

The consultative meeting was between Prof. A. N Guantai, Dean School of Pharmacy and Dr. Collin Pillai from Norvartis Basel and Sarah from Norvartis Kenya. The objective of the meeting was to discuss a collaborative venture between Norvartis and the School of Pharmacy and a possibility of launching short courses and regulatory sciences particularly targeting biological and biosimilars. It is hoped that this collaboration will lead to better understanding of management and regulation of biologicals not only in East African region but as Africa as a whole. the first short training is scheduled for mid 2015. Precise dates to be communicated soon.