Albion is known everywhere for its freedom from breakdowns and consistent saving on operating costs. You cannot go wrong by choosing an Albion.

Hints to Young Farmers on Selecting, Training and Handling Oxen.

It is a common mistake to suppose that the best oxen are those which are the largest and heaviest. It is true that a large ox will do more work than a small one, but it is not true that a large ox is necessarily the best. The best ox is one which is well adapted to the work which he is to do. For example, a heavy ox is better suited to heavy work than a light one, but a light ox is better suited to light work. The farmer should select his oxen with care, and should train them properly. The following are some hints on this subject.

Altitude and Location.

The altitude and location of the farm will have a great influence on the selection and training of oxen. In high altitudes, the oxen should be selected for their ability to withstand cold and to do heavy work. In low altitudes, the oxen should be selected for their ability to do light work. The location of the farm will also have an influence on the selection and training of oxen. For example, a farm which is situated in a hilly or mountainous region will require oxen which are well adapted to such work.

Make-up Keys.

The make-up of the oxen is also an important factor in their selection and training. The oxen should be selected for their ability to do the work which they are to do. For example, an ox which is well adapted to heavy work will be better suited to heavy work than an ox which is well adapted to light work. The farmer should select his oxen with care, and should train them properly.

1 HINTS TO LISTENERS
 When a receiver is first brought into use, it is essential that the user should be made acquainted with the various parts of the machine and the manner in which they should be adjusted. The following hints are given to assist the listener in the operation and maintenance of his receiver.

A Letter from Paris

It is a pleasure to write to you from Paris, where the fashion world is still in the throes of the "flapper" craze. The new styles are all about the same—long, straight, and simple. The most popular of these is the "robe à la française," which is a long, flowing dress with a high collar and long sleeves. It is very becoming and very comfortable. Another popular style is the "robe à l'Anglaise," which is a long, straight dress with a high collar and long sleeves, but with a more fitted bodice. INCREASED SCOPE OF POLICE WORK

Effect of Nairobi's Expansion

The Nairobi Police Force, which in 1921 numbered only 100 men, has now grown to 1,000. This increase is due to the expansion of the city and the need for more police to maintain law and order. The force is now divided into several branches, including the Traffic Police, the Motor Vehicle Section, and the Criminal Investigation Department. The expansion has also led to the introduction of new equipment and the training of more officers.

Crimes

The Nairobi Police Force has reported a decrease in the number of crimes committed in the city during the past year. This is attributed to the increased presence of the police and the improved law enforcement procedures. The force has also been successful in solving a number of long-standing cases.

Motor Vehicle Section

The Motor Vehicle Section of the Nairobi Police Force has been instrumental in the registration and licensing of motor vehicles in the city. This section has also been responsible for enforcing traffic regulations and ensuring the safety of motorists.

Traffic

The Traffic Police of the Nairobi Police Force have been successful in reducing the number of traffic accidents in the city. This has been achieved through the implementation of strict traffic regulations and the use of modern traffic control devices.

Weights and Measures

The Weights and Measures section of the Nairobi Police Force has been responsible for ensuring the accuracy of weights and measures used in the city. This section has also been instrumental in the enforcement of laws relating to the sale of goods.

The Arms Bureau

The Arms Bureau of the Nairobi Police Force has been responsible for the control and regulation of the sale and use of firearms in the city. This bureau has also been instrumental in the investigation of crimes involving firearms.

The Nairobi Police Force has also been successful in the investigation and prosecution of a number of serious crimes, including murder, robbery, and kidnapping. The force has also been instrumental in the maintenance of public order during various public events and demonstrations.

LADY'S FASHIONS

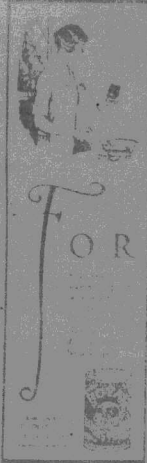

A Letter from Paris.

The fashion of the moment is a return to the simple and the natural. The elaborate and the artificial of the past few years has given place to a more restrained and dignified style. The long, flowing lines of the past have been replaced by a more compact and practical design. The use of rich, dark colors is favored, and the textures are more varied and interesting. The accessories are simple and elegant, reflecting the overall trend towards a more refined and sophisticated aesthetic.

The editor has received a number of letters from his correspondents in this column, and it is interesting to note that many of them are dealing with the same social problem. The question of the education of the masses is one that has long been a subject of debate, and it is clear that the public is becoming more and more interested in this subject. THE FIVE BARD

Some Hints about Hot Weather

By Helen Graham, C.M.B., etc.

THE heat of the sun is not only a nuisance but a danger to health. It is essential to take precautions to avoid the harmful effects of the sun's rays. The sun's rays are composed of light and heat, and both of these can be harmful to the human body. The sun's rays are most intense during the middle of the day, and it is during this time that the sun's rays are most likely to cause sunburn and other skin conditions. It is therefore essential to avoid the sun's rays during this time. One of the best ways to avoid the sun's rays is to wear a hat and sunglasses. A hat will protect the face and neck from the sun's rays, and sunglasses will protect the eyes. It is also essential to wear a light-colored, long-sleeved shirt and trousers to protect the skin from the sun's rays. In addition to wearing protective clothing, it is also essential to use sunburn cream. Sunburn cream will help to protect the skin from the sun's rays and will also help to soothe the skin if it becomes sunburned. It is also essential to drink plenty of water to keep the body hydrated. The sun's rays can cause dehydration, and it is essential to drink plenty of water to avoid this. Finally, it is essential to take breaks from the sun. If you are outdoors for a long time, it is essential to take breaks to rest and to avoid the sun's rays. By following these tips, you can avoid the harmful effects of the sun's rays and stay healthy during the hot weather.

It's Your Blood that must be cleansed

It is not a new idea that the blood is the life of the body. It is the life of the body that carries the food and oxygen to the cells and carries away the waste products. If the blood is impure, the body will be weak and sickly.

Clark's Blood Mixture is a natural blood purifier that cleanses the blood of all impurities. It is made from the most purest and most potent natural ingredients.
