

Roles Of Medical Educators In The Advancement Of Health Professions

S, Kangethe; A, Karani; J, Njagi; E, Kamaara; C, Syallow; J.M, Ole Kiu; Mengich, Gladys

Date: 2011-12

Abstract:

Health care professionals are absorbed daily in the practices of their professional areas of specialization. Pediatricians, for example spend most of their time catering to the needs of children, while nurses, pharmacists and dentists in their own areas. Medical Educators, however, spend their time catering to the educational needs of all health care professionals, whatever their specialization. A recent area of concern in the medical education curricula has been the inclusion of the topic