

Australia Africa universities network (AAUN) international Africa forum aaun international African

This years' Australia Africa University Network (AAUN) international forum for Africa was held in Johannesburg South Africa, Indaba Hotel on the 11th May 2015. Dr. Abong' represented a team of researchers from College of Agriculture and Veterinary Science who are in a collaborative research with Australia and Uganda. The meeting was also attended by Australian researchers and key African Universities through their Vice Chancellors and representatives. University of Nairobi was represented by The Current Vice Chancellor, Prof. P. Mbithi. The meeting focused on past and present and future collaborative research achievements. Challenges and new roadmaps were also discussed.