Big-Four conference begins with compromise but

ANOTHER PROBLEM OF PARTICIPATION IN GENEVA

discussed

Having solved the problems of Germany table, the Foreign Ministers had another headache to overcome when they met for their second full session yesterday afternoon.

This time, the questions of a full participation at the meetings by Poland and Czechoslovakia, as well as expected by the West but they had made no reply when Mr. Gromyko, the Soviet Foreign Minister, put the proposition forward yesterday morning.

In view of this, Mr. Gromyko, who as chairman at the afternoon's formal session could bring up any subject he chose due to the lack of a settled agenda, formally submitted the participation of two Eastern bloc countries as "full and equal members".

Need to settle agenda

Britain, France and the United States were expected to offer to let their agenda as full members, but only when topics directly affecting them were discussed.

Observers in Geneva believe that after this problem was solved the Foreign Ministers' first task would be to decide on an agenda. All that East and West have agreed, in an exchange of diplomatic Notes, is that they will talk about "questions relating to Germany, including a peace treaty with Germany and the 'question of Berlin'".

The agreement on Germany was not to be discussed until Monday evening, after the meeting had been opened by the four powers as a compromise.

More pay for police officers urged

CONCERN over the fact that there is no provision in the police vote for an increase in the rates of pay for police officers - particularly the inspectorate - was made by Mrs. A. R. Shaw (Nyansa) in Kenya Legislative Council yesterday.

She stated that European police officers could not be blamed for leaving the force for less exciting jobs in other departments because there was no doubt that many of them were having a very hard struggle to make ends meet and the family budget was being strained to the limit.

She stated that the issue of the police officers' pay was a very important one and that the Government should take steps to increase the rates of pay for police officers.

GOOD ADVICE FOR BEGINNERS IN FLORAL EXHIBITS

By IRVING SHERMAN

MANY horticultural societies herald the birth of interest in younger people in their shows, but more often than not, there is a paucity of exhibitors, only those who are established are members of competing against handicapped experience. The exhibitor who you must look ahead, and a good beginning is to pick an easy, portable, change every little from year to year. Do be tempted to enter too many classes, three or four are enough for a first attempt.

One of the most difficult problems is to have your flowers at their peak at the time of the show, but this can be accomplished with success, except by experience. Do make a notebook and keep a record of the dates of sowing, transplanting, etc.

MAINLY FOR WOMEN

Three lines of exhibits are the most popular in the home and garden shows. The first is the "household" line, which is the most popular. The second is the "garden" line, which is the most popular. The third is the "exotic" line, which is the most popular.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL

Most flowers respond well to constant watering. Most flowers require constant watering. Most flowers require constant watering. Most flowers require constant watering.

FINAL CHECK

Kruschew attacks West plans: They leave 'bitter taste' in atmosphere in spite of differences

AFTER Mr. Kruschew's attack that the Western plan for a German and European settlement left him with a "bitter taste," the Foreign Ministers of Britain, France and the United States face a hard diplomatic tussle with their Russian counterpart in Geneva this week.

The Soviet Prime Minister, speaking in Moscow, declared that some of the Western proposals were worth discussing but said they must be considered separately "and not tied together in one large knot, impossible to undo."

He thus set the tone for the next stage of the Foreign Ministers' conference, where seemingly innumerable plans for the Big-Four delegation.

West holds initiative

On one hand, there is the West's "package plan" and on the other there are the counter-proposals from Russia which ask the conference to concentrate solely on a German peace treaty which would neutralize a divided Germany.

But Western officials say progress at last week's sessions was a little better than expected. They expect that the West has the initiative and apparently conciliatory attitude than at similar conferences in past years.

DULLES 'WORSE'

The condition of Mr. Dulles was worse than the U.S. State Department announced at the weekend's first meeting.

Some points worthy of consideration

Mr. Kruschew's condemnation of the Western proposals, which he said left him with a "bitter taste," was a further expression of his long-held view that the West's proposals were worth discussing but they must be considered separately.

Geneva conference resumes with hint of further deadlock

BERLIN NEGOTIATIONS DENIED

West will not start untying 'package'

JUST a few hours before the Foreign Ministers were due to meet again yesterday, for the second day of their conference in Geneva, reports that the Western delegates would concentrate on the Berlin problem were denied.

