

Summer Camp 2015

Summer Camp

Confucius institute took the first group of high school students to China for Summer camp, this trip was meant to encourage the students to work hard in their studies and also motivate others to take the chinese language as an important part of their academics.