

CAE Holds a Web Champions Training Exercise

The College of Architecture and Engineering (CAE), held a web champions training on Wednesday, 28th May 2014, that took place at the Civil Engineering Laboratory. While officiating the exercise, the college Registrar, Mr. Charles K. Njuguna, welcomed all attendants and emphasized, that the training was paramount, as it significantly contributed to better performance in the webometrics rankings.

The training is meant enlighten the web champions, on ways and means of how to improve the four key indicators that webometrics uses to rank the university websites. They include visibility, excellence, presence and openness.

The vision and aim of all the CAE website team members, is to eventually make CAE the best college website at the University of Nairobi.
