

Conference in Kampala, Uganda

Prof. Daniel W. Gakuya attended the Regional Initiative in Science and Education -African Natural Products Research and Training Network (RISE-AFNNET) Fellows conference on September 11th, 2015 at Imperial Royale Hotel, Kampala. The Network supported by Carnegie Corporation of New York involves the Universities of Makerere, Sokoine and Nairobi and has supported 57 research fellows in these three universities. The network is taking a leading position in promoting natural products science and technology competences in the region. The University of Nairobi node is lead by Prof. Stephen G. Kiama, the Director of Wangari Maathai Institute. During the workshop, Prof. Gakuya presented a paper entitled "Evaluation of Moringa oleifera leaf meal supplementation in broiler and layer chicken feed"