The University of Nairobi Business Center - Travel Agency has been accredited by International Air Transport Association (IATA).

IATA is a seal of approval, recognized worldwide as the global trade association for the airline industry. With more than 240 member airlines carrying 84% of total air traffic, this accreditation serves a wealth of benefits for the travel agency in providing visibility and credibility, unique global identification, standardized procedures, fair dealings with the airlines, access to IATA's Billing and Settlement Plan ( BSP) and a single Sales Agency Agreement which authorizes the sale of international and/or domestic tickets.
