This workshop aimed at sensitizing KLISC new member institutions on Institutional repositories and E-resources. E-resources being one of the major mandate of KLISC, there is need for all registered institutions to make maximum use of these resources. The INASP Country coordinator, Ms Nasra Gathoni took the participants through the E-resources session with captivating examples of real life issues and challenges institutions go through and hence offering solutions.

The Institutional repository Librarian, University of Nairobi, Ms Milcah Gikunju took the participants through open access and Institutional repositories. Participants learnt about the software to use, steps to developing an IR, enhancing visibility and marketing of repositories and finally issues of copyright and plagiarism.
