

THE UNIVERSITY OF NAIROBI GOOGLE AMBASSODORS VISIT ACCRA GHANA

Date and time:

Wed, 2014-08-27 15:33

Between the 11th and 13th of August, 130 delegates from Sub Saharan Africa converged in Accra, Ghana for the annual Google Student Ambassador, Sub Saharan Africa Summit. Vivian Akinyi (Computer Science, Chiromo campus) Johnstone Vusena (Education, Kikuyu campus) and June Okal (Law, Parklands campus) were part of the Kenyan delegation, representing the University of Nairobi. The university's community page on Google plus was praised for having the largest online presence with most members among all schools in Sub Saharan Africa! Join the community, follow and keep watch of the page for all upcoming Google events at the university and amazing available opportunities at Google. Join us as we maintain our already strong status quo, transform comrade lives through Google products and make them known to comrades at the school, sign up link. #GSAUoN