

The Department organized a very successful field trip for first year students from all the three undergraduate courses offered at the department. The trip was to get them to know the sources of building materials which they will use in the industry