

Abstract:

A new furoquinoline alkaloid to which we have assigned the trivial name nobiline, and seven other quinoline alkaloids were isolated and identified from the leaves and fruits of Teclea nobilis, an African medicinal plant.