

The 7th FASU, 2014 logo. The event aims to project Kenya as a pillar of sports in Africa.

The 7th Federation of African University Games (FASU) 2014 has been officially launched. The launching was done at the University of Nairobi's Chancellor's Court early this morning.

These prestigious games brings together 16 African Countries whose Universities compete in Soccer, Basketball, Handball, Badminton, Volleyball, Rugby, Hockey, Tennis, Sitting Volleyball, American Football, Track and Field events and swimming.

These games are of enormous magnitude and require financial and political goodwill that will project Kenya as a pillar of sports in Africa. Kenya is a strong and highly respected sporting and tourist Nation in Africa. We need to tap into these components to stage remarkable games in Kenya in order to enhance and stamp our reputation on the continent.

The University of Nairobi warmly welcomes the invited guests to this event that is scheduled to run from 11th -18th July 2014 at UON grounds and Kasarani Stadium.