

A call to volunteer: Crafts for cure

If you have been looking for a chance to volunteer then Crafts for Cure is the right place to start.

“I say let the world go to hell, but I should always have my tea.” - Fyodor Dostoyevsky, Notes from Underground

This sums up today's society. Buzz words such as “personal growth” “self-improvement” are thrown around and pretty much cover up how selfish we have become. What is in it for me? How do I stand to benefit? We use these questions to assess every situation.

More often than not, our vision is clouded due to pursuing our own interests. It is important to take a step back and look at life from different eyes and volunteering offers exactly that. Volunteering gives you a sense of accomplishment, an opportunity to connect with people and a chance to give back to society. Most importantly, the greatest treasures are stored up in people and volunteering is a direct avenue to investing in the lives of others you would otherwise never cross paths with.