Formal statements were issued by the three Western delegations—Britain, France and the United States—saying that such reports were "incorrect".

These reports, attributed to an American official, began circulating in Geneva on Sunday. They were in the effect that, rather than let the conference fail, the Foreign Ministers of the three Western Powers were prepared to negotiate an "interim arrangement" with Russia on Berlin.

Detailed explanation

With this "untying of the package plan", the reports said, the West would begin although on a Berlin arrangement with the proposal contained in phase two of the four-phase scheme, for a united city of East and West Berlin founded on the basis of free elections.

Yesterday's denial is expected to explain in greater detail the significance of their peace plan and to seek to demonstrate to the Soviet Government that these proposals have gone far towards meeting its views.

The statement added that while the Western Foreign Ministers expected to discuss the Berlin problem along with other "package" proposals, the city—having stated its position on the "package" proposals included in the plan, could not be set in motion until the matter was settled in full agreement because all the proposals are linked together.

REPLY BY SOVIET

Another hint on yesterday's statement was that a denial of a reply from Mr. Gromyko, the Soviet Foreign Minister, had been received. The statement said that the Soviet Government had received the proposals and would reply to them in due course.

It was suggested that the Soviet Government would not accept the proposals unless they were linked together. The statement said that the Soviet Government would not accept the proposals unless they were linked together.

DETAILS OF ROTARY'S ROLE TO CONQUER MALARIAL

Rotary's role in the conquest of malaria is being detailed in a new book, "The Rotary Role in the Conquest of Malaria," published by the International Brotherhood of Rotarians. The book, written by Dr. J. H. Hensley, details the work of Rotary clubs in various parts of the world, particularly in the tropics, where malaria is a major health problem. It describes the methods used by Rotarians to combat the disease, including the distribution of medicine, the construction of drainage systems, and the education of the public.

The book is a valuable contribution to the literature on malaria, and it is hoped that it will inspire more Rotarians to take an active part in the fight against this deadly disease. It is available for purchase from the International Brotherhood of Rotarians, 1200 North Dearborn Street, Chicago, Ill.

Rotary clubs in all parts of the world are working to conquer malaria. In India, for example, Rotarians have been instrumental in the construction of drainage systems and the distribution of medicine. In the Philippines, they have been successful in the education of the public and the construction of drainage systems.

Turn your typist into twins—give her a FACIT T1

Aren't there times when you wish your secretary had a twin sister in the office? Another girl of her efficiency and accuracy who could, for instance, help whittle down that extra pile of mixed typing assignments. Most likely your secretary has no twin, but the FACIT T1 typewriter does have a twin tabulator* to help you out. Not only does its "mechanical memory" store your standard letter and invoice set-ups for next time... it also readily takes care of up-to-date, ever-changing assignments.

But that's not all the satisfaction with FACIT T1 has to offer you. TUBELESS TYRES

Guaranteed Retreads by C & G

Many people are doubtful about the effectiveness of retreading tubless tyres and some are aware that it is possible at all without inserting an inner tube. In fact, the majority of such tyres can be retreaded to service after retreading as TUBELESS tyres. It is true that the problems are greater when retreading tubless tyres than with other tyres, due to the tyre's special construction, but Car and General by constant research have overcome all the difficulties in this process.

If your tyre is worth retreading, Car & General will make a safe, long-lasting job of it using the latest tread patterns. All retreads carry the famous C & G guarantee.

The C & G retread replacement guarantee is therefore real value for money if you have a C & G retread on your tubless tyre.

CHILLY CONDITIONS HIT INDIANS

Essex batsmen flay dispirited attack

BARRY KNIGHT, the 21-year-old Essex all-rounder, scored 82 not out in 86 minutes of the Indians before he was dismissed in the 10th over. The fast opening day of the three-day match at Headingley, Leeds, on Saturday, was marred by a heavy rain which did not return until 11.15. The rain was not so heavy as it had been in the previous days, but it was still heavy enough to make the pitch very wet and the outfield very muddy.
