

Lab VIEW Training

The department of Environmental and Biosystems Engineering organised a training on LABVIEW for three days from 10th to 12th September, 2014. The trainer was Ms. Shruti Vasudev from Sheffield University, UK representing National Instruments Company manufactures .

Shruti listening to a trainee during question session

The department of EBE has in the recent past bought some of the data loggers from National Instruments and hence the need for the training on LABVIEW. National Instruments Company manufactures a wide range of data loggers and measuring equipment such as those for determining temperature, pressure, relative humidity, vibration and so on. Their data logging systems are advantageous since they can take any sensor that can give an analogue or digital output.

Shruti with the group of the trainees after the training