

WHY ENGINEERING

Mechanical Engineering Students drawn from the University of Nairobi were taken through a well presented lecture on 'Why Engineering' by Prof. Emanuel LELEITO, Advisor International Academic Exchange, Graduate School of Engineering University of Nagoya, JAPAN

He was accompanied by Prof Shimato and two 3rd year undergraduate students who challenged our students to really work hard and be committed to their studies as well as identify projects which should be put to use at their completion for the benefit of the society. During the lecture the Japanese students displayed an 'Air Ship' project which can have a digital camera mounted underneath it to be used for filming in areas such as game parks to fight poaching and such like vices.
