

Two PhD & six MSc UoN students receive AMSEN scholarship two PhD & six MSc UoN students receive AMSEN scholarship

UoN Node participants together with the Academic Director and the Head of Secretariat: L to R (sitting): Prof J Musuva, Ms C Sparkes (Head of Secretariat), Prof G Rading, Prof L Cornish (Ac Director); Dr T Mbuya. Standing L to R: Mr Nyaigoti, Mr P Weramwanja, Mr C Ayieko, Dr R Musembi, Mr T Ngeru, Mr S Rotich, Mr A Nzioka, Mr J Ngugi and Mr K Mutonga.

The 3rd bi-annual AMSEN Workshop

The African Materials Science and Engineering Network (AMSEN) held its third bi-annual Workshop at the Birchwood Hotel in Johannesburg, South Africa from 27th to 29th May, 2015. The Workshop was attended by participants from all the six Nodes that make up the Network namely: South Africa, Kenya, Botswana, Namibia, Nigeria and Ghana. The University of Nairobi Node was represented by a twelve member delegation consisting of four Lecturers/Supervisors and eight students. The team was led by Prof George Rading, who is the Coordinator of the University of Nairobi Node and also the Deputy Academic Director of AMSEN.

During the Workshop, continuing students sponsored by AMSEN presented their work, which were then critiqued and improved by the participants