

Professor Joseph Malo public lecture on Creation Vs Evolution on 15th October 2015

Date and time:

Thu, 2015-10-15 11:00

Location / Venue:

Millennium Hall 1 (CBPS)

CREATION VS EVOLUTION

BY Professor Joseph Malo

The above title boils down to a discussion on Religion and Science. I must state right from the outset that I do believe that there is really no conflict between creation and evolution. Creation is perhaps the biggest and the most profound mystery in the cosmos. The question is, did our universe come into being by some freak random chance or was it created by God who nurtures and sustains life? Now the current and latest science is indicating that the four main forces that govern our universe are phenomenally fine tuned so firmly that it has led many to the conclusion that someone or something must have calibrated them. A belief further backed by evidence that everything in our universe may have emanated from one extraordinarily elegant and beautiful design commonly referred as LIE Group (Smooth and continuous structure). However some sceptics still hold the view that these findings are neither conclusive nor evidence of the Divine Creator. However some cutting age physicists are already advancing some theories that God is an ALIEN Gamester who created our world as an ultimate Simulation Game for His own amusement (Computer Game). A theory that is most compelling as it is disconcerting.

ALL STUDENTS AND STAFF ARE INVITED TO A CAPTIVATING TALK ON CREATION VS EVOLUTION.