the progress of the national parks in the past year has been disappointing. He pointed out that the Government has not provided the necessary cash aid for the development of these areas.

Trustees' duty

Mr. Rose said that it is the duty of the trustees of the national parks to ensure that the parks are properly developed and that the Government provides the necessary cash aid for this purpose.

Soldiers deny taking car

A soldier was charged with taking a car belonging to the Government. The soldier denied the charge and said that he was only driving the car for a friend.

TRUSTEES OF PARKS REGRET FAILURE TO ALLOW DEBATE

Disappointment is expressed by Sir Alfred Vincent, writing as chairman of trustees in the annual report on the Royal National Parks of Kenya, that the Government has not announced what parts could be accepted of the report made by the Game Policy Committee last year.

Sir Alfred also regrets that the Government had not found it possible to allow the "constructive and progressive" report to be debated in Legislative Council.

Although action had apparently been taken on certain of the committee's recommendations, the trustee urged that the Government should not allow any further delay in pronouncing its decisions on the main policy proposals of the committee.

BURIED IN PENDING BASKET

It seemed hardly futile that a committee should spend nearly two years striving to find solutions to many difficult problems only for these to be buried in some obscure official pending basket, Sir Alfred adds.

Assuring future of wild life in Kenya

Major developments in the acceptance of national parks as a project for the future of Kenya are being discussed in the annual report of the Director of the Royal National Parks, Mr. H. H. Rose, in his report for the year ending June 30.

PLAYERS HURT IN ASSAULT BY HOOLIGANS

FOLLOWING incidents after the African League match between Central Nyanza and South Nyanza at Kisumu recently, the Nyanza Provincial Sports Association at an emergency meeting has decided to ban all further football matches at Kisumu Stadium for a two-month period ending in December.

Ask with League table

With only four games played, the position in the Nyanza Provincial League is very clear and the championship is predicted to go to the team which has the most goals scored. With a lead of 10 goals, the Central Nyanza team is the favourite to win the title. The South Nyanza team is also in a strong position, having scored 8 goals in their four matches.

Train not to blame

The incident which occurred on the train between Nakuru and Kisumu was not the fault of the train itself, but of the hooligans who were present. The train was in perfect order and the incident was a result of the actions of the individuals involved.

TANGA MOTOR RACING REVIVAL

'Chicane' at Tanga track

Fastest lap of day set up by Heather-Hayes

Standard Correspondent
AFTER more than a year's retirement, the Tanga Motor Racing Club organized a day's racing which was a great success both from the point of view of those taking part and that of the spectators. The day was free from accident and serious incident, which would appear to prove that the elaborate safety measures taken by the Club since the last meeting have been effective.

The chicane and also the blind corner just before the start proved the straight to the finishing line however provided the crowd with plenty of thrills both real and imaginary - skids and daring overtakes keeping the spectators in a constant state of excitement.

Farmers worried at unemployment

ASSURANCE SOUGHT FROM GOVERNMENT

UNEMPLOYMENT in certain agricultural areas of Kenya is causing concern to farmers. They hold their concern during a debate of motions which sought an assurance from the Government that it was aware of the problem and its dangerous possibilities.

During October, 70,000 acres applied for work on the farm. The last term was out to prevent greater danger. Long-term dangers were being faced and the possibility that the Government might make a decision to take action was being discussed.

Answer to critics of road programme NO PRIORITY FOR KAHAWA WORK

ALTHOUGH the Road Authority was greatly concerned about the capacity of the Kahawa road to carry the growing volume of traffic and deeply conscious of the high accident rate, it must be some years before we can be found to lay a dual carriage-way.

This was stated by Mr P. J. Rogers (Nominated Member) during the debate in the Kenya Legislative Council on the Governor's speech on Thursday.

Mr Rogers, who was also receiving criticism from Members, said that though ever much the Authority might wish to improve the road - particularly a view of the expected increase in traffic when the military installations are completed - neither means had it been tried.

The Authority was doing a lot of work in the area, he said, but the Kahawa road was a special case. It was a main road and it was a busy road. It was a road which was used by a large number of people. It was a road which was used by a large number of people. It was a road which was used by a large number of people.

EVENT TODAY

Fields and going should both be good

ANOTHER seven-race card, mainly divisional handicaps but including one open event, will comprise the programme of today's Nairobi meeting, writes "Black Diamond". The happy arrival of the short rains has done much to restore the course to normal and with a good grass cover on the track the going should be much easier. It should be a first-rate afternoon's racing begins at 2.15. Handicap over six furlongs for which the field are likely to be better than for some time.
