

The Design Process

The sequence of steps the designer goes through in generating a design solution; source of inspiration.