A delegation from University of Nairobi, College of Health Sciences comprising of participants from the School of Medicine, Department of Clinical Medicine and Therapeutics held a one day tour on 13.03.2015 in Kirinyaga County. The aim of the tour was to witness renovations done by University of Nairobi Central Kenya Response Integration, Strengthening and Sustainability Project (CRISSP) on some key hospitals. The delegation included Hon. Joyce Mureithi, Minister of Health for the County of Kirinyaga, Dr. Kinyanjui, County Chief Officer of Health and the Principal of the College of Health Sciences, Prof. Isaac O. Kibwage, accompanied by the Chairman of the Department of Medicine and Therapeutics, Prof. Titus Munyao including other members of staff from the College. CRISS Project Principal Investigator (PI) Dr. Jerad Mecha led the delegation.

The delegation made a visit to Sagana Sub County hospital, Kerugoya referral hospital, Kianyaga hospital and finally Kimbimbi County hospital. In addition to visiting the sites the delegation donated servers and Uninterruptible Power Supply (UPS's) to both Sagana Sub County hospital and Kimbimbi County hospital.

About CRISSP

The University of Nairobi Central Kenya Response Integration, Strengthening and Sustainability Project (CRISSP) is a U.S. PEPFAR/CDC funded Project of the University of Nairobi in collaboration with the County Departments of Health Kiambu and Kirinyaga Counties, Futures Group, the University of Maryland Institute of Human Virology and Strathmore Business School. CRISSP is a five (5) year project first awarded in September 2011 with the goal to provide support to public health authorities to offer county and facility-owned universal, high quality and sustainable HIV prevention, care, treatment and support services.
